Annual Meeting Of Community Chest April 5

Recreational Facilities Are Lacking Here

Elwood Street, director of Public Welfare in Washington, D. C., will be the speaker at the Annual Meeting of the Newton Community Council to be held at the Newton Centre Women's Club on Tuesday, April 5. Mr. Street is a nationally known authority on social welfare problems. The meeting will also hear reports from its standing committees which have been making extensive studies during the past few months of Newton's health, welfare and recreational problems.

A survey of Newton's recreational facilities for young people over sixteen has revealed a serious lack of opportunities for wholesome recreation for the age group 16 to 25 according to John M. Bieber, chairman of the Council's Recreation division. Questionnaires answered by hundreds of employees in stores, factories and offices show a real demand for many forms of leisure-time activities not now available. The Council is taking steps to supply these needs and has already inaugurated a series of weekly dances under the auspices of the Newton Circle.

Newton's tuberculosis problem has been the subject of a special study by the Council's division on health chairmaned by Dr. Harold D. Chope, director of the Newton Board of Health. Dr. Chope will present the findings of this study at the Council Meeting.

Preliminary studies have also been made by the Council's division of Welfare and Relief under the leadership of L. A. Bruce, Jr., Executive Director of the Newton Community Chest, Inc. This Division will present recommendations regarding the establishment of uniform standards of relief by both public and private agencies. Julius A. Warren, superintendent of the Newton Schools, is chairman of the Council.

Fireman Hurled From Truck

Hoseman Michael Keegan of Engine 4, Newtonville was hurled from that vehicle last Thursday afternoon at Lowell ave. and Hull st. as the apparatus was on its way to a brush fire. Hoseman John Martin, who was driving the truck, had to swerve it suddenly to avoid a collision with an automobile driven by Daniel Leone of West st., Nonantum. Leone had just obtained a license to operate an automobile and was about to make a left turn when the fire engine approached. Mindful of the instructions he had received: "to turn toward the right when fire apparatus approached," Leone did just that. Martin expected Leone to complete the left turn he had started to make and had to make a quick swerve. Keegan was shaken up and bruised by the fall.

Furbush Elected Ruler of Elks

Douglas D. Furbush of Davis ave., West Newton, was elected Exalted Ruler of Newton Lodge of Elks at a spirited election held on Thursday. Mr. Furbush had held various offices in the Lodge the past few years. Other officers elected were John L. Grant, Leading Knight; Ernest Bleiler, Loyal Knight; Bernard Haffey, Lecturing Knight; Thomas Coppinger, Secretary; Walter Kearn, Treasurer; Matthew Hurley, Tiler; Stephen Hughes, Trustee.

Former Coal Yard Buildings Razed

The old buildings at the former Brackett coal yard on Washington st., opposite the Catholic church at Newton were torn down the past week. They consisted of a large coal shed and a combination stable and tenement. The structures had not been used for years, the big shed was in a very dilapidated condition, and the stable-tenement was also unsightly. The property was acquired several years ago by the Metropolitan Coal Company. There has been agitation for years to have the city acquire the property and a couple of months ago a public hearing was held before the Board of Aldermen in an effort to have the buildings condemned as a nuisance. At that hearing it was intimated that the owners of the property would have the buildings torn down. When the B & A tracks were lowered 42 years ago and Washington street widened, the Brackett coal yard was the only piece of private property between Newton and West Newton not seized by the city.

Claims Family Assaulted Him

Mrs. Murray MacLean of 312 Centre st., Newton and her two sons, Joseph Tucker, 19, and Allen Tucker, 17, were in the Newton court last Friday charged by the husband of the woman, Murray MacLean, with having assaulted him. The complainant had a black eye which he testified he received with other injuries when he was assaulted by his wife and his stepsons. He testified that on March 22 when he asked his wife for his dinner she hit him about a dozen times on his face and back with a slipper. He also testified that Joseph Tucker had dragged him out of bed and the other stepson had thrown a pail of water at him. Allen Tucker denied that he was in the apartment at the time of the fracas and the charge against him was dismissed at the suggestion of Inspector King who prosecuted the case. Judge Murray of Milford, who presided, continued the cases against Mrs. MacLean and her older son.

Lasell Engineer Dies Suddenly

John Howald, 60, for 20 years employed as an engineer at Lasell Junior College, Auburndale, was found dead last Saturday morning in the boiler room at the Woodland Park building of the college at 1761 Washington st., Auburndale. His death was caused by heart failure.

Newton police found about $100 in cash in Howald's room and Arthur Scipione, a Newtonville lawyer, was appointed administrator of Howald's estate by Probate Judge Monahan. The deceased had a safety deposit box rented in a bank at Boston and Scipione obtained the key to the box. At one time Howald was known to have owned stocks valued at about $10,000. He had a brother, but whether this relation is living or not, has not been ascertained.

City Gets Check From Income Taxes

City Treasurer Newhall has received from the State Treasurer a check for $211,117.43 as part of Newton's share from the State income tax receipts. It is estimated that the city will receive this year as its share of the income taxes from the State about $424,000. This will be an increase of $34,000 over the $390,000 received in 1937.

Report Shows Greater Use Of Library

The Annual Report of the Newton Free Library recently submitted to Mayor Childs, for the year 1937 shows a healthy growth for what is coming to be one of the more important departments of our city government. The report covers the Main Library and the Boys' and Girls' Library at Newton, and ten branches in the different villages of the city. It shows an increase in the use of the library by the people of the city and a larger and better book stock than a year ago. It is the sixty-ninth report of the Free Library system and the thirteenth submitted by the Librarian, Julius Lucht.

The grand total of circulation for the year was 825,685, an increase of 20,000 over 1936. This total circulation was made up as follows: Auburndale, 75,202; Newton Centre, 93,058; Newton Highlands, 56,181; Newton Lower Falls, 11,203; Newton Upper Falls, 36,314; Newtonville, 85,944; Nonantum, 36,250; Oak Hill (3 months) 2,321; Waban, 44,662; West Newton, 89,395; Main Library, 215,283; Newton Hospital, 9,991; Schools, 69,881.

The department was supported by a city appropriation of $91,808.75, and by income from trust funds of $3,935.27. Against the city appropriation there was a refund of $7,184.03 to the city collected from fines, rents, waste paper, and fees from non-resident borrowers.

Besides the chief librarian, the staff consists of thirty-one regular workers and twenty-two assistants employed by the hour. Most of the latter work part-time. The regular staff includes ten women who have charge of departments and special work, and ten branch librarians.

The Library Board for the year 1938 is as follows: Virginia M. Hutchinson, president; Thomas Weston, treasurer; Vincent P. Roberts, Guy M. Winslow, and James P. Gallagher. Julius Lucht, the Librarian, is secretary to the Board.

Charged With West Newton Burglary

Ellsworth Evans, 28, of Robin Hood st., Auburndale was arrested at 6 a. m. Tuesday by Serg. Bannon on a charge of entering the C. & G. Market at Hicks st., West Newton and the theft of $6 in money and three cartons of cigarettes. On the night of March 22 the store was broken into by means of breaking a front window. Fingerprints on the broken pane of glass, were identified, according to Captain Goode and Inspector Crowley as being those of Evans. The latter denies having committed the burglary His case was continued to April 5.

Hit Traffic Signal Fined $25.00

Arthur M. Kohler of 54 Thornton st., Waltham was fined $25 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Wednesday for leaving the scene of an accident after damaging property without revealing his identity. Shortly before midnight on March 20 a car driven by Kohler hit the traffic signal at Washington and Jewett sts., Newton, damaging it. The car then knocked down about 12 feet of an adjoining fence. Kohler drove off but the registration numbers on his car were obtained by two witnesses and Patrolmen Concannon and Lovely went to Kohler's residence at Waltham where he admitted having been involved in the accident.

Taxpayers' Asso. Directors Want Budget Reduced

The directors of the Newton Taxpayers Association held a meeting on Wednesday evening at the West Newton Savings Bank and voted to request the Board of Aldermen to reduce the budget appropriations for all departments in order that the tax rate increase will be kept down as much as possible. They also voted to favor a complete budget being passed for this year, instead of voting estimates which it is known will not be sufficient, and later making supplementary appropriations, which will result in these expenses being added on to the sums which shall determine the tax rate for 1939. Leon Rogers, president of the association, presided and others who attended included Aldermen Gaddis and Tiffin, former Aldermen Blakemore and Parker, Walter R. Amesbury, Roland F. Gammons, and Rupert Thompson.

Lyman Ziegler of Windsor rd., Waban, expert on municipal finance, who analyzed this city's financial system for the State Federation of Taxpayers Association, said that making appropriations after the budget is passed and charging them to deficit is illegal. He told the gathering that Theodore Waddell, State Director of Accounts, is opposed to the practice which Newton has resorted to of borrowing on tax titles, that Newton is the only city in this State which carries tax titles on its balance sheet, and that this city had drifted into a bad habit by passing budgets which are short by 10 to 15 per cent of the city's yearly expenses. He said Newton has been permitted to do this by State officials because it has been regarded as financially able to do so, although it is illegal to make appropriations after the budget has been passed, and then charge them to deficit. He also said the city should carry a surplus fund to be used for contingencies. He said that Newton's credit and tax collections are excellent.

The directors, heeding Mr. Ziegler's contentions, voted to disapprove of borrowing on tax titles, and against any new undertakings or changes which will tend to increase the expenses of the city. These include additional policemen to provide one day off in six, pre-school health service, three collections of garbage each week instead of two. The directors voted against using the water department surplus to aid other city activities and keep down the tax rate. They went on record as disapproving of the action of the School Committee in passing a vote to increase teachers salaries by means of the step-rate last January, before the budget was passed, in view of the fact that the Aldermen must conform to any such act on the part of the School Committee.

Retires After 57 Years' Service

William J. Hannan of 30 Kensington st., West Newton, will retire on April 9 as an employee of the Newton Water Department after nearly 57 years' service. When 12 years of age Mr. Hannan entered the employ of the department as a water boy. Later he was made assistant clerk at the supply yard and when 18 years of age was appointed clerk there. For nearly 40 years he has held that position. During his over 57 years of service he was never absent from duty except when on his vacations. He served under four commissioners —Horatio Hyde, J. Clifton Whitney, Richard H. Ellis and Joseph J. Murray. Mr. Hannan is married and has three sons and a daughter. For a man of his years he is unusually active and still is a devotee of Terpsichore, waltzing frequently at social affairs with a grace that is equalled by few of the youth of today. Mr. Hannan intends to continue active in the real estate and building business, which for many years he engaged in apart from his regular occupation.

Two More Persons Bitten By Dogs

The Newton police department on Wednesday notified two owners of dogs to restrain their pets because they had bitten persons. W. A. Luce of 52 Newtonville ave., Newton was notified to restrain his dog on complaint of Bernard Haffey of 81 Charlesbank rd., Newton. David Shirter of 48 Graylyn rd., Newton Centre was ordered to restrain his dog. The complainant was Marion Kopelman of 55 Algonquin rd.

School Committee Approves Plans For New School

At its meeting on Monday night the Newton School Committee approved the plans for the new school to be built this year near the corner of Derby and Cherry sts., West Newton. The school will replace the old Franklin School. The committee informed Thomas Quigley, Jr. that it is not interested in the purchase of land owned by him on Chestnut st., Waban, near the railroad bridge as a site for a school. For the past few years there has been some talk of acquiring this land as a location for a junior high school. But, as it is not planned to build such a school for several years, no land will be purchased at this time for such a purpose.

The committee approved of a school schedule for the coming year of 182 days. Supt. of Schools Warren told the committee that the Newton Hospital and District Nursing Asso. have approved of his plan to engage the services of an occupational therapist to assist physically handicapped children and adults in Newton, including children who are patients at the Home of Crippled Children at Oak Hill, most of whom are not residents of this city. He proposes to have the salary of the therapist paid from the Newton Community Chest. He also read a letter of thanks from the officials of the Home for Crippled Children for his assistance in having an educational survey made at the Home and the assignment there of two teachers who are paid from WPA funds.

Supt. Warren informed the committee that of the 528 teachers in Newton public schools, 119 or 22½ per cent were residents of other States when appointed; that 103 or 19½ per cent are graduates of Newton High School. Teachers holding degrees from colleges total 186.

Joseph W. Sylva, who has been serving in the Weeks Junior High School since January as a substitute teacher of industrial arts, was appointed regularly to this position. The resignation of Mrs. Mildred Marshall, a teacher at the Rice School, was accepted.

Judge Allen Fines Many Autoists

In the Newton court on last Friday Judge Lloyd Allen imposed fines on a large number of autoists found guilty of violating traffic rules. Most of the complaints were made by Newton policemen, but Metropolitan patrolmen were complainants in four cases. Among those fined $5 for speeding were: Craig Smith, Byfield rd., Waban; Leo Polucci, Reservoir pk., Needham; John Vesper, John st., Newton Centre; John English, 1477 Beacon st., Brookline; Dewey Seidel, Tappan st., Brookline; Joseph DeGeorge, Brookline. Speeders whose cases were placed on file included Edwin Coan, Applegarth st., Newton Centre, and Herbert Matthews, Cedar st., Wellesley. Mary Ferris of Boston was given a suspended $5 fine for speeding. Among those fined $3 each for not stopping before entering a through street were Alan Spencer, 717 Washington street, Newtonville; Jacob Karnheim, Hampshire st., West Newton; Elsie Billings, Cedar rd., Wellesley; William Whitman, Sutherland rd., Brighton. The case of Jacob Kovenor of Crosby rd., Chestnut Hill, was placed on file. Philip Galligan of Brookline was fined $5 for driving past a signal with red and yellow lights against him.

Discuss Tax Rate At Auburndale

A number of Auburndale citizens gathered at the Auburndale Club on Tuesday night and discussed the financing of city activities in Newton in connection with the meeting to be held Friday night, April 1st by the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen. About 60 were present. Alderman Colby who attended as a member of the Finance Committee, informed the gathering that if State officials permit the city to receive a loan of $200,000 with tax titles as a security, it has been estimated the tax rate will increase only 30 cents over that of last year, and will be $28.70. If this is not permitted, the increase may be between $1.50 and $2. Two citizens present, who did not identify themselves, advocated a reduction in salaries and wages of all city officials and employees as a means of affecting a substantial savings. Leonard Ricketson, who was a candidate for alderman last December, opposed a decrease in wages, b ut favored no increases, including step-rate increases for school teachers, policemen and firemen. Harold Knowlton of the School Committee said the school teachers should get the step-rate increases, which will amount this year to $19,000. He preferred a general decrease if any should be made, rather than stopping the step-rate increases.

Simpson's Appeal Is Rejected

The Supreme Court of this State on Tuesday made a decision against the appeal taken by the attorney of Edward P. Simpson who murdered Patrolmen Henry Bell and Lawrence Murphy of the Newton police last August. The appeal was taken on the technicality that certain evidence had been wrongly admitted at Simpson's trial. Simpson had been sentenced by Judge Swift to die during the week of April 4, but pending the decision of the Supreme Court a stay of sentence had been granted. There is a possibility that an attempt will be made to further delay Simpson's execution as a result of a motion made in a civil session of the Superior Court at Lawrence on Wednesday which asked for a new trial in behalf of a man implicated in the theft of wool at Hudson last year. Simpson was involved in that crime, and it is claimed that his testimony would be needed in the case.

Arthur McCabe Hit By Automobile

Arthur McCabe, 19, son of Alderman Frank T. McCabe of 3 Lewis st., Newton, while crossing Centre st., opposite Centre ave. on Tuesday night at 7:25, was hit by an automobile driven by Nicholas Ciccone, 21, of 20 Willow st., Newton Centre. He received a concussion of the brain and an injury to his left leg. He was taken to his home in a police car and treated by Dr. Marston. Ciccone reported to the police that he slipped down the car to permit McCabe to cross the street, but that the latter stopped, and then Ciccone said, he continued along. Skid marks on the street about 40 feet in length were photographed by Serg. Burke and Inspector Hammill.

Telephone Co. Purchases Land In Newtonville

Plans Installation of The Dial System

The long anticipated installation of the dial telephone system in Newton is nearer as the result of the recent purchase of a large lot of land in Newtonville by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company. The land which the company has purchased, although title to it has not been registered, is located on Washington st. at the corner of Central ave. With two hundred feet frontage on Washington st., nearly three hundred on Central ave. and another two hundred on Court st., the total area covers more than an acre and about equal to half of a city block. It is ideally located in a business zone and adjacent to Washington st. under which the major trunk lines of the telephone company serving Newton are located.

The building, now located on the Washington st. property, many years ago was the Central Congregational Church but was altered for business use when the present church edifice on Walnut st. was erected. It is understood that the telephone company will remove these buildings in order to make way for the erection of a central exchange building for the Newtons. Also located on the property on Court st. is the portable building used for Boy Scout activities in Newtonville. It is stated that the company does not plan to remove this building.

Installation of the dial system was in prospect in Newton more than ten years ago and the depression of the early 1930s undoubtedly postponed the company's plans in this respect. With the acquisition of land upon which the company will erect a central exchange building the first step has been taken. As many months of preparation are required before the dial system can be installed and as plans are only in the formative stage, it is believed that it will be at least another two or three years before Newton telephone users will be introduced to the more efficient method of telephone operation.

The installation of the dial system and the erection of a central exchange building will probably combine three of the exchanges in the area and may eventually extend to a fourth. Present plans include the Newton North, West Newton and Centre Newton exchanges in the dial system with the possibility that Middlesex exchange, serving Watertown, may also be a part of the system.

Among the problems which telephone engineers are reported to be studying is that of providing uniform rate treatment for the present three Newton offices which are now in different rate groups.

Although it is probable that the installation of the dial system will not require as many operators as are now employed in the three manual system exchanges in the city, the New England Tel. and Tel. Co. will follow its long established policy of absorbing such employees as may not be necessary here in some other part of the system. The erection of the new exchange and the installation of the new system will employ a considerable number of men for many months with resulting benefit to Newton.

THE DELIVERANCE OF POWER

Once again the question has arisen as to whether or not salary reductions and the postponement of step-rate increases for public employees are in order. The mounting costs of welfare burdens and governmental costs presumably will ever be the bug-a-boo of the taxpayer. Far more important, however, is the fact that today many, many more persons are receiving some form of compensation from the public treasury than even a decade ago, when little thought was given to the cost of governmental services. Herein lies one of the most disturbing features of the reorganization bill now before the national House of Representatives after having passed the Senate by a little better than a fifty per cent vote. Under the terms of the bill the President would have the power to appoint one man as director of civil service classifications. Truly a deliverance of power which too easily might destroy the very foundations of democracy upon which this nation exists.

A WELCOME IMPROVEMENT

The demolition of the old buildings used in connection with the former coal yards on Washington street between Newton and Newtonville was started this week. Although long delayed, the improvement of this section is most welcome.

Kiwanis Club

Mr. Elwood Drake, Director of Research and Guidance gave a splendid talk to the Newton Kiwanians at their weekly meeting on Tuesday at the Charles River Country Club. Mr. Drake explained very clearly the problems of our children of today and illustrated the real constructive work being done by the Department of Research and Guidance in the Newton Schools. He thanked the club warmly for their fine contributions of complete libraries on guidance. He explained that the children use these books extensively and expressed to the club, the appreciation of his department not only for the gift of these books but also for the annual contribution to keep these libraries modern and up to date.

Past President Jim Forbes, Principal of the Newton Trade School explained the work being done by the club and by Kiwanis International in the broad and fruitful field of vocational guidance.

Watch Those Lights

It's a flimsy excuse, that frequent wail—"I didn't see the light." The privilege of driving an auto should carry with it the responsibility for a high degree of alertness. After all, it's easy to see and recognize a traffic light. Usually it's just about where you expect to find it—where you actually look for it. There is not much excuse for missing it, now is there? Remember that traffic signals are for your protection. Play the traffic game according to the rules.

Central Church Women To Meet On April 6th

The Woman's Association of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, will hold its next meeting on Wednesday, April sixth, beginning at 10 a. m. with a sewing and Red Cross period under the direction of Mrs. James Brickett.

At 12:30 the Knitting Circle, Mrs. Robert Lindquist, chairman, will serve luncheon, with Mrs. W. S. Cavanaugh in charge of the dining room and Mrs. George Edmands in charge of the decorations.

At 1:30 the afternoon program will begin with devotions led by Mrs. Brewer Eddy. A very interesting story of the small New England churches will be told by the Rev. Mrs. Hilda Ives, a member of the Andover Newton Theological Seminary faculty. Mrs. Ives has had a wide experience in this field and has a wealth of fascinating information which she imports in a most stimulating manner.

Mrs. Kenneth Bernard, soprano, and Mrs. Arthur Mooney, contralto, will sing, accompanied by Mrs. R. S. Merrill at the piano.

Newton Boys Winners In Oratorical Contest

Gordon J. O'Brien, senior class president of Our Lady's School in Newton was winner of first prize for excellence in oratory, when he represented his school Wednesday evening in the semi-final match of the American Legion oratorical contest held at Post 39, Arlington. The subject of his talk was "The Responsibilities of the Individual Citizens Under the Constitution of the U. S."

The other contestants, all of whom spoke on a topic pertaining to the Constitution, were Timothy O'Toole of Newton High School, winner of second prize; Alfred McAllister, of Billerica High School; Norman C. Baker of Lexington High School; Warren Kelly of Watertown High School; and Malcolm Bearse of Arlington High.

O'Brien and O'Toole, first and second place winners are sponsored by Newton Post 48, J. Sherman Irving, commander.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

Twenty students sailed on the S. S. Georgic on Saturday, March 26, for Bermuda where they spent the spring vacation. They returned April 3, on the Queen of Bermuda.

Among the girls who sailed were Miss Nancy Allen of Newark, N. J., Miss Allaire Bennett of New York City, Miss Elysebeth Lloyd of Worcester, Mass., Miss Ruth Shaw of Needham, Mass., Miss Margaret Smith of Shrewsbury, Mass., Miss Jean Randall of Springfield, Mass., and Miss Jane Sherman of Montclair, N. J. The students were accompanied by Miss Muriel McClelland, Miss Helen Beede and Miss Ruth Wilmot, members of the faculty at Lasell.

Letters To The Editor

WELFARE COSTS?

March 26, 1938.

To the Newton Graphic

Drawing attention to Welfare costs at the meeting of citizens in City Hall March 23, Mr. Rupert C. Thompson, as reported in the GRAPHIC, stated that the Welfare expenses in 1937 totaled $677,824. He evidently included in that total expenses for Soldiers' relief to the tune of about $73,000. By way of comparison Mr. Thompson said cost of the department for 1920 was only $10,000.

The $10,000 figure for 1920 seemed absurdly low, and prompted me to check up at City Hall. Taken from the printed records of 1920 the sum given is $64,097.49. Some wide difference perhaps even Mr. Thompson will agree.

Where could Mr. Thompson have secured his figure for 1920, or possibly did he unwittingly quote only one item of the total amount? Did he, perchance, slip over a column and sight the cost of Soldiers' relief for 1920? Soldiers' relief for that year might have run to that amount. Welfare Department salaries, with a few minor items added, would account for Mr. Thompson's $10,000. The statement having gained much publicity it is well that the right amount should be set before the taxpayers before the adjourned meeting which is set for the night of April 1st.

Welfare costs today are startling, but they should not be made to appear more alarming by comparison with inaccurate quotations concerning the department 17 years ago.

Yours truly,
JOHN TEMPERLEY.

ZONING CHANGES

To the Editor:

The following is an incident that I would like to pass along to those who are zoning minded or to those who do not think much about the need for protection of zoned areas.

In a town of the metropolitan district there has been during the past year several meetings and committees working upon a zoning ordinance with the result that in one case they had a large body of a certain section that was persuaded by the owner to reserve the corner of a certain street for gas stations. The rest of the street to remain in residential.

One of the members of the zoning committee hearing before hand of the proposition and remembering just such an experience several years before asked the assessors to give the facts about the effect upon the valuations. This was looked up with the result that the region had deteriorated, the valuations had dropped and that there was not enough increase in taxable property to offset the decrease in value of the residential property. This actual fact caused those present to retreat from their position of helping the corner gas man and acquiesced in the zoning as proposed by the committee.

There may be an instance in Newton where the facts are not known and watchfulness is not carried on by those responsible. Often times new members are elected to the board of aldermen who do not know of the years of effort to preserve the zoning laws with the result that something may be put over that knowledge and experience would have prevented. Zoning is a preservative of home life and a stabilizer of values.

Annual Reunion At Andover-Newton Tomorrow

The Annual Reunion of the Northern New England School of Religious Education will be held at Andover-Newton Theological School, Newton Center, Mass., on Saturday, April 2nd, with several hundred alumni and undergraduates expected from all over New England.

A reception at four o'clock will be followed by a varied program of entertainment and movies of the school, with after dinner speaking and candlelight service in the evening. Dean Vaughan Dabney, of Andover-Newton Theological School, will be the special speaker.

The committee in charge includes Miss Ethelyne Pearson, Worcester, Mass., Rev. Hilda L. Ives, Portland, Me., Miss Marjory Menard, Somerville, Mass., Miss Mavis Avery, Lawrence, Mass., and Mrs. Ethel H. Thayer, Tilton, N. H.

Announcement will be made of plans and arrangements for this year's session of the school at the University of New Hampshire, August 21-28.

Sunbeam Chats

What's an April fool? Johnny brought me a bee-u-tiful big rattle. I grabbed it and shook it, but it didn't rattle. Johnny said, "April Fool." But Mother, she brought me a lovely little green glass to drink my orange juice from—like the District Nurse told her to. When it was empty I threw it on the floor, but it didn't break. Is that an April fool?

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

Rotary Club

The Rotary Club of Newton met as usual on Monday at the Charles River Country Club. Mr. Howard Davis, world traveller, Forum lecturer, writer, and correspondent for "News Week," gave the club one of the best talks of the year on "An Analysis of World Affairs."

Mr. Davis first analyzed the world situation at the close of the World War in November, 1918, pointing out that the world at that time was groggy and weary from the conflict and yet was stimulated by new conceptions of peace and good will as exemplified by Wilson's 14 points. At that time we heard much about "protection of minorities, open diplomacy, no annexation through force, peace without victory." The League of Nations was intended to put into practical application many of these trends toward the idealistic future.

Mr. Davis then analyzed the situation today, in which we have in foreign countries a worship of force and a worship of centralized power. He pointed out that from his point of view our present conditions were the result of seven major incidents:

1. The petition of Germany and Austria for "economic union" in 1931, a petition which was rejected by the League of Nations. From this point on the German attitude changed from one of conciliation to one of vindictiveness. 2. The Japanese invasion of Manchuria and the establishment of the puppet state of Manchukuo, an evidence of further violation of the covenant of the League of Nations, and a discrediting of the policies of the League. 3. The rearmament of Germany by Hitler in 1935, and the reoccupation of the Rhine military zone. 4. The invasion of Ethiopia by Mussolini. 5. The Italian and German aid given to the Spanish rebels in the Spanish Civil War. 6. The renewal of Japanese aggression in China. 7. The seizure of Austria.

Mr. Davis points out that these seven major incidents have all tended to weaken and discredit any attempt toward a League of Nations, an idea well encouraged in 1918.

There are now three distinct zones of influence:

1. The Western Zone, including France, Switzerland, Belgium and Holland. 2. The Central Zone, including Fascist Germany and Italy. 3. The Eastern Zone, including Poland, Esthonia, Latvia, Roumania and Lithuania.

Mr. Davis declared himself very much in favor of a policy of "splendid" isolation by America, pointing out that if we can keep cool and show courage and cooperation toward world trade and economics that eventually Fascism may kill itself due to its own poisons. First of all, however, before we offer democracy as a worthy opponent of Fascism, we must prove by our own example that it can work efficiently for the progress of our own people.

Music School Observes Constitution Anniversary

Junior pupils of the All Newton Music School assisted by groups from the Stearns School Centre and the West Newton Community Centre celebrated the 150th Anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States in a suitable program of music, dances and songs at the Claflin School, Newtonville, on Friday evening, March 25th.

The performance opened with the reading of the President's Anniversary Proclamation. This was followed by a procession of young girls dressed in Colonial costumes and entering to the strains of Handel's "See the Conquering Hero Comes"—the same music that greeted Washington everywhere during his progress to New York for his inauguration. A young boy and girl representing General and Mrs. Washington came at the end of the procession and walked across the stage to a place of honor set apart for them at one side.

The music and dances presented on the program were all known and used in the early days of our country. The President's March, now known as Hail Columbia, was composed by Philip Phile and used at the Washington Inauguration. This was played by the Junior String Ensemble as one of the opening numbers. The Federal March, played on two pianos, was composed by Alexander Reinagle, an American, who was the music teacher of Nellie Curtis, Washington's step-daughter. Especially well received was the Little Symphony of Haydn, known as the Toy Symphony because added to the string groups are small toy instruments, which on Friday night were played by members of the Theory Classes. Haydn was born in the same year as Washington and his symphonies appeared constantly on the programs of the time.

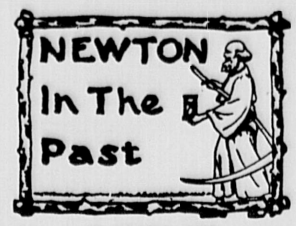

As a special part of the program, Certificates of Participation were presented by Miss Fyffe, Director of the Music School, to all children taking part in the performance. These were issued by the Constitution Sesquicentennial Commission and signed by the President, Vice-President, and Director General of the Commission.

The evening came to a close with the singing of America by all present accompanied by an orchestra of 40 young boys and girls.

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

An informal recital will be given by the pupils of the All Newton Music School at the home of Miss Lillian West, Head of the Piano Department, 14 Claflin Place, Newtonville, on Sunday evening, April 3rd. The pupils' parents and their friends are cordially invited to attend.

NEWTON In The Past

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, April 1, 1876

The annual exhibition of drawing from public schools of this State opened in Horticultural Hall, Boston on last Tuesday. Everyone who has visited the exhibition is charmed with the fine specimens of work. Newton, of course, has many contributions and they are all good ones. Few schools can show a better record in drawing than those of Newton.

The project of a narrow-gauge railroad from Newton Upper Falls to Boston has been agitated for sometime past and a few days ago Mr. W. C. Strong of West Newton issued a printed prospectus of its advantages over the broad gauge plan, together with a map showing the proposed route. The estimated cost from Cottage Farm to Upper Falls, together with the equipment is $25,000 per mile, and it is intended to run a train every half hour.

June 17 being the 100th anniversary of the Town Meeting, when Newton declared its independence, will be duly celebrated this year. There will be a gathering in one of the large halls of the city at which former Mayor Hyde will deliver an address; Rev. I. N. Tarbox will read a poem and there will be other speeches and music. It is expected that Governor Rice of Lower Falls will preside. The citizens will be invited to lend their aid by illuminations, display of flags and fireworks.

The bill for a district court in Newton was reported upon by the committee to be referred to the next Legislature. The report was adopted.

The managers of the Yale Apollo Glee Club say it has caused the Yale men much amusement to think that the Amherst boys have the cheek to designate any Yale musical organization as second class. They say that if the Amherst men want to hear good singing they had better remain in Newton and listen to the Yale boys give the Amherst Glee Club some points.

The managers of the Amherst Glee Club say that the Yale Apollo Club is but a freshman organization, and the real Yale Glee Club, a fairly good organization, is on a tour of the South. If this club were coming to Newton there would be some inducement for the Amherst men to remain over, but they do not care to hear Yale freshmen attempt to sing.

The Nonantum Cycling Club disbanded at its meeting on March 25. At the close of the meeting a new club was formed to be known as the Newton Outing Club. The new club purchased the property of the cycling club and the admission fees and dues are only half as much. The objects of the club are to promote outdoor exercises such as cycling, boating, tennis, etc., and to provide social entertainment. Any gentleman over 18 years of age can send his application.

At the meeting of the School Board on Wednesday evening the Superintendent recommended $150 for apparatus for the study of botany, $90 for mineralogy, $55 for new Latin books. Mr. Frost of the sub-committee on rules reported that the committee had changed its mind since the January meeting when it recommended that the full School Committee constitute the high school committee. It is now recommended that only three members be on the high school committee—the chairman of the board and two to be elected by ballot. It was also recommended that the high school committee be only legislative, instead of also having supervision, as at present. Rev. Mr. Hornbrooke asked for an explanation of the complete change of view. He said each Ward has had a representative on the high school committee, and how can the committee have charge of the school if supervision is stricken out? Mr. Barton said a smaller committee can act more promptly and we have hired a superintendent to supervise the school. He said members of the committee have no right to make suggestions to the teachers, but should call the superintendent's attention to one not satisfactory. Mayor Kimball asked if a member cannot say what he thinks to a teacher? Mr. Barton replied that a member can say it, but it will have no weight. It was voted to reduce the committee to three, but the proposal to take the right of supervision from the committee was voted down.

Mayor Kimball very kindly adopted the suggestion made by the GRAPHIC and made Good Friday a holiday in the public schools. This is only following the custom of other cities and has given satisfaction to parents and teachers.

Edward H. Powers' Paragraphs

Twelve of the thirty-nine Mayors of Massachusetts cities appeared at the State House on Tuesday before the Committee on Taxation and argued in favor of the proposed sales-tax in this State. Among them was Mayor Childs of Newton. It was contended by some of the proponents of the sales-tax that the burden of welfare has become so tremendous in cities that they will collapse financially unless this tax is levied. The Mayor of Chelsea asserted that the tax rate of that city the coming year will be $55. It cannot be denied that public relief for the unemployed and their dependents has placed a new and staggering burden on cities and towns. It is a fact that real estate bears an unfair percentage of taxation. But welfare relief cannot bear all the blame for the financial difficulties which now beset cities in this State. Much of the trouble can be properly ascribed to extravagant, inefficient management of cities and the conduct of their public activities for many years past. Many cities in this State have had too many loafers drawing salaries and wages for doing little or nothing. There have been and are too many sinecures. These re the reasons why tax rates in a number of Massachusetts cities were too high even before the cost of welfare reached the proportions it has in late years. A sales-tax will bring in tremendous revenue. It will also encourage additional extravagances and waste of public moneys by politicians. It will divert business from Massachusetts to neighboring States.

The rocky, hillside farms of New England have been unable to compete with the rich soil of New York, the Central States and the West. For years it has been urged that New England can increase its revenue by raising sheep. Last year a farmer near Houlton, Maine brought 600 sheep from Montana and pastured them on his farm. On Tuesday two dogs attacked the big herd of sheep and killed 117 of them. This is the answer as to why sheep raising in New England has not succeeded. Last year in Newton over 200 persons were bitten by dogs. We like dogs, but the fact remains there are too many unrestrained canines in New England, and too many unlicensed, poorly trained dogs in Newton.

Years ago a boy prodigy named Berle entered Harvard College at an age when most boys enter high school. Unlike many boy wonders, he did not fade out of the picture. Because of his intellectuality he was selected by President Roosevelt as one of the first members of "the Brain Trust." The other day young Mr. Berle delivered an address at Boston. He castigated New England for its opposition to the proposed reciprocal trade agreements with Czechoslovakia and England, argued that this section of the country has been selfish in the past, and that its principal industries (which are textile and shoe) have faded because tariff barriers have lessened the purchasing power of foreign countries. Mr. Berle is a very smart young man, but he doesn't know everything. Before he was born the cotton industries were leaving New England because greedy New England cotton manufacturers could make larger profits by using cheap Southern labor and compelling their child employees to work nights. European and Asiatic countries which before Mr. Berle's advent on this earth were largely agricultural and had few or no textile mills or shoe factories, have for the past 35 years purchased many millions of dollars worth of machines used in cotton and shoe manufacturing from the U. S. A. and are now ruinous competitors because of their low-paid labor. These countries are spending most of their available funds on armament and war munitions. Their purchases of New England products will increase very little even if they are permitted to dump their textiles, shoes and other articles into this country. And if New England and other manufacturing States are further impoverished by greatly increased importation of foreign made merchandise, the agriculturists favored by Secretary Hull, Pundit Berle and others of the internationalists will lose far more in the decreased purchasing power of this country than they will gain by the promised increase in purchases by foreigners.

For some weeks there has been considerable talk about town that Mayor Childs is giving serious consideration to importunities of some of his friends that he consent to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. It was reported that within the past couple of weeks that Thomas W. White, whose political sagacity is highly respected by the Mayor, had a long conference with Mr. Childs on this matter. Mr. White who has been in Washington as secretary to Senator Lodge, was in Newton on a visit. It was also reported that on March 18 the Mayor had a long visit at City Hall from former Governor Curley, and some even attached political significance to this. The latest rumor was—that on Thursday of this week Boston newspapers would announce that Mayor Childs would be a candidate for Governor. Last Saturday we talked with the

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Prefers to be Ordinary

Determined men and women, with spades and trowels, are out to improve their gardens. They mean there shall be more and better things growing this Summer where only a partly satisfactory bed or border flourished last year. The grim set of their jaws, the ferocity with which they attack the tasks before them and the unfaltering digging, sowing, planting and tending make me rejoice I am not a seed, bulb, bud or blossom or even a mound of rich soil. Rather than have intrepid garden experts on my trail, trying to make me a shining example of plant life, I should prefer to be a weedy plot that once possessed varied charm but now completely gone to grass.

Progress vs. Picturesque

If I knew anything at all about bookkeeping I probably would agree with the officials of the civic betterment organization in Boston who have come out against the use of great leather-bound books in which are recorded the names of voters by the Election Commissioners. The criticism they make is that it is reminiscent of the "old days of high desks and quill pen bookkeeping as contrasted with the modern system of cards and machines."

My earliest recollection of bookkeepers pictures a man sitting on a high stool industriously penning figures on the pages of a large volume. To me there was always something mysterious in his movements. As far as that goes, people who do this work nowadays, under the modern system, continue to mystify me. I have an idea of their objective, at least I think I have, and am awed at the ease with which they strike a balance or whatever it is called. Quills had long passed out of use when I began observing the "ink scratches." As far as the use of machines go, it is as impressive if not as picturesque.

However, I think of the stories (Uriah Heep in Dickens' "Oliver Twist" and many more agreeable characters of fiction) in which bookkeeping was done in the old way. Stage productions, too, in which the bookkeeper climbed up and down. It made for dramatic action, suspensive interest and various other engrossing movements. Of course, it took time but that is where the author or playwright made his point. What drama or comedy is there in snatching a card from a file, thrusting it in a machine, punching a number of keys and pulling a couple of levers? Let progress forge ahead if it must. I, for one, prefer to stand aside and follow the bookkeeper on his stool as he pursues his calling over columns of figures and then when the day is done descends to gather his ponderous books and place them in the safe for the night.

Not the Least Worried

Any contention that all men are vain regarding dress is forthwith challenged. Right here in Newton there is to be found at least one male who isn't terribly fussy and yet no one accuses him of being badly dressed. In company with his wife, he had taken the train to Boston and there boarded a taxicab for dinner at a hotel. While seated in the taxi he crossed his legs, thus revealing, because of his low shoes, a whole in his stocking just above the instep. "Great heavens," exclaimed his wife, "do you see that hole?" Undisturbed, the nonchalant husband replied, "Yes, I should have worn my spats."

Can it be Stopped?

There is another form of the telephone nuisance for which the company is in no way to blame. I refer to persons who call late at night or early in the morning because it suits their convenience and regardless of your plans or habits. It wouldn't be quite so provoking if they didn't say, "Oh, I hope you hadn't gone to bed," or "Sorry if I made you get up" and that palpably insincere apology with an irritating laugh. Something should be done to them but I am not prepared to suggest a penalty. Until I have recovered from my latest joust I cannot be judicial. Listen in on this station next week at this hour.

Dangers of Ghost-Writing

An open secret, which most of us have shared and which seems to have made little difference in our lives during the march of time, is the fact that not a few noted public speakers have their formal utterances prepared for them by "ghost writers." The material may be based on ideas suggested by the orator himself or the product of the latter's brain. If interesting, it matters little. Sometimes there are slip-ups. In this particular instance the distinguished guest arrived late. His speech had been prepared for him and placed on his desk. He had shoved it in his pocket. When called upon he was still panting from exertion of haste and he took out the document, ripped open the envelope and started to read. He caught himself, however, luckily. The first line said, "Here is some flag-waving stuff that ought to go big with any audience." For the benefit of those who want to know what happened after that, I may say that the speaker dexterously covered his halting by reaching for his eye-glasses and at the same time commenting on the dim lighting. Soon he had got into the text and everything was O. K. It is a safe wager that there will be no private messages on future manuscripts.

KNAPP—HEATH

Miss Helen June Heath, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Hugh Austin Heath of 195 Morton st., Newton Centre, was married to Professor Lewis Mansfield Knapp of Williams College at four o'clock on Saturday afternoon, March 26, in the chapel of Newton Andover Theological School. The chapel was lighted with candles and the altar decorated with ferns and lilies. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father and she was given in marriage by her brother, Rev. Otis Robinson Heath.

She wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory brocade and a tulle veil trimmed with old lace. Her bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Louise Robinson, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore green chiffon with long full skirt and puffed sleeves, matching hat and carried Spring flowers. The other attendants were Miss Mildred MacLeod of New York and Mrs. Otis R. Heath of Newton, gowned in orchid chiffon. Miss Sylvia Hetzel of Philadelphia and Miss Idalee Woodson of Syracuse, who were gowned in yellow chiffon. Little Miss Margaret Knapp, the flower girl, wore a frock of orchid and yellow.

Rev. William Blakney of Williamstown was the best man and the ushers were Professor George Maclane Harper Jr., of Williamstown, Stuart Chapin of Cambridge, Roy Bennett of Melrose Highlands and Professor Russell C. Tuck of Newton Centre.

A reception was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Herrick on Institution ave., where the decorations were of Spring flowers.

The bride is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College and Andover-Newton Theological School. The groom, who is the son of Mrs. George S. Knapp of Groton, is a graduate of Amherst College where he was a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity and also attended Yale where he received his doctor's degree.

Dr. and Mrs. Knapp will make their home in Williamstown.

BOSTON MUTUAL LIFE REPORT SHOWS NEW HIGH IN RESOURCES

Substantial gains for the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company during 1937 are reported by President Jay R. Benton in the Company's 38th annual statement to the policyholders.

On December 31, the number of policyholders was 261,974, a gain of 8,594 for the year. The insurance-in-force increased $3,721,428, bringing the total amount in force to $83,078,530. The total admitted assets stood at $12,618,076.63, having increased during the year $645,852.74.

The principal items are bonds, notes and stocks $7,570,771.68, which sum includes obligations of the United States $2,581,340.97; bonds of States, Cities and Towns, $425,186.62; Canadian Municipal bonds, $131,387.94; Public Utility bonds, $2,562,537.25; Railroad bonds, $1,298,595.90; Miscellaneous Bonds and Notes, $390,827.50; and Common and Preferred Stocks, $180,895.50.

Real estate mortgages amounted to $1,499,725.09; Cash in Banks and Office, $437,615.28; Interest and Rents due and accrued, $126,404.77; Loans on Company's policies, $1,220,187.74; Home Office and Other Real Estate, $1,756,316.53; Premiums due and deferred, $294,312.51.

Total Income Nearly Four Million

The income received during 1937 exceeded all disbursements by $754,547.24. The largest single item of income was premium receipts. In 1937 the premium income was $3,276,984.80. Second only to premium income was the amount received in interest, dividends and real estate rentals, which amounted to $587,557.70. Total income from premiums, interest, and all other sources was $3,939,197.87.

Favorable experience in regard to policy loans continued for the year. Total loans outstanding at the end of the year were $1,220,187.74, a decrease of $22,874.93. Of all the policies in the company, only 4.70 per cent have any loan against them.

The unassigned net surplus was $571,929.05. This surplus is exclusive of policy reserves, dividends, special contingency funds and all other liabilities. The reserve set up for the fulfillment of policy guarantees amounted to $11,465,535. In 1938, the company will continue the same rate of dividends to policyholders on both ordinary and weekly payment policies as paid in 1937. Satisfactory mortality experience and prudence in the management of the company's affairs have made this possible.

Payments to Policyholders

There are other figures in the report that bear witness to the company's attitude toward its policyholders. The payments to policyholders and to the beneficiaries of policyholders in 1937 amounted to $1,637,736.16. Death claims represented $633,719.27 of this amount and living policyholders received $1,004,016.89, of which $166,599.85 was dividends on policies. Disbursements of all kinds, including expenses and taxes were $3,184,650.63. Policyholders and beneficiaries of the company have been paid a total of $28,010,616.58 since its organization.

Quite as important as these impressive figures is the fact that the Company has always been prompt in its payment of death claims and all other benefits. It realizes that when death has entered a family, prompt payment of insurance does help to break at least some of the force of the blow. The steady growth of the Company indicates that the Company's reputation for prompt payment is appreciated by buyers of insurance.

NEWTON PLAYER IN TABLE TENNIS TOURNEY AT ARENA

The eastern star of table tennis, Les Lowry, 17 year old Newton High School senior, will play at the Boston Arena on Friday, April 8, in the International Table Tennis Matches, which are being held under the auspices of the Newton Table Tennis Club.

Lowry, who moved to Newton two years ago from Illinois, where he was state titlist, is an all round athlete, playing on the football and tennis teams of Newton High.

Since his arrival in the East he has annexed the U. S. Eastern doubles, the New England and the Massachusetts championships and developed his game so rapidly that he is expected to give his world famous opponents some real competition.

At Philadelphia last week he had the opportunity to see and analyze the play of the many stars who will compete in the Arena matches, including Laszlo Bellak, Budapest, Hungary, who retained his United States crown, Johnny Abrahams, United States mixed doubles champion and Louis Pagliaro, the New York champion, who was the sensation of the recent tournament when his power drives knocked Jimmy McClure the number two ranking player in this country out of the tournament.

Opens New Office On Worc. Turnpike

The Home Specialties Company, Inc. through its president and treasurer, John M. Walker, announces the grand opening of a new office and showroom, located at 335 Worcester Turnpike, Newton Centre near to its present factory.

JOHN M. WALKER

For the past two years the office has been combined with the factory, but due to increased business it became necessary to transfer this to another building. After extensive alterations he is now ready to welcome his host of friends in Newton, Wellesley, and Needham.

A few years ago Mr. Walker was located at Langley rd., Newton Centre in a basement where he started to solicit orders and manufacture same. From this early start of one man besides himself, the business has grown to the present size of approximately 18 employees.

Two years ago Mr. Walker located at 355 Worcester Turnpike, Newton Centre, with his factory and thought that it would be large enough for many years to come, but on account of increased demands from Framingham and Worcester he found it necessary to open another office and at the present time he can be reached at Framingham 3131, Milford 1800, Worcester 4-2897.

The Home Specialties Company, Inc. manufactures awnings of all types for office, home and public building, window shades for any and every type, wedding canopies, aisle carpets, screen porch, Venetian blinds, weatherstripping, summer furniture, canvas covers, flags and everything for the home as the name implies.

Just reach for your telephone and call C. N. 3900, 3901, 3902 and the salesman will be sent immediately to cheerfully estimate anything that you may desire.

Why not visit the new office and show room during this week of a grand opening sale.

CHILDREN'S GUILD OPERA

Plans for the coming spring opera of the Children's Singing Guild, the sixth annual production, are shaping up rapidly. The date is Saturday, April 30th; the place, the auditorium of the John W. Weeks Junior High School; the object, to benefit the families of the late Officers Murphy and Bell. There are at present exactly 79 boys and girls in the Children's Guild, representing all the villages in Newton, except Auburndale and Waban. They range in age from five to thirteen, and include some extremely gifted young people. The opera to be given this spring is "All at Sea," a two-act compilation of five of the most familiar of Gilbert and Sullivan's works, including "Pinafore," "The Mikado," "Patience," "Iolanthe," "The Pirates of Penzance," with the leading characters and choruses from each. Soloists have been selected to represent as many different villages as possible, and the Guild director, Mrs. John A. Russell of Newton Centre, is much pleased with the cast as now planned.

First Union Label

The first union label was used by San Francisco cigar makers about 1874.

Salon of Children's Portraits At Bachrach Studio

A salon of children's portraits will be held in the Bachrach studio in Newton between three and five o'clock on the afternoon of this week. The salon is the culmination of months of planning and of photographing children of prominent families in this city.

The salon is judged as one class and the chief consideration of the judges is child character as caught by the camera.

The first prize was awarded to little Norma Jean Quinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Quinn of West Newton. The second prize went to Betty and Barbara Naylor, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Naylor of West Newton, and honorable mention to Katherine Rowley, daughter of Mrs. Leonard W. Rowley of Newton Centre.

Those who judged the salon are Mrs. Philip Munroe of Watertown, incoming president of the Current Topic Club of Dorchester and Mr. Stanley Woodward, noted marine artist.

Spring Campaign of Hits At West Newton Theatre

Announcing a spring campaign of hits, starting Sunday for 4 big days "The Buccaneer," starring Fredric March and Franciska Gaal—March is seen as the swashbuckling king of the pirates whose loyalty to the United States helps win the battle of New Orleans. He is assisted with an excellent cast. On the same program is Mae West in her latest hit, "Every Day's a Holiday." Starting Thursday for 3 days by popular request brings back Shirley Temple, Gary Cooper and Carole Lombard in "Now and Forever." Together these three compose one of the most perfect combinations seen in films. The characters they play are sympathetic, human and entirely believable and they enact a story that is sincere, with loads of heart-tugs and tears along with the smiles and laughs. On the same program will be Wayne Morris and June Travis in "The Kid Comes Back." Full of physical action, the story is a very fitting vehicle for Morris whose size and splendid physique lend themselves perfectly to the role of a handsome young boxer. Watch for these shower of "hits"—"Big Broadcast of 1938," "Checkers," "Gold Is Where You Find It," "Penrod and His Twin Brother," "Sally, Irene and Mary," "I Met My Love Again," "Green Light," "Charge of the Light Brigade," "Goldwyn Follies." Plan to see them in the new Newton Theatre.

Spelling Bees

During the past week, school spelling bees were held throughout the high school in accordance with the procedure followed by the 60 Parochial Schools in the Archdiocese of Boston which have entered the Boston Herald Fifth Parochial School Spelling Bee. The winners at Our Lady's to whom will be awarded a silver medal are as follows: Grade 12, Gordon O'Brien; Grade 11, Rita McArdle; Grade 10, Anthony Finelli, and Grade IX, Alice Thompson.

Grade Spelling Bees were held in all home rooms the preceding week. The winners of these bees will be awarded a bronze medal by the Boston Herald. They are the following: Senior Class, Gordon O'Brien; Junior Class, Rita McArdle and Robert Fitzgerald; Sophomore Class, Anthony Finelli and Margaret Hurney; Freshman Class, Joseph Juarez and Alice Thompson.

The four school winners will represent Our Lady's in the semi-final competition which will be held in the assembly hall of four Boston Parochial Schools next week. The grand final will occur at Faneuil Hall on Saturday afternoon, April 30, at 2:00 o'clock.

The Red Cross Nursing Club, sponsored by Miss Norcross, presents an instructive display of original posters on the main bulletin board. Posters drawn by Betty Marden, Concetti Tocci, Phyllis Burke, Eleanor Anacelli and Natalie Joyce are among those included. The committee in charge of the bulletin board were: Eleanor Anacelli, Priscilla Buck and Natalie Joyce, chairman.

Mr. Cronan of the Newton library gave the last of his story telling series before the English pupils last Friday. His choice of "The Trumpeter of Krakaw" by Eric Kelley correlated with the present work in the Physical Education Department where the girls have been learning Polish dances. "Clearing Weather" by Cornelia Meigs and a humorous story closed the program.

"Your Health is Your Happiness" was the title of a play written to show the value of tuberculin testing for children and presented to the pupils of the 7th and 9th grades on Monday. The play written by Dr. H. D. Chope of the Newton Health Department assisted by Miss Grace M. Lawrence, R.N., and Miss Katherine Wilder, Supervisor of Science for junior high schools in Newton was presented by Miss Kennedy's 9th grade science class. Parts were taken by James Horn, Jimmy Davis, Helen Marks, Miss Kneeland, and Dr Chope. A film, "Behind the Shadows," was shown by Miss Perkins of the State Tuberculosis League. The program was a constructive preparation for the tuberculosis testing to be done in April.

The Latin Club attended the presentation of "King Argimenes and the Unknown Warrior" at Wellesley College, Saturday, March 26th. Three parents, Mrs. Handy, Mrs. Sherman, and Mrs. Meyer, and three teachers, Miss Sylvester, Miss Kennedy, and Miss Grenier escorted the club members.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

The assembly on Friday, March 25, was a spelling bee. The two best spellers from each home room competed to determine the champion speller of the school. The contest was first conducted by grades. Seventh grade representatives were Rosalie Belger, Pauline Forslind, Mason Hartman, Richard Long, Virginia Powers, Clara Sampson, James Scalia, and Janet Van Ummersen. The two pupils remaining in line at the end of this contest were Virginia Powers and Janet Van Ummersen. The eighth grade contestants were Robert Collins, Richard Kaye, James McCarthy, Marie Murray, Gerald Nolan, Charles Riddle, Betty Ryan, and Moira Sullivan. The two best spellers from this group were Richard Kaye and Marie Murray. The ninth grade contestants were Mary Farnsworth, Audrey Fitzgerald, Fannette Fried, Jerome Goff, Ruth Gilmore, Joan Miller, Jean Stevenson and Margaret Woodlock. Jerome Goff and Jean Stevenson were the successful spellers. After the contest in each grade had taken place the winners competed. First place went to Janet Van Ummersen of grade seven. During the contest August Aventaggio presided, giving out the words to be spelled. Richard Bolin served as timekeeper and Anne Patterson scorekeeper.

COOLIDGE CORNER THEATRE, BROOKLINE

Based on the unusual novel by Russell Thorndyke, which sold more than a million copies, the new George Arliss starring vehicle, "Dr. Syn," comes to the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline for a week's run on Friday, April 1st.

Mr. Arliss plays the title role, as the ex-pirate who turned parson, and who led his parishioners on their smuggling expeditions, preaching by day, and evading the revenue men by night.

In the co-feature Joan Bennett and Henry Fonda form a new romantic team in "I Met My Love Again," the new romantic drama, based on the Arlene Corliss novel "Summer Lighting," Others prominently featured in the supporting cast are Dame May Whitty! Louise Platt, Alan Marshal, Tim Holt; and Florence Lake. "I Met My Love Again," is the perfect story of a perfect love.

Besides the two excellent features, there will be the latest Coolidge Corner Theatre newsreel, and the latest issue of the "March of Time," presenting three national and interesting subjects.

Announced for showing for the coming-week starting Friday, April 8th, is "Sally, Irene and Mary" with Alice Faye, Tony Martin, Fred Allen and Jimmy Durante, it's a gay musical and as a co-feature "Charlie Chan at Monte Carlo" featuring your favorite Warner Oland and lovely Virginia Field.

Maelstrom Described by Poe on Norwegian Coast

The Maelstrom's existence, as described by Edgar Allen Poe and other writers, is indisputable, although its dangers are often exaggerated, states a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. It is a remarkable whirlpool on the Norwegian coast, just southwest of Lofoden islands. The strong currents rushing between the Great West fjord and the outer ocean through the channels of these islands produce a number of whirlpools, the Maelstrom being the largest and strongest. The name means "grinding stream," and the grinding is done between the island of Moshones and a large solitary rock in the middle of the straits.

Such extravagant stories have been told of this great eddy—how everything that enters the border of its current is instantly sucked down to a bottomless abyss—that its very existence has been doubted. Its perils, of course, were greater in the days of smaller ships and no steam power.

As a matter of fact, steamships may cross the Maelstrom in calm weather, at any state of the tide, without difficulty. And in the summer, at change of tide, the current is comparatively calm and even small boats may venture upon it. But in winter or in a storm it is highly dangerous for any vessel to try to pass. During a storm from the west the current runs continually to the east at the rate of six knots, without changing its direction for rising or falling tide, and the stream boils with such mighty whirls and eddies that a vessel of any size would have great difficulty in getting through. The danger is not of suction into the heart of the whirlpool, as legends have supposed, but of being dashed to pieces against the rocks. Dead whales are sometimes thrown up on the coast, killed in this way. The depth of the whirlpool is only 20 fathoms, but just outside the straits soundings reach from 100 to 200 fathoms.

"Jai-Alai," Ball Game, Rivals the Bull Fight

"Jai-alai," better known as "pelota" (meaning ball in Spanish), is a game somewhat similar to handball, which originated in the Basque provinces of France and Spain. In parts of Spain, it rivals bull fights in popularity, says a writer in the Detroit News. Originally "pelota" was played with hand, naked or gloved, or with a stick, but now a stout basket-work gauntlet, called a "cestus" or "chistera" is used. This basket, a Basque invention first used at Ascain, France, revolutionized the game by increasing the propelling power of the players and the carrying force of the ball.

The game may be played either indoors or outdoors and requires a cement court, 200 feet long and 65 feet wide, with at least two walls 36 feet high. Four walls may be used. There are usually four players and among the professionals are men who have done little else since boyhood. The ball is of solid rubber, small and weighs about four ounces. During play, the ball is bounded from wall to "cestus" and must be kept in motion. The game is very popular in the Basque provinces, Spain, Cuba and South America. According to the Americana Encyclopedia, "It is claimed for this game that it requires a better eye, more speed, activity and surer control over every muscle of the body than any other sport."

Original Glass Bottles Valuable

It has been commonly acknowledged that glass bottles, shortly after their invention, were "worth their weight in bold." But an item in the American Magazine indicates that these transparent containers were valued much more highly than the yellow metal in old Egypt, where a price of $3,500,000 was set and paid on one glass bottle. Originally made only by master craftsmen and used in the packaging of rare attars and cosmetics, glassware required 40 centuries of study and refinement to reach its present superiority and inexpensiveness. The common foodstuff bottles on our shelves today are more perfect by far than the crude bottles of long ago—yet they cost us practically nothing!

Ancestry of Cameo in Doubt

The earliest ancestry of the cameo will always be a matter of conjecture, according to Cyril Davenport of the British museum whose book, "Cameos," is the illuminating result of extensive study and research. But for really skilled work, we need not go farther back than to the Egyptian scarabs, which were seals with the backs cut into the semblance of the sacred beetle. The outline of the scarab cameo persisted for a long time.

St. Giles Cathedral Historic

St. Giles cathedral, standing on the line of the "Royal Mile"—that medieval street which leads from castle to palace in Edinburgh—has been the scene of many important events in the past of the Scottish capital. The walls have echoed the thunderings of John Knox, the reformer, and it was here, according to tradition, that one Jenny Geddes, in 1637, flung a stool at the Dean of Edinburgh as a protest against the introduction of Laud's Liturgy.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, April 3.

The Golden Text is: "The world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever" (I John 2:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "We then, as workers together with him, beseech you also that ye receive not the grace of God in vain. (For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation)" (II Corinthians 6:1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "'Now,' cried the apostle, 'is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation,'—meaning, not that now men must prepare for a future-world salvation, or safety, but that now is the time in which to experience that salvation in spirit and in life. Now is the time for so-called material pains and material pleasures to pass away, for both are unreal, because impossible in Science. To break this earthly spell, mortals must get the true idea and divine Principle of all that really exists and governs the universe harmoniously" (p. 39).

Do YOU know the difference

and other banks?

There are no stockholders in Mutual Savings Banks. You become a part owner when you open an account. You are protected by combined reserves of $220,000,000 — you share in every dollar of the bank's profit. Last year Massachusetts depositors were paid over fifty-two million dollars in these dividends.

This type of bank, of the people, for the people, and by the people, was first developed in the United States in Boston in 1816. Today there are 193 in Massachusetts. They share in a record of 121 years of successful operation. They are chartered by the State and come under the direct supervision of the Massachusetts Banking Department.

Don't hope that someone else will create security for you or your family — open an account today!

Speed of the Wheel

The top of a wheel rolling over the ground moves faster than the bottom of it, in relation to the ground. With respect to the center of the wheel, all parts rotate at the same rate. A simple demonstration can be made with a coin rolled a quarter of a revolution on paper. It will be found that the point at the top has rolled along the paper several times as far as the point at the bottom.

Static Electricity Is the Oldest Kind Known

Static is the oldest kind of electricity known, notes a writer in the New York Times. Our word "electricity" comes from the Greek "electron," meaning amber. Rub amber, as the Greeks did, and it becomes electrically charged. Then touch it and the charge is drawn off in a little spark. So with dry fur, glass, resin, wax, scores of materials.

Two positively electrified or two negatively electrified bodies repel each other. But positives and negatives attract. Franklin gave us this distinction between positive and negative.

Static electricity is like water on a rubber ball in that it clings to the surface. Just as a rubber ball can gather only so much water, so a ball of glass or resin can collect only so much static electricity. If more electricity accumulates than the surface can hold, there is what the physicists call a brush discharge, meaning a leaking away into the air. If the excess is great, the leaking may manifest itself in a visible glow.

Until Volta in 1800 invented the cell which we use in our batteries the only kind of electricity that science knew was static. Out of Volta's cell came not just one burst of electricity but a steady stream. After that science began to talk of dynamic or continuously flowing electricity. When at last the electric generator followed Faraday's discovery of induction it was naturally called a dynamo—short for "dynamo electric machine."

First Timepieces Used Heavy Weights on Cords

The earliest timepieces were clocks for which the motive power was supplied by weights. The unavoidable dangling of the weights from their cords compelled the limitation of the use of timepieces at first to standing or hanging in one place.

This was the situation from about the year 1300 until about 1500, according to a writer in the Washington Post, when the first portable timepieces were made possible by an invention of Peter Henlein, of Nuremberg, Germany, who first applied spiral steel springs to take the place of weights for motive power. The value of this invention to mankind is incalculable.

At first mainsprings were made comparatively short and thick. In these there was so great a difference between the power when fully wound and partly run down that special mechanical devices had to be used to equalize the power.

The best of these devices was the fusee, which is used in marine chronometers. But for watches the problem of improving the uniformity of power was solved by using longer and thinner mainsprings, helped out also by the development of isochronal adjustment, which makes it less imperative that the extent of vibrations of the balance shall be uniform, as these are affected by the motive power.

Alaska Has Odd Geese

A race of dark-complexioned wild geese reside in the coastal region of British Columbia and southeastern Alaska. They are similar in general appearance and size to their better known relative, the Canada goose or "honker," but differ in being very much darker. They are known as the white-cheeked goose. Apart from the difference in coloration between these two races of geese there are differences in habit also, the most important being that of migration. The Canada goose makes long annual journeys to and from its nesting grounds; some raise their young on James bay and spend the winter on the Gulf of Mexico The white-cheeked goose, on the other hand, may spend the entire year, or even all its lifetime in the same region.

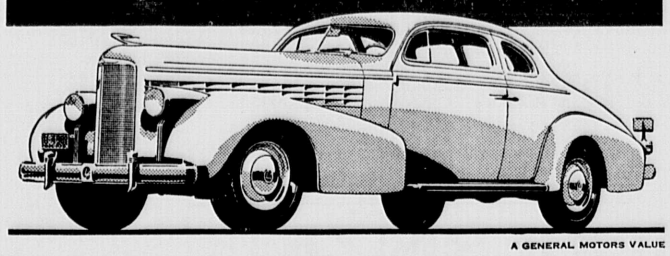

Nightingale Pledge for Nurses

The Florence Nightingale pledge for nurses is: "I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly to pass my life in purity, and to practice my profession faithfully. I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous, and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug. I will do all in my power to elevate the standards of my profession, and I will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my calling. With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care."

Use of Word "Tips"

As long ago as 1775 English waiters looked forward to liberal tips and customers grumbled about the practice. Exactly how old tipping is is doubtful, but in the days of Chaucer the English had a verb "to tip," meaning to give. That's probably where the word comes from, says the Washington Post, but there has been a more interesting origin suggested. This story, has it that once there were boxes in coffee houses to receive contributions for waiters. These boxes were labeled "To Insure Prompt Service," or, sometimes, just "T. I. P. S."

LASALLE V-8 CADILLAC MOTOR

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

It's easy to PAY more . . .
but where can you GET more?

THERE ARE ELEVEN motor car manufacturers who have models costing more than a new LaSalle. Yes—it's easy to pay more—but where would you get more?

Where would you get more performance? More comfort? More safety? More style? More prestige?

Barring Cadillac, you'll look long and hard to find even LaSalle's equal, let alone its superior.

So—before you go above LaSalle in price—better look at LaSalle.

LaSalle is really a great and distinguished car in all ways—and its price is so low that it is a genuine bargain. Why not come in today for a demonstration?

P. S. Before you spend $1000 or more for your next motor car, by all means . . . LOOK AT LASALLE!

Scotch Wit And Treasures

"Scotch Wit and New England Philosophy," the subject chosen by John Nicol Mark, will appeal to his New England audience at the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Tuesday, April 5th, at 2:30 p. m. Mr. Mark is well qualified to speak on this particular subject, as he was born in Glasgow, Scotland, and educated both in the land of his birth and in this country at Tufts College and Harvard University. He has the rare gift of blending humor and philosophy for his audience.

Two other delightful features of the afternoon will be a short concert by the Glee Club, of which Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols is chairman; and the Exhibition in the Art Gallery, under the direction of Mrs. Harry L. Harding, chairman. Mr. William Ellis Weston, coach-accompanist, will direct the singing of the Glee Club. In keeping with Mr. Mark's talk is the exhibition of "Treasures from Bonnie Scotland, nd Elsewhere," and Club members are invited to bring their treasures of interest, antiques, pictures, glass, China, or rugs, for the pleasure of their fellow members. Tea will be served in the Gallery after the afternoon's program.

On Monday, April 4th, in the Auditorium of the Club House there will be a short business meeting at 2 p. m., during which the proposed revisions of the By-Laws recently mailed to Club members, will be considered. As the revisions concern every Club member, the committee for the Revision of the By-Laws will appreciate the co-operation of the membership in attending this special meeting.

Dream Pictures Of the World

On Thursday, April 14th, Mrs. Branson De Cou will give her illustrated lecture on "The Famous De Cou Dream Pictures," before the Newton Community Club in Underwood School Hall. The meeting will begin at 2 o'clock. Mrs. De Cou, lecturer, traveler, and photographer, has that rare power of description which adds living reality to the beautiful pictures shown. These "Dream Pictures" are indeed of the stuff from which dreams are made, marvelous views in full color, gathered from various parts of the world.

At this meeting, Mrs. Mark T. deSilva, Legislative chairman of the State Federation, will speak briefly on the Bill for Jury Service for Women.

There will be a Food Sale at this meeting.

The Newton Community Club enjoyed a delightful Art Day on Thursday, March 24th, in the Underwood School Hall.

During the business session, Miss Hope Mudge, corresponding secretary, read a notice of a call for books for the Merchant Marine Library Association. All books should be left at the nearest Library, before April 2nd, marked "For the Seamen."

Miss Adelaide Ball announced a Legislative Luncheon to be held at Brae Burn Country Club, April 2nd, when Newton's Senator and Representatives will speak.

Mrs. Daniel Goodridge announced the dates of April 8th and 9th for the Rummage Sale to be held in the store next to the Waldorf. Mrs. Raymond Ladoo said there was a great need for helpers in the Girl Scouts, and she would be glad to receive any names of Club members who would give at least one hour a week.

The president, Mrs. Frank Briggs, gave a notice of a hearing to be held at City Hall, April 1st, in regard to an increase in taxes of $2 per $1,000.

The Annual Luncheon will be held in the Eliot Church April 28th.

Mrs. John MacNeil urged all members to attend the Health Lecture that this Club is sponsoring on April 7th at 2:30 p. m. in the Underwood School Hall. Dr. N. A. Nelson, Director of Infectious Diseases, in the department of Public Health, of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and Dr. H. D. Chope, Newton Director of Public Health, will be the speakers on "Syphilis and Gonorrhea; Notions vs Facts," and "Syphilis is the Next Disease To Go."

Miss Eleanor Cook gave a very interesting program of "Folk Songs from Picturesque Lands," wearing colorful native costumes from Hungary, Poland, Russia, Czechoslovakia, and Jugo-Slavia. Her pleasing personality, lovely costumes, and musical ability gave the Club a splendid idea of the songs and costumes of other lands. Miss Ethel Parks accompanied her at the piano.

Miss Florence Bacon, Art chairman, arranged an interesting display of Pottery by Mrs. Edmund O. Marcy; Trays by Mrs. Ralph Angier Jr.; and Water-Colors and Paintings by Mrs. Arthur Blakemore, Miss Eleanor Gibbs, Mrs. Ralph Henry and Mrs. Gustaf A. Peterson.

The pourers were Mrs. Robert Cox, Mrs. Arthur Kendrick, Mrs. Carleton L. Shaw, and Mrs. Robert Waller.

Annual Meetings and Programs

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Auburndale Woman's Club will hold its Annual Meeting and election of officers, and Luncheon on Tuesday afternoon, April 5th, at 1 o'clock at the Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton. There will be also a program of Readings by Miss Marjorie Shepard. Mrs. Joseph C. McCarron, Program chairman, is in charge of the meeting, assisted by Mrs. Silvanus Smith, Hospitality chairman, and Mrs. John F. Brown, Jr., Garden Club chairman.

On Wednesday morning, April 6th, at 10:45 o'clock, over Station WORL, Mrs. Lawrence L. Fidalgo, vice-president and former Press chairman, will give a 12-minute digest of the Club's outstanding activities during the past year.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Newton Centre Woman's Club will hold its Annual Meeting at 11:30 o'clock on Friday morning, April 8th. Following the election of officers, a luncheon will be served. Luncheon ticket reservations must be made by Wednesday, April 6th, from Mrs. Ferdinand J. Blake, telephone, Centre Newton 1568.

Mrs. Edward A. Andrews, chairman of the Dramatic committee, is in charge of the program for the afternoon. Mrs. Henry Williams Inman will present "Famous Paintings of Madonnas," posed by Club members in authentic costumes and draperies, with special lighting, and appropriate setting in a massive gold frame. Each picture assumes a memorable vividness, enhanced with stories and legends, simply and humanly told by a narrator.

The pictures are as follows: The Annunciation: Mary, Jane Hutchison; Angel, Ann Hitchcock; The Nativity; Madonna, Mrs. John S. White; Standing Woman, Mrs. James Mitchell; Kneeling Woman, Mrs. James H. Orr; Shepherd, Mrs. Walter Bryant; Madonna of the Veil: Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather; Madonna Col Figlio: Mrs. W. To Choose Junior to Attend Triennial

Tomorrow, Saturday, April 2nd, the Juniors of Massachusetts will choose their representative to attend the Triennial Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Three successful contestants in the Traveling Scholarship competition will preside at the Junior Conference in the Quincy Women's Club House, assisting the State Junior chairman, Mrs. Paul H. Nottage. Each will speak for three minutes on the topic "State Projects." They are Miss Helene S. Spencer, president of the Wollaston Junior group; Miss Nona Lockman, vice-president of the Cantabrigia Juniors of Cambridge; and Mrs. Andrew McKnight, president of the Roslindale Juniors. These three were the winners in the recent Public Speaking Contest. Upon the manner of their presiding and speaking will hinge the exciting decision as to which of these three will be the lucky girl to attend the National Convention in Kansas City, during the week of May 10th, with all her expenses paid for this delightful and valuable experience. The winner will be chosen by ballot by the Junior delegates present tomorrow.

Of special interest to Newton Junior clubwomen is the news that one of these outstanding contestants selected from a large group for these thrilling finals is a former Newton girl. She is Mrs. Andrew G. McKnight, the former Elizabeth Taplin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George C. Taplin of Newton Centre, and she is president of the Roslindale Junior Woman's Club. She is a graduate of the Newton High School and of Simmons College, class of 1932, where she belonged to the Glee Club.

Miss Helene S. Spencer is president of the Wollaston Woman's Club Juniors. She attended the Vesper George School of Art, and she is a member of the 1939 class at the Boston University School of Art, where she is assistant editor of the school Anthology and in charge of art work. She is also a member of the dramatic group, and has directed plays. She has been awarded a scholarship for each of her three years at the University and belongs to the Tau Chi Omega sorority. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray S. Spencer of Quincy.

Miss Nona Lockman, vice-president of the Cantabrigia Junior Club, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Leslie Lockman of Medford. She has been affiliated with the Cantabrigia Juniors for three years. She is a graduate of Somerville High School and of the Massachusetts School of Art, class of 1931. She is a free lance artist.

The entire afternoon, following a box luncheon, will be devoted to the finals in the State Drama Contest, with Mrs. Stacy B. Southworth of the sponsor committee of the State Drama department in charge, and Mrs. Harold M. Scheibe, Literature chairman, as chairman of judges. The popular vote cast by one delegate from each club will count a certain percentage in the selection of the winning play. The Junior District delegates who will report the activities of clubs in their sections at the Conference will be Miss Ellen Ruska of Barnstable, Miss Margaret Piercy of Braintree, Miss Ardis Bowen, North Attleboro; Miss Margery Jones, Brookline; Mrs. Andrew McKnight, Roslindale; Miss Clara Giarla, Winthrop; Miss Elsie Norman, Chelsea; Miss Ina Bergquist, Reading; Miss Catherine O'Connor, Gloucester; Miss Charlotte Gibbs, Waltham; Miss Harriet Gray, Newton Highlands; and Miss Kathleen Ryan, Webster.

Program For Final Club Institute

Jackson is chairman. The secretary, Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones, requests that the members telephone her not later than Monday evening if they cannot attend, telephone West Newton 1297.

Many guests from the Newtons and surrounding districts enjoyed the meeting of the Educational Club held on March 25th, at which Professor Fred L. Schurmann, of Williams College, spoke. He declared that we were in the midst of a world crisis and gave a very clear and careful analysis of the European situation, beginning with the invasion of Manchuria in 1931, following step by step to the recent Nazi occupation of Austria. Professor Schurmann read parts of Hitler's book "Mein Kampf," in which he gives an outline of what he has already done and what he wants to accomplish for the people of Germany. He went on to say that there was no excuse for any intelligent person being surprised or horrified as to what Hitler does, as everything is very clearly stated in this book. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Herbert M. Cole who had been presented previously by the president, Mrs. Dockstader. A question period followed.

Mr. William Helms sang three tenor solos, and was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Francis L. Kenney.

During the business session it was announced that Mrs. Benton Curtis, Public Welfare chairman, would like old playing-cards, games, fancy envelope linings, etc.; also volunteers to entertain a blind student by automobile rides or in the home for a day or evening. Mrs. Edwin Ward has been reading to a blind boy six hours a week, which has been very much appreciated.

The bright daffodils, bachelor buttons and iris bouquet on the coffee-table made a very spring-like and friendly atmosphere during the social hour. Mrs. Joseph A. Otis and Mrs. John Shade Franklin poured.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Through the American Home committee, Mrs. George H. Hinman, chairman, the public and Newtonville Woman's Club members enjoyed a most informative talk on "Youth Hostels," by Mr. William Nelson, a Field Worker for the American organization, at the Club House, Tuesday afternoon, March 29th. Mr. Nelson first explained the privileges of membership, which, with a member's pass book, entitle the holder to spend the night for the sum of 25 cents in any hostel of the United States. With moving pictures Mr. Nelson showed many groups of young people bicyling, swimming, camping, skiing, and hiking through all parts of this country. One interesting feature of this organization is that no rules are made by the leaders; the young people themselves making their own rules, such as lights out by 10 o'clock, no drinking and no smoking, for the strenuous life in the open necessitates keeping fit.

In the California redwoods section, the youth hostelers are the only groups allowed by the forest rangers, as they respect the conservation of property, and wild life, and do not cause forest fires. The movement started in this country in 1934, with one Youth Hostel in Northfield, Massachusetts, Monroe and Isabel Smith being the directors. They brought the idea from an International Conference of Youth Hostels in Europe in 1933. Now, in 1938, there are over 15,000 hostels in America; and in New England, except Maine, hostels are located approximately every fifteen miles apart.

In his pictures of hostels abroad, Mr. Nelson showed the first youth hostel in the Castle Altena, started by Mr. Richard Schirmer, who wanted to give the city youth a wholesome out-of-door life at a very reasonable expense. One of the most important by-products of this world-wide enterprise has been the furtherance of world peace by the friendly meetings of young people of all nationalities with a common purpose. Last summer nearly two thousand young people crossed the ocean to become acquainted with the lands and customs of their foreign cousins.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed proposals for the construction of a school building in the West Newton District of Newton, Massachusetts, will be received by the Public Buildings Commissioner, City Hall, Newton, Massachusetts, until 2 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, Friday, April 15, 1938, and at that time and place publicly opened and read. All trades will be included in the general contract.

Sealed proposals for the electrical, heating and ventilating, and plumbing work, will be received by the Public Buildings Commissioner, City Hall, Newton, Massachusetts, until 2 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, Monday, April 11, 1938, and at that time and place publicly opened and read. The Public Buildings Commissioner will select a sub-contractor for each of these trades, this selection to be subject to the approval of the Mayor of the City of Newton, and will forward to all general bidders a list of names so selected and the amount for each, which names and amounts are to be made a part of each general bid, and are to be entered in each proposal.

All proposals (including those for the electrical, heating and ventilating, and plumbing work) shall be made in duplicate on the business stationery of the bidder and in the form prescribed in the contract documents. One of these copies (the original) is to be submitted to the Public Buildings Commissioner and the copy to the Comptroller of Accounts, both located at Newton City Hall, 1000 Commonwealth Avenue, Newton Centre, prior to the time set for the opening of bids (as required by the Ordinances of the City of Newton, Chapter 2, Section 21, as amended).

The original copy of the proposal for the general contract submitted to the Public Buildings Commissioner must be accompanied by a certified check upon a national bank or trust company in the sum of $15,000 payable to and to become the property of the City of Newton if the proposal is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to comply with the terms of the proposal. No check will be required with the proposals for the electrical, heating and ventilating, and plumbing work.. All checks deposited with proposals for the general contract, except that of the bidder to whom the contract is awarded, will be returned within 30 days after the awarding of the contract.

Plans and specifications for the general contract may be obtained from Albert M. Kreider, Architect, 259 Walnut Street, Newtonville, beginning 12:00 noon, Friday, March 25, 1938 on the deposit of $20.00 in cash or certified check payable to the City of Newton. The deposit will be refunded on return of plans and specifications, title to all plans and specifications remaining in the City at all times.

Plans and specifications for the electrical, heating and ventilating, and plumbing work, may be obtained from Alfred Kellogg, Engineer, 585 Boylston Street, Boston, beginning 12:00 noon, Friday, March 25, 1938 on the deposit of $20.00 in cash or certified check payable to the City of Newton. The deposit will be refunded on return of plans and specifications, title to all plans and specifications remaining in the City at all times.

A surety bond by a company satisfactory to the Mayor of the City of Newton, and in an amount equal to one hundred (100) per cent of the contract price will be required from the successful bidder. The surety bond will be required from the general contractor and will cover the work of subcontractors for the electrical, heating and ventilating, and plumbing work.

Attention is called to the fact that minimum wage rates are established for the project and are set forth in the ontract documents, in accordance with the requirements of Chap. 461, Mass. Acts of 1935. A schedule of wage rates is bound with the contract documents and may also be obtained at the Public Buildings Department.

The Public Buildings Commissioner reserves the right to accept or reject any proposal, and to award the contract as he may deem to be for the best interests of the City of Newton, and any contract made will be subject to appropriation to meet payments thereunder.

Arthur Campbell,
PUBLIC BUILDINGS
COMMISSIONER.

GARDEN GOSSIP by PETER HENDERSON

GENERAL ADVICE

PLANTING that makes a house a more desirable home for a family, is also increased in value many times the actual cost of the improvement.

* * * *

DO NOT BE too formal in your planting arrangement. A carefully worked out informality is often the most attractive because it more closely approaches the natural.

* * * *

ROCK GARDENS are desirable but keep in mind that much of the charm depends upon its naturalness and it takes genius to create a natural looking artificial rock garden.

* * * *

IT IS NOT generally known that Holland's renown for bulbs started when Dutch adventurers brought the first bulbs from the East Indies three centuries ago.

* * * *

IF YOU ARE bothered by cats and dogs in your garden, spray with nicotine solution as the odor is distasteful to them. Use 1½ teaspoons of 40 per cent nicotine sulphate in a gallon of water.

* * * *

JOIN a Garden Club. The interchange of ideas is of value, and people who have a common hobby are always agreeable companions.

* * * *

WHERE one has been exposed to Poison Ivy, thorough and repeated washings of exposed parts with a strong alkaline kitchen or laundry soap is often effective.

* * * *

IF YOU WORK in a garden without gloves, rub a little soap under the nails to keep them from staining.

* * * *

IN SETTING out bedding plants, be sure and put them lower in the ground than originally. This is a good general rule for all transplanting.

Since 1922 the Chicago Art Museum hasn't lost any of its valuable treasures by theft. Until that time the Chicago police received each year many reports of stolen art objects.

The reason for the decline in robberies is that in 1922 the museum acquired two large German Shepherd dogs to guard the building at night. Today "Billow" is the chief detective—a beautiful black and tan Shepherd. A younger member of the force, the chief's mate, is named "Bellow." Officials of the museum now plan to raise their own detectives for the future. During the daytime the dogs are quartered in the rear of the building, but at night they are turned loose inside to wander and keep out prowlers.

Very often we read of a dog being sent a long distance from home and then finding his way back again on foot. How many miles a day will he travel? Many people have wondered about that. A few statistics were given me regarding "Duke," a Great Dane, who was taken 300 miles from his old home to a new master.

Five and a half days later he was back. That meant traveling an average of 55 miles a day. When he left home he weighed 176 pounds, and on his return he weighed 160 pounds, having lost only 15 pounds during that journey.

Before lying down to take a well needed nap the dog drank over a gallon and a half of water and on awakening he was given an extra large meal. At a family council it was decided that since the dog had gone to all that trouble to return he should be allowed to stay.

I received a letter this week from a city in upper New York State in which the writer states that he has a Cocker Spaniel puppy six months old who has coughing spells and a dry eczema. His hair is coming out in spots, and every time he goes into the cellar, the puppy picks up some pieces of coal and eats them. The writer then adds that the dog has been wormed, and cites a very good diet which the animal is receiving.

Although the owner writes that the dog has been wormed, it is my opinion, judging from the above facts, that worms are causing the cough, loss of hair, and the eating of coal. Many people think that if they give their dog one or two worm capsules he is rid of worms forever. There are many different kinds of worms that infest a dog and each kind requires a different type of medicine to effect a cure. Sometimes it is necessary to administer medicine twice or three times, a week or ten days apart, to expel all the worms and eggs.

Even if a dog is thoroughly rid of worms it is possible for him to be infested with them again in a month or two. If you notice anything wrong with your dog it would be advisable, if you suspect worms, to take a sample of his stools to a veterinary and allow him to determine the type or types of worm your dog has. He can also prescribe the correct kind and proper amount of medicine.

A lot of people are keeping dogs illegally in the city of Boston. There is a city law still on the books that it is illegal to keep a dog which is more than ten inches in height.

Question: Can I register one pup if the rest of the puppies in the litter are not registered?—T. L.

Answer: You cannot register a puppy unless the litter has been registered. That does not mean that each pup in a litter has to be registered individually, but that the breeder registers the litter as a whole stating the number of males and females, etc.

Question: My dog has whip worm and I have been advised to have his appendix removed. Is this right?—A. H. K.

Answer: Yes. Most whip worms are harbored in the appendix. This is not a serious operation and it is almost a certain cure for whip worm.

Mrs. Gertrude Frazier, 30, a colored woman, jumped or fell through a second story window at Simms Court, West Newton, on Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock and was knocked unconscious when she landed on a cellar bulkhead. She was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and was found not to be seriously injured.

Congregational Churches "Debt of Honor" Campaign

A campaign to raise $1,517,000 in order to "keep faith" with 1400 of their veteran Christian pastors and widows of pastors, has just been launched by the Congregational and Christian churches of the United States and will run in this region until May 30. The quota of the Debt of Honor Campaign for the Northern New England region is $555,000 and the Massachusetts quota is $400,000.

Local committees of Congregational business and professional men in Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont are at work in every community where there are Congregational and Christian churches.

The Chairman of the Massachusetts State Committee is Dr. Robert W. Coe, 1835 Beacon st., Brookline, pastor of the Leyden Congregational Church, and the following from the Newtons are members of the state Debt of Honor Committee: Dr. D. Brewer Eddy, 82 Kirkstall rd., Newtonville; Dr. William E. Gilroy, 46 Morton st., Newton Centre; Dr. Vaughan Dabney, 128 Institution ave., Newton Centre; and Dr. Ray Eusden, 666 Centre st., Newton.

Dr. M. Russell Boynton of Newton Centre is chairman of the district committee working in the Brookline-Newton area. Rev. Boynton Merrill of West Newton is a member of this committee.

Glass Was Discovered on the Coast of Palestine

The origin of glass is lost in myth and romance but there are many legends told in regard to it. One of these credited to Pliny, notes a writer in the Los Angeles Times, is that it was accidentally discovered by some Phoenician merchants who landed on the coast of Palestine and cooked their food in pots supported on cakes of niter taken from their cargo. They were greatly surprised to find this solid matter had become a fluid and mingling with the sand had produced a transparent substance now called glass. Cold fact says the temperature of the fires could not have been great enough to melt the sand, but science has ever had a way of interfering with romance.

America began its story of glass before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock. A glass house was established in the English settlement at Jamestown, Va. This was the first factory built on this continent. Its first products were bottles. Later a considerable trade was established with the Indians in supplying them with colored beads with which they were greatly enamored. Years later glass factories were established in Massachusetts, New York and other New England and mid-Atlantic states, but it was not until after the American Revolution that the glass industry really took root here.

Over three centuries have passed since the first rough bottles were produced at Jamestown. Today we take all manner of glass products as a matter of course which in the early days of the industry would have seemed impossible to produce.

Three Methods Are Used in the Curing of Pork

There are three methods of curing pork—the sweet pickle process, the dry salt method, and the dry cure, states a writer in the Chicago Tribune. In the first, used for hams, the meat is soaked in vats containing salt brine, a sweetening agent, and nitrate of soda. The cure requires 20 to 75 days and a constant temperature of 36 to 40 degrees must be maintained.

The second method consists of putting layers of salt between piles of meat. The third is used largely for bacon and consists of soaking the meat in a light brine containing sugar and nitrate of soda. To finish off the cure the meats are placed in smoke from burning hardwood which adds to the flavor and color.

The salt used prevents spoilage, the sugar offsets the taste of the salt, and the nitrate preserves the color.

Lard is made from hog fat, either by boiling in an open kettle or through a steam pressure method. It is cooked, filtered, and chilled, the cooking separating the meat fibers from the fat. The remainder, cracklings and tankage, is used as stock and poultry feeds.

Origin of the "Annie Oakley"

According to "American Tramp and Underworld Slang," edited by Godfrey Irwin, the phrase "Annie Oakley" means a free ticket or pass to an amusement or entertainment. The passes were punched with holes to prevent their being sold as regular tickets and to prevent money being refunded if the show did not go on, as is customary with paid admissions. Thus, they resemble the cards that were used for targets, after the famous rifle shooter, Annie Oakley, finished shooting at them. Annie Oakley performed with the Buffalo Bill circus for 17 years. The term originated in the circus world, but is now included in the slang of stage, screen and boxing circles.

Polar Eskimos Friendly

Polar Eskimos are a friendly, happy people who live farther north than any other human beings. They rove the Arctic from Greenland to Alaska. Skin tents are their habitation during the brief summer; snow igloos their winter homes. Their food, save for a few birds' eggs and berries, is exclusively flesh—the seal, bear, fox, whale, walrus and reindeer being the provender. They are prodigious eaters, hence their plumpness and perhaps their good nature.

Silver Whitest of Precious Metals

Silver is the whitest of precious metals. It is susceptible of a lustrous polish and has excellent working qualities. In its pure state it is too soft for uses wherein it is subject to wear; so it is usually alloyed with copper. The terms "sterling silver" and "coin silver" indicate alloy proportions. Sterling silver is alloyed in proportions of 925 parts pure silver to 75 parts copper. Coin silver contains 900 parts pure silver to 100 parts copper—this is the standard for United States coinage.

Glaciers "Rivers of Ice"

Glaciers are really "rivers of ice," formed in mountains where more snow falls than can possibly melt. Eventually the ice piles up as high as 1,500 feet, gets so heavy it begins to "flow" downhill. Generally it moves about 1 inch every hour, though in New Zealand and Greenland glaciers have been known to bowl along 30 feet a day. Though a glacier creeps, its tremendous weight carries everything before it

Charged With Hit-Run, Tipsy Driving

Last Friday night as Nathan Eisenberg of Nahant was driving his car on the turnpike near Langley rd., Newton Centre, it was hit by another automobile. Eisenberg pursued the other car and stopped it. The driver got out, showed Eisenberg his license and then disappeared, without the Nahant man being able to tell Newton police his identity. Sunday morning Francis McGourty, 26, of Parker st., Newton Centre came to police headquarters and surrendered as the alleged driver of the car. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. His case was continued until April 2. Three persons riding in Eisenberg's car claimed to have received injuries.

NEW BROOKLINE THEATRE BROOKLINE VILLAGE

A thrilling and soul-stirring picture of America's struggle against England during the war of 1812 is presented by Cecil B. DeMille in his latest historical opic. "The Buccaneer," comes to the New Brookline Theatre in Brookline Village, for a four-day engagement, opening on Sunday, April 3rd, and remaining through Wednesday, April 6th.

Fredric March, who is seen as a pirate turns out to be a hero when he realizes that his adopted country, the United States is in danger of destruction. His sweetheart Margot Grahame, a New Orleans belle, stimulates his patriotism by insisting that he become respectable before marriage. Although he helps Jackson win the battle of New Orleans, he loses both his respectability and his sweetheart when the secret gets out that his men destroyed the American merchant ship "Corinthian," on which Margot's sister and many other prominent citizens were passengers. With Jackson's aid, March escapes and goes into exile on his flagship "Raven." Franciska Gaal, the only survivor of the "Corinthian" whom he has made his maid-of-all-work, goes with him, and on the deck of the ship he realizes for the first time that she is the girl he really loves. In the supporting cast of this great production are Akim Tamiroff, Ian Keith and Walter Brennan. This spectacle of the War of 1812 proves to be the greatest production of DeMille's incomparable career.

The co-feature on this program is "Love is a Headache," featuring Gladys George and Franchot Tone and a supporting cast of Mickey Rooney, Ted Healy, Frank Jenks and Virginia Weidler.

Commencing on Thursday, April 7th, and running through Saturday, April 9th, the program will be "The Last Gangster" with Edward G. Robinson, James Stewart, Rose Stradner and John Carradine, also "Danger Love at Work" with Ann Sothern, Jack Haley, Edward Everett Horton, and Mary Boland. This is another of our hit shows, which we know you will enjoy seeing.

James A. Waters' Criticism Of Newton School Dept. at Hearing on 1938 Tax Rate

Statistics Read to Show That Cost of Newton Schools Is Highest In This State

The following is the address delivered by James A. Waters at the public hearing held last Friday night by the Finance Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen on the matter of Newton's increasing tax rate. It is a lengthy criticism of the Newton School Department.

Mr. Chairman:

It is hardly necessary for me to state that we are all gathered here actuated by the single motive of attempting to find some solution of the mounting costs of our City Government. And I know that nothing that is said here will be construed as a reflection upon the honesty, sincerity, and personal integrity of the elected or appointed officials or employees of our Government. We all, I am sure, feel a deep sense of obligation to the busy and able citizens who give of their time and ability, as members of the Board of Aldermen and School Committee, to conduct their City's Government upon the high plane of which we have been so long and so justly proud. And we are extremely fortunate, I think, that we can feel assured that not a single dollar appropriated in our budget will be wasted in dishonesty and graft.

It is in this spirit that I offer a few statistics in the hope of directing attention to a department of our Government in which some economies may be effected and it is in this spirit, also, that I present you with a copy of a Massachusetts public document which you may or may not have already perused. This document is the "Annual Report of the Department of Education" of Massachusetts, Part 2, for the year ending November 30, 1937. And it is hardly necessary for you, Mr. Chairman, to make more than the simple effort of opening the book to convince yourself that without exception the City of Newton maintains the most expensive school system of all the cities of this Commonwealth.

The cost of educating each child in our public schools exceeds that of any of the other 38 cities in this state. You will note, if you turn to page 4 of the Report that Newton, being the 12th city in size of population, bears the number "12" and this numerical designation is held by the City of Newton throughout the pages of this report, which makes it a very simple matter to obtain quickly the statistics concerning our public schools. If you will turn to

Mayor Decides To Borrow On Tax Titles

Mayor Childs announced yesterday that he would recommend that the Board of Aldermen authorize a loan of $200,000 on tax titles in an effort to avert the prospective substantial rise in the tax rate. The Mayor stated that he plans to apply only $100,000 of this loan to keep the tax rate down and will set up the remainder as contingency account to meet emergency appropriations necessary during the remainder of the year.

He also declared that he would not use any part of the Water Department surplus of $228,000 as tax revenue. It is understood that State tax officials require that the surplus be held intact as security for the tax title loan. The proposed contingency fund will probably be used up before the end of the year by additional expenditures for the Welfare Department. Appropriations for welfare and soldiers' relief were cut considerably below the amounts expended last year by the Mayor in making up the 1938 budget.

The plan to borrow against tax titles was opposed by the Newton Taxpayers Association in resolutions submitted to the finance committee of the Board of Aldermen last Friday evening as was the use of tax titles. The resolutions asserted that such a procedure would be contrary to a "pay-as-you-go" policy which the organization strongly favored.

Auto Hits Tree, Woman Killed

Mrs. Sylvia Wallace, 28, of 299 Lexington st., Auburndale, was killed about 5:50 last Saturday morning when an automobile in which she was riding crashed into a tree on Commonwealth ave., opposite Wauwinet rd., West Newton. The driver of the car was Harrison J. Sawyer, 34, of 11 Oak Ridge rd., Auburndale. He received internal injuries, cuts and bruises, and was taken to the Newton Hospital. The car was badly wrecked. The car was proceeding westerly when it skidded to the left and hit the tree with tremendous force. Neighbors aroused by the noise telephoned the police. When they arrived they found Mrs. Wallace dead; she apparently had been hurled through the windshield. She had only resided in Auburndale for a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. Florence L. Smith. She formerly lived in Waterbury, Connecticut. Sawyer told the police that he was forced off the road by a car travelling along in the opposite direction and that his car was proceeding at a rate of only 30 miles when the accident occurred. Skid marks of the tires on the road measured 150 feet.

Fire In Nonantum 3-Family House

A fire which started near a stove in the three family dwelling at 81-83 Los Angeles st., Nonantum, about 6.30 a. m. Sunday routed fifteen members of three families from their beds and caused considerable damage to the building and furniture. The fire started in the kitchen of the apartment occupied by Joseph Poisson after he and his wife had gone to an early church service. It was discovered by his children, whose ages range from 2 to 12. The seven Poisson children fled from their apartment on the first floor of the house and their cries awakened the families in two apartments in the upper floors of the house. These are Mr. and Mrs. Morton Dickey and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dore, each of whom have two small children. Box 248 was pulled and the firemen were at the building for nearly an hour, as the flames worked from the kitchen up to the second floor.

Permits For 34 New Dwellings

During the month of March 71 permits were issued by the Newton Public Buildings Department. Of these 33 were for single dwellings, with an estimated value of $211,000; one for a two-family house with a value of $7000, and one for a business building estimated to cost $30,000. The total estimated cost of the work to be done under the 71 permits, including alterations on 28 buildings is $265,255.

City Officials Refute Charges

Mayor Childs and City Comptroller Daniel White take issue with statements made on March 30 by Lyman Ziegler of Waban at a meeting of the directors of the Newton Taxpayers' Association. Ziegler, addressing that meeting as an expert on municipal finance, said that the practice, used for years in Newton of making appropriations after the annual budget has been passed and charging them to deficit—is illegal. Ziegler also stated that Theodore Waddell, Director of Accounts in the State Tax Division, had told him that Newton has been permitted by State officials to make appropriations after the budget is passed and charge them to deficit because of its excellent financial condition.

Commenting on Ziegler's criticisms, Mayor Childs said: "How can we include all items for the year in the budget, when we don't know everything that will be needed?" Comptroller White refers to Section 23, Chapter 59 of the Municipal Finance laws which give cities authority to make appropriations after the budget has been passed, and instruct the assessors to add any appropriations which are made following the passing of the budget to the tax warrant for the succeeding year. Mr. White also stated that the State passes supplementary appropriations each year.

City Solicitor Bartlett, who is an acknowledged authority on city government and finances, states that while cities are expected to include in budget estimates all anticipated expenses for the ensuing year, that practically all cities in Massachusetts make a practice of passing supplementary appropriations. The reason that most cities do not appropriate all that will be needed for welfare relief is to prevent inordinate demands which would probably result should larger amounts be appropriated in the budget. Mr. Bartlett said that many cities in the State, including Boston, borrow against tax titles. Cities were not authorized to carry a surplus fund until 1936.

Impersonated Investigator

C. Alden Specht of 62 Bourne st., Auburndale, on Thursday was found guilty of impersonating an investigator from the Registry of Motor Vehicles. He was tried before Judge Crafts in the second session of the Waltham Court and was given a one month's suspended sentence in the House of Correction. He was prosecuted by Jeremiah J. Leary, supervising inspector of the Waltham office of the Registry of Motor Vehicles, assisted by Investigator George J. Mullen. Various witnesses testified that Specht used the name of Mr. Fisher and stated that he was from the Registry of Motor vehicles in securing information from them.

Various Ideas Expressed At Second Hearing On Tax Rate and City Finances

Taxpayer's Ass'n Urges Pay-As-You-Go Policy—Others Oppose Salary Cuts, Reduction in Service—Costs of Schools Criticized

The second public hearing by the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen to hear suggestions from citizens relative to increasing taxes was held at City Hall last Friday night. Although the Aldermanic chamber was well filled, the gathering was not as large as at the first hearing held on March 23rd. The meeting was presided over by Alderman Donald MacKay, chairman of the Finance Committee.

This is a continuation of the hearing held Wednesday evening, March 23rd. The Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen invited the citizens of Newton to express their views and to offer constructive suggestions regarding the municipal services. Every service costs money. It is reflected in the tax rate. Some property owners may want additional services and are willing to pay for them. But costs are levied proportionately on all. Most property owners, particularly in these trying times, anxiously await the announcement of the tax rate and earnestly hope it will either not be increased or increased but little.

I want to take a moment to explain how it happens that a public hearing is held—without precedent in the history of the city. My reason for explaining is an unfounded rumor. On Friday, March 18th the Finance Committee was working on the budget late into the night as we had been doing on many previous nights. Many troublesome problems confronted us. It was my suggestion that we feel the public pulse in this manner. The six other members approved. On Saturday morning invitations were mailed to all known organizations of a civic nature. The other fourteen members of the Board of Aldermen knew nothing about it beforehand. It is not an effort of the Board or the committee to evade responsibility and it has no political motive nor an unfriendly or antagonistic phase.

For the first time in Newton's history the Board is in office for two years. There is no election this fall and we have the opportunity to look ahead knowing that there will be a continuity of service for the next twenty-one months. I have publicly stated that with a quarter of this year already elapsed and all departments more or less definitely scheduled it seems unlikely that very many curtailments can quickly be put into effect. But we can look ahead to another year.

There are several items not now appearing in the printed budget which his Honor the Mayor will probably recommend before the committee's report goes to the full board. I have held several conferences with the Mayor and have assured him of the committee's approval of certain items. Supplementary recommendations have always come to us. By law the Mayor has to submit the main part of the budget within the first sixty days of the year. I believe we received it during the last few days of February. I mention this that the public may fully understand and not be critical of the Mayor or the committee if further appropriations are recommended.

The interest as manifested by the attendance at the first hearing and at this adjourned hearing is tremendously pleasing to the committee. It was but natural that you were unprepared to express opinions on March 23rd. It was necessary to supply you with facts and figures to study at your leisure. Since that date the seven committee members have met with the executives of various associations. We have to a large extent supplied the main facts and arguments which after study and deliberation will be discussed by you tonight. Possibly I should specify them lest we be accused of sponsoring every suggestion which will be made but we will rely on your common sense in distinguishing them.

I want to commend those in the employ of the city who spoke at the first hearing. There is, of course, a perfectly understandable difference of viewpoint between employer and employee.

I know that nearly all city employees are jittery fearing a wage cut. In every instance those who spoke announced that they were in the employ of the city. There was no effort to advance an argument under the cloak of anonymity. I hope that frank example will be followed tonight. I am informed that a large majority of the city employees are likewise taxpayers. And let me add that the aldermen are the representatives of all the citizens.

Tonight the committee must rigidly adhere to a listening attitude. We will not again act as teachers, nor will we debate issues. I must insist that those in the audience do not debate controversial issues with each other. The committee wants constructive suggestions. It will listen attentively, and will weigh the evidence calmly and impartially, and in due course make its report to the full board.

I am going to give the privilege of speaking first to those representing organizations. After them we will hear individuals. Please give your name and address and organization and speak so all can hear.

Leon Rogers, president of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, representing the directors of that organization, advocated a reduction in expenditures by all departments of the city, the inclusions of expenses for the full year in the budget estimates, including that for welfare; the undertaking of no new projects which will cause additional expenses, and the postponement of planned increases in school, police, fire and health departments. He commented that he believes the cost of welfare will at least be as much this year as it was last year, and provision should be made in the budget for the full amount. Mr. Rogers said that the directors of the taxpayers' association are opposed to the practice of the city in borrowing on tax titles, and the use of the surplus gained from water revenue for payment of expenses of other departments. He presented to the Finance Committee a copy of the resolutions passed by the directors of the Taxpayers' Association. He spoke as follows:

"The City has not included in its budget and tax-rate the full cost of operating the government. This has been done by drawing on the surplus funds until they have been exhausted and a deficit has appeared. To make ends meet, the City has had to borrow needed sums from the State, in some fiscal years. The 'incomplete' budget on which the tax rate is based has not included any direct appropri-

THE NEW DEAL AND THE RAILROADS

The other day a prominent columnist stated that the railroads of this country have been staggering along for the past fifty years on a New Deal program. He points out that for many years they have been receiving governmental aid in the form of subsidies, they have been having a social security program through the pension system, they have been under a price-fixing program by the setting of freight rates by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and they have been subject to labor restrictions by collective bargaining. Almost every phase of the present New Deal program can be applied to the railroad conditions over several decades. Most everyone knows that the railroads in this country are in a pretty sad state and that they are also a large factor in the economic condition of the country. Many brilliant minds are studying the problem. The question in our minds, however, is: Will not a continuation of the New Deal program place the entire country in a similar situation?

THE ALDERMEN WILL DECIDE

The aldermen for some time have been discussing the financial affairs of the city and the 1938 budget for several weeks. More recently the Finance committee has held public hearings in order to ascertain any viewpoint that citizenry may have. Many pertinent questions have been asked and attention called to many phases of the situation which indicates a greater increase in the 1938 tax rate than Newton has experienced in previous years. There has been some criticism of the Aldermen in holding these hearings. It is difficult to justify this criticism despite the fact that in the final analysis the Aldermen must make the decision as to whether there will be an increase in the tax rate or whether certain services performed by the city will be curtailed or eliminated. The interest which taxpayers, individuals and organizations have taken in these hearings may focus attention on activities which may well receive attention.

THE NEWTON SCHOOLS

There are few persons who will dispute the contention, supported by salient facts, that the Newton schools are a considerable item in the expenses of the city. The per pupil cost admittedly is higher than in most cities of the Commonwealth, even those cities of comparable size. We do not intend to deny that Mr. Waters' criticisms are unjustified, nor that they should not receive consideration. We do, however, contend that a drastic reduction in school expenses would soon result in considerable lowering of the standard of our schools. This standard unquestionably attracted many persons to build or reside in this city, thereby increasing the valuation of taxable property and aiding in maintaining a low tax rate. While it may be possible to reduce school expenditures somewhat it should not be done without deliberate and careful study.

Sunbeam Chats

When Mother took me to be weighed at the Well Baby Conference today I saw the funniest thing. There was a little girl running 'round with a nursing bottle in her hand. Gee, I wanted to holler "Baby" because I've heard the District Nurse say only babies drink from bottles—but then I s'pose it's not the little girl's fault if her mother won't let her grow up. But she'll be mad when she gets big and her teeth don't meet in front.

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

NO DOOR TO DOOR CAMPAIGN

April 6, 1938.

Editor, NEWTON GRAPHIC:

Newton Post No. 48, American Legion, will present its Thirteenth Annual Welfare Concert at the Newton High School on the evenings of April 28th and 29th. In connection with this affair, we will not conduct a house-to-house campaign nor telephone solicitation for the sale of tickets. Newton Post wishes to inform citizens of Newton to this effect, inasmuch as it has come to my attention that a Brookline organization of veterans is selling tickets in Newton for a dance in that community on May 27th. Lest Newton citizens should obtain the impression that Newton Post will benefit from this affair, I would appreciate the publishing of the fact that Newton Post has no interest whatever in this activity.

Sincerely yours,

J. SHERMAN IRVING,
Commander, Newton Post,
American Legion, No. 48.

Legislators Are Guests of Women Voters

The Legislators Luncheon sponsored by the Newton League of Women Voters last Saturday proved a most enjoyable affair. A brief social hour before lunch gave opportunity for League members and guests to meet the five gentlemen who represent the interests of Newton and of Massachusetts at the State House. A real acquaintance was established by the ten-minute talks and the questions which followed the luncheon.

Representative Luitweiler gave his reasons for advocating a sales tax. He argued that such a tax would render tax-conscious the people who now think the entire cost of government is borne by the rich. A second point was that States which do use this tax report warmly in its favor.

Senator Hollis argued on the other side that a sales tax falls in large measure on those least able to pay, that the "use tax" on purchases made outside the State would be largely evaded and that we may be certain in view of past tax history that such a tax though professedly temporary, would never be repealed.

Representative Baker spoke on Social Security. He stressed the point that Massachusetts had been "sandbagged" into giving up a law adapted to conditions in the State to substitute a less desirable one written in Washington. He gave figures of the increase in applications for old age assistance in Massachusetts at the rate of 800 a month since 1933 and the difficulty of determining whether there is real need. He deprecated the substitution of a central authority for a local one which would be more effective. He reminded us that the money which was to create a fund for care of the aged is really being used to pay current government expenses.

Representative Francis urged the advantages of a city manager form of government and explained how in this system employees are chosen for ability alone since there is no longer the opportunity of paying political debts by appointment to political office. Voters elect a Council whose duty it is to decide upon policies and to appoint a manager responsible for carrying them out and for selecting his subordinates. Newton is a business corporation and should be run by a manager trained for this profession.

Representative Brimblecom spoke briefly on the re-registration of voters explaining the need not only for an accurate list but for an identification provision to prevent fraudulent impersonation.

Annual Meeting of Community Council

Despite Newton's recognized standing as one of the best suburban communities in the country, it greatly needs to undertake social studies of community needs and resources, Elwood Street, director of Public Welfare in Washington, D. C., told the delegates at the first annual meeting of the Community Council of Newton held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club Thursday evening. Representatives of the forty leading civic and social welfare organizations in the city attended the meeting which heard the reports of surveys made during the year of Newton's health and recreational problems. "Community, know thyself" was Mr. Street's admonition to council members.

Speaking on the subject "How to Attack Community Problems," Mr. Street urged the necessity of fact finding studies, followed by cooperative efforts by civic and social agencies under the leadership of the Community Council. "Such studies and such cooperative efforts," he said, "must be made upon a community basis if we are to prevent delinquency and restore health. The community is the testing ground for all efforts at social reform. It is the community which makes good citizens or bad.

"This cooperative procedure of problem finding, facing and attacking is a task of community engineering, challenging all the skills and all the abilities of your citizens who love their fellow men. This program should appeal not only to social workers and board members, but also, to men of large affairs who have here the opportunity to apply their extraordinary experience and ability to the greatest technical problem of all, community engineering, largely conceived. This procedure challenges you to create your own conditions of life and your own facts of human well-being. Here in Newton you can act on the premise that not size, but quality, is important. Newton may be the best community in the United States, for general goodness, but it can be better, and you can make it so. Your task will not be done, until you have made Newton the best community it is humanly possible to make it, from the point of view of the potentialities of every one of its residents of whatever age. That is an unending task, for new concepts of 'best' will be revealed, as the old concepts are fulfilled."

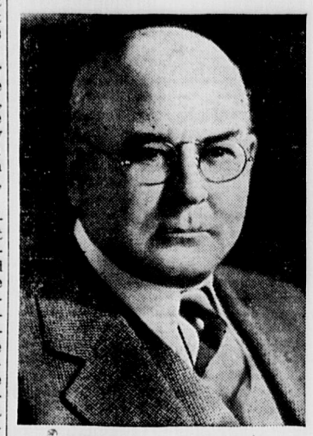

The report of the council's divisions of Welfare and Relief stated that the Council will soon undertake a study of Newton's relief problems in cooperation with a committee of the Board of Aldermen. The division of health has already completed a study of tuberculosis in Newton and the division of Recreation and Character Building is making a study of recreational opportunities in Newton for young people between 16 and 25.

The following officers were elected: Chairman, Julius E. Warren; Assistant Chairmen, Mrs. L. P. Thayer, C. G. McDavitt, and M. John Barry; Members of Governing Board, Mrs. Philip Segal, Mrs. F. Ward Paine, Mrs. Henry F. Dunker, Rev. Ray Eusden, Donald M. Hill; Treasurer, Maynard Hutchinson; Executive Director, L. A. Bruce.

I.O.O.F. To Hold Big Meeting In Boston April 23rd

On Saturday evening, April 23, 1938, all roads will lead to Mechanics Hall, Huntington ave., Boston, where Odd Fellows from every town and city in this state will gather to witness the most elaborate and spectacular presentation of the First Degree ever attempted in this jurisdiction.

Albert W. Bullock, Grand Instructor of the Grand Lodge, Chairman of the Degree Committee, has selected the best talent available from the 237 lodges throughout the state. The committee will have the services of a large orchestra and the famous East Lynn Male Chorus.

THOMAS G. ANDREWS
Grand Sire of Odd Fellows

It is expected that at least five hundred candidates will receive their First Degree at this mammoth meeting. The candidates must have received the Initiatory Degree on or before April 16th to be qualified for advancement. This large group will be designated as the Grand Sire's Class in honor of the Honorable Thomas G. Andrews, of Oklahome, Grand Sire, who will be present and will be the only guest speaker at the conclusion of the degree.

The Grand Sire is making a special trip to be present at this large demonstration of Massachusetts Odd Fellowship, and to witness this spectacular degree which is to be conferred in his honor. The doors will be open at 7:00 p. m. Everyone attending will receive a souvenir of the occasion.

Lodges throughout the state have appointed committees to make arrangements for the large delegations that are to be present. Special trains and busses have been chartered and over five thousand members are expected to be present from lodges located all the way from Nantucket Island and Provincetown to North Adams and Great Barrington.

A large committee of prominent Odd Fellows has been selected to insure the success of this great meeting. George L. Dolloff, Past Grand Master, is the General Chairman; Walter E. Taylor, Grand Master, is Honorary Chairman; with George H. Fuller, Past Grand Master, as Secretary; Samuel K. Walker, Past Grand Master, as Treasurer and G. Frank Tinney, Grand Marshal, as Chairman of the Publicity Committee. All of the Past Grand Masters, Grand Officers and others are working hard to make this great demonstration an eminently successful occasion.

Speeders Fined In Newton Court

In the Newton court last Friday Judge Mayberry fined Jean Davidson of 86 Warren st., Needham, $5 for speeding and $5 for ignoring Stop signs at through streets. Patrolman Dowling testified the woman was not only driving at a high rate of speed, but in rapid succession ignored Stop signs at Commonwealth ave. and Homer st. Others fined $5 each for speeding included Julian Engelman, Clements rd., Newton; Herbert Butler, Main st., Waltham; Martha Turner, Cambridge; Robert Martin, Robbins st., Waltham.

AN APPRECIATION

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to the Committee and members for the welcome basket so graciously delivered to us.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hendrie Martin.

A SAFETY TIP

It's nippy out this morning, so why not close the doors while the engine warms up? Only takes a few minutes you know. But in that time much can happen. For instance, carbon monoxide may sneak up and lay you. About 600 people lose their lives each year from inhaling carbon monoxide. Most cases occur in the family garage when the engine is running and the doors and windows are closed. Sure, it's a dumb stunt but people still do it. Auto gas is deadly and strikes without warning. Don't forget that.

NEWTON In The Past

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, April 8, 1876

In an item in our issue of two weeks ago we stated that Mr. Bates is laying concrete on the Centennial Exposition grounds at Philadelphia for 9 cents a square yard. That was an error. The price should be 90 cents.

Work upon the Newton water works started again on Monday morning. Italians are principally employed as laborers. One gentleman counted about 75 men standing about the depot at Newton on Monday forenoon looking for work.

Tramps are on the increase. The stable of W. H. Brackett on Waverley ave. was visited a few days ago and a suit of clothes stolen. Monday afternoon a tramp entered the stable of Dr. Field on Franklin st. and stole an overcoat and undercoat belonging to Patrick Carroll; in one of the pockets was $10. Quite a loss to young Carroll and a bold operation by the tramp. The police report shows that during the past 3 months 160 tramps were lodged at Station 1, and fed.

Jack Redding's Centennial Minstrels will appear at Nonantum Hall, Newton, on Wednesday night, April 12. Admission 25 cents; reserved seats 35 cents.

Miss Simmons, accompanied by some of the girls from her school at West Newton, paid a visit to the girls' home at Newton on Monday afternoon. They carried bundles of clothing and provisions for the children there. Let us encourage others to go and do likewise. This missionary work at home, where we know the direct result of our gifts, gives more satisfaction than when we send money to those in distant parts of the country.

Editor Newton Republican—

I presume that the people complaining of the ravages of scarlet-fever are not aware that it may be transmitted through the libraries. I have noticed members of families having convalescent children taking out books. Now the next child that takes that book is liable to contagion. Would it not be better to abstain from exposing the lives and health of others by refraining from doing this?

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, April 6, 1888

Ten young boys were in court last Saturday charged with trespassing on the Potter estate at Waban Park, Newton, and with using profane language. They were fined $1 each and one-tenth of the costs, and Judge Park gave them a well merited lecture.

The public property committee of the Board of Aldermen is considering the disposal of the almshouse farm at Waban and the removal of the institution to another location where land is less valuable. The farm now occupies some of the most desirable sites in Waban and is too valuable for the purpose for which it is being used. Residents and prospective residents also object to the presence of the almshouse as it depreciates the values of their properties and Mayor Kimball's recommendation that the property be sold is likely to be adopted. Various locations for the new site are being considered. One of them is in the Carlton farm between Waban and Lower Falls. It contains 70 acres and extends to the Charles River. The front along Beacon st. could be used for house lots and the almshouse located back toward the river. Another suggestion is that a farm be bought toward the Needham line, where there certainly could be no objections from other residents, and few houses would be built for many years to come.

The city has purchased a fine pair of grey horses for the chemical engine at West Newton. They were imported from Canada and weigh 2600 pounds. They seem to be intelligent and promise to be a valuable addition to the fire department.

The gypsies have encamped on their usual ground on Grove st., Lower Falls, a sure sign that spring has come.

The Board of Health met on Tuesday evening at City Hall with Mayor Kimball in the chair. Mr. Pettee read a petition from J. B. Murphy and others asking that the removal of night soil to Mr. Breck's farm at North st., Newtonville, be discontinued, as it is a nuisance and unhealthy. William Mague, contractor for this work, thought there is no ground for complaint as he is doing what the Board of Health directed. It was moved that the agent of the Board, Mr. Mosman, be directed to investigate this matter. Mr. Burr thought as complaints are constantly coming to the Board of Health, something should be done to permanently remedy this trouble, and the Board ought to settle it in a more business like manner than by changing the place where night soil is deposited very time a complaint comes. He thought it would be better for the city to put in a sewer system than to do what it is now doing. Quite a discussion followed, and several of the Board expressed their views on the matter of sewers.

Efforts are being made to have all the property owners in Waban unite in having a topographical survey made of the village and have Frederick Law Olmstead lay it out. If this succeeds the prosperity of Waban would be assured and it would become the model village of Newton. Moffat's

The other day the newspapers carried a short story about a male of the human species who resides in a Massachusetts city. He is 43 years of age and the father of eight children. For fourteen years, or since he was 29 years of age, he has been drawing $16 weekly as welfare aid from the taxpayers of the city where he lives, and during all that time he gave only 12 hours work to the city in return for the aid given him and his family. Recently he was asked to take a WPA job and he refused to do so. He was brought into court and charged with non-support. The judge gave him until April 28 to take the WPA job, or go to jail. It would be better for society if drones of this type would be jailed, or otherwise restrained before they beget large families for the public to support.

Mayor Childs has issued a proclamation setting aside this month for an intensive campaign for the early diagnosis of tuberculosis and urging residents of Newton to take advantage of the facilities offered by their private physicians and the city for the prevention of this disease. He states that the cost to Newton this year for the care of tuberculosis patients will be $60,000, or 37 cents on the tax rate. This large cost to Newton is due mostly to the fact that this city pays much more than any other place in this county for the maintenance of the Middlesex County T. B. Hospital at Waltham because of its wealth and population, and because Cambridge and Lowell have municipal T. B. hospitals and are exempted from supporting the county hospital. A large addition erected at the hospital increased the cost to Newton this year. This city not only pays for patients at the hospital from Newton, but aids largely in paying for patients from other cities and towns in the county. And it is only several years past since some alleged medical experts asserted that pulmonary tuberculosis was so much on the decline, that sanitariums would soon be unnecessary.

Recently in a diatribe at the reorganization bill Senator David I. Walsh characterized the proposed legislation as a dagger thrust in the heart of democracy. It was interesting to observe that former President Hoover takes a much more conciliatory attitude toward the bill than does the idol of Massachusetts Democrats, and the Boston Herald published an editorial which tended to be even somewhat favorable toward the bill. In our opinion Senator Walsh was over dramatic in making his reference to the stab at "the heart of democracy." Because of his age, intellect, and long experience in public life, the gentleman from Clinton should know that the danger to Democracy is not a sudden stab at its heart. What threatens Democracy in the United States (and has practically killed it in France) is a cancerous condition which has been for many years gnawing at the vitals of popular government in this country. Greed and hypocrisy in the private lives of too many of our people, graft and corruption among a large number of those who hold public office—both elective and appointive—have been undermining democracy and encouraging a trend toward fascism or communism.

The much publicized activity of District Attorney Bishop's tour of Middlesex County in an alleged crusade against crime in general and gambling in particular will not help him politically. Such sudden ardor savors too much of grandstand play.

Congressman Dickstein of New York makes the presumptuous proposal that the unused immigration quotas allotted to various European countries by the U. S. A. be transferred to Germany and Austria. The doors of this country have been closed for years to persons desiring to come to this country from Europe; most of whom have relatives here. The quotas have not been used because United States consuls in foreign lands, acting in conformity with instructions, have refused to visa passports for those desiring to come here. And those denied the privilege to immigrate here include members of the races which settled and developed this country; races which endured great hardships in pioneering days. Yet ongressman Dickstein would seize the quota rights of these races, rights curtailed because of adverse economic conditions in this country, and transfer these quotas en masse to one race. Such action, if taken, certainly would tend to an increase of racial prejudice in the U. S. A.

Upon his return from Europe former President Hoover warned the United States against any alliances or entanglements with any European nations. He knows Europe and he agrees with the principle enunciated with the first President of this country. He disagrees with millions of sincere Americans, victims of clever propaganda, who in recent years favored the U. S. A. becoming involved in the rotten mess overseas.

It is interesting to observe the Newton Board of Aldermen year after year co-operate to preserve Newton as an outstanding residential community by upholding the zoning ordinance and consistently tur down petitions for changes of parcels of property from residence to business zones, when for three years past the zoning ordinance has been openly and persistently violated at West Newton by the conduct of a business in a residence zone on Washington st. Two years ago we were informed by the city official whose duty it is to enforce the zoning law that the offender was to be summoned into court, but no action was taken. Why?

The young man who argued at the public hearing at City Hall last Friday night that the collection of garbage and ashes in Newton should be given to low bidders, or to persons who would pay for the privilege of collecting the garbage, would probably not have made such a suggestion if he were as old as some of us, and had observed the poor service in such collections, not only in Newton years ago, but in other places today, where contracts given to low bidders result unsatisfactorily to the public.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Make Way for Spring

Many, who otherwise appear normal and reasonably self-restrained, rush into verse to tell why they welcome Spring. On the other hand, the more guarded, including myself, confine themselves to prose. Possibly it is just as well as a lot of readers might skip what appeared as poetical striving on my part. For no good reason but plenty of bad ones, no doubt, they think I cannot attain a lofty position in verse and see in me more Edgar Guest than Lord Alfred Tennyson. Now that I have made myself clear (Cries of "What's that you're saying," and "Like Heck you have!") I will add this:

Spring to me is welcome because there is competition for the bicycle riders of Newton who monopolize the sidewalks at other seasons. Roller skaters, groups playing marbles, hopscotch, etc., must also use the sidewalk. That, of course, crowds the bicycles off into the street where they belong under the law. It makes these cyclists very angry, I'm told. I wonder they don't complain to their friends the police.

From A to Z

With Newton on the dial we'll be telephoning the old home through NEW, CEN or WES. Those unfamiliar with the system will find it as simple as ABC. It will produce connections PDQ. As for me, the change is OK.

Fast-Vanishing Type

It would be no surprise if I were wrong again. However, unless convincing proof is placed before me I shall continue to think that among the things that have gone out of fashion are the sincere solicitations for a customer's welfare displayed by some types of tradespeople. What started me on this line of thought was a visit to a cobbler's shop in another city. My only reason for going out of my home burg was because I happened to think, as I passed this bootmaker's door, that I needed a box of shoe polish. The slender old gentleman who waited upon me had laid down his tools, plainly interrupted, but no less courteous to a strange and not very profitable customer. It was not only his earnestness in seeing to it that I got the brand of black paste I wanted, but that the box should be easy to open. Displaying the dexterity of an expert he loosed the cover all around with his leather-cutting knife and then gave an extra lift to the lid at one point to make it possible to fit it on again. It puzzled me that he should take so much time for my benefit until I learned that he had been at the trade for a full half-century, having started across the seas somewhere on the British Isles. Not only did he know the trade of boot-making from heel to toe, but the importance of good manners.

To Fit the Crime

The services of this station have been engaged for the next few moments to carry out the threat made here last week that I would think up some good way to get back at those people who annoy you by calling up at the most unearthly hours and treating your inconvenience as the joke of their lives. I am eager that their punishment should be severe if not brutal. My better judgment, which is the best I have, tells me that it should fit the crime. Therefore, I think I would arrange to have these people call each other up and practice their fiendish tortures on one another. Possibly something more appropriate may occur to me but until it does this will stand.

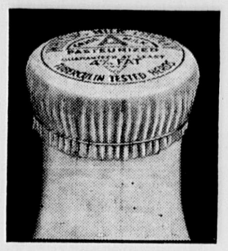

Needed Explaining

Frequently, when two men are eating together in a public place a third happens along who is a friend of one and a stranger to the other. Such an incident occurred recently and it was my pleasure to introduce two good fellows. The man who was last to arrive stood by the table and told of an extended automobile trip He was so enthusiastic that one not familiar with his character would feel certain he was boasting. My table companion evidently got such a notion, for, when the other had finished, announced loftily, "I expect to cover a lot of ground myself this Summer." Knowing he did not own a car I said nothing until we were alone again and then "Did you mean that when you said you planned to cover a lot of ground this Summer?" Nodding confirmation, he replied, "Sure I do, but with my lawnmower."

JUNIOR CIRCLE DANCE TONIGHT

The younger members of the Newton Circle, Inc., of the Florence Crittenton League will give their popular annual dinner dance this evening April 8 at the Hotel Continental in Cambridge. Mrs. Raymond W. Stanley of Dudley rd., Brookline, is chairman of the committee directing the affair. Dinner will be served from seven-thirty until nine o'clock, with dancing until one o'clock to the music of Henry Brigode's fifteen piece orchestra.

WEST NEWTON W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. held a most interesting meeting at the home of Dr. N. Louise Rand, 247 Austin st., West Newton on last Monday evening. Miss Helen Nelson gave a talk on the Young People's Meetings at the World's Convention in Washington last June and Miss Mildred Yates of Reading spoke on the Young People's Annual Conference held at Dunstable. Refreshments were served by the hostess and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Recent Weddings

IVERSON—KEEVER

Miss Mary Elizabeth Keever of Auburndale was married to Robert F. Iverson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Iverson of Pittsburgh, Pa., in the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, on Saturday afternoon, April 2nd, which was also the 25th wedding anniversary of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Henry F. Keever. Rev. Roger Bennett of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Newton Lower Falls, performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin with a long veil of illusion tulle which fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and gardenias. Miss Jane Ansley, cousin of the bride, and maid of honor, wore a gown of confetti marquisette with short puffed sleeves and full skirt, and a headdress of confetti-twisted taffeta. Miss Leah Maitland Keever, sister of the bride, and Miss Margaret Ansley were the junior bridesmaids. The other attendants were Miss Jane Alley and Miss Dorothy Foss of Auburndale, Miss Julia and Miss Sally Jenkins of Brookline. All of the bridesmaids wore gowns of cornflower blue trimmed with confetti grosgrain, ribbon and carried bouquets of sweet peas, bachelor buttons and baby's breath.

John Iverson, brother of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were Andreas A. Iverson, another brother of the groom, Norman Soupcoff of Pittsburgh, Pa., John Miller of Port Carbon, Pa., and G. E. Gangloff, Jr., of Schuykill Haven, Pa.

A small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Maple st. The couple received against a background of ferns and spring flowers. Mrs. Keever, mother of the bride, wore dove grey chiffon with a corsage of orchids and Mrs. Iverson wore azure blue chiffon crepe with orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Iverson will spend two weeks in Bermuda and will sail late this month for a European trip, where they will visit Mr. Iverson's grandmother in Denmark. On their return they will reside at Mt. Lebanon, Pa.

The bride is a graduate of the Lee School in Boston and of Penn Hall Junior College, Chambersburg, Pa. Mr. Iverson attended Shady Side Academy and Mercersburg Academy. He is now in business in Pittsburgh.

PHELAN—CRESSEY

Miss Harriet Elizabeth Cressey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall B. Cressey of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, was married to John Thomas Phelan, son of Mrs. Mary C. Phelan of 412 Fuller st., West Newton, and the late Patrick M. Phelan, on Saturday morning, March 26, at the rectory of the Holy Family Church, New Rochelle, New York.

Only the immediate families were present at the ceremony. There were no attendants.

Fined $100 For Drunken Driving

Francis McGourty, 26, of Parker st., Newton Centre was arraigned in the Newton court last Saturday on several charges as a result of a car he was driving on the night of March 25th having hit a car driven by Nathan Eisenberg of Nahant on the turnpike near Langley rd., Newton Centre. The car McGourty drove was owned by Ronald McDonald of Newton Centre and Newton police claimed that the car was neither insured nor registered. McDonald and McGourty were charged with driving an unregistred and uninsured car, but Judge Mayberry found both not guilty on these two charges. McGourty was fined $50 for driving while under the influence of liquor. For leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity he was fined $50 and sentenced to serve two months in prison, but the sentence was suspended. McGourty has been in court before a number of times charged with various offences, including driving while under the influence of liquor in 1934.

Saltonstall To Speak To Young Republicans

Mr. Saltonstall will be the guest speaker at the April meeting of the Young Men's Republican Club of Newton. The meeting will be held in the Main Library, Newton Corner, on next Wednesday, April 13 at 8 p. m.

Leverett Saltonstall is one of the leaders of the Republican Party in the Commonwealth and consequently his words will be of interest to all Republicans. Aware of this fact, Edgar T. White, Jr., president of the club has declared that the meeting will be open to the public.

Open House at All Newton Music School

Residents of Newton who are interested in the music education of young children are cordially invited to attend the Annual Spring Party of the Theory Classes and Junior Orchestra at the Claffin School, wooden building, Newtonville, on Tuesday afternoon, April 12th at 2:30 o'clock.

All young pupils entering the Music School are expected to take at least two years of preparatory and supplementary training in the Theory Classes. The work is done on the most approved modern lines and gives ear-training, rhythmic-training, note-reading, scale-study, chord-study, melodic invention, etc. It is universally accepted that such training gives invaluable background for the study of an instrument,—but it is not generally known that the work may be had here in Newton. These classes meet weekly at both branches of the Music School.

Miss Crandell who is in charge of the classes, studied with Miss Angela Diller and for years taught under her at the Park School, Brookline, where she is now head of the department. She has taken Stanley Chappel's courses and the work at the Surette Summer School as well.

In addition to a Theory Class Demonstration on Tuesday afternoon, the Junior Orchestra will play. Beginners on any instrument find valuable group activity in the weekly Junior Orchestra practice.

Pupils not otherwise enrolled in the Music School are accepted at a moderate yearly fee. These fees help maintain the classes for pupils who can afford only nominal fees or none. All orchestra training is free to pupils of the school.

Oak Hill Parent-Teacher Assn. Holds Its Annual Meeting

On the afternoon of Tuesday, April 5th, the new Oak Hill Parent-Teacher Association rounded out its first season of activity with its annual meeting. The progress of the year was reviewed briefly by the President, Mrs. Henry S. C. Cummings. Standing committee reports on membership, hospitality, Ways and Means, and program were given by Mrs. Fred Hochberger, Mrs. Walter Gorman, Mrs. Charles S. Trefrey and Mrs. F. W. Hoverstad, respectively. By-laws for the Association were adopted and officers elected for the ensuing year. Officers elected were: President, Mrs. Lawrence W. Early; Vice-President, Mrs. Charles S. Trefrey; Vice-President, Miss Jane Wyman; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Raymond M. Stowell; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. C. W. Lacy; Treasurer, Mrs. Charles R. Davis.

Following the business meeting, Mr. C. Elwood Drake, Director of the Department of Guidance and Research, gave an informal talk on the subject of "Measuring Your Child's Abilities and Achievements." Few cities of the size of Newton, Mr. Drake stated, could show as well developed and progressive departments of research. The purpose of this department is continually to appraise all conditions affecting our schools, spot any weak points in the school system, aid in their correction and generally to safeguard the maximum return per taxpayers' dollar allocated to the schools. Mr. Drake then explained in detail the system of measuring and recording the mental and academic development of children in the first six grades. Achievement tests in reading, arithmetic, etc., are given throughout the city in the third and the sixth grades. Cumulative record cards for each child thus make their division into groups easier in the higher grades and give a sound basis for advice in choosing a college or business course in high school. A lively discussion period followed the talk.

WABAN COMMUNITY GARDEN CLUB

On Saturday, April 16th, Professor Arnold Davis of Amherst College, an expert on "Ornamental Planting" will conduct a practical course for members of the club. Three different types of member's gardens will be visited when Professor Davis will illustrate the principles of design and reasons of good planting.

Gardens to be visited are as follows:

2:00 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, 196 Kent rd. Type—Steep hillside, rockery and wall garden.

3 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Woodruff, 863 Chestnut st. Type—Flat situation for formal design.

4 p. m. Miss Florence Maynard, 34 Pilgrim rd. Type—Informal, naturalistic.

Tea in Studio.

In case of rain Professor Davis will speak at the Maynard Studio on Pilgrim rd. at 2:30 p. m.

Children's Singing Guild

"All at Sea," a two act opera on Gilbert and Sullivan lines, will be the annual (sixth) offering of the Children's Singing Guild this year, and will be presented on April 30th, in the auditorium of the John W. Weeks Junior High School. The directors are working hard to make this opera a city-wide affair, and well-nigh every person of note or prominence in the entire city is being invited to become a subscriber. Mayor hilds has accepted an invitation to attend, a corp of police officers will serve as ushers and ticket sellers and takers, city and school officials, club residents and clergy are being bidden, and altogether, the play promises to outshine anything yet given by the Guild. As has already been announced, all proceeds are to be donated to the families of the Newton patrolmen slain in the performance of duty, and it is expected there will be a record attendance for this most praiseworthy cause.

Rotary Club

The Newton Rotary Club resumed its meetings at the Brae Burn Country Club last Monday noon. Mr. Frank Allen, head of the department of Design at the Massachusetts School of Art spoke on the subject, "Art and Design in Industry." He described very conclusively the very great need for art and design in making products of industry successful. Everyone has an appreciation of art although many do not realize its importance. He stated that art is founded on geometric designs, and showed illustrations of this in objects dating back 3,000 years or more. Art suffered during the 19th century because people were too much interested in money. His illustrations also demonstrated the progress of design in industry with relation to familiar items such as automobiles, locomotives, vessels, flat irons, etc. Art is a most important method of man's expression of his emotions, religion and life, it succeeds where actions and words fail.

Over $36,000 Land Damages For Playgrounds

The Playground department has formally acquired by eminent domain processes a large tract of land for a new playground in Newtonville and a parcel of property for an addition to the Hawthorne playground in Nonantum. Awards of damages have been made to former owners of property involved totalling $36,622.

The sum of $30,972 was paid for the Newtonville land, bounded by Crafts st., Albemarle rd., and Watertown st. Of this sum $28,000 was awarded to Lane Schofield, Albert Schofield, Myra S. Manuson, Parker F. Schofield, and William F. Schofield, life tenant and the remainder as follows: Florence G. Avery, $1400; Bernard MacFadden heirs, $600; and Louis Watson, $972. The land will be used as a playground for the Horace Mann and F. A. Day Jr. High Schools.

Thomas S. Derr was awarded $5,650 for the land on Hawthorn st. containing 4374 square feet. A building on the premises will be remodeled for use as a playground house. Showers and other sanitary facilities will be installed.

Aldermen Refuse Charlton Annuity

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the third attempt of Mrs. Delphine Charlton of 147 Linwood ave., Newtonville, to obtain an annuity was rejected by the Board. She is the widow of Charles J. Charlton, for 16 years a member of the Newton Fire Department. He died at the Newton Hospital on May 5, 1937, following an operation to relieve conditions caused by Berger's disease. It was contended that his death was caused by an injury to his left ankle which he received on April 19, 1934, while on duty. Last year on October 5 and November 1, the Aldermen considered claims made by Mrs. Charlton for an annuity for herself and her three children, and refused to grant the claim. Another application was made in February of this year.

Alderman Frank McCabe of Ward 1 has been leading the fight to obtain the annuity for Mrs. Charlton. Following a discussion of over two hours in a committee of the whole conference of the Aldermen on Monday night, McCabe renewed his fight when the open meeting was resumed. He told the history of the case, of Charlton's sufferings, and of the testimony of Dr. Marston the Charlton family physician, and of Drs. Marble, Pilcher, Pratt and Gallagher, who testified at the hearings held before the Claims & Rules Committee on the case. In conclusion Mr. McCabe said:

"It is my conception of my duty as a member of this honorable body that I can present or support any worthy case affecting the lives, property or other affairs of our citizens. To my mind the case of this widow and her three children is a most worthy case, and I hope to God you won't let them down."

Aldermen Barwise and Fahey concurred in urging that the claim be granted.

Alderman Rawson, as chairman of the Claims & Rules Committee, said that the attorney for Mrs. Charlton waived the claim that the injury to Charlton's ankle caused Berger's disease, and rested the case on the contention that the ankle injury would have healed but for the presence of the disease. He said that the hospital record convinced the majority of the committee that the ankle had healed, and that the symptoms on Charlton's were those of Berger's disease. On the vote taken on granting Mrs. Charlton's claim, five aldermen were in favor. They were—Barwise, Fahey, Hughes, Everts and McCabe. Those who voted in the negative were Aldermen Ashenden, Bacon, Schipper, Tiffin, Walker, Jamieson, Lockwood, Gaddis, Hutchinson, Temperley, McCay, Goddard, Inches, Rawson and Colby.

Drunken Driver Fined, Another Is Arrested

In the Newton district court yesterday Paul Buck, 22, of 86 Withington rd., was fined $50 by Judge Donald E. Mayberry on a charge of drunken driving. He was arrested at 1:30 a. m. on April 2 at Newton Corner by Patrolmen Whelan and McEnaney.

Mitchell MacDonald, 36, of 35 Garland rd., Newton Centre, was arrested early yesterday morning at Centre st. and Commonwealth ave. by Patrolmen Barry and J. P. Murphy, charged with drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in the Newton court and his case continued until April 20.

Arrest Watertown Man for Mail Truck Robbery at N'ville

Andrew J. MacDonald, 40, of 18 Pequosette st., Watertown, was arrested yesterday by Postoffice Inspectors Cronin, Mulvey, Looney and Callaghy charged with the robbery of a mail truck and 21 pouches of mail from the Newtonville postoffice on the night of January 14. MacDonalll had been driving mail trucks for 15 years, but in recent years had not driven trucks to the Newtonville postoffice. The truck and its contents were stolen when it was parked at the rear of the postoffice and its driver was inside the building. It was found abandoned three hours later on a lonely road near the Charles River at Bemis, about a mile from the postoffice. Because the thief had taken only pouches containing valuable mail matter, postoffice inspectors reasoned that he was someone who was conversant with postoffice matters and probably an employee or former employee was involved. Suspicion was directed to MacDonald and he had been trailed for several weeks.

He was arraigned yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Robbins. Asst. U. S. District Attorney Jackson Holtz stated that he had been carrying a gun and drinking excessively. He asked that high bail be set against MacDonald as other charges may be brought against him. The registered letters in the stolen pouches contained $1850 in cash and $2475 in securities. The bail was set at $10,000. Inspector Cronin informed the commissioner that in 1913 there were two convictions against MacDonald for breaking and entering. MacDonald is married and is the father of one child.

Fingerprints Hold Man For Jury

Ellsworth Evans, 28, of Robin Hood rd., Auburndale was ordered held for the Grand Jury by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court in $500 bail. On March 22 the C. & G. Market on Hicks st., West Newton was broken into and $6 in cash and cartons of cigarettes stolen. A pane of glass in a window was broken to gain entrance. On a piece of the broken glass a fingerprint was found which was identified as that of Evans. William Rattigan, State expert on fingerprinting, showed Judge Mayberry enlargements of a print taken from Evans' left thumb, and of the imprint found on the piece of glass. They matched. Evans claimed that he accidentally broke the window the day before the burglary was discovered while he was playing baseball in front of the store, and that his thumb print got on the glass when he picked the broken piece out.

Speeding Auto Hits Police Car

A car operated by Charles Best of Concord ave., Somerville, collided with a Newton police car on Washington st., West Newton, near Elm st. at 1:15 a. m. Wednesday. Best and two women riding with him were slightly injured and were taken to the Newton Hospital. The women injured are Mrs. Ann Coffey of Melendy ave., Watertown, and Louise Simpson of Magazine st., Cambridge. According to the police report the car driven by Best passed the police car, driven by Patrolman Greeley, as both cars were proceeding West. Best passed on the right, his car struck the right front fender of the police car, then continued on for about 60 feet and knocked down an Edison light pole opposite 1381 Washington st. causing electric lights in the neighborhood to be extinguished.

Newtonville Women Hear Talk on Recent Books

Grace Stone Woodbridge covered a vast range of writings in her talk on "Highlights of Recent Literature" before the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church on Wednesday at the afternoon session. She touched on "The Greenwood Hat" an autobiography of the late J. M. Barrie; "Three Rousing Cheers," a record of forty years of American Journalism with outstanding personalities, by Elizabeth Jordan; "Action in Aquila," a Civil War romance with a present day meaning by Hervey Allen and "R. F. D." Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen Smart's own story of their life on an inherited farm in Ohio.

About 120 guests enjoyed the demonstration luncheon of the Association. The Mother and Daughter banquet is scheduled for Friday evening, April 29 and the Woman's Bible Class dinner for Friday evening, May 13. The Ladies' Parlors are attractive with freshly painted walls, glass curtains, newly lined draperies, new lamp shades and recovered easy chairs.

Fined $50 For Reckless Driving

Dennis Saulnier of 46 Prospect st., Watertown, was fined $50 by Judge Allen in the Newton court on Wednesday for driving a car so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. He appealed. On March 26 a car driven by Saulnier collided at Centre and Ward sts., Newton Centre, with a car driven by Gertrude Kadetsky of Mattapan. Mrs. Kadetsky and two other occupants of her car claimed to have received injuries.

A number of motorists were before Judge Mayberry on Wednesday charged with various offences. Abigail Nash of Brookline was fined $5 for not stopping at a traffic signal set against her car. Louis Lewis of Blake st., Newtonville, was fined $5 for not stopping before entering a through street. Bernice Rudnick of Cambridge was fined $5 for speeding. A similar charge against Harold Horwitz of Boston was filed. James Sherry of Whittier rd., Newtonville, was fined $5 for driving to the left of the center of a street. Eugene Whiting, Jr., of Francis st., Newton Centre, was fined $5 for not slowing down at a street intersection.

In court on Tuesday Marjorie Collins, 21, of 24 Fairfield st., Newtonville, was charged with speeding. Patrolman Goddard testified she drove 40 miles an hour on Ward st. Judge Mayberry placed the case on file.

Arrested For Drunken Driving

Leo Harrington, 27, of 2223 Washington st., Lower Falls, was arrested by Patrolmen Riley and Tobin about 6:30 Tuesday morning after the car he was driving had gone into a ditch on Grove st. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Thursday charged with drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued to April 14. Harrington has been in court before on similar charges.

What are you doing to protect the future of your family? If you are carrying weekly premium (collector) insurance, you are not getting as much protection as you should have.

Savings Bank Life Insurance provides, on the average, about twice as much protection for the same cost as weekly premium (collector) insurance.

Savings Bank Life Insurance has cash value after 6 months. Weekly premium insurance has no cash value for 5 years.

Savings Bank Life Insurance pays dividends at end of first year. Weekly premium insurance pays no dividends for first three years.

Savings Bank Life Insurance has loan value at end of first year. Weekly premium insurance never has a loan value. Let us give you actual figures—how much you may save—how much more protection you can buy—with Savings Bank Life Insurance. Come in today!

Ask Permit To Add to Cemetery

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a petition was received from the trustees of St. Joseph's Cemetery asking for permission to use the Esty farm off Dedham st. as an addition to the cemetery. The farm, located at the West Roxbury line, includes 58 acres of land and has been largely denuded of loam and gravel in recent years by the operations of the Highland Sand & Gravel Company. In its barren condition it is improbable that it will be developed as a desirable residential section. St. Joseph's Cemetery is owned by the same corporation that owns Holyhood Cemetery in Brookline, the Holyhood Cemetery Association. In years past, thousands of former Catholic residents of Newton have been buried in both these cemeteries, and the number has largely increased in recent years with the growth of this city.

On Tuesday night a meeting of the executive committee of the Oak Hill Improvement Association was held at the home of Charles R. Davis, 138 Arnold rd. It was voted to protest against the petition for the cemetery. A committee was appointed to work for the rejection of the petition. The members of the committee are Henry S. Cummings, Wendall Bauckman and Thomas Fallon. The petition has been referred to the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen.

RECENT DEATHS

WILLIAM COSGROVE

William Cosgrove of 106 Lexington st., Auburndale, died at the Newton Hospital on April 5. He was born at Oxford, Mass., 85 years ago, and for 50 years was employed by street railways in this city and Waltham. He was first employed by the Newton & Waltham Street Railway as driver of a horse-car. When the Newton Street Railway was started nearly 50 years ago, Mr. Cosgrove was one of its first motormen. In 1913 he was promoted to inspector and served in that position until 1935 when he was retired. He is survived by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. William Cosgrove, Jr., and by two grandchildren, Warren Cosgrove and Mrs. Alice Wayne, all of Waltham. Mr. Cosgrove's funeral service was held on Thursday morning at St. Mary's Church, Waltham. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

His funeral service will be held this afternoon and burial will be in Newton Cemetery.

REV. A. L. HUDSON

Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson, minister at Channing Unitarian Church, Newton, from 1901 to 1910, died on April 5 at Hahnemann Hospital, Worcester. He was born at Richland, N. Y., 85 years ago, the son of Rev. James M. Hudson and Melissa Lathrop Hudson. He was a descendant of Rev. John Lathrop, one of the founders of Barnstable. He received the degree of LL.B. from the University of Iowa in 1876 and practiced law for 17 years in Iowa. He then entered Harvard Divinity School and was ordained a Unitarian minister in 1895. Before coming to Newton he served as minister of the First Church at Buffalo. From 1912 to 1920 he was minister of the First Parish Church, Quincy, and from 1920 on he had been minister of First Parish Church, Dorchester. He had served as chaplain of Rural Lodge of Masons of Quincy, and Union Lodge. In 1896 he married Margaret Benson Chatte of Blue Hill, Me. She died in 1914. In 1917 he married Mrs. Margaret Roach of Worcester, who survives him. He is also survived by a daughter, Ethel E. Hudson, and a son, Frederick Roach. His funeral service will be held this afternoon at First Parish Church, Dorchester. Burial will be in Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

MARY E. DELANEY

Mrs. Mary E. (Foley) Delaney, wife of William F. Delaney of 24 Adams st., Newtonville, died on April 3 following a long illness. Post Labor Day Tour To Europe

The eleventh annual Post Labor Day Tours to Europe under the auspices of the United States Lines, escorted by Frederick J. Reuter, assistant district passenger manager of the Boston office will leave New York on September 7th on the S. S. Manhattan, the superb cabin ship of the U. S. Lines. Every cabin on this boat has real beds, not berths. One has the choice of five itineraries on these tours which are 23 days in length and cost as little as $272.25. Tour A includes London, Holland, Brussels and Paris. Third class fare is $272.25; tourist class $341.25. Tour B goes to London, Holland, along the Rhine to Heidelberg, thence to Lucerne in Switzerland, and to Paris. Third class $313.25; tourist $382.25. Tour C takes one to Cobh, Killarney, Dublin and Belfast in Ireland; Glasgow, Edinburgh and the Trossachs in Scotland; and London. Third class $306.50; tourist $376.75. Tour D goes to Cobh, Killarney and Dublin and gives four days in London. Third class $283.50; tourist $353.75 Tour E takes in Hamburg, Berlin, Munich, Lucerne and Paris. Third class $291.63; tourist $352.75. Excellent accommodations are provided in hotels in Ireland, Great Britain and Europe and one has the advantage of travelling out of the tremendous rush of July and August. These cruises have won high praise from the large number who have taken them.

The United States Lines will arrange similar tours for you if the dates of the above named tours do not suit your convenience. And any itinerary will be prepared to meet your wishes. For further information and reservations consult the Newton Steamship Agency, 11 Centre ave., Newton. Phone Newton North 4501.

NEWTON THEATRE

Continuing for the second week their spring campaign of Hits, the Newton Theatre, West Newton, will have four delightful pictures, starting on Sunday for three days with Jane Withers in "Checkers." Miss Withers was recently voted one of the six most popular stars and in this picture she is at her very best. On the same program "Green Light" starring Errol Flynn and Anita Louise will be shown. Flynn, who won great acclaim for his acting in "Captain Blood" and "Charge of the Light Brigade," rises to even greater dramatic heights in "Green Light" in which he has the role of a young surgeon. Starting Thursday for four days "The Big Broadcast of 1938" starring W. C. Fields and Dorothy Lamour will be shown in which Fields plays the riotous role of a trouble-maker de luxe. By public demand "The Texas Rangers" starring Fred McMurray and Jack Oakie will be on the same program.

Whiting Using Aluminum Caps For Family Milk

No article of food that comes into the home is so rigidly guarded by health regulations as milk. From the farm to the doorstep it is protected from all possible contamination.

Milk companies cooperate to the fullest extent with these regulations. The Whiting Milk Company follows a very rigid program of health protection even in the capping of their bottles . . . the pouring lip of the bottle as well as the milk is protected. On their Grade A, Irradiated and Premium milk, they use a scientific cap and seal which protects the whole top of the bottle. A tamper-proof seal when intact shows that no impurities could possibly enter the bottle or come in contact with the pouring lip.

Now Whiting has gone another step forward, by applying aluminum caps on all their Family milk and the milk sold to the stores. It is found that aluminum, being non-porous, moisture-proof, and odor-proof, is sanitary to the last degree.

A simple twist with the palm of the hand placed flat on the top of cap removes this aluminum cap so that it can easily be lifted off. These aluminum caps are also ideal to use as covers for the partly filled milk bottle when replaced in the refrigerator.

Whiting's crusade for more and more health protection in milk is greatly appreciated by their thousands of customers.

Aldermen Make Appropriations For WPA Projects

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on Monday night. It started at 8 o'clock, a recess was taken at 8:30, the meeting was resumed at midnight after the Board had held one of its customary, long private sessions, and the meeting adjourned about 12:30 a. m. Tuesday. The first business on the docket was a hearing on the petition of the Colonial Beacon Oil Company. Charles W. Bartlett appeared as attorney for the petitioners and explained that they desire to modernize the station at 1742 Commonwealth ave., near Washington st. by erecting a one-car lubritorium. There was no opposition.

Former Alderman James P. Akins represented the Sutcliffe Storage Co. when the hearing was announced on the motion passed by the Aldermen at the preceding meeting calling for the revocation of a permit recently granted to the Sutcliffes for a gasoline tank and pump at their place of business, which is the plant of the former Saco-Lowell Company at Upper Falls. Akins said his clients wished to be recorded as favoring the revocation of the permit, which was for the use of a tank and pump already located on the property adjoining Chestnut st. extension and the railroad tracks. The difficulty in this matter was—that a new tank and pump were installed some hundreds of feet distant, at the other side of the property, next to Needham st., and the Aldermen resented what they considered deception. Mr. Akins informed the Aldermen that the only one who knew that it was the intention to install the new tank and pump at the unauthorized locus was the treasurer of the Sutcliffe Company, and that the petitioners extended an apology to the Board of Aldermen. He said that the use of the new equipment has been discontinued, that a new petition will be made to authorize it, and he asked that the revocation of the permit for the use of the old tank pump be delayed until a permit for the use of the new pump shall have been granted. He explained that about 5000 carloads of automobiles are annually received at the plant for Boston automobile dealers, and hardship would be caused if there are not facilities for fueling the large number of cars received at the place. He said that the old tank and pump will be removed.

The names of three Newton residents were drawn to serve as jurors at a criminal business session of the Superior Court in Cambridge next month. They are—Albert Udin, 61 Wildwood ave.; Raymond Simonds, 48 Harrison st.; Nathan Dewing, 14 Oakland ave.

A permit was granted to Earle Johnson to build a decorative front of steel and stucco on the buildings at his gasoline station at 14 Eliot st. near the turnpike, Newton Highlands. Alderman Inches for the Licenses Committee explained that Johnson is spending $4500 in improving the station, that there is no sidewalk and no pedestrian traffic by his station, and he believed that the Board should not insist on concrete ramps being built from the street across the sidewalk site into the station. Alderman Temperley said that when a permit was granted several years ago for the gasoline station at this locus the concrete ramps were supposed to have been constructed and were not. He said that concrete edgestones should at least be built to define the legal width of the driveways into the station.

A hearing was assigned, to be held at the next meeting on the petition of "Queen Cleansers" for a permit to install two 500 gallon tanks to store cleansing fluid at 10 Hawthorne st., Nonantum. A recommendation was received from Mayor Childs to appropriate $586.66 for an increase in the salary of Assessor Albert H. MacAuslan who now works four days each week at an annual salary of $2800. It is planned to have him work full time at a salary of $3500. Another recommendation from the Mayor was for an appropriation of $3195 to purchase 1278 square feet of land in Newton Cemetery as an addition to the Soldiers' Burial Lot. Appropriations for trucking, materials and equipment in connection with WPA projects included—lateral drain at Newton Centre Playground from Homer st. to Hammond Brook, $2500; paving and walling Paul Brook, $2500; deepening part of South Meadow Brook, $1500; Alderman McKay said grants of $118,000 will be received from the WPA for wages to men engaged on these projects. Other appropriations were—sewer in Richfield rd., $1170; water main in Hickory Cliff rd., $2075; to settle a suit brought against the city by Minnie L. Berry on a decision made by a Superior court judge, $330.

The petition of John C. Bond for residents of an apartment house at 218 Commonwealth ave. asking that they be allowed to use the west side of Manet rd. for all night parking of automobiles was refused. Alderman Rawson commented that the Board considered such use of a public street unwise. In 1936 the Aldermen passed an ordinance to prevent the use of public streets as garages.

A protest was received from Martin McMorrow of 717 Washington st. against the use of a garage adjoining his residence because of repairing automobiles late at night. A petition was received from the Oak Hill Improvement Association asking for additional transfer privileges on M & B busses at Newton Corner.

The meeting was adjourned until Monday night, April 11, when the budget will be acted upon.

Automobile Accidents

Despite the fact that a traffic signal was located at the intersection of Centre and Walnut sts. last year to prevent accidents, the presence of the signal did not stop a bad collision at this place shortly before 2 o'clock last Saturday morning. A car driven by Richard Granger, 21, of 77 Erie ave., Newton Highlands was travelling along Centre st., and a car driven by Paul Trainor, 26, of 472 Walnut st., Newtonville was crossing on Walnut st. Granger's car knocked down the traffic signal at the southwest corner of the two streets, and then tipped over. He received an injury to his head. Trainor received an injury to his left knee. Both were taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

A truck driven by Walter Welch of Allston stopped suddenly on Needham st., Newton Highlands last Friday. A car driven by Arthur Cook of Beaufort ave., Needham, crashed into the rear of the truck. Then a car driven by Gilbert Tougas of Stevens rd., Needham, hit the rear of Cook's car. Tougas received an injury to his nose.

Cars driven by Howard Higgins of 36 Brooks ave., Newtonville, and Virginia Niles of 39 Hollan rd., Auburndale, collided at Commonwealth ave. and Homer st., Newton Center, at 6.50 last Friday evening. The Niles car overturned. Higgins, Mrs. Niles and Nancy Niles received slight injuries and were taken to the Newton Hospital.

A car driven by Hiram Freeman of Laird rd., West Medford, collided on Sunday morning at Needham and Winchester sts., Newton Highlands, with a small truck driven by George Bowers of Pleasant st., Stoughton. The truck was tipped over and Bowers and his two small children, one 4 and the other a baby, received slight injuries. They were taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. A complaint has been made against Freeman for driving so as to endanger the safety of the public. Motorcycle Officer Halloran witnessed the accident.

Catherine McCarron, 12, of Capital st., Watertown, received a cut on her right knee last Saturday when the bicycle she was riding on Watertown st., Nonantum, collided with a car driven by Helen Lameyer of 300 Highland st., West Newton.

10 Years In Jail For Girl Attacker

Antonio DeLucca, Jr., 22, of 173 Chapel st., Nonantum, was sentenced by Judge Gray in the Superior Court at Cambridge on Monday to serve from 10 to 15 years in State Prison. Last August DeLucca picked up a 15 year old Cambridge girl, drove her to an isolated spot in Waltham, and attacked her. Accompanied by Cambrige policemen the girl was driven back to Watertown, near where she had met her assailant, and about 3 a. m. on August 7 she identified DeLucca who was standing at Watertown sq.

Cultivation

BEFORE transplanting plants raised in hot beds and cold frames, harden them off by leaving off the sash during the day. If the weather is good, leave off during the last few nights before moving the plants.

* * * *

EVERY improvement that you have on your grounds is really an investment that can be measured in dollars and cents of increased value to the property.

* * * *

MAKE THE CARE of your garden a part of the day's routine. A few moments each day will then be sufficient.

* * * *

LIME IS NOT a plant food. Its value is in correcting a sour or acid soil condition and in making clayey soils lobser and more pliable.

* * * *

IF YOU HAVE an open fireplace, use oak and save the ashes. Hardwood ashes are an excellent fertilizer and when purchased are expensive.

* * * *

FROGS and toads, hornets, garden spider, dragon flies, are some of the desirable friends in your garden for they feed on both the adults and the larvae of harmful forms.

* * * *

ARSENATE OF LEAD is the only really successful preventative for Japanese Beetle. Before using, get detailed instructions as it is very poisonous.

* * * *

EVERGREENS should have plenty of water. Spray the foliage frequently to wash off the dust and dirt and to keep down the attacks of the red spider.

* * * *

USE AN oiled rag to wipe off your tools after using. The slight filament of oil will generally keep them from rusting.

Newton In The Past

Hill would lend itself readily to such a project and could be made a beautiful place. The returns would be very large for the moderate expense involved, and there would doubtless be considerable building there the next few months.

If the new city charter should pass and the remarkable provision in regard to the city schools should become a law, we might as well abolish the School Board at once for their occupation would be gone. Their only duty would be to elect a superintendent, then he would relieve them of all further care. If this autocrat should occasionally deign to receive a suggestion from the School Board it would be out of pure kindness of heart. If he should prove to be a bad official or one unsuited to Newton, there would be no possible way to secure his removal.

Women's Club Activities

Ballot of New Officers Announced

It does not seem possible that the time has come for the scheduled change in the leading officer of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. John H. Kimball's two years as president draw to a close with the Annual Meeting at Swampscott in May, the 24th, 25th, and 26th, to be exact. Other officers also will step down and leave their duties in the hands of others. Two years endear these leaders to the many clubwomen of Massachusetts who come into contact and who attend the meetings of such a large organization. And while they sigh with regret at the parting, they await with interest, too, the announcement of new officers chosen by the Nominating Committee. The meeting, as well, is always more absorbing, having more appeal in emotion and in tributes, than the alternate year when there are not the more vital changes of leaders. For this reason the clubwomen who will go to Swampscott in May will be many more in numbers, and for some to whom it may be the first attendance at such an Annual Meeting, especially new presidents of local clubs, it will be a beautiful and thrilling experience.

The Nominating committee, of which Mrs. George A. Mellon is chairman, presents Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, of Winchester, as the new president of the State Federation. Mrs. Hildreth has been the first vice-president, so that this nomination is quite the logical one. Other officers are as follows:

First vice-president, Mrs. David A. Westcott, Dorchester Woman's Club.
Second vice-president, Mrs. Herbert F. French, The Philergians, Braintree.
Third vice-president, Mrs. Olaf Hoff, Jr., Woman's Club of Turners Falls.
Fourth vice-president, Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, Home Club, East Boston.
Recording secretary, Mrs. John R. Dallinger, of Dedham, Canton Community Club.
Corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. Wilson Atwood, Worcester Woman's Club.
Clerk, Mrs. John F. Capron, Newton Centre Woman's Club.
Treasurer, Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, Woman's Club of Brockton.
District directors to serve for two years, 1938-1940:
Second District, Miss Constance Southworth, Stoughton Woman's Club;
Fourth District, Miss Carolyn A. Davis, Tuesday Club of Jamaica Plain;
Fifth District, Mrs. Charles H. Danforth, Community Club of Roslindale;
Sixth District, Mrs. Robert W. Sanderson, Mattapannock Woman's Club, Boston;
Seventh District, Mrs. Clayton M. Hager, of Lexington, Forthian Club, Somerville;
Twelfth District, Mrs. William F. Leach, New Century Club of Needham;
Thirteenth District, Mrs. C. Vernon Inett, Tatnuck Woman's Club of Worcester;
Fifteenth District, Mrs. Kirk L. Alexander, Orange Woman's Club; and Nominating committee for the year 1939:
Second District, Miss Helen W. Holmes, Plymouth Woman's Club;
Fourth District, Mrs. Fletcher P. Osgood, Dorchester Woman's Club;
Fifth District, Mrs. J. Verity Smith, Woman's Club of West Roxbury;
Sixth District, Miss Helena B. Shipman, Boston City Federation;
Seventh District, Mrs. Joseph E. Davison, Winthrop Woman's Club;
Ninth District, Mrs. S. Dustin Perkins, Salem Woman's Club;
Thirteenth District, Mrs. Howard S. Shepard, Shrewsbury Woman's Club; and Fifteenth District, Mrs. George Davis, Deerfield Woman's Club.

Attractive Art Tour and Easter Music

An afternoon of Art and Music and the enjoyment of the Easter flowers at the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum will be Monday, April 18th.

There will be a tour of the museum, under guidance, at 1 o'clock, followed by a program of music arranged by Mrs. Harold B. Wood, chairman; and talks by Dr. John S. Thacher, of the Fogg Museum, Cambridge, on "How to Gain the Most from a Museum Trip," and by Mr. Cyrus E. Dallin, noted sculptor, on "Paul Revere," with photographs.

Clubwomen are looking forward to this day, and they are asked to apply early for tickets, because, as in former years, there is a limited number, and the filling of very late applications is often doubtful, Mrs. Walter W. Stroncer, Art chairman, adviser. Subscription tickets are 50 cents each.

Radio Broadcasts

The State Federation Radio broadcasts over Station WORL, at 10:45 a. m. for the remaining Friday mornings in April are as follows:

April 15. Speaker, Dr. Fannie Fern Andrews, on "Why War, when all the World wants Peace."

April 29. Speaker, Mrs. John H. Kimball, president, "Radio and the Federation."

Concert to Help Scholarship Fund

Members of the Glee Club of the Community Service Club of West Newton are working enthusiastically for the success of their Annual Spring Concert, proceeds from which will go toward the Scholarship Fund of the Club. Although the tickets will be only 50 cents for an attractive and unusual program, it is hoped to raise sufficient funds to aid substantially in sending one or two Newton High School girls on to higher education. In view of present unsettled conditions, there is no more worthy cause than this one of fostering the ambitions of young people with a view toward more wholesome and satisfying adult life, and it is acknowledged universallly that providing further advantages to deserving youth will benefit greatly the future life of the community at large.

The program as planned is an interesting one, embracing 17th and 18th Century Music and Folk Songs, with one group distinctly Old-American, following and emphasizing a new trend toward building up a background for real American music. In addition to several numbers by the Glee Club, there will be others by a Chorus of fifty voices including the Glee Club, male voices and a group of young girls. All the singers will appear in period costumes which will make a perfect setting for the type of music to be presented.

Assisting artists on the program are to be Miss Barbara Tower, pianist, and Miss Gerrie Wisbach, dance specialist, both talented young girls of Newton, with promise of a bright professional future.

This Spring Concert will be given on Monday evening, April 25th, at 8:15 o'clock, in the Warren Junior High School, West Newton.

As is customary, a social hour will follow the program, when general dancing to the music of "Men of Note" orchestra will be enjoyed. Tickets at 50 cents each are in charge of Miss Elizabeth Kilburn, telephone, West Newton 0137W, and Mrs. Thomas Cooper, Jr., West Newton 1688.

Campaign Against Ragweed

The Conservation committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs would appreciate it if the following notice be given to club members throughout the city before the affiliated clubs close their season.

During the week, beginning July 18th, a concerted drive will be made to eradicate the MENACE OF RAGWEED from the City of Newton. Mayor Childs will provide trucks and men to help in this project. There will be publicity as to arrangements through the press and Motion Picture houses.

Meantime, it is asked that every clubwoman and citizen in Newton cooperate by destroying this weed on private property. They should pull up the ragweed by the roots, if possible, as this is the surest way to destroy it for all time, and do this not later than July 15th.

Clubwomen are asked also to report the growth of RAGWEED they see along highways and on vacant lots to the Newton Federation chairman of Conservation, Mrs. Edmund I. Wilson, 41 Aspen ave., Auburndale.

"RAGWEED is a real public health menace, one way to help make Newton happier and healthier is by destroying this pesky weed," Mrs. Wilson declares.

Juniors Give Guest Programs

Juniors of District Invited to Fashion Show

The Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club will give a Spring and Summer Fashion Show Tuesday evening, April 12th, at 8 o'clock, in the Club House. Fashions for Juniors will be modeled by Club members. The costumes displayed will include sportswear, afternoon and evening wear, concluding with a wedding procession of bride and bridesmaids. The Junior Club invites all friends to attend and to bring fathers and brothers, as well as mothers and sisters. The Fashion Show is honoring other Juniors of the Twelfth District, with invitations. A ticket of admission is not required.

Hat Styles Show For Guest Night

Guest Night will be celebrated April 12th at the Workshop by the Newton Highlands Junior Woman's Club. Miss Beatrice Bowry, of William Filene's Sons Company, will speak on "Framing the Face." She will illustrate her talk by showing the types of hats that should be worn with different shaped faces, such as oval, round, angular, etc. Several of her models will be Club members. Ellen Jane Cooley, chairman of the Program committee, is in charge of the program which will start at 8:15 p. m. The officers and advisers of the Twelfth District Junior Woman's Club, of the Senior Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, and friends of members will be guests on that evening. Mrs. H. Herbert Hale, president of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, will pour.

The Club will hold a Supper-Dance at Ten Acres in Wayland on Saturday night, April 23rd, from 8:30 to 1 o'clock. Nancy Newell is chairman of the Dance committee. Assisting her are Geneva Brown, Marjorie Bunker, Eleanor Collins, Helen Dearing, Anne Decker, Betty Smith, Marion Stratton, Alice Thompson, Carolyn White and Ruth Ulmer.

Various Events And Programs

Thomas, and on "Bernese Oberland: Thun, Interlaken, Murren, Splez, Rhone Glacier, and St. Gothard Pass", by Mrs. Arthur M. Teulon.

Auburndale Woman's Club Business and Professional Group

The Business and Professional Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club will hold its Annual Meeting, including election of officers, and dinner, Tuesday evening, April 12th, at 6:30 o'clock at the Old House in Lexington. Miss Emily L. Goldsmith is chairman of the evening.

Auburndale Garden Club

Mrs. Edward B. Gray, of 62 Windermere rd., will entertain the members of the Auburndale Garden Club, Monday afternoon, April 11th, at 2:30 o'clock. Bradford Williams will give an illustrated talk on "The Gore Place" in Waltham.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club met in the Club Rooms of the Emerson School on Monday, April 4th, at 7:30 p. m. Miss Nellie M. Osborne, president, presided at a short business meeting. The evening's program was planned by the members of the Newton Upper Falls Garden Club.

Mrs. Raymond Capobianco, president of the Garden Club, extended greetings to the members of the Woman's Club, and called attention to the beautiful decorations by a member, Mrs. James McNeally, who had arranged an exhibit of bulbs and of the fresh flowers which grew from these bulbs. This display was set off by a background of a white trellis with trailing blue morning glories on one side, and with festoons of pink wistaria on the other.

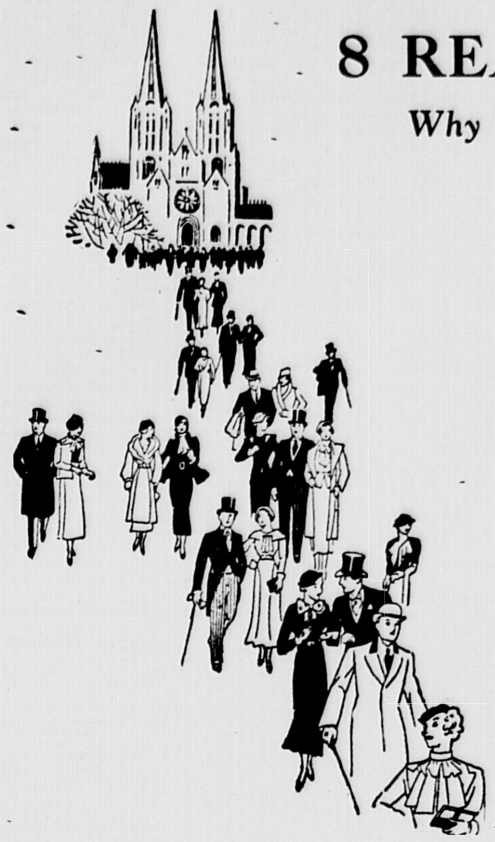

Two members of the Garden Club gave an illustrated talk on "Throughout the Season with Bulbs", Mrs. Donald Flinchbaugh reading, while Miss Grace Hunt operated the lantern.

Mrs. Thomas Ryder, a member of the Garden Club, and Librarian of the Upper Falls Branch Library, exhibited a table of Garden Books that are available for interested readers. Following an intermission of singing, with Mrs. Albert Proctor at the piano, there was a display of table-setting, in which the following members of the Garden Club received prizes. Mrs. Frank Mordo received first prize, of a large Easter lily, for exhibit of Formal Luncheon-table, set with rose glass luncheon set, with centerpiece of pink sweet peas reflected upon a glass base, with two ornamental candles in rose holders. Mrs. Albert Proctor received second prize, a pot of tulips, for exhibit of "A Wee Cup of Tea for Two", the table set with a delicate white English teaset, with sprays of blue flowers, over 60 years old, with centerpiece of deep pink sweet peas and baby's breath.

An Easter Breakfast Table by Mrs. Harold T. Sprague received honorable mention. Other members exhibiting were Mrs. Francis Daly, Mrs. Donald Flinchbaugh, Mrs. Michael Wieczoreck, Mrs. Joseph G. Valente, Mrs. John Temperley, Mrs. Antonio Valente, and Mrs. Capobianco, the Garden Club president.

A poem was read by Mrs. Michael Wieczoreck, "The Brown Bulbs". The Hospitality committee of the Garden Club, Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin, chairman, assisted by the following members, Mrs. Thomas Ryder, Mrs. Antonio Valente, Mrs. Elmer Atwell, Mrs. Joseph G. Valente, Miss Alice Temperley, and Mrs. Francis Daly served dainty refreshments.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The regular meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands was held in the Club Workshop on Tuesday, April 5th, at 2:30 p. m. The president, Mrs. H. Herbert Hale, presided. Following routine business the meeting was turned over to the Legislative and International Relations departments. Mrs. Carl C. Peterson, chairman of International Relations, introduced Mrs. Malcolm Green, chairman of the department of International Relations in the State Federation who presented the speaker of the afternoon, Professor Frederic M. Marshall, of the Department of Government at Harvard.

Professor Marshall gave a most comprehensive survey of conditions not only in China, under his topic "The American Role in the Far East," but spoke also of world affairs in general. He called attention to the fact that tomorrow we "come of age" after the entrance into "the war to end war." "We won the war, but lost the peace," he said, and declared that "Japan's seizure of Manchuria was the first definite affront to the post-war peace structure." The speaker emphasized that while it is the opinion in some quarters that by ignoring the various activities of dictators they are diverted from larger invasions, it has not so eventuated, as an appetite gratified is an appetite increased.

At the close of the meeting, tea was served, Mrs. John M. Gallagher, chairman of the Legislative department, presiding at the tea table.

Club members are urged to make reservations early for the Annual Luncheon to be on May 3rd, at Woodland Golf Club. They may do so by telephoning Mrs. Richard C. Collins, Centre Newton 0862W.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Mrs. James Dunlop was re-elected president of the Auburndale Woman's Club for the second consecutive year at the Annual Meeting held Tuesday afternoon, April 5th, at the Brae Burn Country Club in West Newton.

Others who will serve as officers during the next year will be Mrs. Austin W. Fisher, first vice-president; Mrs. Lawrence L. Fidalgo, second vice-president; Mrs. Holmes W. Frederick, recording secretary; Mrs. Arthur J. Burns, corresponding secretary; Miss Anne E. Bunker, treasurer; Mrs. William M. Flye and Mrs. William W. Edson, directors for three years; and Mrs. Rufus Estabrook, Mrs. Joseph C. McCarron, and Mrs. Walter R. Amesbury, Nominating committee.

Twenty-six new members were reported during the past year, making a total membership of 262. The Scholarship Fund contains the sum of $515. and $67 was taken in as guest fees during the season. This last information was contained in the treasurer's annual report, given by Miss Anne E. Bunker, who is beginning her 16th year in that capacity. Next year, she will have as her assistant, Mrs. Ernest L. Johnson.

The entertainment following the business meeting was a group of exceedingly clever impersonations and readings by Miss Marjorie Shepherd of Cambridge. Miss Shepherd was introduced by Mrs. Joseph C. McCarron, who is retiring after a very successful year. Next year's Program chairman will be Mrs. Winthrop A. Stiles.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"To save a delectable morsel for the last" was the appropriate introduction to Reverend John Nicol Mark's unique talk on "Scotch Wit and New England Philosophy" made by Mrs. Thomas Walters, Program chairman, at the last regular meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club for this season, on Tuesday, April 5th.

Dr. Mark began with some very amusing Scotch stories that kept his audience chuckling with delight, and stated humorously that the outstanding Scotch traits, economy and conscience, sometimes worked disastrously against each other. In the second and more serious portion of his talk on "New England Philosophy," he emphasized the wonderful heritage of courage and character bequeathed by the founders of this country, and declared that the world today, in its distressing conditions, was forgetting this great gift, "Devotedness to Duty," the theme stressed by the poet, James Russell Lowell, and expressed in the lives of Washington and Lincoln, was the one outstanding trait that will make these great men revered forever by the American people. Lukewarm water would not run anything, he stated, and the little foxes that ate the vines were lukewarm endeavors. He spoke of New England life and character as based on a deep consciousness of God, and he quoted a business leader of today, Roger Babson, as having said that the great need of America was more religion. In speaking about war, Dr. Mark pointed out that war was really a lack of religion in the leaders of the world, and that if the world interpreted the Biblical quotation as it is in the Greek testament, "Peace on Earth to men of Goodwill," there could be no war. He closed his inspiring message with the statement that the fundamental purpose of a woman's club was to create the spirit of goodwill.

Previous to the talk of the afternoon, the Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. William Ellis Weston, coach-accompanist, gave an artistic rendering of the following five spring songs: "Spring Chorus from the Bartered Bride," by Smetana; "The Elfin Horn," an old Swedish folk song; "Sandman am a Softly Comin'," by Dovorak; "Can Ye Sew Cushions," a Scotch cradle-song by Bantock; and "The Butterfly," by Jenkins. This was the last concert of the season. Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols was the chairman.

Parker Forest, Andover, will be the rendezvous for the next Cook-out, of the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Wednesday, April 13. Club members desiring to go will please meet at the Club House at 11 a. m., in order to reach Andover promptly at 12 noon. Transportation can be arranged by calling Mrs. Frank Wightman, West Newton 0734-M. This is the last American Home function in charge of the present chairman, Mrs. George W. Hinman, who has made this such an interesting and active branch of the Club's program.

Newtonville Garden Club

Mrs. George E. Glover, of 48 Oakwood rd., will be hostess to the Newtonville Garden Club for its meeting on Thursday, April 14th. A paper entitled "The Glory of Annuals" will be presented by Mrs. William T. White.

Social Science Club

The Conservation committee will present Mr. Lawrence Fletcher who will give an illustrated lecture on "The State Parks and Historical Places of Massachusetts," at the next meeting of the Social Science Club, in the Parlors of the Channing Church on Wednesday, April 13th, at 10 a. m.

This will be a Guest meeting. The hostesses will be Miss Miriam Dowry and Mrs. Fred F. Field.

Rummage Sale for Philanthropies

A Rummage Sale is now in progress at 255 Washington st., Newton, and continues through tomorrow, Saturday, April 9th, in the interests of the Philanthropic and Scholarship expenditures of the Newton Community Club. Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, a former Newton Community Club president, who has a particular talent for carrying through to success such affairs, is in charge once more of this annual event of the Club.

In the vacant store next to the Waldorf, at Newton corner, may be found the latest in spring apparel, dresses, hats, shoes; not to forget the many useful and ornamental articles of house furnishings and furniture.

Hospital Aid Benefit Shop

At the recent luncheon held at the Newton Hospital, and sponsored by the directors of the Hospital Aid Association, many of the local chairmen of the Benefit Shop Committee were present, including Mrs. D. Brewer Eddy and Mrs. Ralph Conant, co-chairmen for the entire group as well as for the Newtonville committee; also representing Newtonville, Mrs. Pitt F. Drew of Boston, and Miss Louise Sherman; West Newton, Miss Ethel Woodbury, and Mrs. Samuel Rogers who is substituting for Mrs. Frank Hardy while the latter is visiting in Florida; Mrs. Dana Dutch, Waban; Mrs. John Coward and Mrs. Ernest Cobb, Newton Upper Falls; Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, Auburndale, and Mrs. Charles T. Bartlett, Newton Centre.

The trip through the Nurses Home, which followed the luncheon, as well as the exhibitions put on by the nurses for the occasion, should rouse new interest in the work which the Association is doing for the Hospital, and especially spur the energies of the Benefit Shop Committee, as the money which the Shop earns is to be applied to the fund for the new Nurses Home.

This shop, located at 795 Washington st., Newtonville, constantly offers splendid bargains in clothing for all ages, and also house furnishings. The manager, Mrs. Francis H. Williams, sees that seasonable articles are on display. During the past month the window has been decorated tastefully by Mrs. Robert Cook, of Wellesley, and the present stock includes many good values for spring apparel.

This Shop, which is open Monday afternoons from 2 to 4:30 o'clock, and Wednesday and Friday mornings from 10 to 12, is maintained entirely through donations from citizens of all of the Newtons and Wellesley and Chestnut Hill. The Hospital truck is available for collections each Wednesday morning, and goods will be called for by notifying Mrs. Raymond Perkins, telephone, West Newton 1774J.

Out of the large sum which the Hospital Aid Association has donated to the Hospital for its maintenance and equipment, at least $25,000 has been earned by the Shop during its ten years of existence. If the public will do its share in continuing the contributions to the stock needed, the Shop will prove a valuable help in raising funds for the new Home.

Clubwomen and others are urged to send a call for the truck today.

Scholarship Bridge and Fashion Show

Balmy spring weather and an unusually generous program combined to bring the largest number of Club members and friends ever known to the Annual Scholarship Bridge of the Newtonville Woman's Club, Friday, April 1st. After the delicious luncheon donated by a local store and prepared by the House committee, Mrs. Clarence Wentworth, chairman, the Club members and guests enjoyed bridge until about 3:30 o'clock, when they adjourned to the Auditorium to hear the award of door prizes announced by the Club president, Mrs. George H. Tracy, as follows: a lamp, to Mrs. George Rowlings; a new spring hat, Mrs. Seth Kalberg; a round-trip to Montreal by airplane (2 tickets) Mrs. Percy E. Woodward; a free facial and wave, Mrs. J. S. Coxeter; and a bouquet of spring flowers, Mrs. C. B. Whitney. Ten other lucky players drew a $2 laundry bundle from a local laundry company, and table prizes for the bridge tables were jars of jelly attractively packaged in cellophane.

Mrs. Tracy, the president, spoke a few words thanking Club members for their loyal support, and expressed her appreciation of Mrs. William R. Mattson, chairman, and her committee in the splendid program they had carried out so successfully. In her turn Mrs. Mattson thanked her committee and the audience for their co-operation.

The afternoon closed with a Filene Fashion Show in which two Filene models and six Club members wore the season's latest styles, including Mrs. Edwin McGill, Mrs. Percy E. Woodward, Mrs. Harry L. Harding, Mrs. Thomas G. Walters, Miss Caroline Evarts, and Miss Janet Mattson, daughter of the chairman. Miss Beatrice Bowry of Filene's, gave the Style Talk on the season's colorful array of town, country, cruise, and suburban clothes. She called attention that among the highlights of spring fashions was the predominance of color, such daring combinations as pink and red being very chic if used in the right proportions. Black, when accompanied with relieving splashes of white or color, was very smart, and peasant frocks with demure kerchiefs were much featured for the garden. Slacks, decidedly more sophisticated this year, were tailored becomingly. In evening gowns there were traces of Marie Antoinette and Empire periods in fitted bodices and flowing skirts, but unlike the gowns of the past, dresses of today had a distinctly practical tendency and the most feminine of hostess' gowns were planned both for relaxation and informal entertaining. This is a fortunate season with a wide range of choice from perky little hats with bobbing posies, enormous floating veils, and colorful coats, to the more conservative soft pastels, and the "old reliable" navy, transformed with gay accessories. For the gray-haired woman, nothing was lovelier than gray, with touches of the new "mimosa" yellow or deep violet. In closing, Miss Bowry begged her audience to have at least one pink frock, that most flattering of colors.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

LAND COURT

To Moses H. Gulesian, Rocco Gentile, Jerry Gentile, Donato, Magnarelli, Nunziata Mazzola, Jenerro Mostromatti, Orazio Panaggio, Louis Vassalotti, Saverio Izzo, Marion Fried and Celia Fried, of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Henry Litchman, of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth; Nichola Gregorio and Filomena Gregorio, of said Newton; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by John Mazzola and Helen A. Mazzola, of said Newton, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

Northeasterly by Adams Street 65 feet; Easterly by the junction of said Adams Street and Watertown Street 23.06 feet; Southeasterly by said Watertown Street 35 feet; Southwesterly by land now or formerly of Louis Vassalotti 80 feet; and Northwesterly by land now or formerly of Saverio Izzo 50 feet.

Petitioners claim as appurtenant to the above-described land the right to use Adams Street as shown on plan hereinafter mentioned for all purposes for which ways are commonly used in the City of Newton.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the second day of May next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

PETITION FOR LOCATION

BOSTON EDISON COMPANY
General Offices, 39 Boylston Street
Boston, Massachusetts

To the Metropolitan District Commission:

Your petitioners, Boston Edison Company and The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company of Massachusetts, corporations duly organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and lawfully engaged in the distribution and sale of electricity and the transmission of intelligence by electricity in the City of Newton, Massachusetts, respectfully represent that public convenience and necessity require locations along and across portions of Quinobequin Road, northerly from a point approximately 120 feet north of Boylston Street, a boulevard and reservation in your control in the City of Newton, Massachusetts, for six poles and wires for the transmission of electricity for light, heat and power and intelligence by electricity.

A plan showing the approximate locations of the poles to be erected hereunder is filed herewith, signed by T. H. Haines and dated Oct. 27, 1937.

On the 21st day of March, 1938, the Department of Public Utilities in Case No. D. P. U. 5496 on the petition of Boston Edison Company entered an order adjudging that the above described locations were required by public convenience and necessity.

Wherefore your petitioners pray that your Commission may by order grant to your petitioners locations for said poles and wires.

Dated March 31, 1938.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Victor DeCarolis of Leominster, Worcester County, Massachusetts, to Thomas Carey of Watertown, Middlesex County, said Commonwealth, dated November 24th, 1937, recorded with Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, Book 6174, Page 66, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at Public Auction upon the premises described in said mortgage, on May 7th, 1938, at 12 o'clock noon, all and singular the premises conveyed by and described in said mortgage deed, viz:

"A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in Newton, being shown as lot 23 on a plan entitled "Sunnyside in Newton, Mass. A Subdivision in Newton Centre on the Worcester Turnpike, Plan Revised to January 1935 from September 1927" by Roland H. Barnes and Henry F. Beal, Civil Engineers, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 5931, Page 107, being bounded and described as follows:

SOUTHWESTERLY by Walter Street, sixty-one (61) feet;
NORTHWESTERLY by Lot 22 on said plan, eighty-one and 72/100 (81.72) feet;
NORTHEASTERLY by Lot 14 on said plan, fifty-nine and 86/100 (59.86) feet;
SOUTHEASTERLY by Lot 24 on said plan, ninety-six and 74/100 (96.74) feet.
Containing 5300 square feet of land.
Said premises are subject to a prior mortgage to the Joseph Warren Co-operative Bank of Roxbury, dated November 15, 1937, duly recorded with said Deeds."

Said premises will be sold subject to said prior mortgage to the Joseph Warren Co-operative Bank of Roxbury, and subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax sales and municipal liens, if any there be. $500.00 deposit will be required to be paid in cash or certified check by the purchaser at the time and place of sale; other terms will be made known at the time and place of sale.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Frank L. Gray and Elizabeth G. Gray, husband and wife, to The Prudential Insurance Company of America, a New Jersey corporation, dated December 16, 1929, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 5424, Page 339, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at Public Auction on May 3rd, 1938, at 9:15 o'clock A.M. on the premises, all and singular the premises, described in said mortgage to wit:—

Certain Real Estate situated in Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, being shown as Lot B on a plan entitled, "Plan of Land in Newton", dated September 14, 1929, by E. S. Smilie, Surveyor, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Record Book 5398, Page 423, bounded and described as follows:

NORTHWESTERLY by Langdon Street, one hundred one and 85/100 (101.85) feet;
NORTHEASTERLY by Lot 14 and by Lot 10 on said plan, by two (2) lines together measuring one hundred fourteen and 81/100 (114.81) feet;
SOUTHEASTERLY by Lot 9 on said plan, twenty-six and 91/100 (26.91) feet
SOUTHERLY by Lot A on said plan, one hundred forty-one and 20/100 (141.20) feet.
Containing 7524 square feet of land.

Said premises are subject to restrictions of record so far as the same are now in force and applicable.

And for the consideration aforesaid the said grantor grants unto the grantee herein as additional security hereunder all the usual landlord's fixtures, including laundry, kitchen and gas stoves, gas and electric fixtures, screens and screen doors, window shades, outside windows, storm doors and awnings, if any, now or hereafter on or belonging to said premises.

TERMS OF SALE:

Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes and assessments, tax sales and tax titles, if any there are. FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($500.) in cash will be required to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, and the balance in ten days at the office of Curtis H. Criticizes High Cost of Schools page 11, column 47B, you will there discover that the per capita tax of education in our schools is $125.93, and you will, also, discover that that is the highest per capita tax of any public school system in any of the 39 Cities in Massachusetts. The next highest per capita cost is that of the City of Boston which expends $122.24 annually for the education of each child in its public schools. The average per capita cost of education in the schools of the 39 cities is $101.49, we exceed this average cost by just about 25%. And it is interesting to note that whereas we are the 12th city in size of population, yet there are only 4 other cities in this State which have an actual dollars and cents expenditure exceeding ours. Those cities are Boston, Worcester, Springfield, and Cambridge. And Cambridge with a school enrollment of 15,411, as compared with our 11,943 pupils—a difference of 36%—actually expends only 23-1/3% more in conducting its public schools.

It is interesting, also, to note that we exceed in total cash outlay the Cities of Fall River, New Bedford, Somerville, Lynn, Lowell and Quincy, although the school enrollment in each of these cities far exceeds that in our public schools. And it is interesting, also, to note that the City of New Bedford, which is 6th in population and which has a school enrollment almost 50 per cent greater than ours, actually expends $222,000.00 less than we do in public education.

Now I call your attention to a group of 5 cities, namely: Quincy, Newton, Brockton, Medford, and Malden, which have about the same population and a comparable number of children in their schools. You will note that the City of Quincy has a school enrollment of 14,694—just 2,310 more than in the Newton Schools, which have a total enrollment of 12,384—but you will find that it costs the City of Quincy $353,631.27 less to educate its children than it costs the City of Newton to educate 2,310 fewer pupils. In other words, we pay $28.55 more per capita than does the City of Quincy.

One more comparison in this group shows that the City of Medford, with a school enrollment practically the same as ours, spends $465,000.00 less than we do to maintain our schools.

I will quote the per capita cost of education in each of these 5 cities and then I will devote a few minutes to our local situation:

Quincy	$82.49
Brockton	75.39
Medford	91.69
Malden	88.36
and NEWTON	125.93

Now it may be said that this excessive outlay is justified because our schools maintain a higher standard of education than do the schools in the other 38 cities. I will simply state in passing that in the Boston Public Latin School, which is generally recognized as one of the leading public high schools in this country, the per capita cost is $140.70, as compared with the per capita cost in the Newton High School of $154.98.

The 1932 "Report of the Newton Public Schools" shows that in the 10-year period from 1922 to 1932 the total cost of conducting our schools rose from $966,549.04 to $1,453,411.19—an increase of approimately 50 per cent, although the school population rose only 29 1-4 per cent—an increase in the per capita cost from $109.01 in 1922 to $126.79 in 1932. We have not the time to analyze all of these figures in detail, but I would like to call your attention to one department of our school system in which the costs are truly startling. According to the latest Published Report available in 1934, the per capita cost of education in the Newton Trade School was $327.85 as compared with the per capita cost in the Newton High School in that year of $148.34 or $179.51 less per capita. In other words you can educate two pupils in the High School and have $31.19 left over towards the education of a third pupil in the High School, for what it costs to train one pupil in the Trade School. You can give a boy or girl a College education for much less than it costs to educate a child in our Trade School. The annual tuition at Boston College is $250.00 as against $327.85 in our Trade School. The annual tuition at Boston University College of Liberal Arts is $340.00, and in its College of Business Administration the tuition is $320.00.

The budget estimate for 1938 calls for an expenditure of $89.571.05 to maintain this school, an increase over 1937 of $4,088.12, and this expenditure s requested to maintain a school which has a pupil enrollment of just 227. During the 10-year period from 1928 to 1938, the number of pupils in this school has remained practically stationary, but the cost of education of each pupil has increased $25.99. During this period the cost of books, supplies, and incidentals increased $33.-76 per capita. In 1916 and 1917 the Trade School had 356 pupils, the number dropped in 1932 to a low of 199 pupils, while enrollment in the Newton High School was increasing tremendously. There is apparently something wrong in the conduct of this school. Perhaps the item in this year's budget of $1,800.00 for rental of a garage for the use of this school, if investigated, might lead us to a solution of the difficulty. It would appear that this Trade School is today nothing but a workshop and this garage, which I have referred to, is a part of the Trade School plant in which motor vehicles are repaired in competition with repair shops in this city, engaged in the same business.

I do not recommend elimination of this school, but, if we are to get a proper return for the money invested and annually expended, the courses should be made sufficiently attractive to interest a larger number of pupils. There must be something wrong in the policy of a school in which the number of pupils has actually decreased over a period of 20 years.

I direct particular attention to the Trade School because of the apparent unnecessary expense, much of which does not show in the figures, such as the cost of new equipment, which is not included. I have compared it with the cost of the High School which is much lower, but which I think may also be too high. The Board of Aldermen has the power to abolish the Trade School, but the pupils would have the right to elect this work in another state school at the joint expense of the City and State. It is a fair question if such procedure might not be cheaper and better, particularly in view of the fact that the 10-year building program for the schools contemplates the erection of a new Trade School building.

Mr. Chairman, it has been well and truly said that "eternal vigilance is the price of safety." Have we been vigilant in watching school costs? There is evidence in the budget now before you that we are not today especially vigilant in this respect. Perhaps our vigilance has been relaxed because of certain figures and statements which have appeared in the Annual Report of the School Department. On page 50 of the last Report for the school years of 1934 and 1935, there appears a table taken from the Annual Report of the State Department of Education. This table is numbered "34" in the State Report and sets forth the appropriation per thousand valuation for the support of public schools in each of the 39 cities. There are exactly 50 tables of comparative figures published in the State Report, almost everyone of which shows that in proportion to population, our schools are the most expensive in the State, but the one and only schedule which our School Department has ever published as far as I can recall, is this Table 34 which seems to indicate that our schools are economically conducted. It has been said that figures never lie, but here is a table of figures which does not say what it appears to say. This table simply proves that we are a wealthy city and are able to pay the bills. It does not prove economy in school costs. Our standing in this table is largely under the control of the Board of Assessors, who determine the assessed valuation of property in our City. Should the Board of Assessors reduce our total valuation by as much as 1%, we would be quickly passed in this Table 34 by half a dozen other cities. But while an increase or decrease in the total assessed valuation may affect our relative standing in this table of figures, it would not affect the actual cost of running of our schools by one single cent. Now I would like to ask if it is fair to the citizens of this city to publish this Table 34 without publishing Table 47B of the State Report, the per capita cost table, which gives a true picture of the relative cost of conducting our schools.

Before I conclude, I wish to quote once more from the latest Report of our School Department. The 1934 and 1935 Report, page 12, item 7. "Adult Education—Community Forums: This year has marked the organization, in connection with other community agencies and interested citizens, of a public free forum for the discussion of public affairs," and then follows a list of the speakers who addressed the forum in its first year, and then states, "This program is highly significant and important as a phase of adult education. It should be expanded in the not distant future to a program which would make possible several adult education centres throughout the city. This would require an appropriation in the budget."

Now the first speaker who addressed the forum was the Reverend John Haynes Holmes, whom I heard and who left with me the distinct impression that he is thoroughly imbued with the doctrines of Karl Marx. One of the last speakers to address the forum this year was Arthur Garfield Hayes, who represents an organization which spends its time and money defending communists who have come in conflict with our laws. But at no time has the forum been addressed by a speaker who devoted his talk to the virtues of our Constitution and of our form of government. Yet, Mr. Chairman, someone has sold to our School Department the idea that the cost of conducting this forum should be saddled on the taxpayers. In fairness, it should be said that the new members of the School Committee, namely, Mr. Bristol, Mr. Knowlton, Mr. Wogan, and the new member from Ward 3, Mr. Tabor, were not, of course, responsible for that report.

Finally, Mr. Chairman, let me state that our School Committee consists of 7 members and the Mayor, who is a member ex-officio. They meet once a month except when called in special session. In the nature of things, it is impossible for the School Committee to perform its many other duties and supervise the expenditure of every dollar appropriated for school purposes. This must necessarily be left, and I understand that it is left, to the superintendent of Schools and to the Secretary of the School Committee, who acts as Purchasing Agent for the schools. It is generally believed that educators are, in the main, theorists, and this is necessarily so because very few of them have had practical business experience. It is characteristic of them to wish to put their theories to effect with little consideration of the cost. We have had experience with them as "Brain Trusters" in Washington, and I am wondering if we are not having our experience with them here.

There is but one suggestion that I can leave with you, to remedy the existing situation. Would it not be a worth while investment of time and money to appoint a permanent committee, with qualified paid expert assistance, to make a continuing study of this whole situation? The conditions which exist today have grown up over a period of years, and it may take a number of years to correct them. The attempt should be made.

Citizens Favor Economy in Conduct Of City Affairs

ation for a reserve fund, which, up to two years ago, was not needed. It has evidently carried appropriations for some departments substantially below what would be conservative estimates of the probable costs. As a result, the amount of appropriations which are made each year after the budget is closed is large—last year $228,835.00 It has been the custom to charge these additional appropriations to surplus funds and later to include them in the tax warrant for the next year. But, under this system of 'post-payment,' the surplus has been steadily drained away and the additional appropriations in the last two years have been charged for several months of each year to deficits—or to thin air."

"The City's balance or surplus (in the 'Excess & Deficiency' account to which the City's net revenue or deficits are charged) amounted to $530,-850.67 at the end of 1931. In two years the amount dropped to $106,-940.35. During 1934 it increased to $190,967.18, and in the past three years has fallen again to a deficit of $161,-052.00 ($180,087. 51 at the end of 1936). In a general way this represents the extent to which the tax levy has failed to cover actual costs. Newton's picture today is not a black one. Its credit is excellent; its tax collections are excellent as compared with other Massachusetts cities; and its ability to pay, whatever the taxpayers may say, is matched by few cities in the State. Consequently, the system which is now permitted, the same system which has recently led other cities near to disaster, is not likely to do permanent harm in Newton. But it does represent a surrender of sound business principles to the alluring picture of a low tax rate. It means that the City is operating on a slender string and is forced, and will continue to be forced, to resort to appropriations without revenue—illegal appropriations—during a part of each year."

"If the system of the 'partial,' or incomplete, budget is allowed to continue, and if additional appropriations, after the budget, continue to be large, then borrowing to clean the City's slate, and even borrowing enough to provide the City with another surplus, will be a deceptive gesture and not a permanent cure; because, as before, a surplus will quickly melt away and today's picture will be repeated.

"If the time comes when the City is willing to make a fair estimate of departmental costs, to include the full estimates in the budget, to be collected in taxes, and to maintain a reasonable surplus instead of methodically holding the tax rate below its true level, only then will the city be operating on a basis that is reasonable and just to taxpayers."

Rupert Thompson, speaking as Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, opposed any reductions in salaries or wages of city employees, and also opposed any increases in salaries this year. This would increase step-rate increases in such departments as school, police and fire unless it can be shown that the city has a legal obligation to make such increases. He said that in the future no step-rate increases should be granted until the budget has been considered. This was a criticism directed at the School Committee, which has authorized such increases for teachers at the beginning of the year, thus obligating the Aldermen to grant these step-rate increases. Mr. Thompson said:

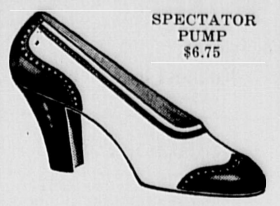

"To sum up we cannot suggest too strongly that you blue pencil every new project and every service in the budget that is not absolutely necessary. Also that you request that increases be made on those appropriations that in your judgment are not sufficient to carry through the year. This will put us on a Pay as You Go basis and whatever the tax rate we will have the assurance that it is necessary."

John Underhill, president of the Waban Improvement Association and Albert M. Chandler, representing the Newton Centre Improvement Association, both stated that their organizations agreed with the recommendations of the Taxpayers' Association. Chandler said that insofar as the increase in the number of policemen is concerned — his group does not feel competent to pass on this matter, believing it is for the Aldermen to decide. Francis Tanner, president of the Lower Falls Improvement Association, told of sending out a questionnaire to residents of that Village. Answers received showed that 63% of those replying favor retaining the present standards of public services in Newton, even if an increased tax rate results; 36% favor a reduction in services to keep the tax rate down.

Henry S. Cummings, speaking for the Oak Hill Improvement Association, offered the radical suggestion that tenants be taxed as a means of providing added revenue. Mr. Cummings' suggestion cannot be adopted in Newton as it is unconstitutional. It would be double taxation on real estate. Tenants now pay taxes when they pay rent, provided they pay rent. Cummings also suggested that vocational training be given recipients of welfare so that they will be fitted for skilled work in industry. He said that welfare relief is abused. Donald Whitney of the Newton Highlands Improvement Association opposed the proposed day off in six for policemen, and more frequent collections of garbage in the summer months. Anthony Mazzola, who said he represented an Italian-American group, favored a higher tax rate and no cut in wages of city employees.

Mrs. Mary Briggs of Berwick rd., Newton Centre, urged that the tax rate be kept down. She said that many widows in Newton have difficulty in meeting even the present tax rate, and if it will be increased, they will be forced to rent their homes, as they cannot sell them. She said when this happens it will mean the beginning of Newton's decline. She asked employees of the city to show their gratitude for not having been victims of the depression by being willing to take some reduction in their salaries. Robert C. Kelly of Newtonville, a member of the National Association of Purchasing Agents, advocated that the city create the position of purchasing agent to cause economies in buying materials for all city departments.

James P. Gallagher, Clerk of Newton Court, argued that the citizens of Newton should not become panic stricken as things will work out all right. He said that it would react adversely on the city if the excellent service it has given its citizens in the past will be curtailed. He opposed any reductions in wages of city employees. James P. Waters, well known Newton Centre attorney, and for many years a member of the Registrar of Voters, read a lengthy criticism of the Newton School Department, details of which are published elsewhere in this issue of the GRAPHIC.

Local Resident and Taxpayer Refutes Mr. Waters' Criticism Of Newton School Costs

Claims Ability To Pay and Valuation Per Capita Income Is Fairer Yardstick

The following letter refuting criticisms of Newton school costs by James A. Waters and printed in the issue of the GRAPHIC of April 8th, we believe to be deserving of equal prominence and attention on the part of our readers. The importance of our school system, its effect upon the tax and financial condition of the city, and the wishes of parents and pupils are matters of widespread interest. (Editor's Note.)

Newton Highlands, Mass.,

To the Editor:

The criticism of the Newton School Department made by Mr. James A. Waters before the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen and printed in the April 8th issue of the "GRAPHIC" is a surprising statement. I do not know Mr. Waters and have no way of knowing whether anything lies behind his criticism other than a desire to reduce taxes by a reduction in school costs regardless of what would inevitably result from such reduction or not. Nor do I know by what authority he speaks. I shall therefore assume that his authority is exactly equal to mine—that is, that of a citizen and taxpayer with a child about to enter the Newton Public Schools.

Many years ago my father was Principal of the Mason School in Newton Center—was, in fact, the principal when the present building was opened. While I have not lived in Newton continuously since then I have always maintained an interest in the Newton schools. The school authorities are, of course, fully competent to reply to Mr. Waters but I am writing because I feel that word from one wholly outside the system would naturally be regarded as less prejudiced.

Mr. Waters says of a former school report "that figures never lie, but here is a table of figures which does not say what it appears to say." It is just on this score that his own tables of figures can very justly be criticized. I do not question his figures but I do decidedly question their applicability to the Newton situation. One of the major implications of his figures is that the "cost of Newton schools is highest in this state"—to quote from the subheading of the "GRAPHIC" article. Of course this just isn't so. His figures say that the per capita (meaning per pupil) cost is the highest of that of any city in the state. This is true, but it would have been much fairer if Mr. Waters had included with his city figures the costs (which he could easily have obtained from the 1937 state report from which he got his city figures) for such towns as Brookline, Wellesley, Norwood, Concord, or Dover where the per pupil costs are $149.62, $126.65, $129.73, $127.42 and $181.70 respectively, against Newton's figure of $125.93.

As a matter of fact it seems to me that the fairest measuring stick for comparing school costs is ability to pay, judged by valuation and per capita income. Schools are of necessity expensive and every community, rich or poor, has to exert itself to support them. But they likewise are important and Newton actually exerts itself less than any other city in the state, with two exceptions, to support its school system. Mr. Waters mentions (but does not quote) from the significant table (Number 34) in the State Report which indicates that Newton spends annually only $8.45 on its schools per $1000 of valuation, whereas a city like Peabody exerts itself to the extent of $13.25 per $1000 of valuation, even though to do this necessitates a tax rate of $37.80. Or consider Whitman spending $19.27 per $1000 with a tax rate of $36.00! Mr. Waters evidently does not see much point in this type of reasoning, but if he believes that Newton citizens wish to have their school department, or any other municipal services, run on the same scale as has of necessity to obtain in such cities as New Bedford, Fall River, Lowell, or Brockton (which he cites as comparable) I am very sure he misjudges the sentiment of most Newton citizens very greatly. Did not Mr. Waters read a few months ago in "Time" magazine the article showing that the citizens of Newton have the highest per capita income of any middle-sized city in the country? Quite logically it could, therefore, afford the most expensive school system in the country. The fact is that we are extremely fortunate in Newton in having sufficient taxable property so that we can have good schools and other municipal services—better than most cities—and still have one of the lowest tax rates of any city in the state. The really significant fact that Mr. Waters should have gleaned from the State Report comes on Page 192 where all the cities and towns of the state are considered together and it is indicated that in "per capita cost for support of public schools, fiscal year 1936," Newton ranks 66th! It seems to me that Newton might not unreasonably exert itself a little more than it now does for its schools.

As an example of the very specious reasoning that lies behind a large part of Mr. Waters' argument let me cite his statement that in "the Boston Public Latin School, which is generally recognized as one of the leading public high schools in this country, the per capita cost is $140.70 as compared with the per capita cost in Newton High School of $154.98." The amazing thing here is not that the cost in Newton High School is more but that it is so little more. Does not Mr. Waters realize that the Boston Public Latin School is a purely academic school which admits only a selected group of boys of more than average intelligence? It does nothing but prepare them for college. It therefore has almost no variety in its courses, it has no domestic science work, no problem of retarded pupils, etc. It is one of the most narrowly specialized high schools in America and ought (aside from teachers' salaries) to be one of the least expensive per pupil to operate. Compare the work done there with the variety of educational needs for all types of pupils that are met at Newton High School!

Here is another type of comparison

Alderman Goddard Will Be Candidate For Legislature

Alderman Paul M. Goddard has announced his candidacy for representative from the 5th Middlesex District; and will seek the nomination of the Republican party in the September primaries. Mr. Goddard says that he will contest for the seat now held by Representative Clarence S. Luitweiler.

Mr. Goddard is a member of the Massachusetts Bar, and has been engaged in the insurance business in Boston and Newton since his graduation from Harvard University in 1918. He has lived in Newton for twenty years, is a taxpayer, married, and has a daughter in the Newton schools. In the past he has been a member of the troop committee of Troop 19 of the Boy Scouts, and a director of the Newton Y. M. C. A. He has been active in Community Chest work, and is now a director of the Newton Welfare Bureau. He is at present Alderman-at-Large from Ward 6, and is serving his fifth year on the Board. He is a member of the finance committee, and has served on other important committees during his terms of office. He was a delegate to the Republican pre-primary convention in 1936, is a member of the Republican Ward 6 and City Committees, and was formerly a director of the Republican Club of Massachusetts.

Auto Driven By Boy Hits Little Girl

A car owned by Harry Shield of 9 Mayflower rd., Chestnut Hill, and driven by his son, Robert Shield, 16, hit Elizabeth White, 5, of 91 Elm rd., Newtonville, near her home on Tuesday afternoon shortly before 3 o'clock. The child received an injury to one of her legs and was taken to the Newton Hospital by young Shield. In his report to the police he stated that the little girl ran in front of the car and was hit by the left end of the front bumper.

Report Parkway Bill Favorably

The Metropolitan Affairs Committee of the Massachusetts Legislature has reported favorably the bill of Representative Leo Landry of Watertown extending the river parkway from Galen st., Watertown to Waltham. Senator Arthur W. Hollis of Newton is chairman of the Metropolitan Affairs Committee. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Ways and Means. Cost of the extension is estimated at $1,400,000 and should the bill be eventually enacted this sum would be appropriated from the Highway fund.

The measure is that which attracted the interest of Newton officials and representatives because of the possibility that California st. might be used as a part of the extension. Local authorities have been advised by the Metropolitan District Commission that if the roadway is authorized that it will be extended along the river bank and that they do not desire to use California st.

Mayor May Give Day Off in 6 To Newton Police

Although the Board of Aldermen on Monday night refused to appropriate money to add six patrolmen to the police department, they also went on record as being opposed to the granting of a day off in 6 to the policemen, which was the purpose of the additional patrolmen. Mayor Childs stated on Tuesday that despite the action of the Aldermen, he may grant the extra time off to the policemen. They now receive one day off in seven and Chief Hughes has stated that six more patrolmen will be required to maintain the present service to citizens. Some of the patrolmen claim that just as efficient service can be given without more patrolmen being appointed. One rumor is—that the Mayor is to order some of the motorcycle officers to other duty in order to permit the granting the day off in six.

Information Regarding the Newton Trade School and Table Showing Cost

Figures Show That City Paid Less Than 39 Per Cent, or $125.83 Per Pupil For Year 1936-1937

The following information regarding the Newton Trade School was given by James Forbes, director of the school.

The high cost of the Newton Trade School has been a subject of recent discussion. Perhaps it is appropriate that a few facts regarding the purposes and costs of this school be presented at this time. Trade schools came into existence in Massachusetts under an act of the legislature passed in 1908 as a result of the scarcity of skilled mechanics and the difficulty of training boys for profitable employment in industry. When the act was passed it was recognized that the cost of equipment and supplies necessary for the successful operation of these schools would prevent their establishment in many communities. Consequently, the act authorized reimbursement by the state of one half the net maintenance sum to cities or towns providing such educational opportunity.

Contrary to the belief of many citizens, the figure which concerns the Newton taxpayer is not one based on gross maintenance. Rather, there should be deducted from the total cost the state reimbursements, federal grants, as well as tuition from other communities, and some other items, in order to arrive at the actual cost to the city of Newton. From the statistical table attached to this article it will be seen that the per capita cost based on gross maintenance for 1936-37 was $327.80. The city of Newton does not pay $327.80. The interest of the taxpayer lies in the net maintenance cost to the city which is $125.83.

In comparison with the cost to the state of trade education in nine surrounding cities and towns, Newton stands fourth as to per capita cost based on net maintenance and average membership.

In 1931, the Newton Trade School underwent a complete reorganization program. At that time, there were two major problems. First, the bulk of the equipment was obsolete

Annual Concert of Newton Post, A. L.

Newton Post, No. 48, American Legion, will hold its 13th Annual Welfare Concert in Newton High School Auditorium, on Thursday and Friday evenings, April 28 and 29, in aid of the Welfare Fund.

The title of this year's performance is "Twenty Years Ago," and appropriately recalls the Doughboy World of 1918. Many amusing scenes and episodes will be lived over again for a 1938 audience.

Past Commander Leon H. Mayer is the director, and announces that the show this year will take the form of an Old-Fashioned Minstrel, together with short scenes reminiscent of the A. E. F. of twenty years ago. Besides, Specialty Acts will be interspersed at frequent intervals to keep the audience in a continual fever of interest for over two hours.

The Newton Chamber of Commerce has endorsed this Annual Welfare Concert. In keeping with the standards set forth by this civic-improvement organization, Newton Post does not solicit indiscriminately by telephone, nor does it conduct a door-to-door campaign, in the disposal of tickets. Tickets are sold by members to their friends. The Committee in charge of tickets is made up of Mr. Richard Capstick, 21 Auburn st., West Newton, and Mr. Arthur A. Hunt, 16 Duffield rd., Auburndale.

Newton Post runs only one Function during the year to provide funds to carry on its own welfare work, as well as may welfare deeds for community service. The Annual Welfare Concert enables Newton Post to handle much needed service to veterans under the direction of Welfare Officer Joseph A. Beattie. Moreover, Newton Post maintains a Blood Transfusion Squad, under the inspiration of Mr Beattie. The work of this volunteer group was so outstanding in 1937 that the Claudius Pendill Trophy was awarded to Newton Post, at the New Bedford State Convention of the American Legion. As I write this article, word reaches me that one member of this squad gave a blood transfusion at 3 a. m. (April 10), Sunday morning.

Stores to Close April 19th

Most stores in the Newtons will close at 12:30 p. m. on Tuesday, April 19, and many of the stores will be closed all day Tuesday. Order your food supplies on Monday and give the employees in markets and grocery stores the opportunity of finishing their work on Tuesday promptly at noon.

Find Newtonville Man Dead In Auto

James L. Maguire, 39, of 146 Crafts st., Newtonville, was found dead this morning at 6:20 in an automobile parked at the end of Maguire court, Newtonville. Discovery was made by John Fitzpatrick of 24 Maguire court. Maguire was in the rear seat of the car and a hose from a vacuum cleaner had been connected to the exhaust of the car and run into the interior of the coach. Maguire was last seen this morning at 2 o'clock by a member of his family.

He was unmarried and the son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Maguire. He had been attending law school and is believed to have been overstudying.

Aldermen Reduce Mayor's Budget Recommendations By $70,000.00 In Report

Finance Committee Makes Suggestion That Budget Be Balanced and Sufficient Appropriations Be Made

At the special meeting held by the Board of Aldermen last Monday night the Finance Committee presented its report on the 1938 budget. The committee presented a lengthy report, which follows:

The Finance Committee presents its report and recommendations to the Board of Aldermen. You may be disappointed in learning that our net result is a reduction of slightly over $70,000 in appropriations—1.4% of the Mayor's recommendations. In the Water Department there is a reduction of $11,650. As we go over the departments item by item you may propose further economies.

Many citizens have advised a straight percentage cut arbitrarily applied to each department. That, of course, is not workable, but even to adopt the general idea would mean salary reductions, and the prevailing sentiment seems to be against that. It would be better to give that subject consideration before the beginning of the next calendar and fiscal year. Towards the close of 1938 we feel that an appraisal of economic conditions should be made, and also as intelligent a forecast for 1939 as is possible, in order that a policy be established. We recommend that the School Committee make no salary increases effective for next year until after the 1939 budget is approved. If the School Committee then approves the regular increases they would be retoractive to January 1st as is the custom in other departments. We recommend that scheduled salary increases in the Police and Fire Departments be rearranged, without prejudice to the members, so that they be effective on each January first instead of on the employment anniversaries.

These observations bring us logically to what we feel is an unfair system of which many other city employees are the unhappy victims. We strongly urge the Mayor to establish and to adhere rigidly to a step-increase salary schedule and service classification for such employees. It need not be exactly the plan in effect a few years ago, but along that line. It is true there are some disadvantages, and sometimes obstacles will arise to retard individual progress, but in our opinion the greater advantage is the promise to career men and women that length of service and fitting qualifications and performance of duties will be rewarded comparably with those in other employment. The unfairness of the present hit-or-miss method is evident in the budget recommendations of the department heads. For some employees there were found salary increases from a few dollars up to five hundred dollars for this one year. Many of them no doubt are deserving in whole or in part. We make no accusations of favoritism or prejudice, but in years past it has been rumored, possibly unfairly, that pull and influence won advancement. Because present conditions do not seem to warrant general increases within our control we regretfully have not approved the majority. But contradictory to part of the foregoing remarks is our recommendation of a few salary increases in two classes of employees. Clerks who have been receiving $18 or less weekly are recommended for one or two dollars increase if, of course, likewise so recommended by the department heads and the Mayor. Also in four instances of indisputable under-pay for the services performed and the technical training possessed, we are recommending modest increases which, however, fall short of the going rate in other fields. It is a sad commentary on our system that certain college-trained specialists are paid less than the manual laborers under them.

Unless the Mayor submits certain substantial department appropriations at the last minute for consideration of this board at its meeting Monday evening, April 11th, there must necessarily be an exhaustion of funds later during the year which will either have to be carried over into next year's tax levy, or offset in whole or in part by department surpluses accruing through operating economics. This latter possibility is very remote. We refer to such further outlays as welfare, soldiers' relief, damage claims, WPA materials, snow removal, etc.

The hearings evidenced a real interest on the part of the public. Many suggestions were made which require further study, and reference to committees. We hope there may be similar hearings of the same nature in the future. We comment on the following selected from our own deliberations and the public's offering:

1st. We endorse a balanced budget on the pay-as-you-go principle. By that we mean as far as can be foreseen all anticipated expenses for the fiscal year be included in the budget. If there are uncertainties, that a reserve be set up to the amount believed ample within the limit permitted by law. In Newton the maximum is about $75,000—1½% of the previous year's expenditures. 2nd. That any available surplus in the Water Department be used only as needed for that department, and that no part be transferred to a General Surplus account to reduce the tax levy. 3rd. That no borrowing be made against tax titles unless the two previous clauses are observed. 4th. That the city's finances be put on bases defined in Clauses 1 and 2 over the two-year period of 1938 and 1939. To accomplish this some partial compromise in the stated principles may be expedient, lest an unusual burden be put on the taxpayers all in one year. It can be leveled more fairly over the two years. 5th. That it be suggested to the Mayor that a statement be prepared and made available to the citizens, which will acquaint them with the city's finances. This should portray as simply as possible the income and outgo of the city, covering budget appropriations (before and after), State and County Warrants, the bonded indebtedness, the purpose of temporary loans, the investment in schools, parks, playgrounds, water system, buildings, etc., and the method by which the assessors determine the tax rate. It might be well to have the statement enclosed with each tax bill.

6th. That ways and means be sought to include in the costs of betterment streets an additional amount sufficient for the planting of trees thereon. And that this same condition apply to acceptance of streets under the General Law. Our tree planting is now about eight years behind schedule. The future beauty of the city must not be allowed to suffer further. 7th. We do not favor enlarging the Police Force, because we believe that to do so would facilitate the immediate granting of additional time off in this department. Economic conditions do not warrant an increased expenditure unless the City needs and is to receive additional service and protection. 8th. That pending the re-establishment of a Department of Public Works, which we understand may possibly be under consideration by the Mayor, that an expert be engaged to make a study of those departments commonly grouped under that heading, namely, street, water, buildings and engineering, to the end of increasing efficiency and reducing expenses. This survey should also include all automotive equipment in every city department—that municipally owned and that which is privately owned but used for city business on a rental or

SCHOOL COSTS IN NEWTON

The costs of schools in Newton, or in any locality, are an important question to the taxpayers of the community involved. Recently Mr. Waters made a strong criticism of the costs of schools in this city, using as a basis the per pupil cost. In a letter published in another column Mr. Hobbs observes that ability to pay and cost per valuation is a fairer yardstick.

It is only natural that a community which has a high valuation and a high per capita income desires more extensive and more desirable school facilities, leading obviously to a high per pupil cost. There is, however, the ever-present possibility that the ability to pay may readily lead to the introduction of services which might be termed as luxuries or extravagances. In the past few weeks numerous comments of varying length have been brought to our attention which reveal that there is some question in the minds of taxpayers that we are paying too much for our school system.

It is difficult for the lay person, or the non-educationally minded person, to place his finger on just what he feels may be wrong or to state specifically the question in his mind. It has also come to our attention that many parents are averse to voicing their opinion because of fear of retribution upon their children. Where the human element is present it is impossible to state that such retaliation would not take place but we dislike to feel that our educational system, or any individual connected with it, would take this attitude. We have sufficient confidence in the Newton school department, and every teacher and principal connected with it, to believe that an honest difference of opinion can be arbitrated without creating hard feelings.

In its capacity as supervisor of our school system the school committee has a responsibility which canont be denied. It is to this group of responsible individuals to whom the people of Newton look for an accurate, unbiased and considered explanation.

Mr. Charles B. Floyd, Chairman of the Emergency Committee for the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, is revising the Chapter set-up to be used in case of disaster in Newton. The survey which is being brought up to date is a complete inventory of housing, transportation and communication facilities that may be utilized and was compiled under the direction of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, in co-operation with the Red Cross. Housing classification has been made under three classes:

Class I—Housing facilities with adequate sanitary and cafeteria facilities; Class 2—Housing facilities with partial sanitary and cafeteria facilities; Class 3—Housing facilities with either one, or both, facilities missing. Available cot space was figured on basis of 50 square feet of floor area per cot.

The transportation survey gives a list of taxi and express companies with their available facilities.

Communication comprises, first of all, the location of radio, telegraph and telephone organizations.

The medical set-up, with its list of available doctors and nurses, is always kept accurate for emergencies.

Copies of this survey are on file in the Mayor's office, City Hall; Fire Chief's office, Newton Centre; Police Chief's office, West Newton; Red Cross Headquarters, 12 Austin st., Newtonville; residence of Chairman, Mr. Floyd, 454 Wolcott st., Auburndale.

Miss Esther M. Walker, Executive Secretary of the Home Service Section and Miss Louise Jellerson, Office Secretary attended the conference of Executive Secretaries at the Hotel Statler Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 7, 8 and 9. Mrs. Alex P. Maynard, Mrs. Marcus K. Bryan and Miss Barbara Edmands volunteered for service at the Red Cross office in order to make this possible.

Sunbeam Chats

Gracious what a lot of things I have to learn! I just got Santa Claus straight, and now it's an Easter Bunny—only Santa brings toys, and I guess the Easter Bunny only brings eggs. But I won't mind as long as he brings me lots of eggs. I can't quite see why chickens come out of eggs and bunnies bring eggs at Easter but I won't worry 'bout that 'slong as I get my egg to eat each day. Hope I don't grow wings 'stead of straight legs.

Letters To The Editor

FORUM IS SELF-SUPPORTING

April 12, 1938.

To the Editor:

In the interests of honesty and keeping the record straight, will you permit me to clear up an inference and correct a statement in last week's lengthy criticism of the costs of schools in Newton as quoted in the GRAPHIC.

The inference was that there is some tie-up, beyond a common interest in education at reasonable cost in the city of Newton, between the Newton Community Forum and, through the School Department, the tax rate. There is not, and at no time has there been any such connection. The Newton Forum is entirely self-supporting and, in fact, pays the full fees for the use of the high school for its meetings.

The incorrect statement was: ". . . someone has sold the School Committee the idea that the costs of conducting this forum should be saddled on the taxpayers." No one, as far as the members of the Forum's Executive Committee know, has ever attempted such a thing and certainly the School Committee, as interested as it is in the educational well-being of Newton, has not entered into any negotiations with the Forum to this end.

I trust that the damage done by misrepresentation in the address to the finance committee of the Board of Aldermen can and will be repaired without hard feelings and with ultimate benefit to the city of Newton.

Sincerely yours,
WALTER M. TAYLOR,
Executive Secretary of the Newton Community Forum.

Trade School Cost Analyzed

and it was necessary to replace gradually this equipment with modern, up-to-date machinery. Trade education to be effective must be progressive in methods of doing work, for a trade school has no justification in graduating pupils who are years behind what is considered good practice in industry. The second problem was to raise the standard of the school by planning courses of study, so that pupils would obtain satisfactory employment upon graduation.

These problems could not be solved overnight without throwing a heavy burden on the city and disorganizing the school. Therefore, with the approval and cooperation of the School Committee and the City Government, it was decided to distribute the load over a period of five years. This accounts for the increased expenditures from the years 1931-32 to 1933-34.

The enrollment for the Trade School in 1928-29 was 176; it is now 297. It has been necessary to establish a waiting list in some departments. From present applications for admission to the school in the fall, the enrollment for next year will reach 350.

The Trade School as it is conducted in Newton is a school which prepares students for direct entrance into industry. Since it regards its ability to place students in industry as important as its duty to train them, it must be selective in its admission policies and agree to train only those students who are employable. For this reason, entrance tests were instituted in 1933 for all prospective pupils to determine their chances of success, and to help place the pupil in the department from which he will derive the most benefit. These tests are continued throughout the pupils' stay in the Trade School so that in their senior year students have fairly definite ideas as to their capabilities. While this organized guidance for pupils in the Trade School is a comparatively new development it is one which has resulted in very much improved placement of graduates. The placement record of the Newton Trade School of last year's graduating class, for example, was 87 per cent placed in the occupation for which they were trained.

Whether or not Newton is an industrial city, and there is evidence to show that it is to a considerable extent, the fact remains that there are many boys in this city whose chief chance of productive and successful school experience lies in the practical training for the skilled trades. This sort of training the Newton Trade School aims to provide. The degree of success it has in meeting these aims is shown by the placement of its graduates and the records of these graduates in their jobs.

New Minister At Church of Messiah

At a recent parish meeting of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, it was unanimously voted to invite the Reverend Richard P. McClintock to become the new rector. Mr. McClintock has accepted the call and will supply the pulpit the Sunday following Easter.

REV. RICHARD P. McCLINTOCK

It was with great regret and reluctance that St. Paul's Church, Lancaster, New Hampshire, relinquished him for service elsewhere. He is a native of Winthrop, Mass., was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1926 and from the Episcopal Theological School at Cambridge in 1929. In the summer of that year he assumed the duties of rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Lancaster. During portions of the nine years at this parish he also had under his charge St. Timothy's Chapel at Lost Nation, as well as the Church of the Transfiguration at Whitehead. While continuing his work in Lancaster from 1933-1936 he was minister in charge of All Saints Mission in Littleton which included pastoral duties in Franconia, Sugar Hill and Bethlehem, and in 1935-1936 he was chaplain and a member of the faculty at St. Mary's School.

Mr. McClintock has been a definite force in church work of the New Hampshire diocese. He was active on the New Hampshire Commission on Religious Education, a member of the committee on the State of the Church, a member of the Liberal Evangelical Club, as well as chairman of the Lancaster Inter-Church Council.

His community activities have been very extensive. He is the current president of the Lancaster Chapter of the Rotary Club, following four years' service as its secretary. The Lancaster Board of Trade has recently elected him a director. He is a charter member of the Lancaster Outing Club, which has been extremely active in fostering winter sports in that section of the State. The Y. M. C. A. of Lancaster has elected him to the Board of Directors as a result of his active interest. In addition to membership in the Comrade Y Club, he is also advisor to the newly formed Phalanx Young Men's Club. In past years he has been director of the Lancaster Golf Club and chairman of the local Red Cross. His keen enthusiasm for the activities of boys and young men has been shown through his interest in the Lancaster High School teams and the local basketball league, as well as work with the Boy Scout group sponsored by the Rotary Club.

Mr. McClintock is married and has two children, Barbara aged six, and Richard aged four.

NEWTON SMITH COLLEGE CLUB

The Newton Smith College Club scholarship of $300 has been awarded to Miss Shirley Ellen Fuller, 30 Kewadin rd., Waban, who is a senior at Newton High School and will enter Smith this fall. Miss Fuller was chosen from a number of candidates by the Club Scholarship Committee consisting of Mrs. Richard H. Lee, Newton chairman, Mrs. Osborne E. Brown, Waban, and Mrs. Elbridge Minard, Auburndale.

DROWSY DRIVERS

About 2000 traffic deaths are caused each year by sleepy drivers. Some victims are just drowsy when they lose control; others actually have dozed off to sleep. "Nature's sweet restorer" is all right in its place—a nice comfortable bed—but it's bad business to cat-nap when you drive. Better let someone else take the wheel, or pull off the road and take a nap. Asleep-at-the-wheel accidents are usually serious because there is no chance for defense against the crash.

Newton Republican, April 15, 1876

The Newton Horticultural Society held its quarterly meeting at City Hall on Tuesday evening, President E. W. Wood in the chair. There was a good attendance. In answer to an inquiry Rev. Mr. Patrick stated that the prize of $100 for the best plan for a park or series of parks in Newton was still offered. The prize was offered last year but no plans were submitted. On motion of N. T. Allen $100 was appropriated to be used at the discretion of the executive committee to encourage planting trees by roadsides during this Centennial year. The motion to build a horticultural building was discussed, and earnestly advocated by J. Watson Taylor. He showed the plans drawn by H. J. Preston. The cost, $30,000, seemed too much for the society to hazard in the present state of its finances.

Attention is called in another column to Republicans to meet in City Hall on Saturday night to awaken an interest in securing better men in public office. Mayor Speare will preside and addresses will be made by Messrs. Bishop, Wade, Farlow, Carter, Walworth and others.

REPUBLICANS

We, the undersigned, good and loyal members of the Republican Party, eager as of old to work within its party lines so long as we can do so with dignity and self respect, and yet recognizing in the gross political corruption permeating our public service and sapping the moral foundations of the Republic; a disgraceful reality against which it behooves every patriotic man to rise in stern and indignant protest, invite our fellow Republicans of Newton to join with us on the evening of Saturday, April 15, at 7½ o'clock in a public meeting at City Hall, West Newton, then and there to re-echo the demand of the hour that none but high-toned men, openly identified with reform, and jealous of the good name of our country shall be presented to us to challenge our votes at the coming Presidential election.

The public schools will not be in session on April 19.

A few items may be of use in settling the question of how much to pay for the lighting of streets the coming year. The following figures give the amounts paid in this vicinity; Boston pays Dorchester $3 per thousand cubic feet, West Roxbury Company $2.90; Brookline Company, $2.90; East Boston $2.50; Boston Company $2; Cambridge pays $2.50; Waltham $3.50. The Boston street lights burn all and every night. Newton will pay $2.69. The Boston companies make double or treble the amount of gas made by the Newton company and it is a well known fact that with double the consumption in Newton the local company could manufacture gas at a lower cost.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Billings of Newton have the sincere sympathy of a very large circle of friends in their recent severe affliction in the death of two of their three children by scarlet fever.

At Police Station 3 in West Newton 254 tramps were lodged during the quarter ending April 1.

Otis Pettee's horse was left standing by his office at Newton Upper Falls a few days ago. When her owner came to drive her home, she was not to be found. A search revealed the fact that she had gone into the mill pond. A boat was procured and the horse and wagon were found submerged in the water. The cause of this peculiar suicide is unknown.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, April 13, 1888

Mr. Jewett of Richardson st., Newton captured a live partridge in his yard this morning.

Editor of the Graphic:

We wish that there might be a persistent, united effort to rid our streets and neighborhoods of the English sparrows—the mice of the air. Every season they are driving our American songbirds, the orioles, thrushes, warblers, blue-birds and robins, farther and farther from our houses and hearing. These feathered pests, defiling every window blind, and scolding and chattering about every house roof, take possession of every available nook for a nest and all melodious bird songs are being ended near our houses by their selfish quarrels. While the spirit of dislike of their species is spreading far and wide, dislike will not lessen their numbers—every day increasing. Kill them, poison them, shoot them; have sparrows-on-toast at every breakfast, till it gets possible to hear a blue-bird's dear note while eating, or some other sweet songster such as used to inhabit our orchards. If every boy and sportsman would begin in earnest to lessen the number of English sparrows by every method, we might yet hope for large relief from these pests.

Edward H. Powers' Paragraphs

Robert V. Spencer of 84 Walker st., Newtonville, on Monday received a letter from the Metropolitan District Commission informing him that the unsightly handball court which was erected last year near the bathing beach, between Newton and Fanueil, will be removed to another part of Brighton. This eyesore was erected by youths as a project of the National Youth Administration. It is adjacent to the bathing beach on the Charles River. In this column on Oct. 15, 1937, we called attention to this structure, and denounced it as quite offensive on the very attractive reservation which has been gradually developed the past 35 years by the Metropolitan District Commission along the Charles River between Faneuil and Newton. Mr. Spencer visited the office of the Metropolitan District Commission several times in his efforts to have the structure removed, and quoted our article. He deserves credit for his activity in this matter, and the Commission also will receive praise if and when they cause this blot on the parkway landscape to be removed.

The open meetings held by the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen to obtain expressions of opinion from citizens on the matter of Newton's increasing tax rate were not productive of much constructive criticism. But the attack made by James A. Waters on the alleged inordinate cost of Newton schools has, as would be expected, resulted in considerable comment, some favorable and more unfavorable to Mr. Waters' statements. Although Mr. Waters and the writer clashed at the first meeting when he advocated that no new schools be built at present, we take no sides between him and those who resent his criticism of the Newton School Department.

In this issue of the GRAPHIC is a statement defending the Newton Trade School which was the especial target of Mr. Waters. Personally, we would prefer to see Newton spend a reasonable amount of money in developing its Trade School instead of spending money on what many citizens designate as fads and foibles in school activities. Within the past few years, for instance, a department of Research and Guidance has been instituted in the Newton schools which has added to the cost of our schools. There are those in Newton who believe children here, as in most cities, can be properly educated without psychological analyses. There are other citizens who would rather see Newton spend more money in teaching useful occupations to pupils at the Trade School, than to spend money to give lessons in Art and Handicraft to little children in the lower grades. Some parents, for instance, wonder how a small child can be expected to concentrate in studying reading; 'riting or 'rithmetic when some other young hopeful in the same room, or within sounding distance, is using a hammer or saw in creating some product of manual skill. These parents would prefer to have their children receive more instruction in such old-fashioned subjects as spelling and penmanship.

There is the trend toward preschool work for toddlers. Years ago folks thought the limit in early education had been reached with the institution of kindergartens. Now, with the vogue for preschool activity in cities with advanced educational systems, some wonder how long it will be before taxpayers will be asked to pay for a creche in each primary school so that modern mothers will have more time to pursue social and cultural activities.

Although the teachers in the preschool sessions in Newton are now paid by the WPA, if this venture will be continued eventually the city must stand the cost. It now bears the expense of providing the school rooms, janitor service and other incidentals.

Most citizens of Newton desire to have the schools of this city as good as the best, and to keep reasonable pace with advances in education. But with economic conditions as they have been for years, and probably will be for years to come, in justice to the many hard put to pay their taxes, there should not be added expenses incurred in non-essentials and experimentation in our public schools.

We don't enthuse over the payment of $1850 to Clarence A. Bingham as a fee for a study of Newton's welfare problem. An appropriation of this amount for this purpose was recommended to the Board of Aldermen on Monday by Mayor Childs. Mr. Bingham has been offering his services to various cities as an expert on this subject. He formerly served as City Manager in Waltham and Norwood, and has been retained by other cities as an expert in municipal affairs. Recently the Board of Aldermen appointed a special committee to study Newton's welfare problem. Although not experts, we believe the Aldermen on his committee have more knowledge of Newton than has Mr. Bingham, and re competent to deal with the question before them.

Frankly, we are sceptical over experts. We have seen some of them retained by this city in past years and their plans and recommendations either were not accepted or were discarded after having been given a trial.

It irks us to have some youth, recently out of college, and with little or no practical experience, tell men of mature years how to conduct public affairs. It arouses our risibilities when some stranger comes into Newton, and after a few hours' survey of the city, deigns to give information as to how much better affairs here can be conducted. Likewise, we think it somewhat funny when persons who have resided only a few years in Newton, assume, or presume, leadership in leading Newton out of its allegedly archaic ways. As one who was born and has lived nearly all his life in Newton, we take pride in this city's past, and in its advancement to an outstanding position as a progressive community. And this distinction which

Hard to Find a Cure

Let's see now—the Legislature of 1938 is in the middle of its fourth month and still wrestling with a stack of bills in spite of the fact that a lot of laws have been enacted and a great quantity of rejected measures dropped overboard. Critics and others have frequently asked what causes the Spring delay and received replies more or less satisfactory but no two alike. Privately, and don't let this go any further, I think the poor defenceless legislators have had too much advice hurled at them. If there was ever a group of men who had to sit daily and be told what to do and how to do it then here they are for sure. Our Senators and Representatives not only take it on both ears at committee hearings but are telephoned to, written to and called upon in person at all hours. The fact that they can't digest all suggestions, instructions, recommendations and exhortations is probably the reason they slow up about this time of year. Mental dyspepsia, no doubt.

Would Limit Vanity

Although I cannot be recorded as a radio fan I am somewhat sympathetic toward the idea that the State should establish a broadcasting station. My vision in this direction extends even further and includes cities. If every Mayor had his radio station he could bellow his lungs sore and be relieved of thinking up publicity stunts that make the front pages of the daily newspapers. The dignity that once surrounded the office of Mayor has been lost in many places and personal promotion schemes supplemented. The cage for "drunks" is the latest and although it seems to have set a new mark doubtless some resourceful genius will top it. My earnest hope is that aldermen don't become addicted to self-glorification.

Keeping to Themselves

It is possible that I may have stumbled upon the true meaning of the phrase, "exclusive neighborhood." Until recently I had thought such reference to any section an extravagant use of words, intended to convey an impression, frequently untrue, that it was the most desirable residential part of the town. Yet here's what happened and I leave you free to decide for yourself. I asked a friend if he happened to know So and so, who resides two or three houses from him on the same thoroughfare. "O, I know the family, but that's all," came the reply. "It's a rule on our street for neighbors not to speak to each other."

Can't be Too Careful

Many buyers of food (and I'm thinking of the Newton women who do their own marketing), know what it means to pick up the strong bundle and arrive home with another's meal. At least once in a lifetime has this happened in the best of families. The latest example came to me only this week and was a bit unusual inasmuch as the chief figure had to drive several miles back and forth. It was late Saturday afternoon and there was to be a very special steak for dinner. You know how those things occur in the confusion of a shop crowded with buyers. Dashing home, for there was little time to spare, this woman hurried into the kitchen with orders to "cook this right away," to find she had no meat but had gathered somebody's pint of baked beans and two dill pickles. The exchange consumed time and travel, made our heroine exasperated with herself and everybody else and did not improve her appetite.

Not an Easy Job

Now there's no reason to get excited about it but it is a fact (can give you the source of my information) that there are more public libraries in Massachusetts than any State except New York. If I should add, as I privately believe, none of them excels that of our own city no doubt there would be a protest. It would be the voices of those who say, "It's no use for me to go to the Newton library, I never can get the book I want." I'll admit that there have been times when I have been disappointed because I wanted to borrow some particular book and never thought but what the city had bought one copy for each of its 75,000 inhabitants. Until I began to worry over real estate taxes I failed to appreciate that the free library is a municipal enterprise conducted for the benefit of the taxpayers with their own money. The problem of those in charge is to make the money go as far as it will and further if legitimate scheming will send it. Not an easy task as anyone on the sidelines can see if he only pauses to think. When I hear that old complaint, "The book I want is never in," I feel like suggesting, "You take over the job of runnng the library and see where you finish."

Reserved Circulation of Free Library Increasing

The circulation figures of the Newton Free Library system for the year 1937 show that the "reserved" or advance request use of the libraries of the city is increasing. Of the total circulation of 825,689 books for the year, 51,271 were by reserve request. These figures represent a steady growth in this special class of circulation for the past 12 years during which time it has increased five times over. This increase is interpreted by chief librarian Julius Lucht and the librarians in charge of the ten branch libraries which serve the city as indicating an increasingly intelligent use of the library facilities by the people of the city. It shows that they are becoming more aware of the fact that almost any book which one may care to read, or any book or pamphlet which one may desire for the study of some special subject in which he or she may be interested, may be obtained through our public library system by handing in a reservation request at the desk of any public library in the city.

SECOND CHURCH IN WEST NEWTON

Newton Women Active In Smith College Club Affairs

Mrs. John N. Eaton, as president of the Newton Smith College Club, will sit at the head table with presidents of the other seven Smith Clubs in Greater Boston at the annual luncheon of the Boston League of Smith College Clubs at the Somerset, Boston, Saturday at 1 p. m. A number of other Newton women are actively interested in the success of the affair, according to Mrs. H. Starr Ballou, Jr., of Wellesley Hills, general chairman, who has appointed on her committee Mrs. Raymond Hunting of Newtonville in charge of flowers and Miss Margaret May of Newton Highlands as usher.

President William Allan Neilson of Smith will be guest speaker of the occasion and his presence always insures a large number of alumnae guests. Early reservations from people in the Newtons include the following: Mrs. Matt Bushnell Jones of Newton Centre, Mrs. J. H. Young of Newton, Mrs. Metcalf Melcher of Newton Centre, Mrs. M. M. Griswold of Newton Highlands, Mrs. Samuel Brannan of Newton, Miss Mary Glover of Newton, Mrs. Quincy White Wales of West Newton, Mrs. Hayward P. Rolfe of Newton, Mrs. Jonathan Biscoe of Newton Highlands, Mrs. Maurice Biscoe of Newton Centre, Mrs. Hans Fischer of Newton Centre, Mrs. Everett Kent of Newton, Miss Grace R. Torr of Newton Highlands, Mrs. M. C. Tuttle of Newton Centre, Mrs. Albert Hutchinson and Miss Eleanore Hutchinson of Newton Highlands, Mrs. Harry S. Baldwin of West Newton, Mrs. Lenert W. Henry of Newton Centre, Mrs. Roy R. Merchant of West Newton, Miss Beatrice Woodman, Miss Elizabeth Towle and Miss Miriam Drury all of Newton, Miss Eleanor James of West Newton and Miss Cornelia Tuttle of Newton Centre.

NEWTON DENTAL SOCIETY

At a meeting of The Newton Dental Society held on Monday evening at The Newton Hospital, Dr. Earle Cummings, Professor of Radiodontia at Harvard Dental School gave a most interesting lecture on X-ray Diagnosis.

The officers of The Newton Dental Society elected for the ensuing year were: Dr. R. A. Barrette, President; Dr. Wm. Jones, Vice-President; Dr. Frances J. Martin, Secretary; Dr. Charles Parker, Treasurer; Dr. Harry Lanergan, Auditor.

Second Church to Build Addition

Is Planning Fair in June to Complete Financing of $75,000 Wing

Twenty-five years after the construction of its present home in West Newton, the Second Church in Newton has embarked on a campaign to raise $75,000 to finance a large addition to its present educational building. Members of the parish have subscribed the major portion of the funds required, but a balance remains, and to raise this a carnival and fair will be held on the church grounds, under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Charles E. Benson, on June 2, 3 and 4.

The Second Church has now become one of the largest Congregational churches in New England. Due to its rapid growth, especially during the past ten years when the membership increased from 900 to almost 1600, its present facilities have proved inadequate. In particular this is true of the educational building, which is now overcrowded by a Church School having an active enrollment of 500 pupils and a teaching staff of 75.

To remedy the present lack of space, an addition has been projected along the lines of a wing on the Parish House originally contemplated when the church was built 25 years ago. In this wing will be a young people's parlor, a primary assembly room, nursery school room, library, two offices, kitchen and 15 class rooms. Adequate space will be provided in which to conduct a two to three-hour Sunday morning program, as well as for the daily nursery school and the many church and community activities carried on during the week.

Just a year ago plans for the new addition were first discussed. A committee on building was organized under the chairmanship of Franklin S. Hoyt and a committee on finance under chairmanship of Carl E. Pickhardt. Early this year the church voted to proceed with the building of the addition and over the past month the membership has raised the greater part of the necessary funds. Over 30 committees are now actively preparing for the June carnival and fair which is counted upon to complete the financing.

Y. M. C. A.

Speaker Horace T. Cahill of the Mass. House of Representatives was the guest of the members of the Round Table Club at a meeting held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening, April 8th. Dr. Philip D. Woodbridge, President of the Club, after the dinner, welcomed the members and their guests, calling attention to the fact that Mr. Cahill was the instructor of the first Public Speaking Class ever held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. George L. White and Herbert F. Hunter, two original members of the class, were present to greet Mr. Cahill.

President Woodbridge called upon Mr. Hunter who spoke for the class of 1922, and Mr. William T. Jones for the class of 1938. Each spoke briefly about the many benefits received from attending these classes.

Edward M. Rowe, who for the past twelve years has been instructor of Public Speaking at the Newton Y. M. C. A., was then introduced. He paid a tribute to Walter S. Bruton who has been Secretary of the Club and Educational Director during the same period.

H. W. Bascom, General Secretary of the Association, then introduced Mr. Cahill who gave a very interesting talk about the development of representative government in Massachusetts. He then invited members of the club to ask questions on topics in which they were especially interested. This question period of more than an hour was one of the most interesting portions of the evening's program.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the fall when officers for the new year will be elected.

At the Devotional Exercises which have been conducted at the Newton Y. M. C. A., during the Lenten Period, the speakers have been as follows: Rev. Otis Robinson Heath, Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton; Rev. D. Joseph Imler, Belmont Methodist Episcopal Church; Rev. Martin L. Goslin, North Congregational Church, Newton; Rev. Aaron N. Mechel, Faneuil Congregational Church.

Hi-Y Club

Tuesday evening, in the presence of the Faculty of Coaches, a very beautiful painting was presented to the Newton High School by the Newton Hi-Y Club in memory of Billy Johnston, football captain who died last spring. A memorial service was held at the Y. M. C. A. to commemorate the first anniversary of his death. The address was given by the Director of Boys' Work, Clyde G. Hess. The presentation was made following the address. It was accepted on behalf of the school by Principal Paul E. Elicker who expressed his appreciation of the spirit of the Hi-Y Club in their endeavor. The picture was painted by Margaret Fitzhugh Brown, an artist from Gloucester, and was first shown at the National Boys' Secretaries Conference at Lake Geneva in 1937. The picture shows a boy seated on a hilltop looking out to the far distance and is entitled, "Youth's Horizons." A small bronze plate was attached to the frame with the inscription, "In Memory of William Johnston." This picture will hang in the library of Building 1 of the Newton High School.

Newton Tri-Hi Club

On Thursday evening the Newton Tri-Hi Club girls entertained their fathers at a dinner and social in the hall of the Y. M. C. A. Following the dinner President Ann Reynolds presented Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond, who gave a very inspiring review of the book "Danger Is My Business." About sixty-five Dads and girls sat down to dinner and plans were discussed for the future programs of the year which will end on June 1st. A house party is being planned at Camp Frank A. Day. Mrs. John M. Bailey of Canterbury rd., who is the Mother Advisor, is working with the committee for this party. The election of officers for the ensuing year will take place at the last meeting in April when the Juniors will take over the reins of next year's club and will present a program the first week in June.

Cadet Class

Due to the extreme pressure on the part of parents of boys under the minimum age of ten, the Y. M. C. A. has conducted during the winter months a new division which is being called "The Cadet Group." It has been divided into three sections of three months each and is now in its final session. This period will be given over to instruction in out-door games, swimming, athletic contests and tribal Indian organizations.

The leaders for this group are: C. Gardner Hess, Harold Jenkins, Stephen Mallett, John Martin, Jr., Henry Shaw and William Ward.

The Club Advisors are: Jack Dowd, Charles Foster, Robert Goldich, William Henn, Robert Muse and Eru Schoonmaker.

Snow White at Coolidge Corner Theatre for Week

Romance, high comedy, pathos, excitement, color of breath-taking beauty and tuneful music, mix them well and you have "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs", Walt Disney's first step into the feature-length production field. "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" opens a seven day run on Saturday, April 16th, at the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline, and follows a successful and world's record run for any picture, in Boston, or anywhere.

Combining every element which spells entertainment, the animated feature brings life to the beloved Grimm's fairy tale, known in almost every land the world over. Disney and his staff of artists have created a beautiful heroine in Snow White herself, "whose skin was white as snow, lips red as a rose, and hair as black as ebony." Into the seven little dwarfs, they have instilled all of the personality and comic little quirks so definitely associated with Disney characters. Instead of treating them as a unit, as they were in the original story, the studio staff gave them names and made each of them a distinct person. In fact, Doc, Sneezy, Dopey, Sleepy, Grumpy, Happy and Bashful are due to take the screen world by storm. Snow White's beautiful but vain persecutor, the queen, is the villainess of the piece, and the eerie scene where she changed herself into an old witch-like hag in order to give unsuspecting Snow White a poisoned apple is one of the high points of excitement in the picture. Snow White's prince charming is as handsome as any leading man in Hollywood, and sings love songs to her in a magnificent tenor voice. The music throughout the picture is ravishing. Snow White, the Prince, the Queen and the Queen's hunstman are all figures entirely devoid of caricature, and are the first characters developed by Disney to have all the physical attributes of normal human beings. "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" is exquisite entertainment for adult and young alike, and marks a new milestone in film features.

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" will be shown daily at 2:20, 4:16, 6:10, 8:10 and 10:05 P. M.

In addition to this glorious picture there will be a group of selected short subjects, rounding out the season's most worthwhile show.

Announced for showing for seven days, commencing on Saturday, April 23, is "The Goldwyn Follies" in glorious technicolor, with the Ritz Bros., Adolphe Menjou, Zorina, Ella Logan and Edgar Bergen and "Charlie" McCarthy.

WE were pretty sure we had a great car when some months ago we checked the final blueprints on the 1938 Buick.

It had the new and mighty DYNAFLASH engine for sparkling action—the sensationally desirable TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING for a lullaby of a ride.

Looking ahead in that promising day, we figured we had every chance of getting our sales share by reason of what this car gave the buyer for his money.

Now, when times are sterner, it appears we built better than we knew—we've got a car folks just won't do without!

This great new Buick was first introduced to the public last fall. Through September, October, November, it sold in steadily increasing volume.

In a period when sales of other cars were sliding off it went ahead, in one month actually outselling one of the Big Three of the lowest-priced field.

It's still going ahead—not car Number Seven or Eight, as one might expect by its price-class, but one of the season's Four Best Sellers!

There is only one explanation of such a record when made by a car in the thousand-dollar bracket.

Such a car is so good—has so much of value in it—people just won't do without it!

They buy it not only in preference to other cars—they buy in preference to waiting for easier times and readier money-to-spend!

That's the convincing sort of car you're about to drive when you first take the wheel of a 1938 Buick.

If you haven't yet handled a new Buick, you ought to—just to see what such a car is like!

Bridge and Game Party

The Women's Auxiliary to the Newton Y. M. C. A. is planning a Bridge and Game Party to be held this year in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium, Church st., Newton, on Monday, April 25th, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Warren C. Merrill is General chairman of the affair, and she is being assisted by Mrs. C. Lawrence Barber, Mrs. Arnold C. Barker, Mrs. Fred Hawkins, and Mrs. A. Norman Needy. Mrs. A. T. Sundborg is in charge of the committee which will serve tea from 4 to 5:30 o'clock.

The proceeds of this Annual Party are to be used for State and Foreign Y. M. C. A. work, and to provide free camps and "Y" memberships for worthy boys in this community. Tickets at 50 cents each, or $2 a table, may be secured from Mrs. Warren C. Merrill, Newton; Mrs. Fred D. Bond, Newton Centre; Mrs. Palmer York, Newton Highlands; Mrs. J. Hartley Stackhouse, Newtonville; Mrs. Vadal Anderson, West Newton; Mrs. Cylde S. Hess, Auburndale; Mrs. Leland Bixby, Watertown; and Mrs. Lowell A. Warren, Waltham.

Candidates For National Office

Clubwomen from every state in the Union, from the District of Columbia, Alaska, other territorial possessions, and from many foreign countries will gather in Kansas City for the Triennial Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs to be held May 10th to May 17th. Presiding over this great gathering will be the president, Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson.

The high point of interest in the Convention will be the election of officers who will preside over the destinies of the Federation during the coming three years. The unopposed candidate for president is Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar of Portland, Oregon, whose club work dates back more than a score of years and who has served on the Executive Committee of the General Federation for the past ten years. Professionally, Mrs. Dunbar is a social worker, having served as Executive Secretary of the Oregon Tuberculosis Association for the past twenty-two years. While the program of the General Federation is a fully rounded one it is expected that under Mrs. Dunbar's administration emphasis will be placed on some phases of health and welfare.

Ten women, each one prominent in the public life of her own state, are seeking the other five offices to be filled. Perhaps the most contested is the office of first vice-president, for which there are two candidates, Mrs. Walter W. Seymour of Illinois, and Mrs. John L. Whitehurst of Maryland. Mrs. Seymour is now the second vice-president of the Federation. Mrs. Whitehurst is chairman of the department of Education of the General Federation. Competing for the office of second vice-president are Mrs. George W. Adams, General Federation director for Alabama; Mrs. Harold G. Bogert of Colorado, chairman of the division of Conservation of Natural Resources of the General Federation; Mrs. LaFell Dickinson of New Hampshire, treasurer of the General Federation; and Mrs. John Speed Harvey of West Virginia, recording secretary of the General Federation.

For the office of recording secretary two candidates are offered, Mrs. Horace Bonar Ritchie, General Federation director for Georgia; and Mrs. Jefferson D. Atwood of New Mexico, chairman of the department of American Citizenship. The unopposed candidate for treasurer is Mrs. J. L. B. Buck of Virginia, chairman of the Budget.

The basic theme of the Convention will be "Education for Living," which is the keynote of this administration, and the special Convention theme will be "For I Give You Good Doctrine, Forsake Ye Not My Law" Proverbs 4: 2.

Some of the most pressing and widely-discussed problems of today will be subjects for addresses and for forum discussions by nationally-known men and women. The department chairmen will present both speakers and forums. Miss Alves Long, chairman of the department of International Relations, has chosen for her subject, "The Economic Approach to World Peace." Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, chairman of the department of Education, has chosen as the subject for a forum discussion "Character Education versus Crime." "Problems of Modern Family Life" has been chosen as the subject of the American Home department, Mrs. Norman Hubbard Hastings, chairman.

It is expected that the attendance of Junior Clubwomen at this Convention will be the largest in the history of the organization, and in anticipation of this, the chairman of the department of Junior Clubwomen, Mrs. Elbert W. Shirk, announces many entertaining social affairs which will intersperse the formal sessions of these future club leaders.

Annual Meetings

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will be held at Seiler's 1812 House, at Framingham, on Monday, April 18th, with dinner at 7 p. m.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Miss Ruth Tingly will entertain with her accordion and lead in group singing at the Annual Meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, which will be held at the Brae Burn Country Club, on Friday, April 22nd, with luncheon at 12:30 p. m. sharp. The voting will take place before the luncheon, and the members are urged to be there early.

Special guests for the day will be Mrs. Herbert F. French, a vice-president of the Massachusetts State Federation; Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, director of the Twelfth District; Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president of the Newton Federation; and Miss Lucy Ellis Allen, daughter of the founder of the Club.

Luncheon tickets must be reserved before April 19th, from Mrs. Carl N. Thomas, Telephone, West Newton 3441, or from any of her committee.

The Annual Meeting of the American Home Class of the Club was held on April 6th at the home of Mrs. G. Howard Frost. In the absence of the leader, Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield, Mrs. William D. Keefe conducted the meeting. Reports of the year were read by the secretary, and it was voted to send a note of appreciation to Mrs. Littlefield for the splendid work she has done through the year. Miss Doris Jones gave book reviews of the following books: "Nut Meg Tree," by Margery Sharpe; "The Country Kitchen" and "Home Grown," by Della T. Lutes; "Bow Down to Wood and Stone," by Josephine Lawrence; "Assigned to Adventure", by Irene Kuhn; and "On Borrowed Time", by Lawrence Edward Walkins.

Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones will be the leader of the Class for the coming year.

Luncheon was served by Mrs. J. Herbert Brown, assisted by Mrs. Louis B. Martin, Mrs. Herman R. Place, Mrs. Raymond R. Forte, and Mrs. George D. Thomas.

The next meeting of the Class will be a May Breakfast on May 6th, at the home of Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader, 303 Highland ave., at 11 o'clock.

The Garden Club will meet at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, 54 Oakland ave., Auburndale, for the Annual Meeting on Monday, April 18th, at 12:30 p. m. Members may bring guests for the luncheon. Tickets are 50 cents. Cards will be enjoyed after the annual reports are given.

West Newton Community Service Club

The next meeting of the West Newton Community Service Club will be held on Wednesday, April 20th, in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church. This is the Annual Meeting, with election of officers. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Albert Blunt, Jr. and her committee are in charge.

The program for the afternoon will be an original interpretation of the popular novel "Gone with the Wind", by Norma Woodward, dramatic reader. Miss Woodward is a fairly new comer to the recital platform, but has already received enthusiastic praise for her presentations.

Members of the Glee Club will present "The Squash End Singing Society", at its Annual Spring Concert on Monday evening, April 25th, in the Warren Junior High School. Much interest as well as speculation has been aroused by the unique name "Squash End", and many legends have come to light. Among them is one which says that at one time, many years ago, the railroad station at West Newton was the end of the road, and was called "Squash End". Another tale relates that just over the line between Newtonville and West Newton one enterprising farmer of the latter village had grown an enormous squash out of all proportion to the ordinary size. This specimen he displayed proudly, a little boastfully, to all his neighbors. One of these in Newtonville, probably a little envious of the feat, dubbed the village of the boastful farmer "Squash End". Whatever the reason, it is true that, for a time at least, the village of West Newton was known as "Squash End". Now a chorus of fifty, including the Glee Club, several male voices, and a group of young girls, are rehearsing every week to make the Spring Concert of the "Squash End Singing Society" a huge success. This will be a real community affair with a full cast of local talent, the chorus, soloists, and dance orchestra all from the Newtons, working for the Scholarship Fund of the Club which enables some worthy Newton pupil to obtain higher education.

After the program there will be a social hour with dancing for all, and a demonstration of the "Big Apple" by pupils of Gerrie Wisbach. Tickets may be procured from Miss Elizabeth Kilburn, Telephone, West Newton 0137-W, or from Mrs. Thomas Cooper, Jr., West Newton 1688.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting and election of officers of the Newton Centre Woman's Club was held at the Club House Friday morning, April 8th. The officers elected were Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, president, who was re-elected; Mrs. Raymond F. McFee, first vice-president; Mrs. George H. Crosbie, second vice-president; Mrs. A. Harry Hutchison, recording secretary; Mrs. Eleanor B. Widger, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Walter I. Muldoon, treasurer; Mrs. John W. Duthie, assistant treasurer; Miss Elizabeth P. Bartlett, auditor; Mrs. William E. Shedd, historian; directors, term expiring 1941, Mrs. Raymond W. Blaisdell, Mrs. David E. Goldich and Mrs. Harry R. Marshall; and nominating committee, Mrs. Thomas W. Cumner, chairman; and Mrs. Chester P. Baker, Mrs. Howard H. Cooley, Mrs. William L. Doten, Mrs. William J. Ide, Mrs. Richard H. Norton, and Mrs. Lewis S. Pilcher, 2nd.

As the recording secretary read the consolidated reports of the chairmen, each chairman came forward and received a pink rose, amid the applause of the Club members for her excellent that Mr. Waters makes which is entirely misleading. He compares the cost of educating a boy at the Newton Trade School with the cost of tuition at Boston College and seems to think there is something wrong because the former figure is higher. It would have been much fairer to compare the Trade School with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Surely it must be obvious that shops are of necessity more expensive to operate than the classrooms of an academic institution such as Boston College. Moreover, in what reputable college does the cost of tuition give any accurate indication of the cost of educating the pupil? I do not know what the figures are for B. C. but at M. I. T. the cost per pupil is over twice the tuition, high as the latter is. (The difference, of course, is made up out of income from endowment.)

Hobbs Answers Waters

About all that can be said of Mr. Waters' comments on the Community Forum is that some people find it extremely hard to listen to any speaker with ideas different from their own. If Mr. Waters does not care for Messrs. Holmes and Hayes he could, however, easily have gone to other addresses in the series more to his liking. He evidently is not in sympathy with the idea behind adult education and feels that the development of a more intelligent electorate in this country is not a matter of any particular moment.

The completely irresponsible nature of Mr. Waters' criticism is, however, best shown by his next-to-last paragraph where he states that "it is generally believed that educators are, in the main, theorists, and this is necessarily so because very few of them have had practical business experience" and uses this as a premise for a criticism of the present Superintendent of Schools and Secretary of the School Committee. Have you then, Mr. Waters, had a great deal of business experience? If so, do you feel that it qualifies you for running a school system? Is there, to your way of thinking, no place for a philosophy of education back of a school system? . . . It is all too ridiculous!

The present superintendent of schools, Mr. Warren, certainly needs no encomium from me—Mr. Waters apparently never has talked with him—but he hardly would be asked to lecture and give summer courses at Harvard University if he did not know his job. As a matter of fact he has a national reputation as one of the leading school administrators in this country. Newton is extremely fortunate to have him. One gets in public schools about what one does elsewhere in life: just what is paid for—if one is lucky. Mr. Waters opens his discussion with a praiseworthy acknowledgment that the Newton School system is run honestly and then at the close implies rather inconsistently and without a shred of real evidence that they are run inefficiently and incompetently. This is manifestly unfair both to the individuals concerned and to the townspeople.

All of this is so elementary—not to say obvious—that I never would have bothered to write this letter, Mr. Editor, were it not for the fact that I am frequently amazed, in talking with friends and neighbors, to see how little otherwise intelligent persons know about school systems in general and our Newton system in particular. This is especially true of people without children and also particularly true of business men! It is with such citizens that a statement such as that of Mr. Waters can do much harm and he performed no public service in making it.

Given proper and deserved public support it is my belief that the present school administrative staff can, over a period of years, develop in Newton one of the finest public school systems in this country. Is there any good reason why we should be content with anything less?

Yours very truly,
JAMES B. HOBBS.

NEWTON CIRCLE

Mrs. Hilbert Van N. Schenck of Chestnut Hill, who has recently returned from an extended cruise, is opening her home at 82 Chestnut Hill rd., on Monday, April 18th, at 1 o'clock, for the luncheon-meeting of the Newton Circle, Inc., of the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion. Mr. Leonard Cronkhite of the Foreign Policy Association is to be the speaker.

clerks being engaged in arranging goods. The firm does not propose to give away violets to its customers, but they will sell everything in their line at such low figures that the ladies will have money left to buy violets or any kind of flowers they prefer.

Protect Your Dog Against Rabies

During 1937 the treatment of human beings bitten by rabid dogs cost the City of Newton over Eight Hundred Dollars. This paid for the treatment of 19 persons either bitten or exposed to rabid animals. Aside from the money expended from tax funds there is the inconvenience to the patients who had to receive fourteen injections of the Pasteur treatment.

The only scientific way known to control animal rabies is by immunization. The inoculations used by Dr. Boutelle at the present time have proved to be most effective. The number of rabid animals has been cut down from 22 prior to the holding of immunization clinics to roughly three rabid animals in Newton since the establishment of the clinics. In 1937, 4,072 dogs were licensed but only about 1,800 were given the rabies inoculation. Dog owners should realize that the protection afforded by this inoculation probably does not last longer than a year and in order to adequately protect themselves and their dogs, every licensed dog in the city should be inoculated every year.

It is not uncommon for rabies to occur in animals who have been inoculated two or three or more years prior to the onset of their infection.

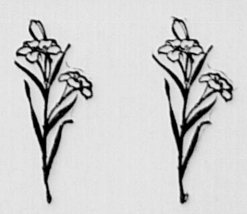

Newton uses the best type of rabies vaccine available and dog owners should have no fears of untoward reactions in their pets. The immunization by Dr. Boutelle is without charge to dog owners and is a service to which all persons taking out dog licenses are entitled. Dr. Chope, the City Health Officer, and Dr. Boutelle, City Veterinarian, urge all dog owners in Newton to avail themselves of this service.

Receiving Licenses For Their Dogs

Alderman and Mrs. Kenneth Tiffin of West Newton received licenses for their Great Dane dogs—Monarch's Kurt of Hobbyland and Haun Hexengold of Hobbyland from City Clerk Frank Grant on Wednesday. Licenses are now being issued at City Hall preparatory to the dog clinic to be held next week every afternoon, from Monday to Friday, inclusive, from 3 to 6 o'clock at the drill shed behind Newton High School on Walnut street, Newtonville.

Our Lady H. S.

English Club

The members of the Fr. Leonard Feeney English Club of the Sophomore Class held a meeting Friday morning in Room 10. Acting as chairman and secretary were Virginia Deague and Elizabeth Farragher, respectively.

The speakers for the session were as follows: John Murphy, who spoke on the razing of the coal sheds opposite Our Lady's Church; James O'Neil gave an account of Aileen O'Brien's lecture at Emmanuel College; Marion Bryson, "Child Labor Amendment"; Harry Waters, "The Significance of Holy Week Liturgy"; Sheila Lally, "Dublin Slums"; William Stokes, "The Fleet of the Future"; Eleanor Blute, "The Exit of the Bustle"; George Doherty, "Hitler's Guard"; Paul Cavanaugh read one of his original poems entitled "Tomorrow Never Came"; John Cronin and James Kiley spoke on "Jefferson's Lost Clause" and "Dogs of War." In Joseph Dunn's talk on "Pope Pius XI and Social Justice," he quoted in part: "Pius XI, the 261st Pope, will be remembered as the first of the successors of St. Peter to combat openly the anti-Christ of Communism, a heresy so strong today mainly because it had two centuries of preparation."

Musical Comedy

"Irene" a musical comedy, will be presented by the pupils of Our Lady's High School on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, May 4th and 5th in the high school auditorium at eight o'clock. A matinee for the children will be given Sunday afternoon, May 1st.

The leading roles will be played by Catherine Donahue, of the class of "38," as Irene, and Edward Clark, of the class of "38," as Donald Marshall supported by Catherine Callahan, Wilhelmina O'Brien, Margaret Byrne, Alice MacDonald, Evelyn Stewart, Margaret McPherson, Gordon O'Brien, Rose Timmins, John Bryson, James McElaney, Urban Deagle, Bernard Farragher, Edward O'Brien, Robert Gubbins, Gerard Matthews, Carmen Iadonisi and Lawrence Gentile, all of the senior class, in minor roles.

The various choruses are formed by the pupils of Junior, Sophomore and Freshman Classes.

Miss Catherine Donahue, who has been selected as leading lady is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Donahue of 205 Church st., Newton. She is the vice-president of her class, an honor pupil of the senior class, a members of the girls debating society of Our Lady's and an official of the varsity basketball team.

Boston El Pole Falls at Newton Sq.

A steel pole holding wires which supported a trolley wire of the Boston Elevated Railroad, broke Wednesday morning at 6:15 and caused a number of wires to fall onto Centre st. and Nonantum sq. The live trolley wire sizzled on the street for a distance of nearly 100 feet. The pole broke while a wire crew of the Boston Elevated was working on the wires attached to it. It had been corroded near its base and the strain caused by the workmen tightening the wires caused it to collapse. Its fall caused a second pole at the bus stop near the Hudson Drug Store to partially collapse. The El electricians shut the power off from the fallen trolley wire within a few minutes. Both poles were replaced late Wednesday morning. For a few hours, including the morning rush hour, passengers were transported between Newton and Oak sq., and Newton and Watertown in busses. Had the accident occurred an hour or more later, it is more than probable than several persons mght have been killed or injured as Newton Corner is crowded between 7:30 and 9 with commuters and automobile traffic.

Charge Against Speeder Filed

Carl Blakely of 87 Pembroke st., Boston, was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday charged with speeding. Patrolman Stevens testified that Blakely drove a car by Commonwealth ave. and Valentine st. on a rainy night at a speed of between 45 and 50 miles an hour. A fatal accident occurred near the place recently. Clarence Blakely, father of the defendant, said he was in the car when the police stopped it, and that his son was not driving faster than 20 miles an hour. The older Blakely told Judge Mayberry that he was formerly an automobile mechanic and racer. The judge placed the case on file.

WHEN PROF. QUIZ IS "STUMPED"..IT'S NEWS!

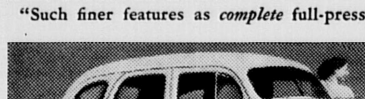

Radio's famous "Never-wrong" Man compares 1938 car values . . . frankly admits "How you can price a Nash so low is a mystery to me!"

"PICKING a new car is like competing in our weekly Battle of Wits," explains Prof. Quiz. You have to know the FACTS to win!

NASH VS. "ALL 3" CARS

"Or, put it this way: to match this Nash value in 5 other cars means paying an average of $125 more!

"And that's just the 'starter'. Nash alone offers the 12% gasoline savings of the new simplified 'super-thrift' engine.

"No car anywhere near Nash's low price offers you the famous Nash Controlled Air System*.. the Automatic Cruising Gear*.. Vacuum Gear Shifting*.. 'Dancing Sand' sound-proofing . . . or the 'bed-in-a-car' feature.

"Such finer features as complete full-pressure lubrication, and 7- and 9-bearing crankshafts, are exclusive with Nash and America's most expensive cars.

"I tell you, I don't see how Nash can put such low prices on such outstandingly superior cars!"

OUR ANSWER: Nash knows the only way to win against long-established rivals is to build SO MUCH MORE VALUE into its cars that the public can immediately SEE it!

See the Nash X-Ray System which gives you the inside story on 1938 cars. Ask your dealer!

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

ELECT CAPTAINS FOR 1939 WINTER SPORTS

Donald Abbott, star forward on the Newton high basketball team this past winter was recently the unanimous choice of his teammates to captain the 1939 quintet. Abbott, six-foot, 150-lb. high scoring star of the Newton team averaged nearly seven points per game in the last season. He was selected on the All-Suburban league team by vote of coaches of teams comprising the circuit.

John Flagg is the only other letter-wearer to return for next season, although Coach Frank Simmons has several likely varsity players in Gehling, Olivigni, Holmes, Genova Coletti and Heath from this year's second team.

Jack "Speed" Carder was elected captain of the 1939 hockey team at a recent meeting of the 1938 lettermen. Carder centered for the first line, led the team in scoring, and was a fine play maker. With twelve lettermen returning Coach Evan Johnson is optimistic over next season's chances. Captain Ben Mason, Don Manchester, Haggerty, Smith, and Dick McClellan are the veterans lost by graduation. Leading players among those expected to return next season are Gordon Goodband in the nets, Skene and Hutchings on defense, and Evarts, Holter, and Bill Maclellan with Carder, forwards, with one more season to play and Bud Hurley, Tedesco, Duggan and Hines, forwards with two more years ahead of them.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

The first handicap tournament of The Newton Archers was held on the Newton Centre playground Saturday, April 2nd. This was the first tournament to be held in honor of two of the charter members. The members so honored were Miss Stella M. Ives of Roslindale, Mass., and Mr. Louis C. Smith of Newton Centre. Mr. Smith is the secretary-treasurer of the National Archery Association.

Mrs. Leroy Schall of Newton Centre had the high score for the ladies, while Walter Kimber of Winchester, Mass., had the high score for men. Philip Spoffard of Arlington had the score for the juniors. Robert Goldich shot as a senior and had the highest shooting score on the field.

Mr. Kimber had the privilege of taking home the new anniversary cup presented by W. Evington Long, president of The Newton Archers. The archers will try for the cup each month. The person winning the cup three successive times shall become the owner of it.

The Newton Archers are planning to have Saturday shoots every week, the first one in each month being in honor of two of the charter members. The tournament May 7th will be in honor of Mrs. Henry Cummings and Mr. Ernst Herman.

TENNIS PROSPECTS AT HIGH SCHOOL BRIGHT

With five veterans available Coach Walter Taylor of the Newton high school tennis team has prospects of a brilliant season for his charges. Newton has established an exceptional record in past years in tennis and the 1938 team should hold its own with its predecessors, if not rise to new heights. For four consecutive years the Newton tennis team has captured the state interscholastic title.

Captain Don Manchester or Albert Everts will be at the number one berth with either given a chance to be rated as the most consistently strong player on past performances. Leslie Lowry, and Stuart Pattison are expected to battle for the third and fourth positions with Ernie Johnson, the fifth veteran, Bill Daley, and Phil Scanlon conceded a chance at these berths. Lowry, New England table tennis champion, suffered a setback in his tennis last season, but hopes to be in top form this spring. Other leading contenders for positions on the team are Bill Betz, runner-up in the fall tourney, Leon Kruger, Earl Vaughan, Harrington and Tom Peebles. The last named quartet were the nucleus of last year's second team.

GOLF

Coach Tom Walters of the Newton high golf team has four veterans available for the approaching season. This quartet is comprised of Tedesco, Ford, Balkus, and Luchiardo. Newton is a member of the Greater Boston Interscholastic golf league, finishing in third position last year. Waltham, Arlington, Lexington, Brookline and Watertown are other members of the circuit. Newton is expected to be a serious contender for this year's title for which play will begin about April 28. Coach Walters plans a qualifying round for candidates for the team from which the varsity outfit will be chosen.

Newton Figure Skating Club Annual Meeting

The Newton Figure Skating Club's annual meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, April 20th, at 8:00 o'clock, at the Playground House, Tyler ter., Newton Centre.

There will be a short business meeting, with election of officers, and presentation of certificates to members who have passed Junior Club Tests and U. S. F. S. A. Tests.

A talk on "Developing Skating" will be given by Mr. Ernst Hermann, Superintendent of the Newton Playground Department, and Dean of the Sargent School of Physical Education, Boston University.

Moving pictures of the Club Carnival, in color, will be shown by Mr. Leonard Craske. There will also be other moving pictures of skating.

Age-old Laundry Mark Disappears in Scientific Age

A $100,000 lawsuit by two mothers in a Chicago Maternity Home, who claimed a short time ago their respective babies had been switched, led to a system of "invisible marking" to avert similar tragic occurrences. Today the babies are "sun-tanned" with an identification mark immediately after birth. The mark can be seen only under a special lamp, and mothers needn't worry.

Thus it is that modern science steps into almost any situation with a solution that borders on the unbelievable. Naturally enough the modern laundryman, dealing in many of the simpler problems of science in the restoration of soiled fabric to its original state, should, when faced with a problem having more to do with the esthetic, turn to the laboratory for a solution. Mr. H. L. Rhodes, of the Pilgrim Laundry, to whom chemicals and purity bear as close a relationship as does sun and water, goes into the matter of invisible marking of things sent to the laundry from the esthetic side, and then into the labyrinths of fluorescence.

The Pilgrim Laundry's new method of invisible marking of articles of apparel, linens, etc., entrusted to their care is of special significance to the housewife. The scientist proves the world's greatest helpmate. The ray used by this firm to eliminate grotesque, unsightly and damaging laundry marks, actually does not eliminate marking. The marks are there but cannot be seen by the eye. The printed numbers on shirt or sheet appear only in shadow against the fabric under the rays of the special lamp.

It wasn't until science had developed in several fields, notably that of sympathetic links and X- and Ultra-violet rays, that anything could be done to avoid defacing splendid materials with marking while at the same time engaged in restoring and cleansing them. The customer of the laundry, good sport, always bowed gracefully to the inevitable. Now it's different. The scientist in the laboratory has so perfected the Fantom-Fast ray as to make it possible to clearly read under the ray, and under this ray alone, markings made with special invisible, indelible inks.

"We are proud of being able to introduce this improvement to the fastidious New Englander," said Mr. Rhodes, "and in connection with this advance feel that everyone should know of the vital part other special light rays play in the health and happiness of the individual."

And while still immersed in the realm of science, there are many absorbing facts for women in Mr. Rhodes' explanation of scientific washing methods.

"So scientifically planned are the washing processes in the Pilgrim Laundry," he says, "that laboratory samples of water drawn from the city faucet and that of water taken from the last rinse, prove that the last rinse water at Pilgrim is as pure as the water from the city faucet. Furthermore, clothes are really sterilized as effectively as milk is pasteurized."

Newton Residents Active In Grenfell Benefit Concert

Many Newton residents are working on committees for the concert to be given by Bidu Sayao, Metropolitan Opera soprano, Thursday evening, April 28, at 8:30 in Jordan Hall, Boston, for the benefit of the New England Grenfell Association, and others are subscribing to the benefit. Miss Sayao, who recently sang in Boston with the Metropolitan Opera Company, is now on her first concert tour of this country.

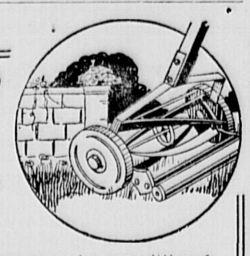

Mrs. George H. Wight of 25 Moreland ave., Newton Centre, is a member of the committee which has produced some very unusual programs for the concert.

Mrs. George S. Fuller of 22 Shaw st., West Newton, is chairman of the distribution and sale of programs in Newton and is being assisted by her daughter, Miss Marguerite Fuller and by Mrs. Wight. Among the early subscribers to the concert from Newton are Mrs. Frederic H. Kennard, 246 Dudley rd., Newton Centre; Rev. and Mrs. Edward T. Sullivan, 26 Orient ave., Newton Centre, and Mrs. Fuller.

CAPE COD COLONIAL HOUSE SOLD IN NEWTON CENTRE

Alvord Bros., Real Estate Brokers of Newton Centre, have consummated the sale of an attractive home built in a section of the beautifully landscaped tract of land at the corner of Centre and Mill sts., Newton Centre, Mass., containing approximately 271,191 square feet, owned for many years by Mary F. Walworth, and now under the development of Charles D. Train. There are being built, on carefully restricted lots, some of Greater Boston's most interesting homes containing every modern convenience. At 54 Mill st., there has been finished an attractive Cape Cod Colonial dwelling overlooking the Schrafft estate. This house is arranged with a well-proportioned living room, dining room, kitchen with quantities of cupboards and tile walls, study and lavatory. On the second floor there is an attractive large chamber with private bath and closets, and two other good-sized chambers with hall bath. There is a two-car garage attached to the house, within easy access from the side door. The playroom in the basement has a fireplace, and the house is heated by hot water with oil fire. The property is valued at $12,000. The dwelling will be occupied by the purchaser as a home.

PLANNING

IN LAYING OUT your home grounds, make the front attractive to the world in general. The back belongs to you and your family. It should have a good appearance, but, most of all, should be comfortable.

* * * *

IN PLACING trees or shrubs, try to visualize the appearance several years from now and allow sufficient room for development. Also be sure the full-grown tree will not shade some portion of your garden where you should have the full sun.

* * * *

COLOR CAN BE utilized to create impressions of space or distance, or the opposite. Blues and lavenders lend distance. A path seems longer if these are planted near the end.

* * * *

SUCCESSFUL landscaping is always based upon two fundamentals: Simplicity and naturalness. There must also be harmony without monotony.

* * * *

ALWAYS BUY seed of known quality for it is far more economical. Poor seeds take as much ground, effort and attention as does good seed and the little saving does not compensate for the unsatisfactory results.

* * * *

DO NOT make your garden too symmetrical with only the lowest in the foreground. Break this at irregular intervals with a little clump of the taller sorts.

* * * *

VISIT the flower shows. You will be able to see many of the new annuals actually in flower.

* * * *

IT ALWAYS ADDS interest to the garden work to try out at least a few of the new varieties or specialities offered in the seed catalogs each year.

* * * *

IF THE PLANTS around your door are low the corners should be high or vice versa. This avoids competition and monotony.

HANSEN—MARSTON

Miss Barbara Marston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Marston of Newton Centre, was married to Donald Alfred Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Alfred Hansen of Auburndale, on Saturday afternoon, April 9. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents on Dudley rd., by Rev. Abbott Peterson of the First Parish Church, Brookline.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory satin cut on princess lines with a veil of tulle and cap of duchess lace. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Her four sisters, the Misses Elizabeth, Janet, Natalie and Virginia Marston, were her only attendants. They were gowned alike in ivory chiffon and carried bouquets of spring flowers.

Dudley H. Braithwaite of Auburndale was the best man. The ushers were Edward G. Smith of Auburndale, Donald E. Murray of New York and Howard C. Perrine of Ridgefield Park, New Jersey.

A small reception, attended only by the two families and a few intimate friends, was held following the ceremony. The house was decorated with Easter lilies. Mrs. Marston, wearing a gown of navy blue marquisette, and Mrs. Hansen, wearing Burgundy lace, assisted the couple in receiving.

On their return from a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Hansen are to make their home in Newton Centre at 181 Dudley rd., where they will be at home after May 1.

The bride attended the Beaver Country Day School and the Katharine Gibbs School. She is a member of the Junior League. Mr. Hansen attended Norwich University.

HOYT—FOWLER

Miss Barbara Russell Fowler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred DuMont Fowler of 208 Homer st. was married on Saturday, April 9, to Newton Haven Hoyt, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Newton H. Hoyt of Fairfield, Conn. The ceremony was performed at 7.45 in the evening at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. M. R. Boynton of the First Church in Newton, Newton Centre.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an old family wedding gown of ivory satin trimmed with tulle and orange blossoms and her veil which fell from a cap of rosepoint had inserts of rosepoint lace. Her bouquet was of butterfly orchids and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Marion Chandler of Wellesley who wore aqua mousseline de soie with a tiny veil over her head and carried spring flowers.

Douglas B. Hoyt, brother of the groom, of Fairfield, Conn., was the best man. The ushers were H. Stetson Kinkaid of Schenectady, New York, Donald Robbins of Boston and Franklin K. Hoyt, a cousin of the groom, also of Boston.

The house was decorated with spring flowers and taper candles for the ceremony. The reception was held at the Woodland Country Club, Auburndale. Mrs. Fowler wore spring blue crepe and Mrs. Hoyt aqua lace.

On their return from a wedding trip to the South, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt are to reside at 1412 Kinyon st., South Bend, Indiana where they will be at home after April 17.

The bride is a graduate of Lasell Junior College, 1937. Mr. Hoyt is a graduate of Williams College, 1935 and of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1937. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa and the Liberal Club.

WRIGHT—WROE

At a candlelight ceremony on April 6th, Miss Elizabeth Wroe, daughter of John Walton Wroe of School st., Waltham, became the bride of Joseph Barker Wright, son of Mrs. Charles Henry Wright of Woodward st., Waban. The ceremony was performed at eight o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Chisholm Wroe of Waltham, brother and sister-n-law of the bride, with the Rev. Carroll O. Morong of the First Baptist Church, Waltham officiating.

The bride who was given in marrage by her father, was gowned in a lace redingote with short train over white satin. Her elbow-length double tulle veil fell from a Juliet cap of lace, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of mixed white flowers.

Mrs. William Peck Howe (Carol Walton Wroe) of Arlington, Va., was her sister's only attendant. She wore an Empire gown of aqua chiffon with a coronet of matching flowers. Her bouquet was of mixed spring flowers.

Langdon Coffin of Newton was the best man. There were no ushers. A reception followed the ceremony. The house was decorated with mixed white flowers, ferns and ivy, and the tables had centerpieces of white blossoms. The bridegroom's mother, receiving with the bridal party, wore a black satin gown with a corsage of pink sweet peas.

After May 15, Mr. Wright and his bride will be at home at 390 Woodward st., Waban. They have gone to New York and Atlantic City for their wedding trip.

The bride attended the Lesley School in Cambridge, and Mr. Wright attended Boston University.

RAYMOND—NEWEY

On Saturday, April 9, at 8 p. m., Miss Ruth Corinne Newey, daughter of Mrs. Minnie and the late Mr. Arthur Newey of 937 Chestnut st., Newton Upper Falls, was married to Rev. Fern Eldridge Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Raymond of California at the First M. E. Church, Newton Upper Falls.

Rev. G. Vaughn Shedd, pastor, officiated at the double ring service, assisted by Professor Earl Marlatt of the B. U. School of Theology, and Rev. Lawrence W. Emig, Supt. of the Lynn district of M. E. churches, before a candle-lighted altar which was banked with palms and white carnations. At the close of the ceremony, Rev. G. Vaughn Shedd administered communion to the bride and groom.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with tulle veil trimmed with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Ruth J. Batey of High st., Newton Upper Falls, wore a gown of aqua mousseline de soie with lace bolero jacket and carried a bouquet of Briarcliff roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Grace E. Nichols and Miss Helen Oldfield of Newton Upper Falls, who wore gowns of peach mousseline de soie with lace bolero jackets and carried bouquets of mixed sweet peas.

Connie Newey, youngest sister of the bride, as flower girl, was dressed in peach chiffon and carried a basket filled with sweet peas and daisies.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Donald Newey.

The wedding march was played by the organist, Miss Margaret Hartshorn, accompanied by Miss Millison Shedd upon the harp and Mrs. Barbara Seymour, eldest sister of the bride, on the violin. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Clifford Leighton of New Haven, Conn., aunt of the bride, sang "Because I Love You."

The groom was attended by a classmate, Rev. Robert Kibbey. The ushers, Rev. Jerry Milliken and Rev. Emile Mignery, were also his classmates at B. U. School of Theology.

At the close of the ceremony, Mrs. Leighton sang "Ave Maria," accompanied by her niece, Mrs. Barbara Seymour, on the violin.

A reception was held in the Parish Hall, the bridal couple receiving under a white arch trimmed with calla lilies. They were assisted in receiving by the bride's mother who wore pearl gray satin with a corsage of gardenias, and the bridal attendants.

Miss Newey was an employee of the Newton Library and Rev. Raymond is the Student Pastor of the South Tewksbury M. E. Church of the Lynn district.

work during the past year. Among the interesting reports was that the Annual Scholarship awarded to the noteworthy girl graduating from the Newton High School was given this year to Marcia Jackson. A Book Scholarship was awarded to Jean Wiggins. The Junior Woman's Club gave $50.00 to the permanent Scholarship Fund of the Senior Club, and $20.00 also was spent in the Junior Club Philanthropic work during the year. Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, speaking informally, asked that each Club member strive to think of others this coming year, more and more, and less of one's self.

During the luncheon hour, Miss Jane Hutchison, president of the Junior Club, thanked the Senior Club for their co-operation during the year. Miss Ann Hitchcock, the winner of the Scholarship last year, thanked the Club for her award. Miss Hitchcock has been on the honor roll at the Katharine Gibbs School through the school year. Miss Marcia Jackson thanked the Club for selecting her for the Jennie C. Harwood Scholarship this year, and promised to strive for the same good scholarship at Wellesley.

The outgoing and incoming members of the Executive Board were seated at a long table in the center of the Recreation Room, the only guests being the two honor students and Miss Hutchison, president of the Junior Club.

The afternoon program was in charge of Mrs. Edward A. Andrews, chairman of Dramatics, and Mrs. John W. Merrill, chairman of Music. The Famous Paintings of Madonnas, as given by Mrs. Henry Williams Inman, posed by Club and Junior Club members, was received most enthusiastically by the large audience. Sacred music was played and sung between the pictures. Guests of honor for the afternoon were ladies from the Baptist Home and the Stone Institute.

Various Events And Programs

Social Science Club

Mr. Francis Russell will speak on Current Events at the next meeting of the Social Science Club. The meeting will be held in the Parlors of Channing Church on Wednesday, April 20th, at 10 a. m.

The hostesses will be Mrs. John T. Alden and Mrs. William H. McAdams.

Newtonville Woman's Club to Broadcast

Members of the Newtonville Woman's Club, and other clubwomen in the Newtons, will be interested to listen in next Monday morning, April 18th, at 10:45 o'clock, on Station WORL, when the Club president, Mrs. George H. Tracy, will speak on the activities of the Newtonville Club, under the title of "Our Club, Its Organization and Purpose," including facts in regard to the Club House which it maintains. Mrs. L. Ivan Pettys, Music chairman and soprano soloist, will open and close the program with songs. Mrs. Thomas G. Walters, Program chairman of the Club, will speak on "Variety in Programs," a subject of special interest to all Program chairmen at this season of the year.

Newton W. C. T. U.

The meeting of the Newton W. C. T. U. was held in the vestry of the Newton Centre Methodist Church on Thursday, April 7th. The meeting opened with a brief business period, with the president, Mrs. William E. Birdsall, presiding. Mrs. Hattie E. Shultz conducted devotions and Mrs. William F. Ferrin led in the singing of the Twenty-Third Psalm. Mrs. Sarah S. P. Stevens displayed several posters to be put in prominent places for the promotion of safer and temperate driving.

Mrs. Robert L. Bushnell was the speaker of the afternoon, her subject being "Our Movie-Made Children." She emphasized the bad influence of some pictures portraying excessive drinking and smoking and false standards of morals. Some of these are so bad that they cannot be shown in this country, she said, but are sent to other countries, with the result that very erroneous ideas of American conditions are conveyed thereby. She described talking with a young Australian who told her that the people of his country had gained the impression from pictures that all Americans owned yachts and lived on large estates with numerous servants; and that it was not necessary to pay war debts, as the whole country was fabulously rich.

Mrs. Maud Simmons, W. C. T. U. County president, spoke of an influence for good as not being lukewarm, but as always standing up for the right. She referred to the fact that 1,500,000 girls are serving drinks in the country today, and that drinking and smoking among young girls are a menace to the coming generation. She announced the Bazaar to be held at Tremont Temple April 21st and 22nd by the State W. C. T. U..

Tea was served, at which Mrs. Otis White poured, and Mrs. W. E. Birdsall and Mrs. George W. Barber were hostesses.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

At the regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, held in the Second Church Parish House on Friday, April 8th, Miss Betty Haskins, of the American Air-Lines, gave a very inspiring informal talk on the duties of an Air Hostess. She started by describing the airplanes as to size and interior, and then spoke of some of the experiences she has had. Flying has become very popular and a great aid to business people, she stated, as well as to the individual, especially in case of sickness or trouble. Each plane carries three radios and keeps in constant communication with the ground. A girl who aspires to became an air hostess must first be a registered nurse, and she must be between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-six. She cannot weigh over one hundred and twenty-four pounds. They train in Chicago for about six weeks. It takes about one hour to fly from Boston to Newark, New Jersey, and about seventeen and one-half hours to fly from Newark to Los Angeles, were a few of her bits of information.

Mrs. E. J. Waterhouse, teacher of Speech Correction at the Perkins Institute for the Blind, with her Seeing-eye Dog "Peppy," gave a most interesting talk on how dogs happened to be trained to help the blind people. The venture started in Germany to help the blind soldiers at the time of the World War, and later on a training school was started in Morristown, New Jersey. It takes about three months for the average dog to be trained, and when a student wishes one of these dogs he goes down to Morristown and stays about four to six weeks with the dog and trainer and then is able to go anywhere with his dog with absolute safety. Dogs are trained to very strict obedience, and kindness toward them is a very essential point. When the master does not need his dog, the dog plays and romps as any other dog would do, she explained.

Mrs. Francis L. Kinney entertained with three delightful songs, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. G. Howard Frost.

The lucky number was drawn by the Air Hostess, Miss Haskins, for the quilt, and Mrs. George T. Hopkins, of Manchester, New Hampshire, daughter of Mrs. Carl N. Thomas, was the winner.

The Exhibit of Handiwork of the Club members was most interesting. There were many bed spreads, both crocheted and quilted; also tablecloths, luncheon-sets, scarves, doilies, needlepoint chair-seats, hooked rugs, and paper mat sets, and other articles among the exhibitions.

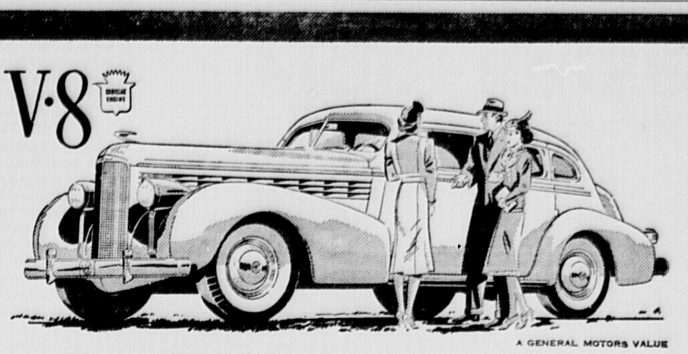

Club members are requested to save anything and everything for the Rummage Sale which Mrs. Patrick Duncan will direct on May 6th.

Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader, president of the Educational Club, entertained the members of the Executive Board at her home on Monday, April 4th, twenty-nine of the thirty-two members being present. After a delicious luncheon, Mrs. Charles E. Gibson, Jr., presented Mrs. Dockstader with a beautiful silver vase, and Mrs. D. Webster Anders presented a dozen gorgeous red roses. The president, in accepting the gifts, expressed her sincere thanks not alone to her friends for their thoughtfulness, but to them as members for their loyal support throughout the year. Mrs. Walter Frost and Mrs. Henry D. Stone assisted in serving the luncheon. The final board meeting followed.

Elections for new officers in Home Rooms 213 and 204 were held this week. In 213 Patricia Regan, Robert Bleiler, Evelyn Carson and William Doherty were elected to fill the leading positions. Betty Jane Blanchard, Walter Ravinski, Barbara Brown and Jack Keating are new officers in Room 204.

The Annual Spring Concert will be held Friday, May 6. This concert promises to be unusually interesting.

The Eighth Grade Girls' Drama Club, the Roister Doisters, presented "The Estabrook Nieces" at the Friday morning assembly.

The Girls Ninth Grade Volleyball championship was won by Home Room 210 under Captain Isabel Cumming.

Baseball season has opened at Weeks. Under supervision of Norman H. MacConnell, physical education director, the boys of each grade have organized their teams. Grade baseball is one of the most popular sports.

The tennis courts have come out from their winter covering and already the courts are busy with prospective court stars.

The annual selection of studies program is under way in all home rooms. Every student at this time makes his plans for the coming year.

Mr. Charles Connick, famous for his stained glass windows throughout the United States, gave an interesting talk in assembly on Friday morning.

Room 210 elected officers for the remainder of the year. They are Olcott Williams, president; Mary Lou Lappen, vice president; John De Angelis, treasurer, and Donald Halket, treasurer

Bigelow Junior H. S.

On Friday, April 8th, under the direction of Mrs. Gillespie, the commercial group of the ninth grade presented the casket scene from the "Merchant of Venice." John Boudreau announced the play. The cast included: Gertrude Foley, Jean Lovett, Gordon Kee, James Francis, John Engel, Norman Donnelly, John Boudreau and James Page.

Just before the beginning of the play, a short summary of the three acts was given by Helen Farrar. During the last act a duet was sung by Dorothy Bishop and Grace Fisher. Various members of the class worked on committees which helped with the performance.

Day Jr. High School

During the assembly period on Friday, Mr. Leigh M. Nisbet, head of the Norumbega Council of Boy Scouts, instructed and entertained the school with his interesting talk on Indian Sign Language and bead work. Sign language was much in evidence through the school for the rest of the day.

The 8th grade dance committee, headed by Jane Cary, only looks mysterious and refuses to talk when questioned about plans for the annual dance to be held May 20th.

Twenty of the women teachers were entertained at tea Friday at the home of Mrs. Ralph H. Seaman, who was formerly Miss Ethel Richards, teacher of music at the F. A. Day.

The Bulletin Board Exhibit this week was planned and arranged by the Dramatic Club which is under the direction of Miss Dorothy Sullivan. The committee in charge, consisting of Florence Fox, Chairman, Joan Wyatt, Jeanne Shepherd, Nancy Jaffar, Marie Gallagher and Janice Bail, placed on display pictures which contrast Shakespeare's theatre and the modern theatre.

On Tuesday, at 12:30, four of the 9th grade boys entertained as their guests Mr. Burkhard and Dr. Harold Chope, at a luncheon prepared and served by themselves. The cooks and waiters were Scott Doten, Alfred Tedeschi, Harold Barclay and Tommy Kelley.

On Friday the Day Broadcasting Club, assisted by members of the orchestra and ninth grade music classes, gave its last program in the series called Newton School Days, over Station WAAB. The broadcast, which was under the supervision of Miss Margaret Hart and Mr. Alden Read, centered around the subject of "Music in the Newton Schools." The script was written and read by Helen Colan, who was announcer, Phyllis Duff, Madolyn Spencer, Robert Shumaker and David Hunting. The following ninth grade singers took part: Alice Kelley, Thada Thornton, Marjorie Gregoire, Betty Waterhouse, Alice Birmingham, Phyllis Dodge, Camella DePasquale, Elena Visco, Marilyn Fickett, Blanche Kennedy, Jeanne Linberg, Genevieve Cupoli and Georgia Leonard. The trumpeters were as follows: William Wallace, Charles Thomas, Reynold Grammar, Frank Clark, Paul Harriman, Sheldon Jenkins, William Burt, Robert White and Robert Huke.

Warren Jr. High

Warren Junior High School students enjoyed one of the finest assemblies of the year on Friday, April 8th. General Daniel Needham, President of the Newton Safety Council, was the guest speaker and gave an interesting talk on safety. He particularly stressed the need of riding bicycles in a safe manner and outlined a plan now being considered by the Council to cut down the number of bicycle accidents. If this plan is accepted in the city, boys and girls will register their bicycles and pay a fee of 25 cents. They will have to pass a brake test and will be required to obey the same traffice regulations as automobile drivers, stopping at red lights and giving hand signals when they are about to make left and right turns. A very fine film, which was provided by the Massachusetts Safety Council, showed what Lynn school children are doing to make bicycle riding safe. The meeting was then turned into an open forum and General Needham answered the questions which the students asked concerning safety, the causes and prevention of bicycle accidents.

On Friday evening, April 8th, the Eastern Massachusetts League of Junior High School Publications met at the Lincoln Junior High School in Malden. The annual election of officers for the coming year 1938-1939 was held and two Warren Junior High School students were elected to serve. Patricia Maroney was chosen First Vice-President and William Phillips, Treasurer. The following Warren students were present at the League meeting: Oliver Lothrop, Thalia Weston, Adrienne Albee, Jerome Powell, Arthur Sadler, Audrey Quilty, Eleanor Cady, Edna Mayer, Patricia Maroney, Lois Loudon and Helen Till. Miss Rice and Miss Tufts were in charge of the group who attended the meeting.

Mr. Talbot of the Audubon Society was the guest speaker at the assembly on March 25th. Some very beautiful lantern slides of birds were shown and explained by Mr. Talbot who also gave imitations of bird calls. The different habits of birds and the various regions in which they live were explained by Mr. Talbot.

On Tuesday, March 29th, there was a special assembly at the Warren Junior High School. A play entitled "Our Health is Our Happiness" was presented to the members of the Junior I and III classes. This play outlined the Newton Tuberculin Testing program. Miss Mann was in charge of the assembly and the following students took part in it: Clifford Dale, Gordon Johnson, Hannah Tardivel, John Osgood, Arthur Ayre, William Tedesco, Arnold Raimondi, Richard Searle, Lois Southgate, Emma Thurber, and Barbara Goode. Dr. Chope, Director of Public Health, Miss Dority, the school nurse, and Mr. Scarborough also took in this play.

Play Day for the Newton Junior High School girls was held this year at the Day Junior High School on Wednesday, March 30th. The following girls earned the privilege of attending Play Day because of their excellent attendance at basketball practice: Nancy Concannon, Eleanor Kelley, Jeanne Havens, Betty McGinnis, Eleanor Cady, Betty Jane Goss, Catherine Bemis, Laneya Heath, Marie Callahan, Marjorie Curtis, Natalie Bigelow, Maurine Helms and Marcia Stone.

The Warren Broadcasters presented a broadcast over station WAAB at 8:30 on Friday morning, April 1st. The following students participated in this broadcast: Helen Till, Jo Humes, Virginia Graham, Paul Dunn, David Carpenter, Stuart McKenzie, Catherine McNamara and Thalia Weston. The Broadcasters are sponsored by Miss Pepin and Mr. Penny.

"SNOW WHITE AND SEVEN DWARFS" AT WELLESLEY

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," Walt Disney's delightful and spectacular successful film, comes to the Wellesley Hills Community Playhouse for two weeks beginning Saturday of this week.

Of infinite appeal to children and grown-ups "Snow White" has met a response of unequalled enthusiasm. Millions who revelled with unrestrained delight at the whimsical adventures of Walt Disney's Mickey Mouse are discerning a similar spirit of scintillating fun in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," especially when birds and animals take part in the action. But this first full-length feature of Disney's, operating over a wider range, provides diverse entertainment of a kind the screen has never offered before.

One hardly expects to find the strength of virile drama among the audience-pleasing attributes of such "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Yet it is there in generous quantities. The rare feat has been accomplished of combining dramatic thrills and infinite pathos with the delicately enchanting atmosphere of fabled Gnomeland, lilting tunes, merry, catchy songs and graceful dances.

Walt Disney has for the most part faithfully followed the original Grimm fable but in one departure he has added immeasurably to the film's delight. The seven Dwarfs are no longer just seven Dwarfs, they are Sleepy, Bashful, Grumpy, Happy, Sneezy, Doc and Dopey and each is a very definite individual.

Special shows are announced for Saturday mornings and on April 19 and two matinees and an evening performance are to be presented daily. Wellesley's Selectmen have even made an exception allowing a special presentation on Sunday evening, April 24.

Legal Notice

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Dunbar Contracting Co., a corporation duly established under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts having its usual place of business at Boston, Suffolk County, to Industrial Bank & Trust Company, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and having its usual place of business in said Boston, dated April 9, 1928, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 5217, Page 40, of which mortgage the undersigned is the Assignee and present holder, for breach of the condition of said mortgage deed and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at Public Auction on the premises hereinafter described on Tuesday, the tenth day of May, 1938, at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, described therein as follows:

"A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated on Dalby, Watertown and Faxon Streets in the City of Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, and more fully bounded and described as follows:

Southerly on Watertown Street on a curved line, one hundred forty-six and 69/100 (146.69) feet;

Southeasterly on a curved line forming the junction of Watertown and Faxon Streets, nineteen and 94/100 (19.94) feet;

Easterly on said Faxon Street, one hundred seven and 30/100 (107.30) feet;

Northerly on land now or late of Burke, seventy-one and 20/100 (71.20) feet;

Easterly again on said land now or late of Burke, sixty (60) feet;

Northerly again on land now or late of Good Citizenship Association Corporation, one hundred thirty (130) feet;

Westerly on said Dalby Street, one hundred fifty and 40/100 (150.40) feet;

Southwesterly on a curved line forming the junction of said Dalby and Watertown Streets, nineteen and 10/100 (19.10) feet.

Containing 27,593 square feet of land, be any or all of said measurements, distances or contents more or less or however otherwise said premises may be bounded, measured or described. The above premises are shown on plan by E. S. Smilie, C.E., dated Aug. 1, 1912, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds at end of Book 4117. The above conveyance includes all furnaces, heaters, ranges, mantels, gas and electric light fixtures, screens, screen doors, awnings and all other fixtures of whatever kind or nature contained in any building or buildings now standing or hereafter erected on said premises prior to the full payment and discharge of this mortgage."

Excepting therefrom the following which has been released: "The land in Newton in the County of Middlesex, with the buildings thereon, being shown as Lots 2, 3 and 4 on plan entitled "Plan of Land in Newton", March 20, 1929, E. S. Smilie, Surveyor, said plan being recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 5359, Page 296, said lots being together bounded and described as follows:

Westerly by Dalby Street, ninety-five and thirty one-hundredths (95.30) feet;

Northerly by land now or formerly of Good Citizenship Association Corporation, one hundred and thirty (130) feet;

Easterly by land now or formerly of Burke, sixty (60) feet;

Northerly by land now or formerly of said Burke, seventy-one and eleven one-hundredths (71.11) feet;

Aldermen Make Appropriations

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the following appropriations were made — for school building bond account, preliminary to bond issue, $43,000; purchase of additional land of soldiers' burial lot in Newton Cemetery, $3195. A bond issue of $58,000 was authorized to finance Newton's assessment for the addition built to the Middlesex County T. B. Hospital at Waltham. The following appropriations were recommended by the Mayor, but no action was taken on them—$1850 for study of Newton's welfare problem by Clarence A. Bingham; $250 for a rifle range for the police department; $11,000 to install two-way radio communication between police headquarters and police cruising cars.

Boy on Bicycle Collides With Car

Patrick Finelli, 13, of 35 Melbourne ave., Newtonville, had his right ankle broken about 4:40 last Thursday afternoon when the bicycle he was riding collided with an automobile driven by Francis Byrne of Walnut st., Waltham. The boy was delivering newspapers when the accident occurred and according to the report submitted to the police by the driver of the automobile, the boy rode out from behind another automobile at the corner of Walnut and Bowers sts.

Aldermen Cut $70,000 From Budget Recommendations Made By Mayor mileage basis. 9th. We purposely omit comment on the Welfare Department as a committee of the Board has been appointed to study this large and costly subject. 10th. We do not make comments on departmental purchases and allied economy and efficiency coordination as this is a subject within the scope of studies being made by the Legislation Committee. When the budget is accepted by the Board, the interests of the tax-payers then rest with the department heads. We have confidence they will administer the funds carefully and wisely.

INSERT TABLE HERE

The actual difference between the Mayor's figures and those of the Finance Committee is $104,407.19. But as the Aldermen at a recent meeting appropriated $38,000 which the Mayor had included in his budget estimates, this reduced the difference by that amount. This item was for Newton's share in the expense of maintaining the Middlesex County T. B. Hospital at Waltham, and it had to be paid before April 1.

Commenting on the Police Department, Alderman McKay said—

"In a supplementary letter the mayor approved the police department's recommendation of a salary increase of $290 for the auto mechanic. In accordance with our policy of not recommending most of the increases this year we are leaving the amount as formerly—$1500. But we do believe that auto-mechanic Beckert is deserving of an increase when conditions so warrant. He is well qualified to conduct the garage and repair work. He reportedly does all the maintenance, repair and service work. Let me now refer back to the sergeant-mechanic. We see no reason for expending $2450 annually for one who apparently can seldom be found at the garage and who is generally believed to do little if any of the manual labor. We regret that there is no alternative but to include the sergeant-mechanic's salary, since to do otherwise successfully we must have the cooperation of the mayor, who is the removing official.

"The 1937 expenditures as shown do not include a deficit bill. The appropriation was overdrawn about $250. Inexcusably so as beginning November 3rd when available balance could easily have been determined, the sergeant-mechanic changed from regular to Ethyl gasoline. In the 1938 request is an item of $800 for this extra expense. We do not approve it. If necessary, we shall give detailed reasons, but it seems unlikely there is a demand from the drivers of the patrol cars for Ethyl exclusively.

Referring to the Building Department Budget, Alderman McKay said—

"Last year one plumbing and two building inspectors who had been temporary were put on full time, making in all six full time inspectors. For some time past new building permits have been averaging about half the number of peak years when only six inspectors were employed. There has been much public criticism of this. We feel obliged to recommend an appropriation which until July 1st will provide full time for six and thereafter for any four whom the building commissioner elects to retain.

"We have not indicated by our figure which two will be affected. The sum is ample to retain the highest paid or any combination of highest and lowest. We did not act hastily. This was deliberated at great length and with serious thought. The main argument for retaining all inspectors was that the full force is needed for the pre-examination of houses, the owners of which may subsequently put in claims for damages due to blasting. We recommend that the practice of using the building department for inspection of property before blasting be discontinued except when specially requested by the city solicitor.

"In an endeavor to be fair we compromised on our first decision of May 1st and extended the full time to July 1st.

"It is well known that it is very easy to add personnel to city departments in prosperous and busy times, and that there is great reluctance to curtail proportionately in duller times."

In conclusion Alderman McKay said—

"The budget as recommended by the committee has now been informally accepted by the board. I suggest that the formal and enacting roll-call vote be postponed until the next meeting on Monday, the eighteenth.

"My reason for this is that we have made numerous suggestions which his Honor the Mayor will wish to study, and we sincerely hope will wish to discuss with the committee. As chairman I shall seek an appointment within a few days. The executive and the legislative branches of government are proper balances and checks. But there is no reason why friendly exchange of views cannot be held. There is no reason why differences of opinion cannot be held in the greatest respect—each for the other. We want to assure the public that is our attitude, and we are confident it is the mayor's. Therefore, we hope the press and the public will not attempt to speak for the mayor or for us, but will realize we are working together for only one cause—Newton's best interests.

"We have until May 1st to act on the budget and any further recommendations from the mayor. The assessors cannot establish the tax-rate until we complete our work on or before May 1st.

"If the board is ready to vote on the acceptance of our statement of general views we shall be happy to have your expression."

is Newton's did not just happen. It is the result of intelligent, unselfish cooperation by several generations of former and present residents of this city.

The innovation started last week by the Newton Health Department in mailing 4500 copies of a bulletin to a selected list of Newton residents is being financed at present by the Rockefeller Foundation, but if the bulletin becomes a permanent activity of the Department, eventually the city will have to stand its cost. In addition to the 4500 sent out by mail, about 600 copies are distributed to school teachers, and 500 are printed for distribution at the office of the Health Department. The cost of the five issues of the bulletin which will be distributed during the coming year will be about $600. Probably the most interesting feature of the bulletin is the table showing the ratings of milk sold in Newton by the 55 dealers listed. This rating differs radically from that issued by the Waltham Board of Health. It is based on the bacteria count made from samples taken during 1937. The Waltham table is based on the quantity of butter fat and solids found in the samples of milk.

Boys Burned By Alcohol Fumes

Three boys, pupils at the vocational school conducted in the Hamilton School building at Lower Falls were burned last Thursday afternoon when denatured alcohol fumes exploded. George Hackett, 15, of Washington st., West Newton received a severe burn on his right leg. George Mullens, 16, of Waltham st., West Newton received a burn on his left ankle. They were taken to the Newton Hospital by teachers at the school. Young Hackett had been told to remove some paint from the end of a screwdriver by sandpapering it off. Instead, he heated the end of the tool and plunged it into a can which contained some denatured alcohol, causing the fumes to explode. Warren Switzer, a teacher at the school, removed Hackett's burning trousers and wrapped the boy in a blanket.

Rob Handbag From Woman at Newton

As Mrs. Annie Rivkin of 150 Poplar st., Chelsea, was walking on Waverley ave., Newton, near the Burr Playground at 3:45 p. m. Sunday, a car containing three men stopped alongside of her. One of the occupants jumped from the car, seized a handbag Mrs. Rivkin was carrying, and then escaped in the automobile. The handbag contained $14.75.

Boy Vandals at Upper Falls Church

Rev. William O'Connell, pastor of Mary Immaculate Church at Newton Upper Falls, reported to the Newton police on Tuesday that the church had been entered during the preceding night by intruders who scattered vigil lights and papers about the floor, and broke a slide in a confessional booth. Patrolman George Kilmain investigated the case and questioned several boys.

Seaver; Floor Director, Captain Michael Turner. The reception committee will be headed by Lieutenant Thomas Burke of Engine 8, who is president of the association. He will be assisted by Frank Regan of Engine 2 and Miss Helen Duncan, clerk at Fire Dept. Headquarters. Captain Thomas Enegess of Engine 9 is chairman of the committee and arrangements. The other members of this committee are: Lieut. John Keating of Engine 1, Joseph Walter of Engine 2, Henry Halewood of Engine 3, Lieut. John Marchant of Engine 4, Fremont Keyes of Engine 5, William Foley of Engine 7, Nicholas Bibbo of Engine 8, George McIntosh of Ladder 2, Joseph FitzGerald of Fire Alarm Headquarters, Charles Hennrikus of the Wire Department.

Charles York Hit By Auto

Charles P. York, 45, well known Newtonville resident and submaster in a Boston school, was hit while walking on California st., Newtonville, shortly after midnight on Thursday morning by an automobile driven by Miss Alison Thorogood, 23, of 25 Ridge rd., Waban. According to the report made by Miss Thorogood to the police, she stated that while driving on California st., near Adams st., she saw a man walking toward her car, and thinking he wanted a ride, she became frightened and kept going. A moment later she realized that the car had hit him, so she stopped, saw him lying on the street, and then she drove to Newtonville square and informed policemen there of the accident. She drove them back to the scene and the police ambulance was sent for. York was taken to Newton Hospital where it was found he had a possible fracture of the skull.

While the police were at the scene of the accident, a car driven by John Lymer of Ash st., Waltham, came along and hit Patrolman James Cuningham, bruising both legs of the policeman.

Smoking In Bed Causes Fire

Engine 4 and Ladder 1 were called to the house at 941 Washington st., Newtonville, at 11:47 Sunday night to extinguish a fire in a bedroom. The house is owned and occupied by Mrs. Sarah Burns.

At 6:59 p. m. Sunday, Box 122 was pulled when the chimney in the house at 44 Billings Park gave way near the furnace, causing the flue pipe to collapse and filling the house with smoke. The house is occupied by Albert Dunlop.

Another Collision At Woodcliff Rd.

Cars driven by Frederick Colburn of South Natick and Warren Mason, Jefferson st., Dedham, collided at the danger spot at the turnpike and Woodcliff rd., Newton Highlands, on Tuesday afternoon. Colburn's car hit the traffic signal on the reservation after the collision, knocking it down. Both drivers claimed to have received injuries. Colburn's car was about to make a left turn when the car driven by Mason hit it.

Dog Hit By Auto Bites Policeman

Patrolman John Bagley of the Newton police was bitten on his right hand on Monday night by a dog owned by Wilton Harding of Lansing rd., West Newton. The animal had been hit by an automobile on Chestnut st., and Bagley was about to pick the injured animal up when it turned on him. The dog was taken to the city stable on Craft st., and from there to the Angell Memorial Hospital. Bagley was treated by City Physician Cummings.

Lasell Employee Had $9000 Estate

John Howald, employed as an engineer and janitor by Lasell Junior College for about 20 years, and who died suddenly on March 26, left an estate of about $9000. In Howald's room after his death was found about $600 in cash. Arthur Scipione of Newtonville, appointed administrator of Howald's estate, found securities valued at between $8000 and $9000 in a strong box rented by the deceased man in a Boston bank. Howald, a native of Germany, has no known survivors, although he was known to have had a brother. Baron Kurt von Tippelskirch of Newton Centre, German consul at Boston, is endeavoring to ascertain if Howald has any heirs living in Germany. If none are found, the estate, minus the fees of the administrator, will eventually revert to the State.

Newton Boys on Dean's List At Mass. Inst. of Tech.

The names of the following boys from Newton have appeared on the Dean's List of Massachusetts Institute of Technology for first term of 1937-38: Oliver King Smith, Charles Walter Doten, Latimer Whittle MacMillan, Jr. and Richard Muther of Newton Centre; Frederick Charles Came of Waban; Stuart Robert White of Newtonville; Benjamin Wilson Badenoch of West Newton; William Allen Camp, Jr. of Newton Highlands; Julius Kovitz of Auburndale; Roscoe James Cooper, Arthur Paul McCabe of Newton.

EASTER PAGEANT

Newton and Brookline young people are taking the leading parts in the traditional Easter Sunday afternoon pageant at the First Church in Newton, Congregational. Miss Jean Fletcher, Mr. William Rathgeber, Miss Bettie Fales, and Miss Carol Tibbott are portraying the chief character in the Easter drama, "The Open Tomb," by Constance Willis Camp.

Mr. John Tulloch, Jr., tenor soloist, will be featured in the musical program accompanying the presentation on the stage. Mr. D. Ralph MacLean, organist, is in charge of musical arrangement.

The pageant, centering about the condemnation, the crucifixion, and resurrection of Christ, includes a cast of thirty-five of the younger members of First Church. The time of presentation is four o'clock this Sunday afternoon. The director of the production is Mrs. Junius Martin.

Per Capita School Cost in Newton, July 1, 1936 to June 30, 1937

Per capita costs may be figured in several ways in any Massachusetts school system; for example, they may be figured on the calendar year basis (January through December) or on the school year basis (July through June). Inasmuch as the state reports demand that expenditures be figured on the school year basis, the following per capita cost figures for Newton are given in this way for the school year 1936-1937. The amount appropriated for school purposes does not enter into these figures. The figures shown represent instead the actual amounts spent.

REGULAR DAY SCHOOLS ONLY

Total Expenditures—Gross ..... $ 1,412,028.32
Average number of pupils for year—11943.
Gross cost per pupil—$118.23.

Income received from other sources than city taxes lessens the direct cost to the city as follows:

General School Fund, State	$96,311.20
Tuition	5,772.44
Cash Receipts	794.86
Refund on Sight Saving Class	500.00
Total Income	103,378.50
This makes the net cost to the city	$ 1,308,649.82

Net Cost Per Pupil—$109.57.

DAY TRADE SCHOOL ONLY

Total Expenditures—Gross ..... $ 79,985.93
Average number of pupils for year—244.
Gross Cost Per Pupil—$327.80.

Income received from other sources than city taxes lessens the direct cost to the city as follows:

Tuition Received	$18,947.71
Cash Receipts	17.86
Trade School Earnings	2,664.89
Federal Support	2,456.54
State Reimbursement	25,196.84
Total Income	$ 49,283.84
Net Cost to the city	$ 30,702.09

Average number of pupils for year—244.
Net Cost Per Pupil—$125.83.

Other educational costs included in the expenditures for 1936-1937 were the following:

Miscellaneous Expenditures—Gross: Evening Schools $7,915.80; Americanization $4,526.51; Special Electric $1,985.36; Rent of Garage $870.76; *Tuition for Continuation and Evening Schools $693.02; Special Furniture Appropriation $6,149.60. Total Gross Expenditures $22,141.05.

Income received from other sources than city taxes lessens the direct cost to the city as follows:

Cash Receipts $13.70; Tuition $598.80; Federal Support $135.13; Reimbursement, $1053.39. Total Income $1,801.02. Net Expenditures $20,340.03.

Because of the nature of these services and the fluctuating pupil membership during the school year, it is not possible to secure a per pupil cost.

*For courses not given in Newton.

In connection with the cost of the Trade School, the following comparative costs for the year 1936-1937 are of interest: Waltham $136.57; Weymouth $132.76; Newton $125.83; Boston $124.32; Worcester $113.63.

Little Newton Miss Feature in Legion Show

Joan Black, Aged Six, An Accomplished Entertainer

Little Joan Black, six-year-old Newton miss, will be one of the feature attractions of the Annual Welfare Concert, sponsored by Newton Post 48, American Legion, to be held in the Newton High School Auditorium, on April 28 and 29, at 8 p. m.

Last year, little Miss Black made a great hit in the Legion Concert, and this year she has already added to her laurels by her fine performance in the Annual Minstrels of Our Lady's Alumni Association, held in January. Joan is a pupil of the Newton School of Dancing, and specializes in acrobatic and tap novelty dancing.

Temperley To Run For Legislature

John Temperley of Thurston rd., Newton Upper Falls will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Representative from the 5th Middlesex District which includes Wards 4, 5 and 6 of this city. He is serving his 11th year as a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen and is quite popular in the South side of the city. Twice Temperley was re-elected to the Board over the opposition of the Weeks' machine. Two years ago he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Representative and finished third in a field of seven, losing one of the two nominations by a small margin. Alderman Paul Goddard has already announced that he will be a candidate for Representative to succeed Clarence Luitwieler of Newton Highlands who is serving his fourteenth year as a Representative to the Legislature from this city. Luitwieler has stated that he desires to serve another term of two years. It is also understood that Douglas Francis of Newton Centre, now serving his first term as one of the Representatives from the 5th District, will be a candidate for another term.

Rev. Tage Teisen Rector In Florida

Rev. Tage Teisen, formerly rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Newton, has accepted the rectorship of Bethesda by the Sea Church at Palm Beach, Fla. Rev. Mr. Teisen had to resign his pastorate at Grace Church because of illness, but has sufficiently recovered to be able to assume his new charge in Palm Beach.

Herter Speaks At Newton Bankers' Meeting

Roland F. Gammons Elected New President

The eleventh annual meeting of the Newton Bankers' Association was held on Wednesday evening at the Brae Burn Country Club. Over one hundred were present. Charles H. Clark of the Newton Savings Bank, president of the association, presided. Representative Christian A. Herter, a member of the recess commission on taxation and public expenditures, and Nicholas E. Peterson, statistician of the First National Bank of Boston were the speakers.

President Clark spoke of the death of two former officers of the association, Charles W. Mercer of Newton Highlands, and Judge William F. Bacon of Newton. He called attention to the co-operative spirit of the banks of Newton in establishing savings bank life insurance and stated that every bank in the city was an agent with the Newton Savings Bank an issuing bank. Mr. Clark stated that the total assets of the Newton banks had increased during the past year to $65,251,000 and that the real estate by foreclosure accounts of the local financial institutions had decreased approximately $90,000 during the year.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: president, Roland F. Gammons, president of the West Newton Savings Bank; vice-president, William M. Cahill, treasurer Newton Trust Co.; secretary, James B. Melcher, cashier, Newton National Bank; treasurer, Warren W. Oliver, treasurer of Newton Co-operative Bank.

Representative Herter gave a most interesting talk on "Taxes and Business" covering a large subject in a concise and interesting manner. As a member of the non-partisan special commission which unanimously recommended the adoption of a sales tax as a method of relieving the real estate tax burden Mr. Herter had given the subject much study. Mr. Herter gave, as the background of the study made by the commission, the fact that 95 per cent of the more than four million people in Massachusetts are dependent upon industry for their livelihood. Forty years ago Massachusetts had many industrial advantages such as clean rivers, waterpower, transportation facilities which other states did not have. Many of these advantages have disappeared with the shifting of the centre of population towards the middle west, and the increasing competition from other states due to improved methods of operation.

The commission also found that Massachusetts' greatest problem was in the costs of its cities. With nine cities of more than 100,000 population this Commonwealth has more than any other state in the union. Furthermore Boston ranks as the most costly of the large cities of the country and about $8 per thousand dollars valuation above the second city, Chicago, and nearly twice that of the lowest large city, San Francisco. Of the eight other cities over 100,000 population all are in the first thirteen of some 70 such centres throughout the country.

Massachusetts governmental costs, however, have risen but 140 per cent in the past fifteen years as against the next best mark of 216 per cent. Cost of other state governments have risen varying percentages up to more than 2300 per cent. Another interesting fact is that municipal government in Massachusetts, other than welfare, has decreased during the past seven years. Contrary to public opinion

Bids Received for West Newton School

Bids were opened at city hall last Friday by Public Buildings Commissioner Campbell for the contract on the construction of the new school at West Newton to replace the old Franklin School. The building will be located on Derby st. near the corner of Cherry st. The lowest bid received was from the D'Amore Construction Company of Boston, $264,000. Other bidders and their bids were—

M. S. Kelliher Co., $265,117.
Tocci Bros., $265,251.
John Bowen, $269,700.
Tredennick-Billings Co., $273,650.
John MacDonald Construction Co., $276,664.
M. Spinelli & Sons Co., $277,000.
Thomas O'Connor, $277,895.
Carrilli Contracting Co., $280,000.
A. Piotti Co., $280,935.
Rich Bros. Construction Co., $282,100.
J. J. Powers Co., $283,670.
Daniel Cunningham Construction Co., $283,700.
Tornabene Bros., $284,000.
E. J. Rappoli Co., $292,226.
O'Malley & Delaney, $301,688.

Each bidder had to submit five alternate bids covering varying specifications, so Commissioner Campbell said he would have to analyze all the bids to determine who to award the contract to. It is expected that work on the new school will be started next month, and it will be completed by January 31, 1939.

The Newton Legion Guards, National Champion Drill Team of The American Legion, will journey to Portland, Maine, on Saturday, April 23, 1938, to compete against the crack Kora Legion of Honor drill platoon. There they will be the guests of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. This huge and spectacular affair where will be seen the best drum and bugle corps, bands and military units of Maine and Massachusetts will be held in the Exposition Building in Portland, at 8 p. m. The general chairman is Mr. Sylvan Shurtleff. Governor Lewis O. Barrows will be the honor guest of the evening.

The Kora Legion of Honor is composed entirely of Maine Legionnaires, and is led by Captain Franklin H. Spencer. A few years ago, the Legion of Honor put on an outstanding drill in Washington, D. C., in honor of Mr. Dana S. Williams of Lewiston, Maine, who at that time was the Imperial Potentate of the Mystic Shrine of North America. Present with him at that time in the reviewing stand was President Roosevelt.

The Newton Legion Guards have been very busy since they became National Champions of The American Legion, last September, in the Polo Grounds, New York City. The Guards have served at the Installation of Officers of the Legion Posts in Chelsea, Waltham, Cohasset, and at the Parker House, Boston, for the Ensign John J. O'Connell Post. The Guards have marched in the Santason Parade, and Armistice Day Parade in Boston, the Constitutional Celebration in Brookline, and they were selected as the escort of National Commander Daniel Doherty in the Welcome Home Parade in Woburn. The Guards have put on exhibition drills in the Copley Plaza Hotel for the Y D Club of Boston, in the Boston Garden at the President's Birthday Ball and in West Newton for the St. Bernard's Parish Reunion.

The Newton Legion Guards have won many prizes since their organization in 1934. They are very proud of the many honors which they have brought to their home city as a team of Newton veterans. They are looking forward to the trip to Maine, where they were royally entertained last year. Mayor Edwin O. Childs of Newton, and many other friends, will be on hand to wish them luck, as they leave by bus from the West Newton Armory, on Saturday, at 2 (two) p. m.

The Guards are also looking forward to the American Legion State Convention in Worcester, Mass., on Aug. 18, 19, 20, 1938, where they will take part in the Drill Team Competition, and in the big Legion Parade. The Guards are also training for the National Convention of The American Legion in Los Angeles, California, on Sept. 19, 20, 21, 22, 1938. There the Newton Champions expect to be welcomed by Bette Davis, a former Newton girl. There the Newton Legion Guards will lead the entire gigantic Legion parade, as escort to a Massachusetts comrade, National Commander Daniel Doherty.

Floyd Chairman Of Republican City Committee

A meeting of the Republican City Committee was held on Wednesday night at the Newton Free Library. Fifty-five members were present and Mrs. Ralph Henry presided. Mrs. Endicott Saltonstall read a communication from Charles E. Hatfield in which he tendered his resignation as chairman of the committee, a position he had held for the past 12 years. Alderman George Rawson praised the services of Mr. Hatfield and Mrs. Saltonstall then read a list of the public offices Mr. Hatfield has held, and gave a resume of the long and valuable service he had rendered to the Republican party. He was elected honorary chairman of the committee.

Nominations for chairman were asked for and the only name presented was that of Alderman Charles B. Floyd. Mr. Floyd received 40 votes and scattering ballots were cast, of which George Rawson received 3, Kenneth Tiffin, 1; and Clark Bristol 1. Mr. Floyd made a brief speech of thanks for the confidence reposed in him. He appointed a committee, one from each Ward, to draw a set of by-laws.

City Again Is Upheld in Gravel Pit Action

The second major victory of the City of Newton in its litigation with the Highland Sand and Gravel Company was scored recently when Judge Morton of the Superior Court upheld the action of the Aldermen in refusing to renew the company's permit. Proceedings have been going on for more than a year. Last year Judge Boudreau ruled in favor of the city's right to prohibit heavy trucking on Dedham street, a regulation which would interfere with the business of the concern. An appeal to the Supreme Court, however, prevented the city from putting the trucking ban into effect. The high court has received briefs from attorneys on both sides of

Madden Writes On Quality and Purity of Milk

Refers to Comparative Methods Used in Health Bulletin

Recently the Newton Health Department inaugurated a new activity—the publication of a bulletin which was mailed to 4500 homes in this city. In the first number of the bulletin, published a few weeks ago, is a table which gives ratings of milk sold in Newton by the many dealers who supply this city. These ratings are based on bacteria counts rather than on butter fat or solids contents. The following letter from John C. Madden, chairman of the Newton Board of Health, refers to the method of comparison used in the bulletin issued by the Health Department. Mr. Madden has had practical experience in the producing of milk. For many years he has kept a cow at his estate in Newton. His letter follows:

"Why not publish the bacterial count and butter fat content of milk sold in Newton instead of rating by expression of opinion? Why is milk produced in Newton rated as fair while store milk coming from other states is rated as good? How can pasteurized milk have a high bacterial count?"

"The publication of the bacterial count and the butter fat and solids may not be correctly interpreted by the consumer and may be unfair to the producer. A consumer may obtain that information at the Board of Health Laboratory. A high bacterial count does not indicate that the milk is bad, otherwise the license would be revoked. Lactic acid bacteria are nature's laxative in milk though destroyed by pasteurization, a fact sometimes overlooked in milk diets. The state Board tolerates 40,000. Milk from the average family cow which was considered the ideal source of supply twenty years ago contained 40,000 to 60,000. The bacteria found in tests of city water are harmless. While milk with a high bacterial count may not be inherently dangerous, it may be a potential source of danger. If it should contain germs of typhoid fever, or some other contagious disease an epidemic of that disease may result. A common cause of a high count is keeping milk at a temperature above fifty degrees. The number of bacteria will double in one hour and the richer the milk the more bacteria. That is the reason why some local producer and distributor receives a rating of fair—he fails to take the precautions to control the bacteria after pasteurization which the importer of milk must take. The latter may obtain his supply in car load lots from farmers in Maine, Canada or Northern New York, some of whom may have no incentive to produce clean milk, or facilities for cooling it. A high count may be developed before it reaches the receiving station where the filtering and clarifying processes remove every particle of insoluble dirt or foreign matter. The pasteurizer destroys the harmful germs and the refrigerating or cooling process reduces the temperature to near freezing where it remains until time for delivery. A test of that milk may show only 3000 bacteria. The fact that local milk is fresh and pasteurized does not count in the laboratory tests, if the latter precaution is not taken. It must be remembered also that the local Board is preeminent among health boards for its inspection of the source of supply and with that background it is qualified to make the ratings of good or fair on a sounder basis than can be made from a casual reading of abstract bacterial counts.

"The butter fat content of milk may interest the consumer, but the Board

Aldermen Refuse Use of Tax Titles To Borrow Money

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the 1938 budget was passed with but two minor changes from the figures submitted by the Finance Committee at the meeting a week previous. The sum of $43.55 was added to the Fire Department budget to allow for a step-rate increase for one fireman, and $100 was added to the Police Department budget to care for the salary of the matron. Formerly she received $100 from the Newton court, but this year the court would not pay this sum, so the city had to add it to the salary formerly paid by the police department. The Board, however, refused to approve the recommendation of Mayor Childs that the City treasurer be authorized to borrow $200,000 with tax titles held by the city as security. Alderman McKay, as chairman of the Finance Committee, stated the Board took this action because the Mayor refused to accept the proposal of the Finance Committee that the budget be balanced by providing sufficient funds to care for the Welfare Department requirements for the ensuing year and by recommending a surplus fund of $75,000. The borrowing of $200,000 against the tax titles would have reduced the coming tax rate by about 60 cents.

Alderman Temperley was the only member of the Board to vote in favor of borrowing the $200,000. He said this method had been used for several years, and he asserted that it is not fair to the taxpayers to add onto this year's tax rate the $228,000 spent over the budget the past year in addition to refusing the advantage which would accrue if the $200,000 were borrowed with the tax titles as security. He said the practice of borrowing against the tax titles was started by Mayor Childs' predecessors, and it is not fair to the Mayor to give him this consideration. Alderman McCabe complimented Chairman McKay of the Finance Committee for the excellent work he had done on the budget. The budget as passed totalled $4,997,973.66, plus $283,445 for the Water Department expenses; the latter to come from water revenue.

Appropriations passed by the Board included $11,000 to provide two-way radio communication for the police department; $125 to settle a claim made by Catherine Matthews for an injury caused by a fall on Cherry st.; $2700 for materials for the WPA sewing project; $120 for the salary of a temporary investigator for the Welfare Department; $2400 for a sewer in Janet rd., Newton Centre and $1370 for an extension of this sewer; $1750 for grading work at the water reservation; $5000 for eliminating dead-end water mains; $130 for extension of a water main in Cochituate rd., Ward 5. The trustees of the Cousens Fund were authorized to make loans of $4000, $3800 and $4300 on real estate.

The petition of the Sutcliffe Company for a permit to install a gasoline tank and pump at 275 Needham st. was granted. The petition of Albert Temperley for a permit to change a one family house at 38 Paul st. to a two family house was again refused. The petition of residents of an apartment house at Chestnut Hill that they be permitted to park their automobiles all night without lights on Manet rd., was refused. The Street Traffic Committee and the Claims & Rules Committee both agreed that it is against public interest to allow the streets to be used as garages. The Claims & Rules Committee reported against the recommendations in the Mayor's inaugural address that a 15 foot setback be established when a residential zone is changed to a business zone. Alderman Rawson argued that such a

THE PAY-AS-YOU-GO

There is evidently some difference of opinion as to what constitutes a pay-as-you-go policy. The Mayor and the Aldermen have expressed themselves in favor of such a course and yet there is a difference of opinion as to the advisability of borrowing against tax titles in order to meet anticipated expenses and to establish a reserve against unforseen contingencies. During recent years we have witnessed the taking over by banks, municipalities and even by the Federal government of real estate because of the failure of the owner to pay interest, mortgages or taxes. The borrowing by cities against tax titles is a practice which has been quite generally adopted in these difficult years, yet it constitutes an uncertain method of financing. It is true that the legislature has wisely set a limit on the amount of such borrowing. Even with this limitation, however, it is a practice which should only be resorted to as a final curb against a drastic rise in the anticipated tax rate. Public consciousness of the financial situation of any city demands that the tax levy placed upon the taxpayers be an honest one, in brief, one that provides for adequate provision for the cost of government.

A PARTY MAN ALL THE TIME

The resignation of Charles E. Hatfield as chairman of the Republican City Committee was accepted this week. Mr. Hatfield has served, not only the city, but the county and state, for many years. His political wisdom was exceeded by few persons. Health and advancing years have made it impossible for him to give the strength and energy which he devotedly and wholeheartedly gave to the Republican party for so long. The committee has sincerely and genuinely recognized his value by making him its honorary chairman and adopting resolutions expressing gratification for his services. Charlie Hatfield was a party man, from the drop of the hat to the end. He has forgotten more politics than most politically minded persons will ever know, and even today he retains equally as much.

FIFTY YEARS OF SERVICE

Another valiant servant in Newton will receive recognition for his efforts next week when Charles R. Sladen, organist, is tendered a reception by parishioners of the Grace Episcopal Church. Mr. Sladen is entering upon the fifty-first year as organist, a record of religious service which is seldom equalled. It is said that music ofttimes charms the soul and literally thousands of persons have been spiritually benefited by the gifts possessed by Mr. Sladen. We add our congratulations to those of his many friends on this fifty-first milestone of service.

Mrs. Robert Lindquist is chairman of the committee and she will be assisted by Mrs. Harold S. Lounsberry, Mrs. Chester S. Merrill, Mrs. Clarence A. Wentworth and Mrs. Leon L. White.

THINK IT OVER

It's nice to feel sympathetic toward the gent with the wagging thumb who stands by the side of the road begging for a ride. But before you offer him a lift just remember this: hitchhikers, so called, steal automobiles right out of the hands of their drivers; they beat up and rob passengers, and not infrequently murder in plying their nefarious trade under the guise of innocent ride-seekers. Just remember these facts the next time you feel soft-hearted and start to pick up a thumb jerker.

Blakemore Contends That Aldermen Should Have Control of School Costs

Prof. J. Mace Andress Replies To James M. Waters' Contention That Educators Are Theorists

To the Editor:

Mr. Waters has performed a distinct public service in calling the attention of the citizens to the increasing school costs and I would go a step further and suggest that the fundamental difficulty with the situation is that the Board of Aldermen has lost control of the School Budget. This has been brought about by the School Teachers' Lobby during the last twenty-five years and has given rise to this impossible situation that the Aldermen who are the duly constituted appropriating body in the municipality, have lost control of the largest single item in those appropriations.

When I was a member of the Board we considered it the duty of the Board to consider and co-ordinate the needs of all Departments including the School Department and to allot to each Department what we fairly could, having regard to the needs of all other Departments. It is necessary in any business to have one body do this work as I do not need to point out that it would be ridiculous to attempt to run any business and have one Department in the business authorized to spend money without any control or regard to the funds available.

The Aldermen have now lost their heritage and have to shrug their shoulders and say that the School Budget is none of their business which leaves them in an impossible situation as they are held responsible for the tax rate. I believe the Newton Board of Aldermen might well now initiate a campaign to put the School Budget back in the control of the City government where it belongs. The Newton Board of Aldermen in the past has shown capacity for leadership in good government and might conceivably do so again.

When I was a member of the Board we were confronted by one of the Chamber of Commerce greater Boston schemes, and the Newton city government, under the very able leadership of Mayor Hatfield and Franklin T. Miller of Auburndale, finally succeeded in defeating the Chamber of Commerce. They organized the City governments of the Metropolitan District in almost unanimous opposition and my report to the Board on the economies and other advantages of local self-government was made the textbook of the campaign.

So the present Board has the opportunity, if it has the energy and ability of the Aldermen of twenty-five years ago, to organize the City governments of the distressed cities of Massachusetts like Boston, Lowell, Lawrence, Woburn, Fall River, New Bedford, etc., in a demand that they be given the necessary control of school expenditures and in that campaign they would have only the opposition of the School Teachers' Lobby. Mayor Tobin said recently that his Bill to give the City of Boston control of the School Budget was defeated by intensive lobbying on every member of the Legislature throughout the State. Such a campaign in the interest of good, economical government should receive the united support of the taxpayers and voters throughout the Commonwealth, and I do not believe the School Teachers' Lobby could stop it if it was properly handled.

Here is a constructive thought and a valuable task for the Board of Aldermen to undertake with the help, possibly of the Taxpayers' Associations.

Very truly yours,
ARTHUR W. BLAKEMORE.

April 12, 1938.

Editor Newton Graphic:

The taxpayers of Newton should be grateful to James A. Waters for his careful study of statistics dealing with the expense of running our public schools. This study was presented in an address before the Finance Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen and published in THE NEWTON GRAPHIC under date of April 8. He makes it quite clear that it does cost money to run our schools but it still is an open question whether a marked saving can be effected without seriously impairing the excellent service which we have been led to expect in our city.

Mr. Water's patience and skill in handling his facts stand out in startling contrast to his brilliant flight of imagination in which he ventures to definitely fix some of the responsibility for the advance in the cost of running the schools. Here he forsakes his sound body of facts and resorts to theory and apparent antagonism toward educators. He suggests that our superintendents of schools have taken over authority lodged in the school committee, a body of seven members, mostly businessmen. These men do not have the time to "supervise the expenditure of every dollar appropriated for school purposes" so they naturally shift their responsibility over to the superintendent of schools and the secretary of the School Committee. For this usurpation of power the superintendent is held largely responsible. Mr. Waters generously pays his compliments to educators and practically tars them with the same brush. "It is generally believed," he says, "that educators are in the main theorists, and this is necessarily so because so few of them have had business experience. It is characteristic of them to put their theories into effect with little consideration of the cost." This inference seems so satisfying to our statistician that without pausing to take his breath he makes another leap into the flying trapeze and carries his prejudice over to national affairs. "We have had experience with them as 'Brain Trusters' in Washington," he says, "and I am wondering if we are not having our experience with them here." Apparently educators are definitely responsible for a significant increase in both our local and national expenditures and for some of the follies of the new deal.

Mr. James A. Water's clever allusions (or illusions?) to the teaching profession are genuinely inspirational. As the high school boy or girl would say: "I get a great kick out of it." Everybody knows that teachers have been denied by custom and public opinion from participation in practical politics. It is thrilling to think of how representatives from this ancient and ultra-conservative profession have deftly and cleverly by peaceful penetration slipped something over on our Newton School Committee. They have even made themselves felt in the councils of the nation. Of course, they have made mistakes but they have demonstrated that they can learn.

But just why should Mr. Waters deify the business man and set him up on a high pedestal? Does he never make mistakes? Who was largely responsible for the depression which began under Hoover? Even with an elastic imagination it would be impossible to stretch it so far as to make educators responsible for it. It had many roots, but who were directing the great political and economic forces of the nation at that time? Was it not business men? Some of them were able, conscientious and farseeing and some were not. If Mr. Waters wishes to orate on the grandeur of business men as judged by results and relies on facts he will find the job hard sledding in places. Perhaps they too have something to learn.

By the way, here is a suggestion for the statistician. Keep to the facts. Rule out prejudice. In stirring up the statistics add generously the ingredients of caution and justice. The "new deal" may be questionable but the "square deal" is a philosophy which has paid rich revenues throughout the ages. Educators are entitled to this treatment. Admitted, this is theory—yes, of course, I am a teacher.

MR. WATERS EXPLAINS ATTITUDE

April 20, 1938.

To the Editor:

I presume that I, having opened the discussion concerning public school costs, will be granted the usual privilege of making the closing argument. This I shall attempt to do in the issue of the NEWTON GRAPHIC to appear on April 29.

Meanwhile, permit me to congratulate you upon the fair and impartial attitude which the editors of the GRAPHIC have maintained. In devoting so much valuable space in your paper to the opinions of those who have any statements of value to offer, you not only perform a distinct public service but show that you are keenly aware of the fact that by far the greatest responsibility of any government is the education of youth.

Most of our school teachers realize this responsibility and are discharging it in a manner eminently satisfactory. I have the highest respect for the teaching profession—the most important of all professions—and I am confident that we can safely leave to the teachers the instruction of children under curricula established by competent authority. But it is my firm conviction that the expenditure of the taxpayer's money should be in the hands of practical business men and that they should comprise the majority of any School Committee.

In my forthcoming statement, I will not, nor should I be expected to reply to any intellectually dishonest individuals, who finding themselves unable to deny, successfully, the accuracy of any statistics presented by me, seek to discredit them by publishing figures which tell a part, only, of the truth.

It will be a privilege, however, to reply to the very able presentation of the teachers' point of view contributed by Mr. James B. Hobbs in the NEWTON GRAPHIC of April 13, as well as to the calm and straightforward statement of Mr. James Forbes, Director of the Trade School. I can assure them that there will be no intentional malice in anything I may say, for it would be unfortunate, indeed, should this important discussion engender ill-will among people who entertain honest convictions differing from those of others and have the courage to honestly express them.

Very respectfully yours,
JAMES A. WATERS.

Newton Men Elected Boston City Club Officers

Two Newton men have been honored by election to offices in the Boston City Club. Edwin C. Johnson of Newton Highlands was elected second vice president of the club, and Charles E. Hatfield, of West Newton, was re-elected treasurer of the City Club at the annual meeting of the club's Board of Governors.

Mr. Johnson is president of the H. A. Johnson Co., Boston, and also was elected to serve a three-year term on the City Club's Board of Governors at the annual elections of members held recently. Mr. Hatfield has been a member of the club for many years and is also treasurer of Middlesex County.

Newton Republican, April 22, 1876

The committee of the Newton Horticultural Society has an important announcement this week. The custom of planting trees by the roadside has received a new impetus this year through the earnest efforts of B. G. Northrup of Connecticut, formerly of Newton, who urges the plan as one way of commemorating the Centennial Year. A great many in this State have adopted his suggestion and are planting trees along the roadsides.

The Newton Horticultural Society offers the following prizes for the planting of shade trees by the roadside during this year: 1st—a prize of $20 for the largest number and best quality of trees; 2nd—A prize of $15 for a number not less than 15 trees, and of the best quality; 3rd—Two prizes of $10 for a number of trees not less than 10, and of best quality; 4th—Two prizes of $7.50 each for a number of trees not less than 7; 5th—Five prizes of $5 each or a number of trees not less than 5.

The trees must be in good growing condition by August 15, at which time the committee will award the prizes. While the variety, size and distance apart are left discretionary to contestants, the committee would suggest that elms be set on the sides of wide streets where the soil is damp; that maples be set on streets of moderate width where the soil is dry; and that ash or horse chestnut trees be placed on the sides of streets which have the most soil. The committee suggests that trees be set on the street line between sidewalk and gutter, or if the street is narrow on the land of the abuttor. Elms should be planted at least 40 feet apart, the other trees 30 feet.

EXTRA—FRIDAY
3:30 P.M.

A dispatch just received from Newton Center states that a force of Italians who were at work at the construction of the Boston water works aqueduct in Needham came to Newton and interfered with the men working here, demanding that they, too, should go on strike. A fight ensued and the whole Newton police force was called. Three men were arrested and the fight stopped. Only a few bloody noses and bruised heads resulted.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening a communication was received from the Water Commissioners recommending the adoption of the following water rates: One family, 1 faucet, $6; each additional faucet, $2. Two families or more, 1 faucet for each, $4. Bath tubs, $5, additional bath tubs, $3. Set wash tubs, not more than 3 in set, each $1. Water closets, $5. Private families numbering less than 12 may commute the above for $25. Boarding house, double the above rates; hotels, each bed for boarders, $3. Rate by meter, each 100 gallons 2½ cents.

Newton Graphic, April 20, 1888

The Boston Record had a sensational article a few days ago regarding the illegal sale of liquor at Nonantum and gave the names of some twenty or more places where liquor is reported to be sold. The statement was made on authority of a man who would not allow his name to be used. The Record's account was much exaggerated, and although the liquor traffic is bad enough, it is by no means so public as the Record article claimed. The names of the parties given in the article have long been known to Newton police, their places have been raided a number of times and the keepers arrested. As usual in such arrests it is almost impossible to secure enough evidence to convict. The City Marshal says that although the evidence would seem to indicate illegal sales of liquor convictions cannot always be obtained in the local court, and when appeals are taken to the Superior Court, the defendants are usually acquitted. They secure the services of some lawyer well versed in such practice, and who takes advantage of all technicalities in the law. Nine times out of ten he secures an acquittal.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening, Mayor Kimball said that the cities of Cambridge and Waltham and the Town of Watertown are willing to co-operate with Newton in establishing a truant school for the confinement of minor children who are proved truants from school, the school to be built at the expense of Middlesex County.

In spite of the lack of sewers, Newton appears to be the healthiest city in the State, the death rate for last year being but 12.42, while other cities ranged from Boston 23.40 to Waltham 12.69. Of the deaths the largest number, 28, were due to consumption; 22 to heart disease, 21 to pneumonia, 14 each to old age and cholera infantum, 13 to bronchitis and 11 to apoplexy.

The Comets and the Young Ideals of Newtonville played baseball at the Magnolia field last Saturday, the former winning by a score of 39 to 33. They would like games with clubs averaging 12 years.

There will be a checker match on Friday evening at 8 in the old school house at Upper Falls between William Bird and W. F. Lowe for the championship of the village. Admission 15 cents.

Edward H. Powers' Paragraphs

There are wars and indications of more wars, and the depression (alias recession) continues in this country. But all is not gloomy. Spring is here with its verdant beauty, the forsythia and magnolias have been in bloom, the trees are budding, and the new styles in headgear the women are wearing make even discouraged folks smile.

Now that the motorcycle policemen are freed from performing lengthy periods of traffic duty at the intersection of Walnut st. and Newtonville ave., they will have more time to patrol the dangerous stretches along Washington st., between West Newton and Newton Corner and along Watertown st., between West Newton and Nonantum.

The contention of President Roosevelt in his recent speech that public employees who have been exempted from paying Federal or State income taxes should pay such taxes, only agrees with what millions of persons have been asserting for years. The practice of exempting persons holding public jobs from paying such taxes started many years ago, and the reason given was—that public employees had limited salaries, and did not have the same opportunities to obtain large incomes as had persons in business or private employment. The economic upheaval of the past 10 years, and the resultant depression has eliminated this argument. Millions of persons who formerly had good positions in private employment have been out of work and on welfare, or have been struggling along on meagre incomes. A large percentage of small business men and women are in desperate financial plight. Persons having steady employment in public positions, and receiving good wages or salaries have been for some years very fortunate, and with the decided change in economic conditions cannot expect to be permanently a favored class as regards tax exemption. And the same reasoning applies to tax exempt securities.

The little Judas tree near the Centre ave. railroad bridge of the Boston & Albany railroad at Newton is again in beautiful blossom.

It is about time that some action be taken to stop the practice which has become frequent in late years of attempting to defeat the law regarding the execution of those who commit murder in the first degree. In the cases of such cold-blooded murderers as "Red" Snyder, the Millens, the Distasios, and now Simpson, of whose guilt there was not the slightest doubt, appeals were taken to the State Supreme Court and the U. S. Supreme Court on flimsy technicalities. The highest judicial body of the nation properly turned down the appeals, but the end of justice was delayed and the time of our Governors, executive councils and justices of high courts unnecessarily taken.

We have been asked to comment on the alleged violation of the law pertaining to the sale of merchandise on Sunday by a storekeeper in Newton. This man conducts a store on Centre st. and formerly had a common victualler's license, but the license was not granted to him this year. Notwithstanding, he has kept his store open on Sundays. He has been dispensing food and has also sold groceries. Recently a Newton policeman purchased a cup of coffee and doughnuts at the store, and also bought a can of peaches on a Sunday. A complaint was asked for from the Clerk of Court, but to date none has been issued. The comment has been made that drug stores and other stores in this city have been violating the common victualler law, and Chapter 136 of the State laws by selling groceries and other merchandise on Sundays. Obviously, the enforcement of the law pertaining to common victuallers and engaging in business on Sundays is being less and less enforced in this city. The enforcement of these laws in the past has contributed to a large degree in making Newton more desirable as a residential community than other places in Greater Boston.

When the writer was a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen, we lead a successful fight on two occasions against the granting of a common victualler's license to Liggett Drug Stores, although much influence was used in the effort to obtain the license. The Board of Aldermen took the view that a drug store and a lunch room should not be jointly operated because the handling of food would jeopardize the correct compounding of prescriptions, and the handling of drugs might poison the food. The establishment of a License Commission in Newton took away the power of granting common victualler licenses from the Aldermen, and although the Commission has granted no common victualler licenses to drug stores, the practice of such stores operating as lunch rooms has become common in the city the past several years, and they have been permitted to openly violate the law. Most of the drug stores only serve prepared sandwiches and cakes, with coffee, cocoa or milk, and there has not been much criticism against this, even though it is illegal. But some of the drug stores, including one at West Newton and one at Newton Corner, have been serving soups, stews and other articles of food. Why are they permitted to ignore the law? And why should not a complaint be issued against the storekeeper at Newton who is violating both the Lord's Day law and the common victualler law when the police obtain evidence and ask for a complaint? Is Sunday to become a thing of the past in Newton as far as the closing of stores is concerned? And will another practice which has sprung up in the Newtons the past few years be allowed to continue? We refer to men engaged in building trades doing such work in houses in this city on Sundays.

May Prove for the Best

Unfortunately, I have nothing to contribute to the discussion brought about by the censoring of sensational magazines and pictorial weeklies and their compulsory removal from the newsstands. These publications are never on my library table because I found, long ago, after studying them, that they were intended for sharper and more penetrating minds. I did not appreciate the efforts of the authors, photographers and publishers to enlighten the reading masses and I never hope to. I refuse to be appalled by the assumption and exercise of dictatorial powers by police officials. If the load of magazines and weeklies is to be permanently lightened the owners of newsstands are to be congratulated. With some new publication appearing each week there has been a threat that the newsstands would have to be enlarged or doubled to make room for everything. Then the consumption of paper has become so great that all our forests may have to be cut down in order that these literary productions can be supplied to hungry readers. "Knocking off" two score weekly and monthly "mags" may turn out for the best after all.

Introducing Mr. Shakespeare

If those living mortals who are indebted to William Shakespeare were to line up on the anniversary of his birth (April 23, 1564) to do him homage, business would have to be suspended as there would be time for little else than due acknowledgment. It has occurred to me that if there should be a monster procession, such as is customary at important celebrations, those who have profited from the works of the Bard of Avon might be appropriately divided.

One division might well comprise theatrical managers and producers who have made fortunes out of Shakespearian drama and never paid a cent of royalty to the author or his heirs. Another division might contain actors and actresses who have won fame and riches, or at least a comfortable living by playing roles in his plays.

Another group would consist of teachers of English who have earned every penny of their salaries, endeavoring to pound Shakespeare into the heads of those dullards, otherwise known as promising pupils. These teachers would be entitled to wear wound stripes.

I can think of another division made up of writers and speakers who invariably quote Shakespeare after having exhausted all original ideas. Still another, would-be orators who frequently say, "In the words of the immortal Shakespeare. . . ." They sure owe practically everything to him.

There are many others who are entitled to parade, including those who disparage Shakespeare and support the Baconian theory. I could name more who would be eligible but as there is little chance of any immediate action I merely proceed to pigeon-hole what I still think is a perfectly swell idea.

Forgotten Cars

To resume our little discussion of forgetful car-parkers, the latest instance comes from the South side. This man had left his Boston business office and was proceeding to his usual parking spot when he encountered a friend and neighbor. "Come on," said he, "and I'll run you home. My car is right over here." But he was in error. The car was not where he was usually privileged to leave it in evasion of Boston traffic laws. After wandering about, the two concluded the car had been stolen. Reporting its loss to the police entailed some difficulty and embarrassing explanation. What to do? Being a sensible man this bewildered car owner decided to consult his wife. Outlining his plight over the telephone he was a trifle peeved to hear his wife laugh. He joined, however, when she said, "Why, you left the car home today so I could use it. Don't you remember I drove you to the train?"

No Age Limit

It may or may not be of importance but here is an incident which I almost witnessed, happening along just as it ended. Among the many callers at the Executive Department, State House, was an elderly woman who had come to interview one of the secretaries about some matter in which she had a personal interest. She was obliged to wait and proceeded to occupy a seat on one of the leather upholstered benches. Within a few minutes, the visitor, who could very rightly pose for a portrait of "Somebody's Grandmother," took out a cigarette case, approached the uniformed guard at the door, and, with a cigarette in her hand, asked, "Could I trouble you for a match"? Those are all the details I know, except that the guard whispered to me the main circumstances and exclaimed, "Can you beat it!"

TERRIO—ARDUINO

Miss Eleanor H. Arduino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Arduino of 712 Boylston st., Newton Highlands was married to Thomas H. Terrio, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Terrio of Faxon st., Newton at four o'clock on Easter Sunday afternoon, in the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre. Rev. John P. Reynolds performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white slipper satin, a long tulle veil caught with orange blossoms and baby's breath, and carried a bouquet of calla lilies. She was attended by Mrs. A. Roger Zeolla of Newton who wore Nile green chiffon with a short veil caught to a coronet of green flowers and carried a bouquet of talisman roses. Henry Terrio of Newton, brother of the groom, was the best man.

The church was decorated with calla lilies and roses. Miss Louisa Cunniff played the wedding music and Joseph Antonelli and Michael Bontempo of Newton were the soloists.

A reception was held at the Gardner Manor in Brookline. The couple were assisted in receiving by the bride's mother who wore beige lace with a matching jacket and corsage of talisman roses and the groom's mother who wore black crepe with a shoulder bouquet of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrio left on a motor trip to Washington, D. C.

ROBINSON—NICHOLS

Miss Virginia Wadleigh Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Nichols of Newton Highlands and West Dennis, Mass., was married at noon today to Edward F. Robinson, Jr. of Needham, Mass. The ceremony which took place at St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands, was performed by Rev. Charles O. Farrar.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Bell of Waban.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will reside at 150 Laurel drive, Needham, where they will be at home after June 1st.

The bride attended the Garland School. The groom is a graduate of Dummer Academy and also of Bowdoin College, 1935, where he was a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

Rotary Club

At the meeting of the Rotary Club on Monday the guest speaker was Dr. Henry Willard of the Bureau of University Travel. He discussed the subject "Rome After Two Years." These two years between 1935 and 1937 were momentous considering especially the Ethiopian War and accession of Ethiopia. The young Fascists or Black Shirts have been thoroughly filled with enthusiasm of aggression, but the older people, although in favor of Mussolini's achievements, suspected the Ethiopian conquest was a slight mistake. In the poorer sections the people demonstrated a feeling of conquest because of their comparison of Mussolini and Caesar.

After the two years had elapsed the feeling which seemed to be expressed was that Rome had succeeded in making a forward step toward a larger empire. In a very prominent public place a new map of the Italian Empire has been added to the four previous maps, showing the acquisition of the territory of Abyssinia which is nearly four times the size of Italy proper.

Fascism has brought on a moral regeneration with its focus of attention on youth and physical development. The Fascist training starts with groups age 6 to 8 and even includes modern care for expectant mothers and newborn children. The two years show a tremendous increase in equipment for physical development.

The subtle influence the Roman government has on neighboring territory such as Albania is interesting to watch.

Dr. Willard suggests that if Fascism survives there will be at least a 6th map of the Roman Empire with even more territory than at present.

Parking Space At Auburndale

Employees of the Street Department have been constructing a parking space at Commonwealth ave. in Auburndale. Several violinists from the All Newton Music School were selected by the well known orchestra director Arthur Fiedler to play in his amateur orchestra rehearsal for pupils in the schools about Boston, which was held at Jordan Hall in Boston on Saturday afternoon, April 9th.

Recent Weddings

TITCOMB—BRANDT

Miss Helen Agnes Brandt, daughter of Mrs. Walter R. Brandt of Brookline, formerly of Waban, and the late Mr. Brandt, was married to Clement Titcomb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clement Titcomb of Chestnut Hill, on Tuesday, April 19th, at 8 o'clock. The ceremony was performed in the Church of the Good Shepherd in Waban, by the Rev. Stanley Warren Ellis, and a reception followed at the Brandon Hall Hotel in Brookline. Easter lilies, palms and ferns decorated the church for the ceremony and similar decorations were used for the reception.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Walter R. Brandt, wore a gown of ivory satin made on simple lines. Her heirloom veil of princess lace and tulle fell from a lace coronet, and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies. Miss Marguerite Brandt was her sister's maid of honor. Her gown was of deep turquoise marquisette made with a full skirt and tiny jacket that flared in back. Instead of a hat she wore a matching shoulder length veil caught in back with a cluster of American Beauty roses, and carried a bouquet of the same flowers. The gowns of the four bridesmaids were of palest turquoise marquisette, and they also wore matching veils with Talisman roses and carried bouquets of the same flowers. The bridesmaids were Miss Betty Titcomb, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Margery Tylee of West Newton; Miss Dorothy Brackett of West Newton; and Miss Barbara von Lenz, of New Rochelle, N. Y., cousin of the bride.

Everett W. English of Milton was best man for his cousin, and the head usher was Webster H. Wilson of Natick. The ushers were Alfred Rogers of Milton, Francis Brewer of Brookline, and Richard Howe of Newton.

JAMES—COLLAGAN

Miss Elizabeth May Collagan, daughter of Mrs. Norah J. Collagan of 87 Webster pk., West Newton, was married to William H. James of 84 Freeman st., Auburndale, at four o'clock on Sunday afternoon, April 17, in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton. Rev. Thomas L. Boland performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Theodore C. Collagan, wore a princess gown of white lace with a train and a long tulle veil caught to a Juliet cap of seed pearls. She carried a prayer book with streamers of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor, Miss Margaret Heffron of Watertown, wore powder blue chiffon with a large picture hat and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

Robert James, brother of the groom, of Auburndale was the best man and the ushers were Walter G. Collagan of Waltham and Frederick E. Collagan of Somerville, brothers of the bride.

The church was decorated with Easter lilies and Miss Esther Costello played the wedding music.

At the reception which followed the ceremony the couple were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Nora Collagan, mother of the bride and Theodore Collagan, also by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown, parents of the groom.

On their return from a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. James will reside at 121 Crescent st., Waltham, where they will be at home after May 1st.

FRAIL—NYSTROM

Miss Lillian Irene Nystrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron C. Nystrom of Waltham was married at four o'clock on Sunday afternoon, April 17, to Philip Francis Frail, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Frail of 27 Warwick rd., West Newton. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, 43 Lakeview terrace, by Rev. Marshall Jenkins. The couple stood under an arch with a background of Easter lilies and ferns. Miss Adeline Fish played the wedding music.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white lace with a veil of tulle and carried calla lilies. Her sister, Miss Audrey Nystrom, who was the maid of honor, wore blue mousseline de soie and carried Spring flowers. Donald P. Frail, brother of the groom, of West Newton, was the best man.

A reception was held following the ceremony.

On their return from a wedding trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Frail will reside at 117 South st., Waltham, where they will be at home after June 1.

NEWBERT—BURT

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frederick Burt of Newtonville announce the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Beatrice, to Walter Eugene Newbert, son of Mrs. Walter E. Newbert of Waban, on Saturday, Feb. 26, 1938, at Nashua, N. H. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Earl F. Nauss of the Congregational Church.

The bride graduated from the Newton High School and has been a student at Pembroke College in Brown University. Mr. Newbert is a graduate of Hebron Academy and is now attending Harvard University.

Mr. and Mrs. Newbert will reside at 131 Windsor rd., Waban.

CRAWFORD—CHANDLER

Miss Edith Gray Chandler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Chandler of Warren's Cove, Plymouth, formerly of Waban, was married to John Oliver Crawford, Jr., son of the late Mrs. John Oliver Crawford of Rye, N. Y., on Easter Sunday, April 17th, at 7 o'clock, at the home of her parents, Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald of the Union Church in Waban performed the ceremony.

The bride attended the Misses Allen School and was graduated from Wheaton College in 1934. Mr. Crawford attended Middlebury College and Dartmouth.

POZZI—UMINA

Miss Josephine Umina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Umina of 120 Pine st., West Newton, was married to Querino Pozzi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fernando Pozzi of 126 Carlisle st., Newton Centre, on Sunday afternoon, April 17, at 3:30 in the Corpus Christi Church, Auburndale. Rev. Ralph J. Clark performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with high neckline and long train. Her tulle veil was caught with lilies of the valley and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Eleanor Umino, who wore light blue net and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and sweet peas. John Pozzi, brother of the groom, was the best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

WILSON—BAKER

Miss Josephine Baker of 103 Court st., Newtonville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Baker of West Roxbury, was married to Ralph Helmsley Wilson of 193 Newtonville ave., Newtonville on Saturday afternoon, April 16. The ceremony was performed at 3:30 at the home of Rev. Donald G. Lothrop of the Community Church, Boston.

The bride wore a simple costume of navy crepe with a corsage of gardenias. Her attendant, Miss Alice J. Kennedy of Newtonville, also wore navy crepe with a corsage of yellow roses. Emerson Bridges of Newtonville was the best man.

The bride is a graduate of Boston University. Mr. Wilson is a graduate of King's College, Durham University in England and has been an exchange teacher at the F. A. Day Junior High School for the past year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wilson of England.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will sail for Germany at the close of the school year and after July will make their home at 10 Whinneyfield rd., Newcastle-upon-Tyne, England.

BIDDLE—PERKINS

Announcement has been made by Mr. Harry D. Perkins of Auburndale of the marriage of his daughter, Miss Helen Perkins, to William E. Biddle, Jr., of Amesbury, son of Mr. William M. Biddle. Two-Way Radio For Newton Police Dept.

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night, on recommendation of Mayor Childs, appropriated $11,000 to install a two-way radio system in the Newton police department automobiles and at headquarters. The system has been sought since two Newton policemen were murdered last August by the gangster Simpson. The equipment will be installed in seven cruising cars, two inspectors' cars, the chief's car, the patrol wagon and the ambulance. A master amplifier and receiver will be installed at headquarters and remote receivers at three or four distant parts of the city, probably at Upper Falls, Chestnut Hill and Newton Corner.

Alderman Colby, who has made a study of the proposed system, reported that two bids had been received—one from the Gamewell Company of Upper Falls of $10,889; the other from the General Electric Company of $8,920. The Gamewell bid includes installation, the other bid does not. Colby said the bids are practically the same if installation is taken into consideration. Alderman Temperley said he favors the two-way system, but he did not approve of all the police cars being equipped, as in the future the city may decide to abandon the use of some of the cruising cars and put ome of the cruising policemen back on foot patrol duty.

Steal and Damage Minister's Car

An automobile owned by Rev. Gordon Brownville of Tremont Temple, Boston, and stolen from his garage at 49 Elmhurst rd., Newton, on Thursday night, April 14, was damaged last Friday night when it collided with a car driven by Captain Donovan of the Boston police on Hardwick st., Brighton. After the collision the thieves outdistanced Captain Donovan when he pursued them, and later abandoned the Brownville car. The auto thieves, apparently residents of Brighton, then stole a car owned by John Foley of 173 Chiswick rd. in that district, and wrecked it against an electric light pole on Parsons st., knocking the pole down. The thieves escaped.

the case but has not yet announced its decision.

The company is also expected to appeal from the latest ruling but due to the lateness of the session the case will probably not reach the Supreme Court until next fall. The appeal would keep in effect the temporary injunction obtained by the company after the Aldermen refused to renew the permit for the plant late in 1936.

Issues Warrant For Newton Man In Dog Case

Failure to appear in Middlesex County Superior Court on Wednesday caused Judge Wilford D. Gray to order a warrant issued for the arrest of Henry J. Larkin, Newton aviator. Larkin had been ordered to appear by the probation officer in connection with a previous court order that he dispose of an allegedly dangerous dog. Chief Hughes of the Newton police ordered Larkin to restrain two St. Bernard dogs last September. Larkin, whose home is at 926 Dedham st., Oak Hill, was later found guilty in district and superior courts of failing to comply. Judge Gray sentenced Larkin to 30 days in the House of Correction on Feb. 9 when it appeared that one of the dogs remained at large at his home. The sentence was suspended for three months on condition that the dog be disposed of or removed within that time.

NEWTON ARCHERS HOLD QUARTERLY SHOOT

In the first quarterly shoot of the current season the Newton Archers held their annual Patriot's Day tournament on the Newton Centre playground. The colorful setting of green grass, yellow forsythia, twenty targets and flying flags added to the enjoyment of the day. Archers from Bristol, Conn., Worcester, Attleboro, Melrose and Waltham joined the Newton members.

Results of the tournament brought cup awards as follows: Cummings Handicap to George Skinner; Visitor's Handicap to Flora Bryant of Worcester; Carnzu Clark cup to Thelma Phillips and Mariner Junior Handicap cup to Philip Spoffard.

One of the highlights of the tourney was the shooting of national junior champion Robert Goldich, fourteen, who shot in the men's round placing fifth in the morning and sixth in the day's total.

The men's American round found James Waterman with 178-1196 as the day's highest total. He was followed by Edward Sears, 177-1109; W. Chester Shedd, 178-1098; Malcolm Pearce, 176-1084; A. W. Dick, 174-1038; Robert Goldich, 175-1034; Otis A. R. Wood, 170-1005; C. M. Thomas, 170-1000; George Tibbetts, 170-962 and Bertram Harrison, 167-961.

Finishing in order for the ladies were Thelma Phillips, 159-947; Bertha Sears, 152-862; Grace Harrison, 150-758; Elizabeth Whitney, 149-817; Blanche Traylor, 149-757; Marion Tibbetts, 147-743; Flora Bryant, 137-695; Rose Gronlund, 135-645; Mabel Schall, 128-614; and Ruth Baker, 114-546.

The Newton juniors finished as follows, Phillip Spoffard, 164-904; Philip Bourne, 153-865; Arnold Tofias, 155-841; Leonard Berkowitz, 156-824; Scott Doten, 59-240 and Joseph Kimber, 58-202.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

On Saturday, April 16th, the Newton Archers held the second of the handicap shoots. This one was the first of regular weekly shoots. Mr. Skinner acted as Field Captain when twenty-two archers lined up to shoot.

Mrs. William E. Whitney, a member from Cambridge, won the award for the ladies. Mr. George Skinner, a member from Arlington won the award for the men. Charles McKeen a new junior member from Newton Centre, won the award for the juniors. This week the prizes were an enameled bronze archery pin. Joseph Kimber won the first novelty prize while Mrs. William Whitney and Mrs. John Wingett tied for the second place.

Robert Goldich shot again as a senior with the highest shooting score.

Health Department Ratings of Milk Sold in Newton

The first of this month the Newton Health Department published and distributed the first number of a bulletin, "Your Health," which will be issued every two months, except during the summer. One of the features of the bulletin is information regarding Newton's milk supply. Under the heading—"Your Milk Supply" was the following—"During the year many requests are received by your health department from Newton residents for information regarding the quality of milk sold in the city. Because of the difficulty of interpreting bacteria counts the department did not wish to publish the actual counts. However, in order to provide citizens with the information they wish, a system of ratings has been established. These will be published every two months in "Your Health." Consult this list frequently for the rating of milk you and your family are drinking.

"Grade A Milk. All Grade A Milk Pasteurized sold in Newton during 1937 rated Satisfactory with the exception of Meadowbrook Farm Grade A, which rated Unsatisfactory, indicating a logarithmic average of all counts over 10,000 per cubic centimeter—the State standard for Grade A milk. Special Milk; all special milk sold in Newton in 1937 rated as Satisfactory, indicating a logarithmic average count of under 5000 bacteria per c.c."

(1) Ratings are based on the logarithmic average of all counts made in the Newton Health Department laboratory during 1937.

(2) The bacterial standard for this Grade of milk, MILK PASTEURIZED is not more than 40,000 colonies per cubic centimeter.

(3) When there is no notation in this column, it indicates that the dealer sells only one brand of Grade "MILK PASTEURIZED." A notation of "All" indicates that the dealer sells more than one brand and that each brand was given the rating as designated. Where specific brands are mentioned, it indicates that all brands sold did not receive the same rating, and the Table should be consulted for the specific brand for which information is desired.

(4) A rating of "Good" indicates an average count of 10,000 or under; "Fair," an average of 10,000-30,000; "Passable" an average of 30,000-40,000; "Unsatisfactory," an average of over 40,000.

For years the Waltham Health Department has published analyses of the milk supply of that city. The Waltham analyses, however, differ radically from those which the Newton Health Department has started to publish. Instead of being based on the bacteria count, as is the Newton table of ratings, the Waltham ratings are based on the quantity of butter fats and solids in the milk. The milk, of course, has to be within the bacteria count limit specified by the State Board of Health, 40,000 for ordinary pasteurized milk, and 10,000 for GRADE A milk. In the following table, which shows analyses made by the Waltham Inspector of Milk during the month of March, it is interesting to make a comparison of the quantity of butter fats and solids in the milk sold by various dealers, with the ratings of "Good," "Fair" and "Passable" given in the table published by the Newton Health Department.

John Madden On Quality and Purity of Milk

cannot compel a dealer to exceed the standard of 3.50 butter fat and the solids required by the statutes. Five per cent or six per cent milk is an individual matter for the consumer. A health Board is concerned with the cleanliness and safety of the standard product.

"A high bacterial count in pasteurized milk is possible because the pasteurizing is an intermediate process followed by bottling; if the bottles and bottling machine and capper have not been properly sterilized, and kept clean, they may create bacteria in the pasteurized milk. Pasteurized milk may be reinfected as happened in a neighboring city where a carrier of a contagious disease handled milk bottles containing pasteurized milk and transmitted the disease to twelve consumers.

"There is an increasing demand, however, for the fresh product of local dairies where there is a low bacterial count in the production as well as in the milk delivered, and the clarifier and pasteurizer are used as added protection rather than as rectifiers. During the past winter most of our cream was obtained from Wisconsin. New England dairies could furnish only fluid milk. If the consumer objects to paying more for this high-grade production at home, he may pay higher taxes for inspection of the source of his milk supply, which is as important as the source of his water supply. Sanitary and hygienic production of milk and delivery of that product the same day will soon become the ideal of consumers and will lead to increased consumption of milk and thereby help to counteract the influences of drinking of other beverages in our taverns, so baneful to the rising generation."

JOHN C. MADDEN.

Simpson Gets Another Respite

Edward P. Simpson, murderer of Patrolmen Bell and Lawrence Murphy of the Newton police, was granted a second respite by Governor Hurley and the executive council on Wednesday. The respite was granted on the ground that Simpson's lawyer, John M. Boyle, has taken an appeal to the Supreme Court on the contention that his client did not receive a fair trial. Simpson shot the two policemen last August and was tried in November. Found guilty, he was given a tenure of over four months of life when the judge sentenced him to be executed during the first week of April, 1938. Several weeks ago the Governor and council granted a respite to Simpson when a legal technicality was raised. The date of execution was postponed until this week. The respite granted on Wednesday further postpones the execution until May 11.

Driver of Car That Hit Youth Found Not Guilty

Nicholas Ciccone, 21, of Willow st., Newton Centre was found not guilty in the Newton court last Friday on a charge of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. Ciccone was the driver of the car which on the night of March 29 hit Arthur McCabe, 19, son of Alderman Frank McCabe. The accident happened on Centre st., Newton, opposite Centre ave. Skid marks of tires photographed by Inspectors Burke and Hammell were shown as evidence that the car had gone 46 feet. William Deutschle of Whittier rd., Newtonville testified he had seen the car after he had stopped and saw skid marks. Serg. Moran and Patrolman Walker testified they were at a police box about 100 yards away and heard the screeching of brakes but did not see the accident. Ciccone testified he was driving only 10 or 12 miles an hour when his car hit McCabe, and stated he had slowed down when he first saw the pedestrian. According to Ciccone, McCabe had started to cross the street, then turned back, and Ciccone proceeded forward again. McCabe said the automobile came along and hit him before he realized what happened. In rebuttal by Lieut. Crowley Ciccone admitted that in his report to the police he had stated he was driving 25 miles an hour when the accident occurred.

Representative Jeremiah Healy of Natick who defended Ciccone argued that the evidence did not prove that the skid marks on the street were those of Ciccone's car. Judge David Nagle of South Boston, who tried the case, found Ciccone not guilty.

Endangered Men, Pays $10 Fines

William Hagan, 61, of Centre st., Dorchester, a builder who has been erecting a house on Athelstane rd., Newton Centre, was fined $5 each on two counts in the Newton court on Wednesday. He was found guilty of not having the proper rigging on a painting job he was having done on the house. The law specifies certain requirement in regard to staging and rigging to safeguard the painters.

Horace Mann Centennial Observed at Stearns School

The Horace Mann Centennial was observed at the Stearns School with an Assembly Hall Program for the upper grades on Thursday, April 14th. Pupils from the Eliot School combined with those from the Stearns to give the program.

A group of old fashioned songs had been learned and were sung at intervals throughout the various numbers on the program. These were "When You and I Were Young Maggie," "Home Sweet Home," "Billy Boy" and "Long Long Ago."

A rollicking Virginia Reel was given by a group from Miss Stoddard's Grade V class. A dialogue between two boys from Miss Smith's Special Class, one of whom was dressed as a traffic officer on the street, called attention to the celebration. A group of six boys from Miss Winter's Grade VI told a brief story of the life and accomplishments of Horace Mann.

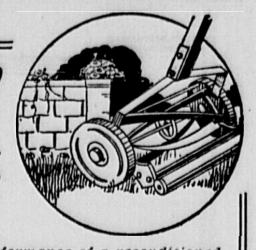

The main part of the program was a play in three scenes, "Thanks to Horace Mann." In the first scene two children returning from school told their family of the Centennial and what it meant. Scene two depicted an old time school with Horace Mann as one of the pupils. Scene three showed a modern school with an activity program as a contrast to the old type of school.

Following the play a large portrait of Horace Mann suitably framed was unveiled and presented to the school with appropriate remarks about Horace Mann by Mr. Kenelm Winslow, principal of the two schools.

The last number was a Minuet Dance charmingly presented in costume by pupils from the sixth grade.

The committee in charge consisted of Misses Alice Winters, Hazel Timson, Marjorie Munsil, Alice Toohey and Mr. Walter Sears.

GARDEN GOSSIP by PETER HENDERSON

PERENNIALS

WHILE annuals are the brilliant color in your garden, the perennials are the background. With longer blooming period, they also come back year after year.

* * * *

DO NOT uncover your winter protected plants too soon. March is treacherous and the first of April is not too late.

* * * *

IF YOU FIND that any of your perennials have been lifted out of the ground by the frost, they should be pressed back with the foot or lifted entirely and replanted.

* * * *

PERENNIALS are the backbone of your garden. Blooming year after year, they give permanency while the annuals give changing variety from year to year.

* * * *

FOR A perennial background there is nothing more attractive than Delphinium. Their tall graceful spikes and exquisite color add charm and delicacy to any garden. If seed is planted it should be put in the ground early as it germinates best in a ground temperature of forty-five to fifty-five degrees.

* * * *

IN TRANSPLANTING perennials from one location to another, take a good sized ball of soil around the roots. If this is done almost any perennial may be moved.

* * * *

THE SIZE, color and vigor of your flowers are largely a matter of the amount of plant food in the soil. Use a good Garden Enricher to be sure that they get a properly balanced fertilizer.

* * * *

PRIVET and other evergreen hedges that have been injured by the winter should be cut back early. If there is any life left, fertilization and watering will start it again.

The Whole Family

appreciates good laundry work!

DAD wants his shirts and collars finished just so, starched right, buttons all sewed on, and fresh and new-looking.

MOTHER expects her linens to be clean and sweet-smelling; her dainty things carefully laundered and finished faultlessly.

THE CHILDREN, young or old, are just as fussy about the appearance of their washable wearables.

HERE IS A LAUNDRY WHOSE AIM IT IS TO PLEASE EVERY MEMBER OF THE FAMILY. OUR BUSINESS IS BUILT ON QUALITY AND IS GROWING ON QUALITY.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Art Conference And Tea

All Art chairmen of Federated Clubs are invited to attend the Spring Conference and Tea on Friday, April 29th, at 2 o'clock, at the Massachusetts School of Art, corner of Brookline and Longwood aves., Boston, given under the auspices of the State Federation Art department, Mrs. Walter W. Stroncer, chairman.

Charles Edward Newell, director of Art Education of the Commonwealth, and president of the School, will greet the Conference; Miss Ella Munsterberg will talk on "Design for Living", and Persis Blake Kempton, Contralto, will sing.

Student work will be on exhibition in the North and South Galleries, and there will be an opportunity to discuss program suggestions and plans for next year's work. Each chairman may invite her successor, or one member of her committee.

Pourers for the Tea will be Mrs. John H. Kimball, Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, Mrs. David A. Westcott, and Mrs. John F. Capron.

To Sponsor Young Talent Of Newton

Under the intriguing title of "The Squash End Singing Society" the West Newton Community Service Glee Club will present another of its unusual and popular Concerts on Monday evening, April 25th, at 8:15 o'clock, in the Warren Junior High School, West Newton. This group is completing its sixth season, and the Annual Spring Concert is an event greatly anticipated. This entertainment is for the Scholarship Fund.

Arrangements for the event are in charge of Mrs. Harold Scranton, president of the West Newton Community Service Club; Mrs. Marion Kingsbury, Musical director of the Community Service Glee Club; Miss Elizabeth Kilburn, Ticket chairman; Mrs. Harry S. Baldwin, and Mrs. William Edwards, chairman of Ladies' Costumes; and Mrs. Ethel Coty and Mrs. Harold Plump, chairman of Gentlemen's Costumes.

This year, much added interest is due, at least in part, to the fact that as special features on the program, the Glee Club will present two of Newton's talented young people—Barbara Tower, gifted daughter of Mary Pumphrey Tower, concert pianist, in a group of piano solos; and Miss Gerrie Wisbach in one of her unusual dance numbers. Miss Tower shows a facility and interpretation, both charming and surprising in one so young. She meets with enthusiastic appreciation wherever she plays. Miss Wisbach needs no introduction to Newton people, for she has presented such features as the Gardenia Ball for the Newton High School Alumni reunion, Revues for the Newton Centre Woman's Club, Girl Scout programs, and her own magnificently-staged pupil recitals in Newton Centre. She is gifted as a teacher as well as artist, and will have a group of her pupils with her on April 25th. Miss Wisbach studies with the American Ballet Company, with Ivan Taraoff, and Miriam Marmein of New York. Last April she was the featured artist in a concert at the Barbazon Plaza, New York. In March she was in Detroit as soloist in a concert with the Miriam Marmein Groupe, of which she is a member. By special request, Miss Wisbach has consented to repeat her sensational "Big Apple" specialty at the Glee Club Concert, to come during the social dancing hour which will follow the concert.

Tickets, at 50 cents, may be ordered from Miss Kilburn, Telephone West Newton 0137-W, or from Mrs. Thomas Cooper, Jr., West Newton 1688.

Winners of Awards

Mrs. Grace Allen Bangs, director of the Bureau for Clubwomen of the New York Herald Tribune, announces the prize winners in the Press and Publicity Contest that closed March first. Mrs. Richard C. Stacy, Press chairman of the Springfield Federation of Women's Clubs, wins first prize; and Mrs. Carl H. Whitney, of Ashburnham, Press chairman of the Fitchburg Woman's Clubs, receives the second award. The ribbon prizes will be presented at Swampscott, during the Annual Meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Juniors will be interested to learn of the outcome of the contest for the Traveling Scholarship of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, by which the winner attends the Triennial Convention in May at Kansas City, Missouri, with all expenses paid. The contestants had narrowed to three especially talented young women, who were to speak for three minutes upon some Junior Project at the Junior Conference held at Quincy, April 2nd, as has been described already, special interest in Newton being aroused as one of these candidates was a former Newton girl, Mrs. Andrew G. McKnight. Newton clubwomen and juniors will be disappointed that Mrs. McKnight did not win the honor for Newton.

For the second time the Wollaston Junior Woman's Club will have the honor of having its president represent the Junior Clubs of the entire state at the May meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Miss Helene S. Spencer is the lucky candidate from the 20 who entered the Speaking Contest. The previous Wollaston Junior thus honored was Miss Sylvia Koose, who has since been prominent in State Junior activities.

Miss Spencer's talk, which won for her the Scholarship award, was on the possibility of Juniors establishing a Research Room for Cancer Control, and she gave many facts as revealed through research in the State as to the need of those who could not afford to pay for treatment.

Miss Nona Lockman and Mrs. Andrew McKnight chose different phases of Work for the Blind as their topics, carrying forward the project already begun by Juniors in purchasing Talking Books which are lent to blind persons. The Juniors purchased twenty such books last year.

Among the reports given by Juniors for the districts it was shown that the Junior Clubs are advancing in their community and philanthropic undertakings.

The Conference at Quincy was most successful and interesting.

Annual Meetings

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club will hold its Annual Meeting on Tuesday, April 26th, at the 1775 House in Lexington. There will be a business meeting at 11 o'clock, followed by luncheon and entertainment.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be held on Tuesday, April 26th, with voting hours from 12 to 12:45 o'clock, and from 2 to 2:15 o'clock in the rear of the main Auditorium. At 1 o'clock luncheon will be served in Social Hall under the direction of Mrs. Richard R. MacMillan, chairman. A Pageant of Brides, managed by Mrs. Louis J. Steitz, Jr., at 2:30 o'clock, will close the day's program. At this last meeting of the Club as a unit this season, Club members not only will have the opportunity to help carry on the business of their organization and vote for their new officers, but at the same time to enjoy the sociability of the luncheon and entertainment.

AUBURNDALE WOMAN'S CLUB

Business and Professional Group

The Business and Professional Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club held a most interesting and enjoyable meeting at the Old House in Lexington, last Tuesday evening, April 12th, with dinner at 6:30 o'clock. This was their Annual Meeting, at which officers were elected. Miss Evelyn Keyes was re-elected chairman; and others, all of whom were re-elections, were Miss Emily L. Goldsmith, vice-chairman; Miss Cora A. Capstick, secretary; Miss Alice M. Gilpatric, treasurer; and Mrs. Ernest F. Drew and Mrs. Theodore W. Dearborn, directors.

Newton Community Club

The Newton Community Club will hold its Annual Meeting on Thursday, April 28th, in the Chapel of Eliot Church. The business meeting, with reports, and election of officers will open at 11:30 a. m. Luncheon will be at 1 o'clock. Tickets may be procured from Mrs. Allan Kee, or from Mrs. Alexander Skalee, or at Hubbard's Drug Store.

The program for the afternoon will include solos by Bill Elliot, Baritone, well-known radio and concert artist; and sketches by Elizabeth Nichols Cary, Comedienne and character artist. Miss Cary is a graduate of the Leland Powers School of the Theatre, and has studied voice with Madame Marie Sundelius.

The day promises a wealth of interesting and entertaining events.

Social Science Club

The Annual Meeting of the Social Science Club will be held at the Brae Burn Country Club on Wednesday, April 27th, at 10:30 a. m. Luncheon will be served at 12:30.

The hostesses will be Mrs. Newton A. Merritt, president; Mrs. Joe W. Gerrity and Mrs. Charles B. Gleason, vice-presidents; and Mrs. Maurice W. Dennison, Program chairman.

Various Events And Programs

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

On Monday, April 25th, the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet with Mrs. Robert G. Jennings, at 2:30 o'clock. The subject, "Fiction", will be discussed by Mrs. Francis A. Rugg.

Juniors' Style Show

The Newton Centre Juniors staged a most attractive and informative Style Show last Tuesday evening, the 12th, at the Club House, with about 200 Juniors of the Twelfth District attending as guests, and receiving ideas on the latest models in afternoon dresses, feminine evening attire, colorful beach togs, trim street wear, and sportwear. Miss Hazel Quinlan, June Winchester, Marion Jones, Ann Hitchcock, Barbara Mitchell, Ida Kellaway, Pamella Stowell, Barbara McCabe, May Jane Allen, Betty Hutchinson, Grace Joyce, Peggy Hadgarter, Grace Clayton, Sally Bushnell, Patricia Taylor, Caroline Kinter, and Dorothy Meyer modeled the frocks as they were described by Mrs. Sara K. Wheeler, from whose Shop the frocks were furnished.

The concluding feature was a beautiful Bridal group, the president of the Newton Centre Juniors, Miss Jane Hutchinson, as the Bride, and her attendants being Miss June Winchester and Miss Mary Jane Allen.

Newton Community Club

On Thursday afternoon, April 14th, the Newton Community Club enjoyed an interesting afternoon with Mrs. Branson De Cou and her Dream Pictures of the "Alluring Bali, the Last Paradise". In an entertaining manner and with beautifully-colored pictures, she gave her audience a new idea of the life and customs of this island.

In the absence of the recording secretary, Mrs. Raymond Ladoo, the corresponding secretary, Miss Hope Mudge, read the minutes of the previous meeting. The president, Mrs. Frank H. Briggs, announced the Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary Bridge Party to be held in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium on April 25th at 2 p. m.

The Annual Meeting and Luncheon of the Newton Federation will be held at the Brae Burn Country Club on May 10th.

From July 1st to July 8th the Conservation committee will make a drive on Ragweed.

Mrs. C. Lawrence Barber gave a short but most interesting report of the Youth Conference which was held at the Hotel Statler on March 31st.

Mrs. Daniel Goodridge announced the Rummage Sale would continue the rest of this week, and that to date $235.00 had been realized.

On May 11th, 12th and 13th, the Sale for the Blind sponsored by the Newton Federation, will be held in the Newton Centre Club House, May 13th being Newton Community Club Day.

The Community Service committee had an Exhibit of some of their work, which would be sent to the Peabody Home for Crippled Children, and to World War Veterans in various hospitals. They invited contributions of money for cigarettes for the boys for Easter.

Mrs. Mark T. DeSilva, Legislative chairman of the State Federation, spoke briefly on both sides of the question of Jury Service for Women.

It was voted to give the Penny Collection of this meeting to Mrs. Louis J. Hunter for a needy family in Newton.

A Food Sale was held after the meeting.

Tea and cakes were served. Mrs. Warren W. Marston, Mrs. Walter E. Brownell, Mrs. J. H. Johnstone, and Mrs. Thomas F. Temple were the hostesses.

Tea for Hospital Aid Association Staff

Mrs. Henry I. Harriman will open her home at 825 Centre st., Newton, for a Tea on Tuesday afternoon, April 26th, from 3 to 5 o'clock, as a courtesy to the board or directors of the Hospital Aid Association and to the staff of the Hospital Aid Benefit Shop, these being among the Associate Organizations of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. Of the former group Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson is president and there are about twenty directors from the various Newtons.

The staff of the Benefit Shop is headed by Mrs. D. Brewer Eddy and Mrs. Ralph Conant as co-directors; Mrs. Francis Williams is business manager, and there is at least one chairman from each of the Newtons and from Wellesley with the regular workers at the Shop.

Dr. Clara Sargent Shepherd, of Kuling, China, who has spent several years in the bandit section of China, making her home in an ambulance fitted up for Hospital service, will be the guest-speaker at 3:30 o'clock. The invited guests are reminded to reply to Mrs. Harriman.

The Sewing-Day of the Club members at the Newton Hospital scheduled for April has been postponed. The 10th of May will be the date for the next Sewing-Day.

Campaign for Better "Out-Door Manners"

How many have noticed the new rubbish barrels in the shopping district of Newton Corner? They are for the use of the public. Papers and all rubbish should be deposited there instead of in the streets.

Everyone can help make the "Garden City" the cleanest city in the state.

The Conservation committee of the Newton Community Club is promoting this drive for cleaner and more attractive streets and roadsides in Newton.

The Mayor and the Street Department are co-operating with the committee by placing these containers where they can best serve the public.

As another part of the drive, posters are being made by the school children, and talks are being arranged on "Out-Door Good Manners."

The committee hopes our citizens, store-owners, and visitors will do their part towards keeping our streets and roadsides clean and attractive.

Roadsides, streets, parks, recreation spots are part of our great out-door living-room and should be treated as such.

Picnics and rides into the country will become more and more frequent from now on. The observance of these few suggestions from the conservation chairman of the Garden Club of America will be appreciated by every community:

"Do not deposit rubbish from your automobile on the roadside.

"Leave your picnic grounds clean for others to enjoy. Do not destroy the trees, shrubs, or wild flowers.

"Be sure your camp fire is dead when you leave.

LAND COURT

To Moses H. Gulesian, Rocco Gentile, Jerry Gentile, Donato Magnarelli, Nunziata Mazzola, Jenerro Mostromatti, Orazio Panaggio, Louis Vassalotti, Saverio Izzo, Marion Fried and Celia Fried, of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Henry Litchman, of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth; Nichola Gregorio and Filomena Gregorio, of said Newton; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by John Mazzola and Helen A. Mazzola, of said Newton, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

Northeasterly by Adams Street 65 feet; Easterly by the junction of said Adams Street and Watertown Street 23.06 feet; Southeasterly by said Watertown Street 35 feet; Southwesterly by land now or formerly of Louis Vassalotti 80 feet; and Northwesterly by land now or formerly of Saverio Izzo 50 feet.

Petitioners claim as appurtenant to the above-described land the right to use Adams Street as shown on plan hereinafter mentioned for all purposes for which ways are commonly used in the City of Newton.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the second day of May next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fourth day of April in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-eight.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

Larkin Again In Court About Dogs

Henry J. Larkin of Dedham st., Oak Hill, who was in court a few times last year because of his insistency on allowing vicious St. Bernard dogs to roam at large, was again in court on Wednesday because of the dogs. After the big dogs had attacked and bitten several persons, including a neighbor's children, and Larkin had ignored several notices from Newton police to restrain the dogs, he was summoned into the Newton court. Because a slight error had been made in his name on the summons, he raised a technical objection which necessitated another summons and the holding of the trial on another day. Last November he was fined $10 in the Newton court, took an appeal, was found guilty in the Superior Court and given a suspended sentence, with the understanding that he would get rid of the dogs, which he claimed were owned by relatives. Later, complaints were made that Larkin still had the dogs, and that they were not restrained. That was several weeks ago, but no action was taken against Larkin by county authorities.

Last week Constable Charles Scipione of Newtonville went to Larkin's home to serve eviction papers but could not enter the premises because of the dogs. Scipione complained to Probation Officer Harris of the Superior Court and Larkin was arraigned at Cambridge on Wednesday.

Automobile Accidents

Cars operated by Joseph Otis of 54 Oakland ave., Auburndale and Kelton Wagner of Brown st., Waltham, collided at Margin and Putnam sts., West Newton on Tuesday afternoon. Alfred Otis, 93, of Oakland ave., a passenger in one of the cars, received a cut on his nose and other injuries.

A truck driven by Willar Johnson of Cambridge backed into a truck parked on Prospect st., West Newton on Monday night. Three men who were seated in the parked truck claimed that they were injured. They are—Henry Mack, 179 Hicks st.; Ellsworth Evans, Robinhood rd.; Arthur Holmes, 1 Prospect st., all of this city.

A truck driven by Jerome Derenzo of Needham and a mail truck driven by John Brosnahan of Cambridge collided on Beacon st., Newton Centre on Monday afternoon. Brosnahan complained that he received an injury to one of his wrists.

Meeting of Newton Centre Imp. Asso.

The annual meeting of the Newton Centre Improvement Association will be held on Monday evening, April 25th, at the Newton Centre Women's Club. The dinner will start at 6:30 and the meeting at 8 o'clock. Residents of Newton Centre are invited to attend. Reservations for the dinner may be obtained from officers of the association. The principal speaker will be Governor Charles Hurley, and he will be introduced by Mayor Childs. Dr. Harold Chope, Health Officer of Newton, will speak on public health. John Metz, expert on the new electrical musical instrument, the Theremin, will play selections.

Speeders Fined By Judge Mayberry

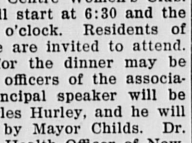

In the Newton court last Friday a number of speeders were fined $5 each by Judge Mayberry. Included in the list were Miss Arax Barakcan of Belmont, Donald Brock of 222 Lowell ave., Newtonville; Richard Denesha of Warwick rd., West Newton; Francis Carvaratta of Belmont. George Dworvetes of Park st., Brookline was fined $3 for obstructing a crosswalk with his automobile, and another $3 for parking within 10 feet of a street corner. Robert Pitman of Lexington was fined $3 for not stopping his car before entering a through way.

Kiwanis Club

The Newton Kiwanis Club celebrated its 12th birthday on Wednesday at the Charles River Country Club and had as guests its sponsoring organization the Brookline Kiwanis Club.

The honored guests of the occasion included George Harrison of Portland, Maine, Governor of the New England District; International Trustee Jim Gallagher of the Newton Club; Bill Dunlap of California, Field Representative of Kiwanis; Lieutenant Governor Bill Gleason of the Wellesley Club; Past Lieutenant Governor Steve Dow of the Brookline Club.

President Larry Bowers of the Brookline Club extended the best wishes of his club to Newton for its continued success.

Ed Pease, Chairman of the Education Committee of the Newton Club introduced Governor Harrison. Governor George was most enthusiastic in his message to the assembled Kiwanians describing in detail the fine growth of the organization during the present year. He extolled the fine work being done by the Newton and Brookline clubs in carrying on the ideals and aims of Kiwanis.

Robert Winn, Boston Historian, described the fine historical spots of Greater Boston with such feeling and clarity that many of the men remained after the meeting to plan with him a personally conducted tour of these hallowed grounds.

President Archie Bellinger of the Newton club expressed to the gathering his sincere appreciation for the excellent spirit of co-operation displayed by all of his fine committees and conveyed to Governor Harrison a vote of confidence and support from the Newton club as an aid in all of the activities preparatory to the coming International Convention at which place it is expected the name of Jim Gallagher will be drafted as a candidate for the presidency of Kiwanis International.

Auto Hits Child On Watertown St.

Guy Ranno, 5, of 460 Watertown st., Newtonville, was hit near his home on Thursday noon by a car driven by Ernest Lamborghini, 19, of East Boston. The child received cuts and bruises on his face, legs and hands. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. According to the police the boy was hurled or carried for a distance of 37 feet, and brake marks showed that the car went 68 feet after hitting him. The driver has been summoned to appear in the Newton court on April 25 to answer a charge of driving so as to endanger.

Stone Thrower Pays $25 Fine

Manuel Dies, 39, of 167 Hicks st., Newton, was fined $25 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Wednesday for assault on Anthony Yuank, 45, of Washington st., Wellesley. The latter was one of a group of men who were seated on a stone wall at the corner of Washington and Concord sts., Lower Falls, as Dies passed by. Dies overheard an alleged profane remark from one of the men, and picking up a stone he hurled it at the group, in the belief that the remark had been directed at him. The stone hit Yuank on the jaw and it took five stitches to close the wound at the Newton Hospital.

Jury Disagrees On Hit-Run Case

A nine man jury at Middlesex Superior Court in Cambridge could not reach a verdict last Thursday in the case of Irwin W. Stewart of 36 Olcott st., Watertown, charged with having been the hit-run driver who operated the car which on the night of February 22 struck John Hart, 69, of Edinboro st., Newtonville, as the aged man was crossing Watertown st. Hart has been at the Newton Hospital for weeks, seriously injured. Newton police matched pieces of broken glass with a damaged headlight on Stewart's car, after getting a tip. Because of the disagreement of the jury Judge Hayes announced that Stewart will be again tried next month.

Youth Found Not Guilty of Driving To Endanger

Allan Locke, 17, of 31 Fox lane, Oak Hill, was found not guilty by Judge Allen in the Newton court on Wednesday of driving a car so as to endanger the safety of the public. On March 21 a car driven by young Locke hit Patricia Dempsey, 5½, daughter of John P. Dempsey of 614 Dedham st., as the child was crossing Country Club rd., Oak Hill. In his report to the police on the day of the accident, Locke stated that he saw the child when she was only 8 feet away from the car, that he applied the brakes, swerved sharply to the left, and that the right mudguard of the car hit the child. He stated the car was traveling only 15 miles an hour. Police testimony was to the effect that skid marks showed the car went 72 feet after the accident, and that the brakes on the car were in poor condition. James Maher, attorney for Locke, argued that there was no proof that the skid marks were those of Locke's car. Phyllis O'Brien, 12, and Patricia O'Brien, 10, of Country Club rd., witnesses of the accident, testified that it was the left rear wheel of the Locke car, and not the right front mudguard, which hit the Dempsey child.

DOG NOTES
by PETER BOGGS

Tattooing is an old art that has been practiced for many years, but only lately has it come into widespread use as a means of identifying dogs. In Wisconsin hundreds of sportsmen, upset over the loss by stealing of their pets, formed a club, which tattoos the ears of its members' dogs with a number.

Each member is given a card on which appears his name and address and the name and tattooed number of his dog. If the dog is sold, the transfer to the new owner is noted on the card, which goes with the animal. The club keeps a duplicate card in its files which assists greatly in the return of a lost dog to its rightful owner.

Tattooing is not painful to the dog. It is done by a competent veterinary with a special instrument, bought by the club, and the operation only takes a minute or two. A fee of 25 cents is charged to mark each animal, and latest reports indicate that it has greatly curtailed the stealing of valuable hunting dogs throughout the state.

Many a dog when hurt will either snap at or bite the person trying to help. I have known cases where an injured dog has bitten his master when he approached, but I am sure the dog was probably temporarily out of his mind and dazed by the pain.

It is always best not to run to the aid of your dog if he is injured but to approach him slowly calling his name softly. Often when a dog is suddenly hurt he does not know what caused the pain and his inbred instincts come to the fore. He is suspicious of all who approach, not knowing at first whether or not more pain is to be administered. On the other hand as soon as the dog realizes the intent of anyone who is trying to assist him, he becomes a willing and exceedingly grateful patient.

Question: I have been told that I should not feed my dog raw carrots. Is that true?—A. J. M.

Answer: Raw carrots are hard for a dog to digest. Carrots well cooked would be a good addition to the diet of your dog. I would also cut down the amount of cod liver oil to about half the amount you stated you were feeding.

Question: My airedale has a patch of white hair on his chest. Would that count against him in the show ring?—G. L.

Answer: A perfect specimen of an airedale should have a body coloring of either black or dark grizzle. Your dog will not be disqualified but most judges will count the fact against the dog.

Charge Newton Man With Stock Frauds

William M. Forgrave of Angier cir., Auburndale, formerly State superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League was indicted on Wednesday by the Suffolk County Grand Jury on charges of larceny involving stock deals amounting to $100,000. Also indicted was H. Henry Anthony, who was partner with Forgrave in the Boston brokerage firm of Brown, Anthony & Company. This firm was ordered last August to stop selling securities. It is alleged that Forgrave sold Mlle. Marie Mazure of this city $9700 worth of worthless stocks, and that while persuading her to invest her life savings in the purchase of the stocks, he proposed marriage to her. She withdrew $6000 of the money from a bank in her native France. Mrs. Marguerite Holmes, a Reading widow, testified that she had lost $65,000 in two years' dealings with the firm. She exchanged valuable securities for worthless stock.

Forgrave graduated from B. U. School of Theology in 1914, was pastor of several churches and during the World War served as general secretary of the American-European Y. M. C. A. He became associated with the Anti-Saloon League in 1922 and entered the brokerage business in 1929.

City Acquires 30 Acres of Swamp

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night voted to have the city acquire 30 acres of swamp at Newton Highlands and Waban in the Cold Spring swamp area, with the specification that the city abate $2087 in taxes on the property. Taxes for the past 3 years are unpaid. The swamp is owned by Alice Frost of West Newton and the Aldermen have for months refused to accept the Mayor's recommendation that the area be acquired for park purposes and used as a dump.

Herter Speaks To Bankers

these costs, such as police, fire, schools, municipal projects, and the like, aggregate lower with only welfare showing an increase. Welfare, in all of its many phases, constitutes the most serious problem. The Federal government is spending approximately $100,000,000 per year in Massachusetts with an additional local cost of nearly $50,000,000.

Meanwhile the real estate tax has been called upon to take up the slack. It is, Mr. Herter pointed out, a deficiency tax in that we budget our expenditures, deduct an estimated income and then assess the difference on real estate. A part of this problem is accentuated by overassessment of property and no uniform yardstick as a basis of assessments in the many cities and towns of the Commonwealth.

The commission also studied the existing tax structure and found that an increase in the income tax rate in this state would bring but an additional seven million dollars of income. This would also necessitate a broadening of the income tax base with exemptions of half of those now allowed. Other sources of taxation were studied with no more satisfactory results.

Thus the sales tax, apparently, becomes the only adequate remedy. The commission proposal, however, prevents the sales tax from being used for other purposes than welfare relief inasmuch as the 2 per cent tax is automatically reduced if the yield is greater than needed for welfare purposes. The sales tax is also certain to reduce real estate taxes as the receipts from this form of tax would be distributed to the cities and towns on the basis of welfare expenditures and a penalty clause would deprive any locality of five per cent of its share for every one per cent increase in expenses other than welfare over a five year average. Mr. Herter added that he recognized the unpopularity of the sales tax and certain of its inequities but that he believed Massachusetts would have to come to it. He cited the fact that evidence shows in the twenty-six states now having a sales tax that there has been no falling off in sales over an extended period.

Mr. Herter also pointed out that commodity prices during the past year have fallen considerably, many staple products being from fifty to eighty per cent lower than a year ago. From this he argued that the public animosity against a sales tax is largely a figment of the imagination and that the two per cent tax would be insignificant in the light of much larger price differences.

Mr. Peterson gave an interesting talk on "Economic Trends" citing reasons for the recent recession which he characterized as a phase of the depression of the early 1930s. He also noted the various favorable conditions existing at present and balanced these against unfavorable factors. He referred to the desterilization of gold as a means of leveling off the bottom of the depression and of strengthening the bond market. He closed with the assertion that the surest and quickest way out of our economic difficulties was the doing away or drastic changing of certain reform measures of the administration such as the Wagner labor act, the Social Security act, the capital gains and undistributed profits taxes.

Recent Deaths

MARY E. McMAHON

Mrs. Mary E. (Mahoney) McMahon, 83, widow of Patrick McMahon, died Wednesday at her home, 120 Adams ave., West Newton, after a lingering illness. She was born in Cork, Ireland, and came to America when a young girl. She married Patrick McMahon over 60 years ago and had resided in Newton nearly 50 years. Surviving her are five sons and three daughters Daniel J., John L., Patrick W., Eugene A., and Mary E. McMahon of West Newton, Edward McMahon of Waltham, Mrs. Catherine Harris of Brighton, and Mrs. Stephen P. Connelly of West Newton; twelve grandchildren and seven greatgrandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from her late home at 8 a. m. Saturday followed by a requiem high mass in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton at 9. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

LLOYD H. GUPTILL

Lloyd H. Guptill of 381 Newtonville ave., Newtonville, died on April 19. He was born in New Brunswick 62 years ago and had lived 5 years in this city. He was an accountant by occupation and a former resident of Needham. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Charlotte (Winslow) Guptill; a son, Gordon B. Guptill; and a stepson, William B. Taylor. Mr. Guptill's funeral service was held on Friday afternoon at 2:30 in Christ Episcopal Church, Needham.

general requirement would be impractical, and that whenever such changes are made, each situation can be handled on its particular requirements. Alderman Colby favored the Mayor's suggestion, stated that the Planning Board and the Committee on the Mayor's address had favored this recommendation and inquired why the Claims & Rules Committee had rejected it. Alderman Temperley agreed with Alderman Rawson and cited instances at Newton Highlands where the Aldermen a few years ago had refused to change residence zones to business because abuttors would not agree to a 15 foot setback. The Claims & Rules Committee also rejected the Mayor's proposal that all new streets shall be 50 feet wide instead of 40 feet, as at present. The Board voted to accept the committee's report.

The petition of the West Newton Motor Mart for a permit to replace one twin gasoline pump at 1203 Washington st. with two electrically operated pumps was refused because it is the policy of the Board not to grant permits for more gasoline pumps on or close to sidewalks. The petition of the Colonial Oil Company for a permit to make alterations at its station at the corner of Washington st. and Commonwealth ave. was granted after considerable argument. The Licenses Committee voted 4 in favor of this petition and 3 against it. Alderman Hughes opposed the granting of the petition unless the driveway from Washington st. into the station will be closed. He said this driveway is a traffic menace and that cars cut through it to violate the traffic light at this dangerous intersection. Alderman Fahey agreed with Alderman Hughes and said it has been the policy of the Board to limit gasoline stations to two driveways. Alderman Temperley also agreed with Hughes and said that the station in question is operated under a non-conforming use. Alderman Inches said the Colonial Company will put a sign at the Washington st. driveway stating it is "one-way." Alderman Hughes said that motorists will ignore the sign. Alderman Rawson concurred with Alderman Inches in advocating the permit for the changes, including the retention of the third driveway. He said the proposed change will improve the appearance of the station.

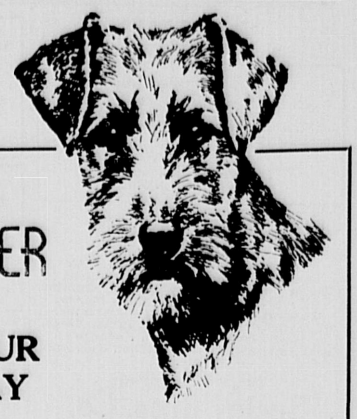

Found Not Guilty of Reckless Driving

Hiram Freeman, 71, of 15 Laird st., West Medford, was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday charged with driving a car so as to endanger the safety of the public. On April 3 a car driven by Freeman was in collision with a small truck driven by George Bowers of Stoughton at the junction of Needham and Winchester sts., Newton Highlands. The truck was tipped over and Bowers and his two small children received slight injuries. Motorcycle Officer James Halloran witnessed the accident and obtained a complaint against Freeman. He testified that the car driven by Freeman was about four feet over the left side of the dividing line at the dangerous intersection, and that Freeman told him that he was looking at the direction sign when the collision occurred. Halloran testified that the car driven by Freeman was travelling at a speed of about 25 miles when the crash occurred. Freeman testified that his car was stopped when the truck hit it.

Judge Mayberry found Freeman not guilty.

Well, what has it got you? What you really need is a change of outlook—and we know where you'll get it!

You'll get it as your spirit lifts to the buoyant surge of a power plant that can leave even your cares behind.

You'll get it as you forget dull care in a ride so enjoyable that it's a pleasure again to travel just for the sake of traveling.

Yes, you'll be happy in this car that can make it clearer with every mile that there isn't any better way to invest your money!

Look at the record a minute. Others have had their problems, too. Others have wondered if they should wait a while before they buy.

But they didn't wait. They looked at this handsome big eight, they measured its value, they checked what it could do, for them and to them—and they bought!

They bought because Buick is too good to do without! They bought because they could get more for their money — not just more automobile, but more fun, pleasure, solid satisfaction!

Go now and do likewise! This great straight-eight lists at lower prices than some sixes — drive it and you'll know how to be happy though harried!

Would Charge For Use of Schools

At the meeting of the School Committee on Monday night the question was discussed of charging organizations which use Newton school buildings a fee for such use. Because of recent criticisms that Newton schools are too costly, attention was called to the fact that the use of school buildings mostly at nights by organizations entails an annual expense of about $5000 for light, fuel and water. City Solicitor Bartlett has ruled that the city cannot legally charge for such use of the schools, but members of the School Committee were told that other cities and towns have been levying a charge. Committeeman Knowlton moved that the City Solicitor be requested to ascertain if some legal way cannot be found to require organizations to pay a reasonable fee to reimburse the city for the use of school buildings. It is estimated that the cost averages $8 or $9. Franklin E. Smith, chairman of the committee and Committeeman Tabor stated that it is not just to have this expense charged against the school budget.

Supt. of Schools Warren said that the Boy Scouts, or organizations of children of school age, should not be charged for the use of the school buildings. He also said that because the Aldermen cut $10,284 from the school department budget, economies must be effected in the purchase of supplies. The committee approved the following expenditures made during March—salaries, $108,803.93; fuel, power and water, $6,111.29; other expenses, $14,750.23; out of state travel, $183.05; total, $129,849.20. Trade School—salaries, $4,606.20; fuel, power and water, $913.03; other expenses, $1,818.49; rent, garage, $150; total, $7,487.72.

Newton Motorist Gets 30 Days In Jail and $50 Fine

Leo McCarthy of 21 Hovey st., Newton, was fined $50 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. For driving a car after his license had been suspended he was sentenced to serve 30 days in Middlesex County prison. McCarthy had recently received a 30 days suspended sentence for disturbing the peace and the judge ordered that this sentence be served concurrently with the other sentence. He was arrested at 11:35 Saturday night by Patrolmen Kiley and Sherman.

Two Year Old Boy Drinks Kerosene

Roger Hogsett, two-year-old son of James L. Hogsett of 36 Webster st., West Newton, swallowed some kerosene at his home on Monday morning. When his mother discovered that the child had drank the fluid she notified police headquarters and the little boy was taken to the Newton Hospital in a police car by Patrolmen Hoyt and Taffe. His condition was not serious.

City Sues Carr School Contractor

City Solicitor Bartlett has entered a suit for $11,000 damages in behalf of the City of Newton against B. Slotnick Company, contractor, who built the Carr School on Nevada st., Newtonville. Several months ago this school had to be closed for about a month while extensive repairs were made to the ceilings there. Because of improper construction the ceilings threatened to fall. The city has also entered suit against the Maryland Casualty Company which bonded Slotnick. It is stated that Slotnick and the bonding company plan to enter a bill in equity against F. Guidara Company of Boston who had the subcontract for plastering the school and the James M. Burke Company, which had the lathing contract. Although the contract had a clause that Slotnick would be responsible for defects in the construction which occurred within a year, the city contends that the general terms of the contract make the contractors liable for any defects which may appear within the statute of limitations, which is six years.

Banquet Tendered To Dennis Cronin

Ex-Alderman Dennis M. Cronin of Auburndale was tendered a banquet at the Hotel Continental last Thursday night at which his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress was boosted. About 500 were present. Edward F. Dalton of Newton Centre served as toastmaster and the speakers included Governor Hurley, Lieut. Governor Kelly, Attorney General Dever, State Auditor Buckley, Mayor Childs, Mayor Lyons of Cambridge, and Rev. Edwin Fairweather of Newton Lower Falls. Governor Hurley expressed the hope that Cronin will obtain the Congressional nomination from the Democrats. Former Alderman John Brocklesby was chairman of the committee which arranged the banquet; Earle Willis was treasurer; Francis Bergin, publicity chairman; W. E. Wilson, chairman of printing committee, and John Walker had charge of decorations. Dr. O. L. Schofield of Wellesley was chairman of the reception committee and John FitzSimmons was chief of ushers.

Last date for filing applications will be May 21. On June 25 an examination will be held to fill a position of roadman in the Newton Engineering Department. The salary is $15 per week. Last date for filing applications will be June 11. Applicants must have one year of practical experience in engineering work.

Assaulted Man With Bottle

Joseph Sheehan, 26, of 282 Langley rd., Newton Centre, was arraigned in the Newton court on Saturday charged with assaulting James Bazarian who conducts a shoe repairing shop on Union st., Newton Centre. According to the testimony, Sheehan got into an argument with Bazarian in front of the latter's shop and hit the shoemaker with a bottle, causing a severe cut over Bazarian's left eye. Sheehan was arrested last Friday by Inspector Hammill and Patrolman Riley. Hammell told the judge that Union st. has become infested with bums and panhandlers. Judge Allen gave Sheehan a suspended jail sentence of 30 days.

Gov. Hurley Speaks At Newton Centre

The Newton Centre Improvement Association held its annual "Village Night" on Monday evening at the Newton Centre Women's Club. President Albert M. Chandler presided and the speakers included Governor Hurley, Mayor Childs, Dr. Harold Chope and William Noble, a charter member of the association. The business meeting of the association was postponed until May 9. Governor Hurley said he has largely reduced the State debt in the two years he has been in office; and he favored the allocating of Federal relief funds to cities and towns so that local officials will have control over the distribution of such funds. He claimed he has been the first governor to oppose sit-down strikes, and he asserted he has tried to be just to both employers and employees. The guests included officers of the various improvement associations in the Newtons. Included in the musical program was singing by the glee club of the First Church under the direction of Ralph McLean, violin selections by John Metz, and community singing led by Heman Pettingill.

Four Boys in Canoe Nearly go Over Dam

Four boys had a narrow escape from drowning on Wednesday afternoon at Hemlock Gorge, Newton Upper Falls. The four had taken a canoe and were voyaging in unknown waters. They had entered the swift current in the gorge and were only 50 feet from the falls when they realized their danger. Jumping out of the canoe, they managed to reach the shore just before the canoe plunged over the falls. Patrolman William Cronin of the Metropolitan police, who lives nearby, took the boys to his home to dry their clothing. The four identified themselves as Robert Atwater, 15, Brooks st., Brookline; John Cavanaugh, 16, Kent st., Brookline; Edward Duffy, 14, Leverett st., Brookline; Buddy Rockwell, 15, Worthington st., Roxbury. They would not tell where they had obtained the canoe. A paddle and canvas which had been in the canoe were marked "Ranger Canoe Club."

Drove Uninsured Car, Fined $150

James Mosher, 20, of 166 Washington st., Newton was fined $100 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Wednesday for driving an uninsured car; $25 for driving an unregistered car, and $25 for larceny of number plates and a car registration. The $25 fine for driving the unregistered car was suspended. On the night of April 13 Patrolmen Concannon and Lovely stopped the car driven by Mosher on Oakleigh rd., Newton, found the stolen plate attached to the rear of the car and the stolen registration certificate in Mosher's possession. Plates and registration certificate had been taken from a car owned by Gardner Biscoe while it was parked near the high school.

Charged With Drunken Driving

John Cleary, 25, of Stamford, Conn., was arraigned in the Newton court last Saturday on charges of drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Cleary was arrested early that morning by Patrolman Mague after the car he was driving had hit another car at West Newton. The defendant had been at a dance at Auburndale and was attired in a dress suit when he appeared in court. His case was continued until April 27 and he was released when he provided $20 cash bail.

In court on Wednesday morning Judge Mayberry fined Cleary $35 for driving while drunk.

Newton Legion Guards Win At Portland

Gov. Barrows of Maine Presents Silver Cup to Capt. Ward

In the presence of Governor Lewis O. Barrows, and many other guests of military and civil life, and before more than 3000 spectators, the Newton Legion Guards of Newton Post 48 American Legion, the National Champion Drill Team of the American Legion, defeated by the narrow margin of two points the Kora Legion of Honor, the drill platoon of Kora Temple, Mystic Shrine, in the Exposition Building, Portland, Maine last Saturday night.

The large assemblage watched with keen interest the spectacular and colorful exhibitions of the leading bands, drum and bugle corps, and drill teams from Maine and Massachusetts. A special exhibition drill was presented by a platoon of the 5th U. S. Infantry, Lieut. Col. A. D. Cowley, commander, with the 5th Infantry Band furnishing music. The Old Dorchester Drum and Bugle Corps, of Dorchester Post, No. 65, American Legion, Dorchester, Mass., won frequent applause with their fine drill and pleasing music.

However, the highlight of the Grand Military Ball and Competitive Drill was the contest between the well trained rifle drill platoons of Kora Legion of Honor and the Newton Legion Guards. The point score in this competition was determined by Majors Edwin H. Haskin, Harold Stowe, and J. Paul Lloyd, all of the Fifth U. S. Infantry. Newton Post had a score of 82.25 and Kora Temple 80.25.

The Newton Legion Guards hope to represent Newton in the National Convention of the American Legion, in Los Angeles, California, on Sept. 19-20-21-22, where they are scheduled to lead the entire Legion parade as National Champions.

Several Cars Stolen In Newton

A car owned by Richard M. Ott of Colbert rd., West Newton, was stolen from the garage at that address late last Friday night. It was recovered the next day in Brighton. Shortly after midnight last Saturday morning police headquarters received word that two automobiles had been stolen from opposite 32 Gate House rd., Chestnut Hill. One car was owned by Nathaniel Hamlen of Milton; the other car by Mrs. Jessie Cox of 252 Beacon st., Boston. Both cars were recovered on Saturday morning in Brighton.

Saturday night at 10:30 Serg. Sheridan and Patrolmen Lynch and J. P. Murphy arrested Richard Gately, 15, of 184 Faneuil st., Brighton, and William Collins, 16, of 8 Donnybrook rd., Brighton, Manet rd., Chestnut Hill, as the pair were observed acting suspiciously near some of the cars which are parked on that street. Half an hour before, these boys, according to the police, had escaped after Patrolmen Lynch and Murphy had pursued them to Manet rd. from Waban Hill rd., nearby, where they were sighted in a car they had allegedly stolen from in front of the home of its owner, Mrs. Lena C. Burnham, 218 Franklin st., Newton. The Brighton youths were arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and their cases continued until Friday, when they will be tried in the juvenile session.

Bandits Invade Chest. Hill Home

Two gunmen obtained entrance to a Chestnut Hill home on Wednesday morning by posing as police officers, and after locking the occupants of the house in an attic closet, stole two diamond rings valued at $3000. Ten minutes after Solomon Goldfine had left the house for his office at Kneeland st., Boston, two men rang the doorbell at the house and told a domestic that they were officers who had come to get information, as the automobile owned by Goldfine had been involved in an accident. When Mrs. Charlotte Goldfine came to interview the men in the living room, one of them pulled a gun, told Mrs. Goldfine to remain calm and to call the two maids who are employed at the house and also the Goldfine's 13 year old son, who was in bed in his room. The four occupants of the house were then forced to go into an attic closet, the door of which was secured by the bandits.

Sometime later, Wallace Reid, chauffeur for the Goldfines, returned from having driven Mr. Goldfine to Boston and heard Mrs. Goldfine and the maids pounding on the door of the closet where they were imprisoned. He released them and Mrs. Goldfine notified Newton police on one of the three telephone instruments which was in the house; the bandits having disconnected the other two. She found that the house had been ransacked, but nothing of value had been taken except the two diamond rings.

Former Newton Postmaster Dies

John M. Fitzgerald of 19 North st., Newton Centre, died on April 27. He was born in Marlboro 57 years ago and had lived in this city for 38 years. After having been employed by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railroad for several years, he entered the postal service in 1904 and for many years served as a letter carrier and clerk in the Newton Centre and Newton postoffices. For 8 years he was superintendent of the Newton postoffice, retiring because of poor health in February 1936. He was a Past Grand Knight of Newton Council, Knights of Columbus. Mr. Fitzgerald had been active in obtaining public improvements for the district in which he resided.

He is survived y his widow, Mrs. Mary (Doyle) Fitzgerald; a son, John W. Fitzgerald; a daughter, Mary W. Fitzgerald, all of Newton Centre; and a brother, William Fitzgerald of Marlboro. His funeral service will be held on Saturday at Sacred Heart Church and burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Fined $50 For Reckless Driving

Ernest Lamborghini, 19, of Prescot st., East Boston, was fined $50 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday for driving an automobile so as to endanger the safety of the public. He was the driver of the car which on April hit Guy Ranno, 5, of 460 Watertown st., Newtonville, as the child was crossing that street near its home. Inspector Hammell testified that the car travelled 68 feet after hitting the child, and the boy was carried 37 feet by the car, receiving cuts on his face, legs and hands. The brakes on the car were in poor condition. A witness to the accident testified that the boy looked both ways before starting to cross the street, and was running across when the car came along and hit him.

Newton Rates High In T. B. Control

The Newton City Health Department was advised on April 26 by telegram that the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and American Public Health Association 1937 City Health Conservation Contest has awarded it second place among American cities for its program of tuberculosis control. Only Detroit, Michigan, was ahead, while in third and fourth place stood Hartford and New Haven, Connecticut, famed for excellent tuberculosis programs.

The Newton City Health Department conducted by Dr. Harold D. Chope, is in full co-operation with the efficient hospital and clinic service of the Middlesex County Sanatorium for tuberculosis patients and works in closest harmony with all educational and nursing agencies of Newton. One good credit was for a substantial increase of high school pupils taking the tuberculin test.

In order to further perfect its tuberculosis program the Health Committee of the Newton Family Service Bureau, the Newton Health Department and the Massachusetts Tuberculosis League, joined together to have a survey of official and voluntary tuberculosis work in Newton conducted with funds from the sale of Christmas Seals. This survey was conducted by Dr. Philip P. Jacobs of the National Tuberculosis Association, and its 14 recommendations are now being worked upon by the voluntary and official health agencies of Newton.

Fire At Chestnut Hill Drug Store

A fire at the Manet Pharmacy, 244 Commonwealth ave., Chestnut Hill, about 1 a. m. last Friday caused damage estimated at $2000. Box 87 was pulled at 1:03 a. m. by a person residing near the store. He was awakened by the ringing of a burglar alarm in the building which was set off when the flames short-circuited wires. When the firemen entered the building they were forced to retreat because of fumes from the electric refrigerator used in connection with the soda fountain. With gas masks on, the firemen reentered the drug store and brought the fire under control. Chief Randlett said the cause of the fire is unknown. The building, a small, one-story structure, is owned by John T. Burns, who occupies a real estate office at No. 242. The drug store is owned by Milton Sniker of Cheswick rd., Brighton.

Auto Hits Tree On Commonwealth Av

A car driven by Herbert Margolis of 816 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, collided with a tree opposite 716 Commonwealth ave. on Tuesday. The car was overturned and the tree knocked down. Margolis received cuts on his nose and mouth. He told the police he was forced off the road by another car.

A car driven by Nishan Atamian of Uxbridge collided with a car driven by Edmund Morel of Hudson on California st., Newtonville, on Tuesday. Morel reported that he was injured.

Would-Be Buyer Steals Auto

Tuesday afternoon a young man entered the salesyard of J. B. Jurad at Court st., Newtonville, and professed an interest in a used car priced at $400, which was for sale. The youth asked to be allowed to drive the car a short distance and William Roberts, a salesman, attached dealers' plates to the car. Then Roberts went into the adjoining garage to get some water to pour into the radiator of the automobile. Before he had time to return with the water, the fake customer had started the car and driven it off.

New Teachers In Newton Schools

At the meeting of the Newton School Committee on Monday night the appointments of six new teachers were confirmed. Helen G. Briggs, now teaching at Augusta, Maine, was elected as teacher of the first grade at the Burr School. She is a graduate of Lesley Normal School at Cambridge and New York University. Helen Winning, a teacher at Lexington, was appointed to teach Grade 6 at the Oak Hill School. She is a graduate of Bridgewater Teachers College. Miriam Rix of Watertown was appointed as a sixth grade teacher. She graduated from Framingham Normal School in 1929, formerly taught at the Cabot and Bigelow Schools in this city, and since 1933 has been principal of a school in Winchester.

Ruth Hoehle who has been a teacher at Ludlow, Massachusetts and Capons-ville, Maryland was appointed as teacher of social studies at Newton High School. She graduated from Boston University in 1930, and received an A.M. degree from Radcliffe in 1931. Margaret Murphy of Eliot st., Newton Upper Falls was appointed special assistant at the Cabot School. She will graduate from Framingham Teachers College this year. Agnes Stone of Aberdeen st., Newton Highlands was appointed special assistant at the Hyde School. She will graduate from Framingham Teachers College this year.

Observe National Air Mail Week

A special radio broadcast of information for the postal patrons of the City of Newton will be made during the first week of May over station WORL by Joseph F. O'Gorman, Superintendent of the Newton Post Office, who has been placed in charge of National Air Mail Week for this city. A special souvenir cachet showing the city seal and advertising Newton as The Garden City will be impressed on every Air Mail letter originating in the Newton district on May 19th, the 20th anniversary of the air mail service. Irrespective of the destination of these letters, patrons will be able to secure this souvenir by simply paying the six-cent air mail rate. Many people are planning to send letters to their friends as well as to themselves on that day in order to secure the souvenir. Monday morning Mr. O'Gorman was guest speaker on station WORL and related many interesting stories of the early efforts to fly mail by balloon and planes, going as far back as the year 1793 in his discourse.

Not Guilty of Drunken Driving

Gordon Ray of Milford was found not guilty by Judge Allen in the Newton court on Wednesday of driving a car while under the influence of liquor. On April 2 a car driven by Ray collided with another car on the Worcester turnpike. Mrs. Ruth Fanning of Webster st., Needham, was reported as having been injured in the accident. Patrolman Goddard investigated the accident and obtained a complaint against Ray. Judge Allen decided that the evidence did not warrant finding Ray guilty.

Newton Centre House Burglarized

Sunday when the family of Frank Brezniak returned to their home at 25 West Boulevard rd., Newton Centre, after having been away from the house since April 15, they discovered it had been entered and ransacked. The loot included a wrist watch, gold neck chain, 11 bottles of soda water and two boxes of candy. Entrance was gained through the door of a garage which is connected to the house.

THE CHALLENGE OF UNSELFISH SERVICE

The thousands of friends and supporters of Leverett Saltonstall, former Speaker of the House of Representatives, hail with great delight the announcement of his candidacy for Governor. Although defeated for the Lieutenant Governorship in the campaign of two years ago the Newton man is the logical Republican candidate for the office of Chief Executive. In ability and training, in our opinion, he stands head and shoulders above any other available candidate. And we realize in making the statement that there are many other able men active in politics.

There are those who will say that Mr. Saltonstall cannot be elected Governor of the Commonwealth because of his ancestral background and the fact that he possesses more worldly goods than most persons. To these persons we say—where would this country have been today had it not been for the fact that eminent gentlemen of this class gave themselves body and soul to the creation of a democratic government? And why is government today so sadly in need of improvement if it is not because too many of our public officials are holding such offices for their own selfish interests and not for those of the public? We give our utmost thanks that there are still men of the type of Mr. Saltonstall who are willing to serve the people of the state for the benefit of their constituents and not for their exploitation. We challenge any person to contradict our belief that Leverett Saltonstall is more adequately equipped to give unselfish service because his forbears aided in the settlement of Massachusetts and because his financial situation permits him to devote himself unselfishly to the problems of state.

NO SALES TAX THIS YEAR

Prospects of a sales tax being enacted this year were doomed this week when legislative committees considering the proposal voted unanimously against its adoption. It is practically conceded that both branches of the Legislature will accept the committee's report. The question is one, however, which should not be tucked away into the back of one's mind—and particularly that of the real estate taxpayer. Welfare and relief are problems which vitally affect the taxpayer's pocketbook and unless some method or new source of revenue is devised the real estate tax burden will not be lightened, but on the contrary will be gradually, if not constantly, increased. We have no desire to see a sales tax imposed upon the consumers of necessary products and we recognize some of the inadequacies and other undesirable features of such a method of raising revenue, but we are convinced that unless conditions improve to a greater extent than is probable, that the prospects of a sales tax will come nearer and nearer.

AN APOLOGY

We apologize most sincerely to Mr. Charles N. Sladen and to our readers for an inadvertent use of the designation of the choirmaster of the Grace Church as an organist, in our issue of last week. We well knew that Mr. Sladen's position and interest in the church was as choirmaster, and we trust that the improper designation does not in any way detract from the sincerity of our congratulations for the fifty years of service Mr. Sladen has given in the training of choral singing.

A GLORIUS VIEW

Just a couple of pals who started out to enjoy the beauties of Mother Nature and ended up right in the old girl's lap. Some gents simply can't see the forest for the trees—while others can't see the road for the scenery. This motorist had eyes for everything but the highway ahead. He saw many pretty sights—in fact he and his companion were simply carried away by the scenery. And they just escaped being carried away by the undertaker too. Pay attention to your driving.

30TH ANNIVERSARY BANQUET

Echo Circle No. 961 of the Companions of the Forest of America celebrated their 30th anniversary in Foresters Hall, Pettee st., on Wednesday, April 27, at 6:30 p. m.

Dinner was served to about 90 guests and members and a delegation of Grand officers, followed by an entertainment, at which a group of young ladies presented a Mock Wedding. Miss Florence White sang several solos accompanied by Mrs. Louise Holt at the piano, and Mrs. Gertrude Cleary rendered several piano solos. Old fashioned dancing was enjoyed until midnight. Mrs. Nora C. Mahoney, J. P. C. C., was chairman of the evening assisted by Mrs. Lillian Kitchen, S. P. C. C., Mrs. Blanch Hunt, C.C., Mrs. Catherine DeRusha, R. C. and Mrs. Mary Quirck, hostess.

DANCE RECITAL

All of the Newtons are represented in the dance recital which Dana Sieveling and her pupils will give on Saturday afternoon, May 7th, in the John Hancock Hall, St. James ave., Boston. Besides the numbers which Miss Sieveling herself will do the program is a brilliant one with pupils of all ages taking part.

GENERAL WELFARE CLUB

There will be a Public Meeting of the General Welfare Club on Wednesday evening, May 4, in Bay State Hall, Newton, at 8 o'clock. There will be two speakers who will talk on the bill now being considered in Congress known as the General Welfare Act H. R. 4199. All are welcome.

LITTLE NEWTON MISS HAS REMARKABLE TALENTS

Fifi Regan, six-year-old child artist, already a seasoned and accomplished dancer, singer and reader, with two years of training to her credit. Fifi does all styles of dancing—tap, acrobatic, ballet and toe, in most finished manner and sings classical as well as semi-popular music, in English, French and German. Her press tributes indicate that she has a truly remarkable ability and a real future. She will appear in the April 30th performance of "ALL AT SEA" in the Weeks Jr. high school with the CHILDREN'S SINGING GUILD, as the Midshipmite, doing two special numbers, a song and sailor's hornpipe. She is also appearing in Boston May 4th before the Junior D.A.R. in a programme of her own.

Letters To The Editor

SCHOOL COSTS

April 27, 1938.

To the Editor:

It was to be expected that my recent remarks concerning excessive school costs would have provoked resentment among some members of the teaching profession. In bringing the subject before the taxpayers and attempting to fix some of the responsibility, it was inevitable that some toes would be stepped upon and some feelings hurt. If I have been unfair or unjust to any individuals, then I accept Professor Andress' mild reproof and tender my sincere regrets.

I may not have displayed the graceful agility of "the daring young man on the flying trapeze" in the few "flights of imagination" (?) in which I indulged "to point a moral and adorn a tale." But, Professor, it appears to me that your "ancient and ultra-conservative" profession has allowed itself in recent years to be represented in public, if not actually controlled, by a vociferous group which, I believe, likes to be considered "Advanced Liberal" but might more accurately be described as Plain Radical. I hate to think of what might happen were control of our educational system to pass into the hands of this crowd of shallow thinkers who toy with ideas as a child toys with matches and, too often, with results equally disastrous. Your advanced liberal of other days pioneered in enunciating fundamental truths based on natural laws. He didn't fool around with unnatural theories completely exploded long before his day and ours. I don't trust these "Advanced Liberals," Professor, and I don't believe you do, either. To be sure, "I get a great kick out of" them. There is not much mental stimulation in listening to people who express one's own thoughts, and, conversely, I consider it a complete waste of time to address a group which agrees with everything one says.

Neither do I like to consider what might happen if, in measuring school costs, we were to adopt the expensive measuring stick proposed by Mr. James B. Hobbs, i.e., "the ability to pay, judged by valuation and per capita costs." He thinks "that Newton might not unreasonably exert itself a little more than it now does for its schools." How much more, Mr. Hobbs? Do you think we should exert ourselves to the same extent as do the heroic citizens of Peabody, who, as you correctly state, pay $13.25 per $1000 valuation to maintain their schools? By so doing we would add a mere $793,180.43 to our local taxation. Or, to reduce your theory to its logical and ultimate absurdity, since you consider it fairer to include towns in making comparisons, would you have us exert ourselves to the same extent as do the citizens of the small town of Prescott who pay $21.22 per $1000, and thereby have us increase our tax bill by a paltry $2,109,736.76?

Mr. Hobbs notes "that in a table of comparative costs on Page 192 of the Report of the State Department of Education all 355 cities and towns of the State are grouped together, and he correctly states that in this table Newton ranks 66th in per capita cost. But he fails to point out that included in this compilation are 61 towns, each educating less than 1000 pupils and only 4 towns educating more than that number. Mr. Hobbs should know that school costs in the towns are apt to be higher because of the relatively small number of pupils in their schools. For instance, Dover, to which Mr. Hobbs refers, has a total public school enrollment of 165 and a per capita cost of $181.70 as compared to our per capita cost of $125.93. And the town of Prescott, above referred to, educates just 2 pupils and pays a per capita cost of $658—believe it, or not! Do you still consider it fairer to include the towns in making comparisons, Mr. Hobbs?

The per capita cost of our Trade School, which may, perhaps, be fairly compared to like costs in towns, will be substantially reduced next year if, as Director Forbes expects, the school enrollment will be increased to 350. But, how many of these pupils will come from outside communities? We are today maintaining this Trade School for the benefit of 297 pupils, 94 of whom come from nearby towns. The tuition paid for each of them is $225 as against a gross per capita cost of $327.80.

I have much respect for Mr. Hobbs' intelligence, but when he quotes from "Time" that "the citizens of Newton have the highest per capita income of any middle-sized city in the country" he digs for himself a neat little pit and proceeds promptly to fall into it. I restrain the impulse to push the hole in after him and proceed to extend a friendly hand up. Here Mr. Hobbs not only hangs out a red lantern—lighted—to attract attention to the danger of adopting his extravagant yardstick, but, also, to the fallacy of considering school costs on a net basis, only. It is an all too prevalent idea that contributions received from the State House and from Washington are paid out of some great reservoir of funds continuously replenished from some mysterious source. But the sums paid our City by the State and Federal Governments are obtained by them from the taxation of all of us, and, precisely because, as Mr. Hobbs says, "the citizens of Newton have the highest per capita income of any middle-sized city in the country," and for that very reason, we pay to the State and Federal Governments in taxes much more than we receive back from them by way of contribution to our local school costs. To argue that money received from State and Nation and spent on our schools is not paid by us and should not be considered in assessing school costs is about as logical as to argue that we pay no State income taxes because the State refunds to the City a proportionate amount of all moneys collected by the State from income tax levies.

So, too, with regard to tuition paid by or for pupils from other communities. We have to pay salaries to teachers, maintenance charges, and for text-books and supplies to educate such pupils. It is by no means all clear gain. It must be apparent, therefore, that we should consider gross costs in determining the expense to our citizens of maintaining Newton's schools, and that, as I have previously stated, the per capita cost of education in our schools is $125.93. But whether based on gross costs, net costs, or any other basis, Newton pays the highest per capita cost of any City in the State.

But, enough of this. I could go on indefinitely on this subject but "no souls are saved after the first 20 minutes" and I will draw this "sermon" quickly to a close.

I have endeavored with all the emphasis at my command to call the attention of the taxpayers to what appear to be excessive school costs. This is but one phase, although a large one, of our general tax problem. As Mr. Arthur W. Blakemore so well points out, there is a fundamental issue involved here which must be settled in a wider forum. Meanwhile, I am confident that the present members of our School Committee have the ability and a majority of them have the will, to reduce in due time our public schools expenditures to the level that Newton's taxpayers are able, not only, but willing to pay.

Very respectfully yours,
JAMES A. WATERS.

Rotary Club

Aaron M. Jones of the Cambridge Associates was the guest speaker of the Newton Rotary Club at its Monday meeting at the Brae Burn Country Club. Mr. Jones gave an interesting and instructive talk on harnessing dollars to the tide of business cycles.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

Twenty-one archers lined up last Saturday to shoot under the direction of Walter Kimber as field captain, for the second of the handicaps shoots to be held each week. Among those who shot the best score in the American Round were Mrs. Rose Gronlund, Mrs. William E. Whitney, Mrs. L. A. Schall, Walter Kimber, Albert Sheif, Reginald Garner and Philip Spoffard.

The handicap awards were given to Mrs. William E. Whitney, Walter Kimber and Philip Spoffard. Mrs. Whitney was also awarded the novelty prize.

Sunbeam Chats

It seems May Day is a very special something or other called Child Health Day. I don't know what it means, but anyhow I'm a good example of it Mother says. I wouldn't know about that, but I hope I get some of that delicious scraped beef or chopped liver with my mashed potato this noon. That's something I can set my new teeth into.

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

NEWTON In The Past

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, April 29, 1876

Last week we called attention to the need of care of fires built to burn refuse matter in gardens. Saturday night police officers on duty among the strikers at the water aqueduct, saw a bright light and found it was burning grass which had come within 10 feet of a house. Take care of your fires.

Mounted police in Newton is now an accomplished fact. The Common Council receded from its position and in concurrence with the Aldermen adopted an order appropriating $600 to mount two of the police. The strike at the water works last week gave a practical opportunity for a test of the question. The whole police force was quickly concentrated.

The parish committee of Eliot Church, Newton, has voted to ring the bell at that church at 12 noon every day after May 1. A good plan.

The Little Wanderers will be at the Newton Baptist Church on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

One of the very neatest engines we have seen is Nonantum 1 of Newton Corner since she came from the hands of the painters. The engine has been so transformed in appearance that one would hardly recognize her. It is a job that is very creditable to Newton workmen who have had the matter in charge.

A sad event transpired in West Newton in the death of one of Dr. A. W. Whitney's children from drinking impure water. The whole family has been prostrated by severe illness for several days, and upon investigation the water of the well at their home was found to have been poisoned by drainage from impure sources. The cause was not discovered until several days after the family had been attacked, the sickness having all the symptoms of scarlet fever.

Editor of Republican:

The statement that the contractors on the Sudbury River water works conduit pay their laborers $7.50 per week and then deduct $5 per week for board is true, and the conclusion to be deduced from such a course is not to be stifled. It is extortion and every newspaper in the Commonwealth should denounce the act and claim for the poor man what he justly earns. It is a sin to impose on the poor, untutored laborer, and punish him because he is poor. This has undeniably been done in the aristocratic city of Newton, and while many reports have been circulated and comments have been made in the daily papers of the strike last Friday, the writer is pained at such a distortion of fact as has been published to the detriment of laborers residing in Newton. The magnates of the city have cause for alarm at the probable issue of their injustice, and to cover their own blunders they thrust at the vague and shadowy apprehensions their unjust dealing is calculated to shape into reality. It is sad when poor men seeking a fair remuneration for their toil should be intimidated with revolvers, muskets and rifles. Such unnecessary display is but puny courage, and quite unsoldierly.

(signed) A Resident.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, April 27, 1888

The formation of a Camp of the Sons of Veterans in this city is being discussed.

One of the four horse wagons which carries leather from Boston to Bent's shoe factory at Cochituate had a narrow escape from a serious accident on Wednesday morning at 10:45. The wagon had started to cross the B. & A. tracks at Washington st., Newton when the gatetender shouted—"look out," as the express from the West was coming. The driver managed to back the wagon and pole horses off the tracks, leaving the lead horses on the track next to that the express was on. Had it not been for the coolness of the driver, a serious accident would have resulted. The wagon had a load of six tons on it, and had the train struck it, the cars would probably have been thrown off the track.

The dusty streets have been the cause of many complaints the past week and unless more generous subscriptions are received by the Street Committee, we are likely to have the dust for some time. The committee met on Wednesday evening to open proposals for street watering, and found that the bids were in excess of expectations. On the other hand, only about one-quarter of the amount expected from citizens had been subscribed, and hence the committee was obliged to let the matter lay over for the present. It was the intention to have the street watering commence next Tuesday, May 1st, but the matter is now postponed until citizens give evidence that they want the work done. The dust is such a nuisance, and with a high wind so much damage will be done to the streets, that it is hoped the subscriptions will be sent in promptly so that the contracts may be awarded before another week is over. Washington st., the whole length, is now covered with a fine, white powder, and the same is true of Centre st. and other main thoroughfares. The fine particles of crushed stone inflame the eyes of both men and horses, to say nothing of the discomfort of having one's clothes covered with dust.

Edward H. Powers' Paragraphs

In the Boston Herald on last Friday was a news item telling that vandals had committed depredations in the old cemetery on Centre st., Newton at the corner of Cotton st. Residents of Cotton st. had notified Newton police that a headstone had been taken from the cemetery and dumped onto Cotton st. When the police went to the cemetery they found that a number of the old headstones had been overturned or broken, a seven foot lintel pulled from the tomb of General Hull, and a section of bark, 8 feet high torn off one of the ancient oaks in the cemetery. While this added desecration at the colonial burying ground was news for a Boston paper, it is not news for the GRAPHIC. Twice within the past year we have called attention to growing evidences of vandalism at the old cemetery.

On the 17th of last September the writer escorted Aldermen Colby, Melcher and Rawson, all of Ward 7 to the old cemetery and showed them the damage which had been done to headstones there, as evidence that the old burial place should be surrounded by a high wire fence to protect it from the youthful dastards who have been committing vandalism there. Subsequently, Alderman Rawson asked Mayor Childs to recommend that an appropriation be made to enclose the small, old cemetery with a fence, but to date no action has been taken, and no reference has been made to this matter at any meeting of the Board of Aldermen. For a number of years we have been advocating the erection of a fence to protect the cemetery, but apparently the men who have constituted the city governments of Newton in recent years have not been much concerned with guarding the resting place of Newton's early settlers from malicious destruction. They can appropriate thousands of dollars for pageants and other alleged manifestations of patriotism, but they don't see fit to respect the memory of the real patriots who settled Newton, and of the Revolutionary soldiers who are buried in the Centre st. cemetery.

The burial ground dates from 1660 when Deacon John Jackson gave 1 acre of land as a site for a Meeting House and burying place. In 1701 his son, Abraham Jackson donated another acre of land adjoining, as an addition for the burying place. In 1765 the burial place was fenced in. In 1834 the town of Newton purchased an acre of land from Charles Brackett and increased the size of the cemetery to 3 acres. In 1854 a marble monument was erected on the spot where the first Meeting House stood, and on the memorial the names of the earliest settlers of Newton were inscribed. It seems that such societies as the D. A. R., D. R. and Sons of the Revolution might become interested in preserving the old cemetery.

One of the Boston newspapers occasionally publishes a column devoted to bicycle riding. In this column recently were two items—quite inconsistent. One read—"With a record of 76 killed and 4700 injured while riding bicycles in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts during the past 5 years, legislators have come to the conclusion that it's time to do something about what has become an increasingly alarming situation."

The second item was as follows—"Other events within the next few months include the annual federation tour May 1, the Franklin Club's 25 mile time trials May 8, a tandem race on the Concord turnpike May 15—and the 100 mile federation race on the Worcester turnpike July 4."

Bicycling even on secondary highways is hazardous in this age of fast speeding automobiles. But to encourage the use of high speed thoroughfares by bicyclists by permitting the use of the Concord turnpike, and the use of the most heavily travelled automobile artery, the Worcester turnpike, on a week-end holiday such as July 4th for race purposes indicates the lack of common sense of public officials who grant permits for such use.

Sunday evening as we drove down Pleasant st. between Waltham and Bemis we observed a fire at the North st. dump in Newtonville. Billows of flame and clouds of smoke were rising from the dump and several pieces of fire apparatus from Newton and Waltham were at the place. Firemen were still pouring water on the dump on Monday. Several years ago, in 1934, an incinerator was built at Newton Highlands at a cost to the people of this city of about $175,000. The purpose of the incinerator was to burn combustible rubbish gathered by the Street Department of Newton and to end such dump nuisance as occurred at North st. on Sunday. Also, the burning of combustibles in the incinerator was supposed to end the health menace of vermin in dumps. Why is combustible rubbish still being deposited at the dumps?

WPA Workers Dig Up Large Shell

WPA workers while excavating at the brook in the rear of 109 Oxford rd., Newton Centre, last Friday, uncovered a large shell, about 9 inches long. Fearing that the shell might be loaded, they notified the police. Patrolman Taffe, who served in the 101st Artillery during the World War, took the missile to Kendrick Bridge at Oak Hill, and dropped the shell into the Charles River.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Modern May Queen's Problem

When the month of May is about to arrive my thoughts become more wandering than usual, due probably to the Gypsy in me. No matter how scattered, they never fail to pause at Tennyson's "The May Queen" and cause me to repeat, "You must wake and call me early, call me early, mother dear——" and as much more as I can remember of this immortal poem. For years I have wondered how any girl, so honored, could fear she would oversleep and miss one of the most important days of her life. Say what you may about the modern girls they would be tickled to death and lie awake all night thinking about it. Of course the girls of those times were exasperatingly calm in such matters. No doubt their nerves were in better shape. Modern May Queens would doubtless remember that at this period of the year daylight saving time begins again. That makes the problem less pathological and more horological. "You must wake and call me early, mother, I'm going to be Queen of the May, daylight saving time, mother dear."

Showed He Remembered

The Newton youngster in this case is called Willie, not only because it is a convenient name, but actually his own. Willie, just a trifle over four years, attended his first church wedding ceremony not long ago. It was especially important because the bride, a next door neighbor, had often entertained him at her home and also had taught him to whistle. He was as proud of that accomplishment as he was of her friendship. Because of his deep feelings he was permitted to occupy the aisle seat of the pew. It gave him a splendid view of the wedding party. As the procession returned from the chancel to the strains of Mendelssohn's march, Willie waited until the bride and groom were nearly at his side and then gave a most unexpected though shrill exhibition of his whistling powers. His embarrassed parents checked and rebuked him as soon as they recovered their astonishment and the bride blushed. But Willie was delighted for in his way he had recalled happy memories.

Oddments

I haven't got around to check on this one but expect to get at it soon. An eating place near my office advertises on a printed card, "Our English Muffins Are Delicious" while written beneath in pencil it states, "not after 11 o'clock."

It must be a source of satisfaction to feel oneself a pioneer in health matters. A very good friend of mine is much pleased with himself in this particular. Said he, "I'm glad the big doctors have got around to my way of thinking and agree that drinking plenty of water with your meals is a good thing."

Can't Be Too Cautious

Chatting with a purchasing agent who handles large sums in buying great quantities of supplies and who is compelled to refuse to interview people all day long, I remarked, "You must have wonderful powers of sales resistance." He made no comment and when I asked him if he had to cultivate a hard-boiled attitude, he dodged that one, too. But he said, "Let me tell you of a consulting engineer who decided to adopt a system of refusing to listen to any caller, no matter who it was. This fellow sat at his desk and when an amiable but strange gentleman entered and started to speak, my friend said, 'Don't waste your time here. I don't want to buy a thing.' The visitor might properly have flared-up but he only laughed and said, 'I've come here to consult you and am willing to pay a substantial fee.' The moral of that is, "Be careful before you say 'No.' "

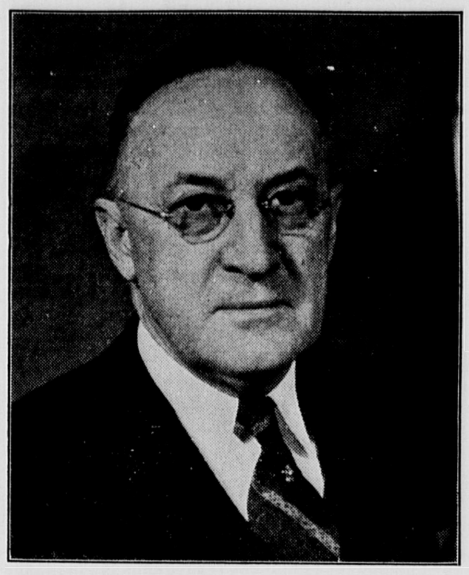

Gallant Traffic Cop

This column is always ready to give prominence to, and even applaud, gallantry. When I find that splendid quality in a motorcycle policeman there is a temptation to politely request the compositor to set it in bolder type. This time, however, it goes on record as an everyday event. A Newton young woman, driving down from her New Hampshire summer home on a bright, sunny morning found the road clear. Gradually she put on speed, though with no intention to climb to the 60-odd miles which she finally attained. Suddenly her attention was directed to the figure of a motorcycle cop at her side. There was no signal to stop and "pull over there." Instead, the officer, in calm voice said as they rode along side by side, "Fifty miles an hour is high enough along here." With that he dropped back, confident no doubt that the warning would be promptly heeded, which it was.

Hinds Laundry Co.

CELEBRATES 35TH ANNIVERSARY

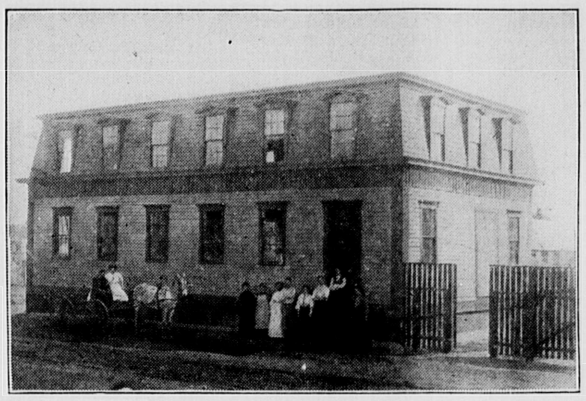

under the same management

Roy S. Milbury, President

For thirty-five years, the President and Treasurer of the Hinds Laundry Co., Inc. Brookline Village

Mr. Milbury is an active director in the Laundryowners Bureau of Boston, and a member of the Massachusetts Laundryowners Association and the American Institute of Laundering.

HINDS LAUNDRY IN 1903

THE Crinoline Days of the Laundry Industry of thirty-five years ago with its antique methods and equipment, its horse and buggy delivery, its lack of proper sterilizing facilities is indeed a far cry to the present modern and scientific methods as employed by the Hinds Laundry Company. The Hinds Laundry was founded in March, 1903, and during the years following has been a leader in their industry. It has assimilated the improvements in equipment and scientific laboratory methods, and today Hinds ranks with the best in all departments of service that leading laundries and cleansers have to offer.

HINDS 1938 MODERN LAUNDRY PLANT

THIS plant located at Brookline Village from 50-60 Washington Street is a modern four-story building containing every up-to-date means of providing a sanitary, clean laundry and cleaning service. Facilities for the renovating of all household articles and apparels make for a complete service to the customer. Each department is designed by equipment and training to produce the best workmanship on its specialty. Curtains, Rugs, Blankets, Pillows and Fur Storage are only a few of the additional specialized features that Hinds offers. Hinds' 35 years of serving the Greater Boston area has earned for them an enviable reputation for reliability and fair dealing. Continual scientific research to find the best ways of renovating each type of material and personal attention to each customer's requirements are the reasons for their steady growth.

Thirty-Five Years of Progress

—Thirty-five years of continual progress through efficient methods and equipment

—The creation of various types of services to fit each and all individual tastes and budgets

—Scientific research by qualified technical laboratories to insure longer life, cleaner appearance, and sanitary protection

—Extreme care in identifying of articles to prevent loss

—Ten classifications of articles by textile and color to insure the proper laundering temperatures, materials, washing times

—No color bleeding, discoloration, or extra wear

—Automatically controlled washing formulas approved by the National Research Institute

—Soil dissolved and rinsed away without rubbing or scrubbing

—Impurities and hardness are removed from the city water before it is used

—Clothes are pasteurized in the washing process by water temperatures in excess of 150 degrees

—The final rinse water contains a much lower bacteria count than your fresh tap water

—Laboratory tests prove that clothes laundered by Hinds lose less than 6% of their original strength in a year's laundering, and that at the end of that time white fabrics have 98% of a perfect whiteness

—Clothes are dried by pre-heated fresh air without wringing or twisting

—Each piece of ironing equipment is designed especially for its particular purpose

—Additional service features include socks darned, buttons sewed on, shirts repaired, new collars and cuffs installed on shirts

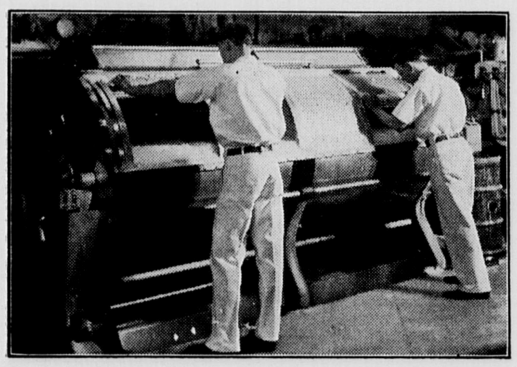

—Shirts are hand finished, Cellophane-wrapped, with no pins, bands, boards, or bother

—Hosiery is dried to shape and sterilized

—Specialized departments insure accurate size of curtains and blankets . . . . and throughout the entire process, by modern equipment, specialized knowledge, and employee training, Hinds strives to render a friendly and intelligent service to the housewife that will effectively solve her laundry problem

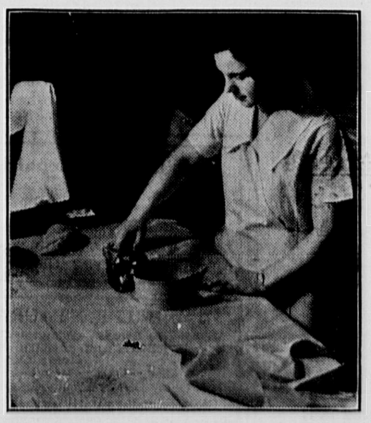

10 Classifications Guarantee Non-Fading

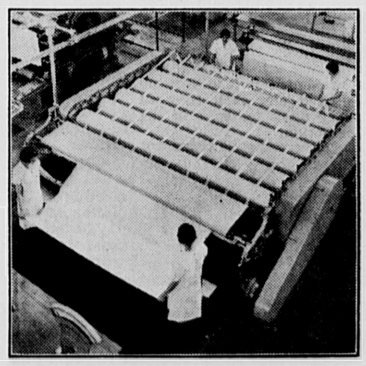

Automatically controlled washing at high temperatures and the use of pure soap pasteurize each article without wear or damage.

Shirts are Hand-Finished and Cellophane-wrapped. All buttons are sewn on and repairs made for your satisfaction.

Bed and Table Linen are ironed so smoothly and gently in this ironer that even wet tissue paper will not tear.

It's Our Birthday

.... but we Hinds co-workers wish to extend to you our sincere personal greetings and to promise a continued friendly, prompt and intelligent service.

Speedy, sanitary, pick up and delivery service by a motorized fleet of 12 attractive vehicles brings Hinds laundry and cleaning services daily to all vicinities within 25 miles of Boston

Mrs. Eleanor (Barnard) Doremus, wife of Rev. Robert Doremus of Gloucester, died suddenly at her home on August 25. She was born in Roxbury 61 years ago, the daughter of Samuel and Susan (Conant) Barnard. She was for many years a resident of West Newton, and graduated from Radcliffe in 1899. Mrs. Doremus was a member of the College Women's Club, Unitarian Women's Society and the Women's Alliance of West Newton Unitarian Church. She is survived by her husband; two sons—Dr. Edward B. Hinckley of Tampa, Fla., and Robert B. Doremus of Gloucester; a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Garvey of Akron; a brother, Kenneth Barnard of Andover; and four grandchildren. Her funeral service was held on Wednesday at West Newton Unitarian Church. Rev. Herbert Hitchen officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Newton Hlds Man Dies Suddenly

Daniel Hoar, 58, of 1148 Beacon st., Newton Highlands died suddenly of cerebral hemorrhage on April 25. He left his home on Monday afternoon to go to Newton Highlands sq., and when he did not return Monday evening his son John went to look for him and found him lying in a field near the Purity Ice Company building. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Mr. Hoar had been accustomed to cross the field in taking a short cut to his home, and was stricken while passing through the field. Mr. Hoar was born in Newton Highlands 58 years ago, the son of David and Mary (Hurley) Hoar. He was a master plumber and had conducted a business at Newton Centre. He was a member of the Newton Plumbers Union. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret Hoar; four daughters—Mary, Dorothy, Rita and Louise Hoar; two sons, Daniel and John Hoar; and a sister, Miss Margaret Hoar, all of this city. Mr. Hoar's funeral service was held at Sacred Heart Church on Wednesday and burial was in Holyhood Cemetery.

HENRY B. HERRICK

Henry B. Herrick of 363 Highland st., Newtonville, died on April 26. He was born at Charlestown 60 years ago. He established schools for civil service and business training in Boston, Fall River and Worcester. He was a member of Fall River Council, K. of C. Mr. Herrick is survived by three daughters—Mrs. Paul J. Powers, Misses Dorothy and Margaret Herrick; and a son, John M. Herrick, all of Newtonville. His funeral service was held on Wednesday morning at St. Bernard's Church.

REV. JOSEPH MADORE

Rev. Joseph K. Madore, curate at St. Jean Evangeliste Church, Nonantum for the past 5 years died suddenly on Sunday evening at the rectory, 253 Watertown st. of a streptococcus throat infection. Although his throat had been troubling him for several days, it did not appear to be serious and he had attended to his duties, saying the 8:30 mass on Sunday morning. Father Madore was born at Great Falls, Montana 42 years ago, the son of Solomon and Lucy (Keegan) Madore. He graduated from Boston College, attended St. John's Seminary, and was ordained a priest in 1924. Before coming to Newton he served as a curate at Star of the Sea Church, Scituate; St. Monica's Church in Methuen and St. Catherine's Church, Graniteville; and as a member of the faculty of St. Regis College. His father died last December. He is survived by a brother, John Madore; a sister, Mrs. John Burdick; and a niece, Dorothy Burdick, all of Medford.

The body of Father Madore reposed in the church on Tuesday afternoon and evening, the office for the dead was chanted at 4 o'clock on Tuesday. A mass attended by the children of St. Jean's parish was celebrated at 8 o'clock on Wednesday. The solemn requiem mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock by Rev. Rosario Richard of Waltham, assisted by Rev. Charles Cormier of Lowell as deacon; and Rev. Armand Provost of Newburyport as sub-deacon. The acolytes were Rev. Donald Whalen of Newton Centre and Rev. Russell Haley of Newton. The eulogy was delivered by Rev. F. X. Lariviere of Marlboro. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

CLARENCE T. BERRY

Dr. Clarence T. Berry of 957 Washington st., Newtonville, died suddenly last Saturday morning, April 23rd, four days before his 72nd birthday. He had been a resident of Newton for 47 years and was widely known for a successful practice of optometry. He was born in Newburyport, the son of William H. and Ann (Gregg) Berry, and was educated in Sussex, New Brunswick. His youth was enhanced by adventure in Alaska and among the Eskimos of the north. Having developed a musical talent he travelled through New Brunswick as a member of a band.

He became a watchmaker and coming to Massachusetts worked first in Natick and then opened a shop in Newtonville. In 1893 he married Miss Susie Kierstead of Marrtown, N. B. In 1900 he was called to the laboratory of the American Waltham Watch Company. He was the inventor of various methods, formulae and machines but an interest in the treatment of eyes turned him to the practice of optometry. In 1912 he received a degree as Doctor of Optics from the Philadelphia Optical College and a year later received the special award as Doctor of Refraction.

Dr. Berry was a member of the Newtonville M. E. Church, the Claflin Club, the Mass. Horticultural Society, and the Mass. Society of Optometrists. He is survived by his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Norman P. Hall of Hyde Park, three sons, Warren T. of New York, Harold K. and Donald K. of Newtonville.

Funeral services were held from the Newtonville M. E. Church Monday at which Dr. J. Franklin Knotts officiated, assisted by Rev. Kendall B. Burgess, of the Waterbury, Vt., M. E. Church, and a nephew of Dr. Berry. Interment was in the family lot at the Newton Cemetery.

ALICE I. FEARING

Mrs. Alice Ingraham Fearing of 261 Franklin st., Newton, died on April 22. She was the widow of Edwin T. Fearing, a former well known Newton resident. Mrs. Fearing was born in Watertown 81 years ago, the daughter of William H. and Caroline (Brigham) Ingraham. She had been a resident of Newton for 54 years. She was a member of Channing Religious Society and the D. A. R. Mrs. Fearing is survived by one son—William I. Fearing of Newton Centre. Her funeral service was held on Sunday at her late home. Rev. Chester Drummond officiated. Interment was at Mount Auburn Cemetery.

PAUL R. KNIGHT

Paul Revere Knight of 34 Austin st., Newtonville, died suddenly of heart failure at his home on April 24. He was born in Boston 59 years ago and had lived in this city for 45 years. He attended the Allen School at West Newton and for 25 years had been employed in the circulation department of the Boston Herald. Mr. Knight was a 4th generation nephew of Paul Revere. He was a member of Norumbega Lodge of Masons, and a former member of the First Corps Cadets. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice E. (Atwood) Knight; and a son, Paul Revere Knight, Jr. Mr. Knight's funeral was held on Tuesday.

NENA MILLER

Mrs. Nena (Hodges) Miller, wife of Elvan A. Miller of 11 Claflin place, Newtonville, died on April 23. She was born in Washington, D. C., 37 years ago and had resided in this city for 3 years. She was a member of the Newtonville Women's Club. A service was conducted at the Gregg Funeral Parlor on Sunday afternoon by Rev. Raymond Lang of St. John's Episcopal Church. The funeral was at Washington on Monday and burial was in Congressional Cemetery there. Mrs. Miller is survived by her husband, and a daughter, Nathalie S. Miller.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF FIRST M. E. CHURCH CHOIR

The choir of the First M. E. Church Upper Falls held their annual banquet at Seiler's 1812 House in Framingham on April 20. Members of the choir, church orchestra and Music Committee were the guests of the church. The speakers were Mr. Allan Fraser, Miss Margaret Hartshorne and Miss Grace Allardyce who was presented with a bouquet of flowers in behalf of the members of the choir. Miss Ruth Shaw was in charge of the entertainment which consisted of baritone solos by Mr. A. Fraser, cornet solos by Miss Helen Oldfield, novelty duet by Grace Allardyce and Ruth Hartshorn. Two duets by Grace Allardyce and John McMasters.

A short business meeting was held at which the following officers were elected: President, Miss Grace Allardyce; vice-president, Miss Grace Nichols; secretary, Lillian Cartier; treasurer, Warren Hilton.

Following the banquet a group adjourned to the home of Miss Grace Allardyce where a social evening was enjoyed.

GARDEN GOSSIP by PETER HENDERSON

ROSES

ROSES WERE an important part in the gardens of Ancient Rome. It is generally believed that the rose was the first flower to be cultivated for its ornamental value.

* * * * *

TO HAVE A good rose garden, we first of all must have good rose bushes to start with. A fair price must be paid if you want quality and this is as true with rose-bushes as with merchandise.

* * * * *

IN SELECTING your roses, keep in mind that a short stocky or heavy plant is better than a taller light one.

* * * * *

IN SETTING out roses, spread the roots out in the pit. Cut off bruised or broken roots with a sharp knife as otherwise decay is liable to set in.

* * * * *

ROSES ARE generally grafted upon some other understock. If suckers come up from the root stock, cut them out; otherwise they will spoil the rose in time.

* * * * *

ROSES SHOULD BE pruned in the spring before growth begins. During the summer the shoots that have blossomed should be cut back to within two or three leaves of their point of origin.

* * * * *

A GOOD PLACE for grass clipping is around the roots of your roses. As they get dry work them into the soil and spread fresh ones over the top.

* * * * *

THE INTENSITY of color in roses is apt to vary from season to season. A handful of iron filings in the soil around the roots will often keep red roses from bleaching.

* * * * *

PICK OFF faded rose blooms to prevent the ripening of seed. If the flowering stem is cut back on the hybrid teas, the new growth will often produce nice blooms later in the season.

Why didn't somebody TELL me?

WITHIN the next twelve months, some 300,000 motorists are going to buy cars at or about the price of a LaSalle—and still not get a LaSalle.

Many of these, we are convinced, will do this because they do not appreciate how little a LaSalle costs. They assume that LaSalle's price is high—because its quality and reputation are so high. But this isn't true!

As a matter of fact, you can pay more for certain models of eleven other cars than it costs to get a new LaSalle V-8.

If you expect to pay more than $1,000 for your next motor car—go on up and get a LaSalle. You ought to do this because there is really no substitute for Cadillac quality, Cadillac safety and Cadillac prestige.

Why not come in sometime soon for a demonstration?

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Annual Meetings And New Officers

Newton Federation

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will hold their Annual Meeting and election of officers on Tuesday, May 10th, at the Brae Burn Country Club. Reservations for the luncheon at 12:30 o'clock, Saturday, May 7th. The Social or Hospitality chairman of each club is in charge of luncheon reservations for the club members. Following the business meeting at 2 p. m. a half-hour musical program will be given, beginning at 2:30, by Dorothy Kovitz, Pianist, assisted by Anna Kovitz, Violinst. Both of these young women are among the most talented of Newton's young musician-graduates of the All-Newton Music School, at the present time doing advanced work under the supervision of the director of the school. Miss Dorothy, just sixteen years of age, an honor student at the Newton High School, and already well known as an excellent pianist and accompanist, will give an entire program at the studio of her teacher, Albion Metcalf, of Boston, who is enthusiastic in his praise of her technic and of her promise for the future. Miss Kovitz also will play on the program with the advanced pupils of Mr. Metcalf at the Spring Concert in Steinert Hall.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The Annual Luncheon of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will be held at the Woodland Golf Club on Tuesday, May 3rd, at 12:30 p. m.

Following the luncheon the Annual Meeting will be held at the Congregational Parish House at 2 p. m.

After the election of officers to serve for the next year, the Myrtle Jordan Trio will entertain with a musical program. This Trio is well-known throughout New England for its program of representative music, emotional, grave, and dramatic. For five successive years they have given a series of concerts on Sunday afternoons at the Old South Forum. "The Alice in Wonderland Suite", a composition for adults, not children, was written by Miss Jordan.

Members are urged to make their reservations early for the Club luncheon with the Hospitality committee. Tickets are $1.00 each. Transportation will be provided, if necessary.

Newton W. C. T. U.

The Annual Meeting of the Newton W. C. T. U. which will be held Thursday, May 5th, in the Ladies' Parlor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of Langley rd. and Centre st., will have as the program subject, "Fascinating Suggestions in Legislation, with Echoes from Florida, and Havana, Cuba." Mrs. Mabelle M. Groves will be the speaker.

Reports will be read by department chairmen, and there will be the annual election of officers. Tea will be served. Mrs. Sidney L. Porter, assisted by Mrs. Harriet C. Briggs and Mrs. Isaac Goddard, will be the hostesses.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting and election of officers of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club was held on Monday, April 18th, at 7 p. m., at Seiler's 1812 House in Framingham. About 60 members and guests enjoyed the dinner served at tables attractively decorated with spring flowers.

Mrs. S. A. Beals, of the Stone Institute led in the repetition of the Lord's Prayer before the dinner.

The program following the dinner consisted of three readings by Miss Ann Lord, of Chestnut Hill: "Aunt Effie Takes a Ride," "Self Control," and "Family Album," which were very much enjoyed by the audience.

The president, Miss Nellie M. Osborne, presided at the business meeting, at which the annual reports of the various committees were read and accepted.

The Nominating Committee presented the following list of officers, who were duly elected for the coming year: President, Miss Nellie M. Osborne; first vice-president, Mrs. Walter J. Billings; second vice-president, Mrs. Donald Flinchbaugh; recording secretary, Mrs. Raymond Capobianco; treasurer, Mrs. William K. Dunham; auditor, Mrs. Henry A. Sharrott; directors, 1937 to 1939, Mrs. Joseph Valente, and Mrs. John Donlon; and directors, 1938 to 1940, Mrs. Harold T. Sprague, Mrs. Carl Cedergren and Mrs. Frank L. Hunting.

Standing committees elected were: Civics: chairman, Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin; and Mrs. James Tully, Miss Loretta Hagerty, and Mrs. Walter Evans. Hospitality: chairman, Mrs. Donald Flinchbaugh; and Mrs. Adolph Bloh, Mrs. Walter Pratt, Miss Florence Osborne, Mrs. William Warren, and Mrs. William Melea. The evening's program was closed with a most amusing reading by Miss Ann Lord, "The Bride's First Call on the Butcher."

Again Newton Sponsors Sale To Aid the Blind

For the third year the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will sponsor a Sale for the Blind, in which the clubwomen of Newton will lend their efforts to aid these people in the sale of their handiwork which offers so many useful and attractive articles.

A meeting of the Federation committee to be in charge of the Sale will be held in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, May 2nd, to make the final arrangements for the three-day event which will take place on May 11th, 12th, and 13th. The general committee consists of Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, director; and Mrs. Anton A. Wild, Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhie, Mrs. Eleanor Manahan Shay, co-directors; the May 11th chairmen, Mrs. Thomas W. Cumner and Mrs. Chester P. Baker; May 12th chairmen, Mrs. J. Earle Parker and Mrs. Ernest F. Drew; May 13th chairmen, Miss Elizabeth P. Bartlett and Mrs. Ernest L. Johnson; chairman of Press and Publicity, Mrs. Mark A. Dawson; and secretary, Mrs. Drew.

Each church in the community will combine with the clubwomen to make the sale a greater success even than the gratifying one of last year. Miss Rose E. Trainor, in charge of the State work among the blind, will tell about plans for the sale and exhibit samples of the articles to be sold.

West Newton Community Service Club

On Wednesday, April 20th, the Community Service Club of West Newton brought to a close a very successful year with its Annual Meeting held at the Unitarian Church. Under the direction of Mrs. Albert Blunt Jr., luncheon was served before the business meeting. Because of the illness of Mrs. Harold C. Scranton, president, Mrs. W. S. Railsback presided.

Annual reports from the treasurer and from the secretary, who also summarized the activities of the various committees, were read. Mrs. Scranton wrote a cordial letter, in lieu of a closing speech, which was read by Mrs. Railsback. In answer to the question "Shall the Community Service Club of West Newton Join the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs?" the voting was in the affirmative. And by unanimous vote the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Leslie P. Phinney; vice-presidents, Mrs. W. S. Railsback, Miss Louise W. Lovett, Mrs. Austin H. Decatur, Mrs. Clarence S Marden, Mrs. W. P. Helms, and Mrs. Elliot Howard; chairman of Nominating committee, Mrs. Ethel P. Leach; treasurer, Miss M. Elizabeth Kilburn; recording secretary, Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Max J. Hamant; auditor, Mrs. Reuel W. Beach; and Federation delegates, Miss Ethel Woodberry, Mrs. W. E. Worcester, and Mrs. George S. Fuller.

After the business meeting the Club was entertained delightfully by Miss Norma Woodward, dramatic reader, who portrayed feelingly the principal characters in outstanding situations of the popular novel, "Gone With the Wind." Miss Woodward displayed particular artistry in giving characterizations which in no way interfered with one's own particular interpretations. Her handling of the subject was both novel and original.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The 58th Annual Meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club was held at the Brae Burn Country Club on Friday, April 22nd. Officers elected for the coming year were Mrs. Francis H. McCrudden, president; Mrs. Patrick Duncan, first vice-president; Mrs. Gordon S. Heath, second vice-president; Mrs. Charles E. Gibson, Jr., recording secretary; Mrs. D. Webster Anders, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Sidney B. Sargent, treasurer; Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, auditor; directors, elected for three years, Mrs. Benton Curtis, Mrs. Morgan Hurley, and Mrs. Henry D. Stone; and Nominating committee, Mrs. Alfred A. Thayer, chairman; and Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader, Mrs. Raymond R. Forte, Mrs. Fred H. Fowle, Mrs. Louis A. Myers, Mrs. Malcolm A. Warren, and Mrs. Harry S. Wells.

The luncheon tables were arranged most artistically with beautiful bouquets of spring flowers and with bright cellophane bags of mints in little green carts.

Mrs. Herbert F. French, third vice-president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, was introduced by the president, Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader, and she spoke of the Annual Meeting in May of the State Federation, at Swampscott, and gave an outline of the splendid program planned. She urged the members to attend and assured them it would really be worthwhile. Mrs. French also mentioned the Convention of the General Federation to be held in Kansas City early in May, and told about the very fine work the Women's Clubs were doing all over the country.

The president introduced the special guests, past presidents, and honorary members, all of whom were seated at the head table.

The chairman of the Day was Mrs. Carl N. Thomas. She introduced Mrs. Ruth Tingley, accordionist, who played, and also sang several songs. Mrs. Tingley explained the mechanism and playing of the accordion and answered questions pertaining to it. Community singing was then enjoyed by all present, closing the program with "Put On Your Old Gray Bonnet."

Mrs. Dockstader, in her business-like but humorous manner, gave her President's Report, and thanked all the members for their loyal support and co-operation. It was the happiest year of her life, she said, and it was with regret that she could not continue for a second year. Mrs. Francis L. Kinney presented her with a bouquet of roses in behalf of the Club. The president spoke of a letter received from Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, a past president, sending congratulations to the new president and to her officers, and of a message from Mrs. Ella Mason who is ill and who missed the Annual Meeting for the first time since the Club was formed. Reports of the officers and chairmen were read and accepted.

The Annual Meeting of the Garden Club of the West Newton Educational Club, held on Monday, April 18th, at the home of Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, was a delightful affair. Luncheon was served. The chairman turned the net financial proceeds back into the treasury. The Club voted to change the name of the group to "The Garden Club of West Newton." The new officers elected for the coming year were Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield, chairman; Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones, secretary; and Mrs. Louise Filene, treasurer. After the meeting some remained and played cards, while others took a trip to the Belmont Gardenia Gardens in Belmont.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Luncheon at 1 o'clock on Tuesday, April 26th, followed by the Annual Meeting, marked a successful ending of the Newtonville Woman's Club activities for the year 1937-1938.

Mrs. George H. Tracy, the president, opened the meeting, and asked the members to rise for a moment in memory of Mrs. E. A. Miller, one of the more recent members to join the Club who had passed on.

Mrs. Raymond A. Green, the corresponding secretary, urged Club members to attend the Sale for the Blind to be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House. Thursday, May 12th, from 10 to 4 o'clock, is the date for Newtonville Day of the three-day sale, at which sale their own Club members will have a table of articles to sell. Mrs. Green then read greetings from charter members who were unable to attend the meeting, including Mrs. Willard S. Higgins, Mrs. Arthur H. Soden, Mrs. Albert D. Auryansen, Mrs. Joseph H. Willey, and Miss Margaret C. Worcester.

Mrs. Tracy next presented a petition from three past presidents, Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe, and Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, that their names be taken from the honorary members' list. It was moved, seconded, and voted that their request be granted. This request was in accordance with the revised By-Laws in which it was decided that past presidents do not become automatically honorary members.

Mrs. Tracy also spoke of a growing interest in Junior Membership, but stated that this matter would not be taken up until fall.

Mrs. William R. Mattson, chairman of the Education Committee, announced the winner of the Scholarship award as Miss Doris Mergandahl, who would go to Oberlin College in Ohio. The Scholarship Bridge this year was the most successful one on record, with a surplus of over $100.

A very interesting account of the different activities of the Club, as managed by the different chairmen, was read by the recording secretary, Mrs. Charles W. Peterson, and the financial affairs of the Club were made very clear by the reports of the treasurer, Mrs. Clifford B. Whitney, and of the secretary of Finance, Mrs. Chester S. Merrill.

Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe reported the ballot for the tellers, and the president, Mrs. Tracy, declared the following elected as officers, after which she adjourned the business meeting.

President, Mrs. George H. Tracy; vice-presidents, Mrs. George A. Edmands, Mrs. Paul E. Elicker, and Mrs. Raymond Tucker; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles W. Peterson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Raymond A. Green; secretary of finance, Mrs. George L. Curtis; treasurer, Mrs. Clifford B. Whitney; clerk, Mrs. Edward J. Norris; assistant treasurer, Mrs. William D. Walker; Standing committee chairmen: Hospitality, Mrs. Henry E. Johnson; Meetings, Mrs. Seth M. Kalberg; Program, Mrs. Thomas G. Walters; Department committee chairmen: American Home, Mrs. Harold I. Stillman; Art, Mrs. Harry L. Harding; Children's Christmas Party, Mrs. Adam Haug; Civics, Mrs. Perez B. Howard; Conservation and Flower, Mrs. Theodore O. Bjornson; Drama, Mrs. Edwin P. McGill; Education, Mrs. Edward C. Fales; Hospital, Mrs. Donald C. Jewett; Legislative, Mrs. H. Story Granger; Music, Mrs. L. Ivan Pettys; Publicity, Miss Marian Prescott; Volunteer Service, Mrs. Frank M. Simmons; and Nominating committee for 1939, Mrs. George W. Hinman, chairman; and Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, Mrs. J. Hartley Stackhouse, Mrs. Ernest S. Tappan, and Mrs. A. Gordon Weinz.

As a gracious gesture Mrs. Tracy asked that a rising vote of thanks be given to the following retiring officers and chairmen: Mrs. R. Charles Thompson, vice-president; Mrs. Chester S. Merrill, secretary of Finance; Mrs. George W. Hinman, chairman of American Home; Mrs. John C. Duff, of Drama; Mrs. William R. Mattson, of Education; Mrs. Raymond Tucker, of Hospital; and Mrs. Howard C. Thomas of the Nominating committee. Mrs. Tracy expressed her appreciation of the splendid work that had been done by the Club; of the fine balance in the treasury with which to start the new year; and of the pleasure with which she was looking forward to another year's service.

For the social part of the afternoon, a delightful entertainment was announced by Mrs. Thomas G. Walters, the Program chairman, who reminded Club members of the familiar quotation, "In the Spring a Young Man's Fancy," and advised her audience to turn their thoughts appropriately to that of brides, and to their mothers and grandmothers in particular.

With incidental music by Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols, a Bridal Pageant, arranged and directed by Mrs. Louis J. Steitz, brought back the charm of the past in the many quaint bridal dresses, with their tiny wasp waists, or bustles, or enormous lacy sleeves, and ending with a bride of today, carrying her lovely bridal bouquet.

Many daughters of Club members wore their mother's and grandmother's wedding gowns, and the pageant was presented in the form of a play, entitled "The Wedding Gown," with the following cast: Mrs. George, Mrs. John Kobrock; Madelaine (her sister), Mrs. Edwin P. McGill; Madame Beauholais, Mrs. Ernest W. Kuebler; Models (in order of their appearance): Miss Jane Jewett—1790 Gown—lent by Miss Lovett; Miss Nancy McGill—1857 Gown—lent by Mrs. Thomas G. Walters; Miss Carolyn Peterson—1870 Gown—lent by Mrs. Cecil W. Clark; Miss Doris Mergendahl—1873 Gown—lent by Miss Marion D. Bassett; Miss Virginia Kyle—1875 Gown—lent by Mrs. William Bixby; Miss Charlotte Steitz—1880 Gown—lent by Miss Mary L. Rolfe; Miss Kathryn Meyer—1886 Gown—lent by Mrs. Albert P. Everts; Miss Barbara Tolman—1887 Gown—lent by Mrs. Thomas G. Walters; Miss Jeanette Kent—1893 Gown—lent by Mrs. Charles E. Lynde; Miss Alice LeBaron—1913 Gown—lent by Mrs. Russell C. HARDING—MYERS

CURTISS—MYERS

At a double ceremony performed in the main room of the Choate School in Brookline at eight-thirty on Thursday evening, April 21, Miss Elizabeth Myers of 28 Chestnut ter., Newton Centre was married to Kenneth Belcher Harding, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Harding of Lansing rd., West Newton and her twin sister, Miss Marion Myers was married to Robert Hollis Curtiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Curtiss of Milford, Mass. The ceremony was performed before an altar banked with calla lilies and white roses by Rev. Kenneth Miller of the United Presbyterian Church of Garden City, Long Island, and the brides were given in marriage by their mother, Mrs. John Elwood Myers.

Miss Elizabeth Myers wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory satin and old rose point lace with a long train. Her tulle veil was caught to a Juliet cap of orange blossoms and she carried lilies of the valley, white roses and orchids. She was attended by her sister, Miss Alice Myers, as maid of honor and Miss Eleanor Rust of Washington, D. C. as bridesmaid. Mr. Roger Harding, brother of the groom was the best man.

Miss Marion Myers wore her aunt's wedding gown which was also of ivory satin with long train and a tulle veil caught to a Juliet cap of orange blossoms. She carried lilies of the valley, roses and orchids and was attended by her sister, Miss Ruth Myers, as maid of honor and Miss Dorcas Dixion of Manhassett, Long Island as bridesmaid. Mr. Curtiss was attended by his brother, Harold W. Curtiss, Jr.

The maids of honor wore gowns of Easter Lily yellow tulle made with full skirts and short puffed sleeves and the bridesmaids wore gowns of lavender tulle made in the same style. They all carried shower bouquets of pansies and acacia.

The ushers were John Crowell Myers, Jr., brother of the brides, H. Fraser Leith, Jr. of Cambridge, Shelley D. Vincent, Jr. of Milford, Henry Russell Wood of New York City and Victor Brooks Leuba of Kittery, Me.

At the reception which followed the ceremony the couples were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Myers who wore a gown of pink lace, Mrs. Harding wearing black lace over turquoise and Mrs. Curtiss who wore turquoise marquisette.

Mr. and Mrs. Harding will spend their wedding trip in the West Indies and South America and on their return will reside after June 1st at 32 Shepard st., Cambridge. Mr. and Mrs. Curtiss have sailed for England and after June 1st will make their home on Claflin st., Milford.

Mrs. Harding and Mrs. Curtiss are both graduates of the Choate School, 1931. Mrs. Harding later attended Sweet Briar College from which she graduated in 1935. Mrs. Curtiss received her degree from Smith College the same year. Mr. Harding and Mr. Curtiss were classmates at Milton Academy and at Harvard. They are both members of the Hasty Pudding Club and the Institute of 1770. Mr. Harding is also a member of the Harvard Club of New York and Mr. Curtiss of the Phoenix-S. K. Club.

NEWTON FIGURE SKATING CLUB

The Newton Figure Skating Club held its last meeting of the season on Wednesday, April 20th. Officers were reelected with Mr. Eldredge Wason as president. Mr. Ernest Hermann, Newton Playground Director, spoke on skating and colored movies of figure skating were shown. During the past season 48 children competed in two groups of figures. Gold seal certificates were awarded Ruth Flint and Fay Kirby of Newton Centre, Mary Reidy of Newton Highlands and Nancy Wiswall of Wellesley. Red seal certificates were presented to Christine Benedict, Eleanor Dummer, Francis Ripley and Mary Hermanns of Newton Centre, Lois and Virginia Southgate of Auburndale and Audrey Vaughan of Newton Highlands.

Kiwanis Club

Kiwanis Clubs throughout New England are making an effort during the present two weeks to instill into New Englanders a deeper appreciation of the heritage of the section. On Tuesday of this week Leslie I. Madden of the Wellesley Kiwanis Club spoke on "New England—A Good Place to Live, Work and Play" at the meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

The Pops concert, "Springtime at Lasell," was given by the orchestra and glee club in the auditorium on Wednesday evening, April 27. The leader of the orchestra and glee club is Miss Constance Hatch of Kittery, Maine. The proceeds of the concert are for the Endowment Fund.

The assemblies of the week included a showing of color pictures by Mr. Alfred C. Shelton of the Afga Ansco Corporation, and a piano recital by Miss Gloria Schraff.

On Thursday afternoon, the students of the home management course gave a tea at Blaisdell practice house.

The Union Church Choir of Waban, under the direction of Mr. Harold Schwab, will sing at the Sunday vesper service.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage of real estate given by Edward P. Levenson and Ella Levenson, his wife, in her right, both of Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, to Workingmens Co-operative Bank, a Massachusetts Corporation with its usual place of business in Boston, Suffolk County, Massachusetts, dated August 4, 1936, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 6051, page 41, for breach of the condition of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises on Tuesday, May 17, 1938 at 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon, the real estate described in said mortgage, to wit:—

"the land, with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of said Newton, called Waban, being shown as lot A on a plan made by A. M. Southwick, Engineer, dated July 19, 1926, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, at the end of Book 4998, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning on the Northwesterly side of Fenwick Road at a concrete monument at the Southwesterly corner of the mortgaged premises at land now or formerly of Verplank and from thence running Northeasterly by a curved line with a radius of 420.32 feet, sixty-six and 78/100 (66.78) feet to a stake and from thence running Northeasterly by a curved line nine and 1/10 (9.1) feet to a stake as shown on said plan; thence turning and running Northwesterly ninety-three and 79/100 (93.79) feet to a stake; thence turning and running Southwesterly seventy-nine and 40/100 (79.40) feet to a stake at land now or formerly of Verplank; thence turning and running Southeasterly by land now or formerly of Verplank, ninety and 34/100 (90.34) feet to the point of beginning.

Containing according to said plan 6925 square feet of land.

Subject to restrictions of record so far as the same are now in force and applicable."

Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles, municipal liens, and assessments, if any. Three Hundred Dollars ($300.) required at sale.

INVISIBLE MARKING

"My dear, I couldn't believe my eyes until Pilgrim's Representative called with his 'Seeing Eye' lamp to show me the harmless invisible mark. My guest towels, linens, and clothing will never again be sent to a laundry other than Pilgrim. Their work was always good, and they guarantee it, too. They now add the distinct advantage of no more unsightly laundry marks."

You too should phone for representative to call and demonstrate.

Recent Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Foster of 983 Chestnut st., Newton Upper Falls, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie H. Foster, to Clifford S. Kittredge also of Newton. Both are graduates of Newton High School and at present are employed in Boston. The wedding is expected to take place in the Fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Haines of 62 Sheffield rd., Newtonville, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marjorie Haines, to Leonard Gage James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. James of Bayside, Long Island. Miss Haines is a graduate of Pine Manor, Wellesley. Mr. James is a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy and Yale University, 1935. He is attending Harvard Law School where he is a member of the senior class.

Mrs. Eugene Bissell of Waban announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Dorothy Clara Bissell, to Willard Roper, son of Mrs. Charles H. Roper of Belmont, and the late Mr. Roper. Miss Bissell is a graduate of the Misses Allen School in West Newton and attended Stoneleigh College and the Fay School. Mr. Roper is a graduate of the Belmont Hill School.

Mrs. Frances Rawls Lewis of Richmond, Va., announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Frances Cofer Lewis, to Lyman Huntington Ziegler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Ziegler of Waban. Miss Lewis, formerly of Norfolk, Va., was graduated from Duke University in 1937. Mr. Ziegler was graduated from Yale in the class of 1934.

Oak Hill Imp. Assn. Holds Annual Meeting

Over a hundred attended the third Annual Meeting of the Oak Hill District Improvement Association, at the Oak Hill School on Tuesday evening, April 26. The meeting was presided over by Charles R. Davis who made a brief report of the faithfulness of the Directors of the Association during the year and spoke appreciatively of the splendid work of Committee Chairmen.

Ben T. Fawcett as Chairman of the Inter-Improvement Association Relations Committee spoke of the friendly relations existing between all the local Associations; of three or four specific meetings with groups interested in tax and budget problems; and the full attendance by our Association at the meeting held earlier this week with the Newton Centre Improvement Association when Gov. Hurley was the principal speaker.

The Safety Committee made a most interesting report through its efficient chairman Lawrence Early. He reported that work on completing the surfacing of the new road leading from Parker st. to Oak Hill School would be commenced this week and should be finished within a few weeks. At the dangerous junction of Winchester, Needham and Dedham sts. assurances had been given that within a short time "Safety Islands" were to be placed in such a way that the circle should greatly increase safety at this point—in addition the street is to be widened where necessary. Within 60 days two new Police Boxes will be added to the District to be placed at the Greenwood-Dudley rd. intersection and at the head of Brushhill rd. in the attractive Newton countryside development.

The Nominating Committee report was then presented by Wendell R. K. Mick. The first five officers were re-elected. Charles R. Davis of Arnold rd., president; Dr. Francis C. Newton, 1st vice-president; Mrs. John Kennard of Dudley rd., 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Lawrence Early, secretary and Truman H. Brackett, treasurer. Directors for three years: Mr. Elmer G. Horton of Stony Brae rd.; Shirley E. Pollard of Oakdale rd.; and Ralph M. King of Brookline st.

Henry S. C. Cummings as chairman of the Cemetery Committee made a report concerning the Petition of St. Joseph's Cemetery to the Board of Aldermen on April 25th last for the use of land located on Dedham st. now owned by the Esty families and comprising some 58 acres, for burial purposes. The Report showed that this petition had been referred to the Claims & Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen, who in turn had asked the Board of Health for a report. This latter group will hold a public hearing on May 2nd at City Hall to consider the health aspects of using this site for cemetery purposes. Maps were shown which indicated that the Esty property abuts the Water Reservation and is directly opposite the Brookline Water Reservation. Brookline already indicted that they would appear in opposition as they did when a similar petition was considered a number of years ago and because of their disapproval the matter was at that time dropped. The topography of the Esty land as shown on the blueprints exhibited showed that the land slopes toward this water reservation from a maximum height of 138' above sea level to 90' above sea level—or almost forty feet. At the conclusion of the report the Association unanimously went on record as being opposed to the establishment of a Cemetery in this section.

There were three guest speakers. William V. T. Fawcett, President of Norumbega Council of Boy Scouts gave a stirring address on what Scouting can and does do for the boy. Representative Douglass Francis spoke on his observations drawn from his first year of experience in the Legislature. Bearing on the high cost of government he called attention to the "step-up rate" paid in salaries to State Employees through Civil Service—particularly since the 48 hour law compelled more employees to cover the same work and thereby exposed more individuals to the annual step-up salary which tended to increase administrative costs. Another consideration is the practice of creating Bond Issues for the building of hospitals, etc., and the high cost of our very progressive social legislation which through such services as institutional care, home relief, mother's aid, Old Age Assistance, Soldiers' Relief and work relief has resulted the last year to an expenditure of over a million dollars to 23 per cent of our population!

Mr. Herbert J. Kellaway of the Planning Board spoke on Planning and Zoning. This Board came into existence in 1912 under permissive legislature and while it has no particular enforcement power it does much in the planning of Streets and Subdivisions. Many statistics were given showing the dimensions of the city, the miles of roads, sidewalks and sewers the city possessed. The city has 450 acres of parks and playgrounds while the Metropolitan Park Department has 233 acres in Newton. He spoke of the unusually fine playground facilities in Oak Hill which he said, while unusual for Newton, were none too good for Oak Hill because we were developing with plenty of room where we could plan in advance before it was too late. The Zoning Law is one of the greatest improvements devised for the protection of property, he said, but must be forever watched over since it is so designed that changes may be made by the Aldermen upon petition and eternal vigilance is the price of liberty in preserving it from undesirable changes.

LAUNDRY USES INVISIBLE MARKS

"No more 'marked men and women,'" says H. L. Rhodes of the Pilgrim Laundry as he goes into the matter of invisible marking of things sent to the laundry from the esthetic side and then into the labyrinths of fluorescence.

The Pilgrim Laundry's new method of invisible marking of articles of apparel, linens and other pieces of laundry entrusted to their care is of especial significance to the housewife. The ray used by this firm to eliminate grotesque, unsightly and damaging laundry marks actually does not eradicate marking.

The marks are there but cannot be seen by the eye, they only appear in shadow against the fabric under the rays of a special lamp. The scientist in the laboratory has so perfected the Fantom-Fast ray as to make it possible to clearly read under the ray, and under this ray alone, markings made with special invisible, indelible inks.

In explaining the scientific washing methods, Mr. Rhodes says, "So scientifically planned are the washing processes in the Pilgrim Laundry that laboratory samples of water drawn from the city faucet and that of water taken from the last rinse prove that the last rinse of water is as pure as the water from the faucet. Furthermore, clothes are really sterilized as effectively as milk is pasteurized."

"Scientific research has enabled Pilgrim Laundry to restore soiled fabrics to their original state, properly and economically. They now adopt without extra charge to their customers the latest development of the day, copied rom the methods used by international spies, invisible harmless marking to insure 100 per cent identification and protection."

Fined $25 For Reckless Driving

In the Newton court last Friday Judge Mayberry fined Gilbert Tougas, 19, of Stevens rd., Needham, $25 for driving a car so as to endanger the safety of the public. He was the driver of a car which on April 1 ran into a car driven by Arthur Cook of Beaufort ave., Needham, and pushed it under a truck driven by Walter Welch of Royce rd., Allston. The accident occurred on Needham st., Upper Falls, and three persons claimed to have received injuries.

"Bondfire" In Kalamazoo

The other day they hung a new picture on the wall in the city manager's office in Kalamazoo, Mich. (Pop. 54,000). It showed Paul H. Todd, retiring mayor, holding a $59,000 bond in his hand while Arthur L. Blakeslee, mayor-elect, touched a match to it. In a glass tube attached to the picture frame "rest in peace" the ashes of the bond.

The photograph records the ceremony November 1, 1937, with which Kalamazoo wiped out the last evidence of the city's bonded debt to win the distinction of being the only debt-free, pay-as-you-go city of 50,000 population or over in the United States.....The modernized government risked political lightning by setting a higher but realistic tax rate. Since then the rate has gone down and so has the debt, but services have been maintained at a high level and there have been many improvements, including parks, bridges and a half-million dollar city hall—all paid for in cash!
